Funds To Clean Up North Branch Receive Approval

U. S. Senators Paul Sarbanes and Barbara Mikulski have announced that the full Senate has approved $250,000 for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to help clean up the North Branch of the Potomac River. The measure is aimed at neutralizing the acidic runoff from abandoned mines.

"The North Branch of the Potomac may be the most degraded area of the entire Potomac River in terms of water quality," Sarbanes said. "We have the opportunity and the obligation now to begin attacking the problem, so we can restore the Potomac and revitalize the habitats it provides for wildlife." Sarbanes sponsored the project and has authored legislation to make it easier for States to use federal abandoned coal mine funds for environmental restoration.

Senator Mikulski commented, "We need to preserve our natural resources for future generations. It would be irresponsible to do otherwise. This measure is a major step toward restoring the Potomac for our children's benefit." Mikulski is chair of the subcommittee which funds the EPA.

Currently, acidic runoff from abandoned coal mines pollutes the Potomac's North Branch and its tributaries leaving many miles of streams incapable of supporting aquatic life. State funds to deal with this problem are limited, and inadequate to meet the problem. The funds approved by the Senate will help alleviate the difficulty, Sarbanes said.

The $250,000 federal funding is part of a $750,000 Abandoned Mine Drainage Treatment and Abatement project developed by the State of Maryland. It involves the installation of devices in the streams which will neutralize acid in the North Branch so that it will once again be capable of supporting fish.

A VISIT BY THE "FUN FACTORY" during the 15th Annual Friendsville Days Festival this past weekend featured the "Star Walk," a giant, air mattress that was clearly popular with these youngsters. Record crowds enjoyed the beautiful weather and country western theme at Friendsville Town Park, which included a western-style barbecue on Friday evening. Saturday featured a parade, pie- and watermelon-eating contests, hay bale throwing contests, horseshoe pitching, live entertainment, and much more. Photo by C. Speicher.

MLP Man Charged With Child Abuse And Sex Offenses

A Mountain Lake Park man was arrested on child abuse and various sexual offense charges this week by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. David S. Moon, 38, is currently incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail in lieu of $40,000 bond.

Moon is accused of child abuse, second degree sexual offense, third degree sexual offense, battery, and perverted and unnatural sexual practice. He allegedly committed the offenses against two girls, aged 12 and 13. Further details were not noted in the police report.

In other sheriff's office news, three arrests were made on the strength of warrants and several bench warrants were served for various offenses.

James T. Taylor, 69, Florida, was arrested on the strength of a warrant charging him with one count of assault. The incident leading to the charge occurred

The 84th annual Conservative Mennonite Conference will be held at Northern High School August 11-14. Usual attendance at this conference brings over 1,000 people from congregations scattered throughout the United States, from Florida to northern New York, and from New Mexico to Minnesota, as well as from Somerset County, Pa, and Garrett County.

The theme of the conference this year is "God's Truth for Our Worth, Work, and World." Session for the public will begin Friday morning with special programs for youth, children, men, and women. Morning sessions will begin at 9:30, afternoon sessions at 1:30, and evening sessions at 7 p.m. The sessions on Saturday and Sunday will be held in the gymnasium.

Oakland All-Stars Now 1-1 In North East Regional Tourney

The Junior Division Oakland Little League All-Stars captured the Maryland State Championship last Thursday by defeating East Frederick, 7-4, at Cambridge and have since been competing in the North East Regional Tournament in Bristol, Conn. Success there will propel the Oakland youngsters into the national spotlight; however, they are now competing in the losers' bracket of that tournament following a loss yesterday.

The Oakland squad whipped the Rhode Island state champions on Tuesday, 9-4, but were soundly defeated yesterday by the Massachusetts title holders, 18-6. The event is a double-elimination tournament, so the Oaklanders, who are being managed by Junior Uphold, will meet the winner of the Pennsylvania and New Hampshire game this Friday.

Jordan Uphold, son of the team's manager, has continued to lead his team both offensively and defensively, as he was the winning pitcher and leading hitter in the wins over East Frederick and East Greenwich, R.I. In Thursday's state title game, he smacked a home run and a single, as did Jason Hinebaugh. Keith Parks also had a homer for Oakland, while Corey O'Bryan doubled and singled to pace the East Frederick hitting.

Uphold was brilliant in the win over the Rhode Island All-Stars, as he pitched a complete game, struck out 10, walked three, and yielded just five hits. Offensively, he smacked a grand slam in the seven-run second inning.

Uphold gave up three of his five hits and two of his walks all in the first inning, which gave Rhode Island a 3-0 lead. But Oakland took the lead for good in the second inning.

Toby Upton led off the inning with a double and then advanced to third on a single by Christian Warfield. Keith Parks then drew a walk and Upton came home on a wild pitch. Todd Tasker then walked to load the bases and set the stage for Uphold's four-run blast, which went over the center field fence.

"I knew it was going out the moment it left the bat," Uphold said.

Josh Bosley then rapped a triple and came home on a wild pitch.

The Oakland All-Stars scored their remaining two runs in the fourth inning, as Parks singled, moved to third on a single by Justin Liller, and scored on a sacrifice fly. Then Liller came home when the throw to home plate from the outfield went over the head of Rhode Island catcher Meghan Almon, the only female player in the tournament.

Almon, who is the daughter of former major leaguer Bill Almon, was robbed of a two-run homer in the first inning when Warfield made a leaping catch of her hit at the fence.

The all-stars from Middleboro, Mass., copied the Oakland players' accomplishment yesterday by scoring seven runs in the second inning after Oakland had taken a 1-0 lead in the first.

Uphold led off the game with a walk, advanced to second when Hinebaugh reached on an error, went to third on a single by Josh Bosley, and walked home when Warfield was hit by a pitch.

After Middleboro's John Hebert led off the second inning with a single, Bosley retired the next two batters

Satellite Refuse Collection Sites Nearly Ready

In preparation for the Aug. 15 opening date for the new Garrett County Solid Waste Disposal and Recycling Facility, work is being completed on many of the county's satellite collection sites.

According to Rodney Glotfelty, director of the Garrett County Solid Waste Department, these sites will begin to be staffed as they come on line near the middle of this month. Operating hours will be from 7 a.m. until 6 p.m. weekdays and from noon until 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

While permit stickers will not have to be on vehicles using the sites until late September, the stickers will begin to be sold by the County Office of Solid Waste and Recycling by Aug. 15. The stickers will not expire until December 31, 1995. Application forms for the permit stickers will be made available at the satellite collection sites as they become operational, the new Garrett Landfill, and many other locations throughout the county.

Completed applications may be mailed or brought in person to the Garrett County Solid Waste Facility, Rt. 5, Box 5643, Oakland, MD 21550. A fee of $20 must be included for each household registering a vehicle. If desired, an additional sticker will be issued to a second vehicle owned by the same individual or household member at no additional charge. Each vehicle, over the initial two registered by each household for $20, will be subject to an additional $20 fee. Only Garrett County residents or proper-

DNR Investigating Hit And Run On Deep Creek Lake

An apparent hit and run incident on Deep Creek Lake last Thursday afternoon is currently being investigated by Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) Sergeant Richard Towers.

According to a NRP report, a vessel operated by James R. Owens, 29, Hickory, Pa., was preparing to tow water skier Jason A. Patton, 24, Brownsville, Pa., when a rental boat registered to Jose M. Torrez, Pittsburgh, passed by the Owens boat too close to Patton, breaking the skiing harness. The end of the rope with the handles struck Patton, causing rope burns on his right side and right leg. The victim opted not to receive medical treatment, according to the report.

Torrez reportedly checked the boat back to the rental office and left, without reporting the accident. An investigation is continuing.

Symphony At Deep Creek Returns; Two Virtuosos To Be Featured

Jesse Levine

Neal Corwell

The Symphony at Deep Creek will return to Garrett County this summer as part of the 1994 Garrett Lakes Arts Festival season. This year's classical music series will feature well-known orchestral and chamber pieces presented by an ensemble of professional musicians from New York City, once again under the direction of Erick Friedman, renowned violinist and Yale professor of music.

Four different concerts will be offered at the Garrett Community College auditorium on August 18, 19, 25, and 26, each beginning at 8 p.m. This year's schedule is a departure from past years, when all four concerts were held over one weekend.

"We wanted to space the concerts out this year with the hope that our audience may find it easier to attend," said Fred Stemple, GLAF executive director.

Featured this season will be the renowned Jesse Levine, violist, who will perform with Friedman on Aug. 25. Also in the line-up this year will be the talents of Neal Corwell, euphonium virtuoso, who will be the featured soloist in a piece he was commissioned to compose for the festival, to be presented on Aug. 19. Corwell is a resident Clear

MSP Arrest Maine Man On Various Offenses

A Maine man was arrested Sunday and charged with several offenses, including speeding, giving a false name to an officer, driving on a suspended license, operating a stolen vehicle, possession of stolen tags, and possession of stolen checks, according to a report filed with Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

Cpl. J.L. Meyers was reportedly conducting a routine radar check late Sunday morning on I-68, when he stopped a 1994 Pontiac Grand Am, operated by David H. Thibodeau, 41, for traveling 71 miles per hour in a 55 mph speed zone. When asked for identification, Thibodeau reportedly told the officer he had spent the night in a Pennsylvania motel and didn't have his license or registration with him. He told the officer his name was David Henry Robertson.

A subsequent check with the state of Maine revealed no record of Robertson, and the registration plate on the vehicle belonged to a 1988 Ford Tempo registered to Donna L. Bissonnette, Mexico, Maine. According to the report, a check of the Pontiac revealed it had been reported stolen from Enterprise Rent-A-Car on June 22.

Marijuana Plants Spotted, Seized In State Forest

The Army National Guard with Maryland State Police (MSP) spotters flew over Garrett County on Wednesday, August 3, and observed two separate plots of marijuana growing on Garrett State Forest land in the Piney Mountain area.

Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Potomac/Garrett State Forest manager Steve Hamilton was notified of their observation.

Rangers Hamilton, Butch Zimmerman, and Rick Wakefield went into the area on foot the following day and found two patches of marijuana plants surrounded with three-inch-high chicken wire. One patch had three plants and the other had 22. The 25 marijuana plants, which were from one to four feet in height, would have had a street value of over $25,000 when mature.

"People should be aware that these fly-overs are periodically conducted for such purposes," stated a DNR spokesman.

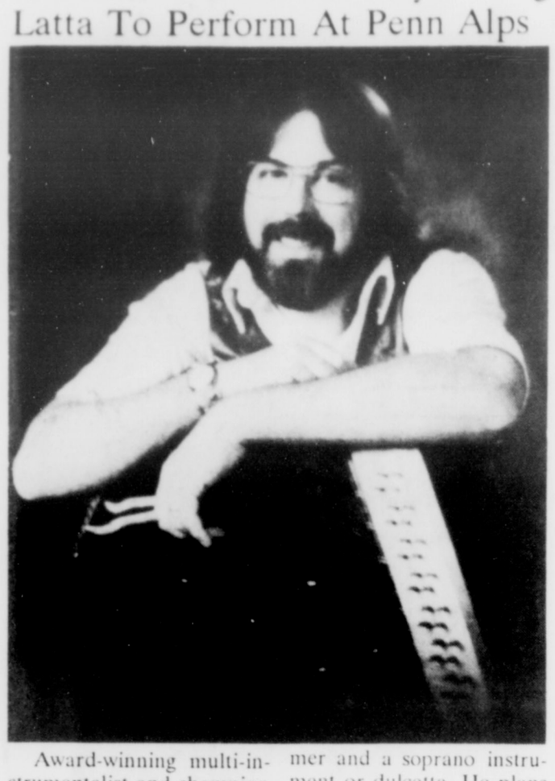
"DEAR FRIENDS" ON STAGE SATURDAY - The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival will bring Dear Friends to the Garrett Community College stage on Saturday, August 13, at 8 p.m. The musical group is making its return to the county, having performed for GLAF in previous seasons to well-pleased audiences, according to Fred Stemple, GLAF executive director. This year the group will present "Come to the Fair," a concert commemorating some of America's famous fairs, including the 1892 Columbian Exposition, better known as the Chicago World Fair. The concert in fact precedes the Sunday opening of the Garrett County Agricultural Fair. In keeping with the musical sounds that filled the midway, concert halls, resorts, and saloons of turn-of-the-century expositions and fairs, Dear Friends will recreate the festive atmosphere with piano rags by Scott Joplin, Sousa marches, and popular songs of the day, such as Meet Me In St. Louis and In the Good Old Summertime. The vocal/instrumental ensemble's authentic performances are based on materials from ladies' home magazines, songsters, broadsides, sheet music, letters, and other historical documents. The group's collection is located in the Stephen Foster Memorial on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh, where Dear Friends is the resident ensemble. Tickets for the concert are available at the following pharmacies: Beachy's, Gregg's, Englander's, and Deep Creek. They will also be available at the GLAF box office on the day of the performance. For more information, persons should contact the GLAF office at 387-3082.

MUSHROOMS GALORE - While dry weather in the rest of Maryland has caused plants, and fungi, to wither, Garrett County's plentiful rainfall of late has raised a bumper crop of jack-o-lantern mushrooms in Joni Miller's backyard. Wisely, Miller has not tried to eat any of these mysterious mushrooms which circle a tree stump near his home on Joni Miller Road. Miller plans to look up this wild fungus in his encyclopedia to learn more about it.

Hammered Dulcimer Player Greg Latta To Perform At Penn Alps



Award-winning multi-instrumentalist and champion hammered dulcimer player Greg Latta will perform at Music at Penn Alps on Saturday, Aug. 20, in the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville, at 7 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door.

Latta is three-time mid-eastern hammered dulcimer champion (1990, '92, and '94), and placed second in the national championship at Winfield, Kansas, in 1992. He plans to play at that venue again this September.

His hammered dulcimer style is strongly influenced by his diversified background. In addition to the more traditional Irish folk and dance tunes, he also plays original compositions and songs from Broadway musicals and movies.

His first recording, "My Favourite Things," features two different instruments - a standard hammered dulcimer and a soprano instrument or dulcetta. He plans to play both during his local performance.

In addition to stage performances, Latta is host and producer of the radio program "Just Plain Folks," heard Saturday afternoons on WFWM, 91.7 FM, Frostburg State University's public radio station. He is a member of the FSU physics department faculty.

Every Saturday evening throughout the summer, Music at Penn Alps offers a variety of music to the area. Upcoming on August 27 is the season finale, the Chamber Orchestra of the Western Maryland Symphony, conducted by Dr. Jon Bauman. For more information or advance tickets, persons should call Spruce Forest Artisan Village at 301-895-3332. Music at Penn Alps is sponsored by Spruce Forest Village and Penn Alps, with additional support from the Maryland Arts Council.

Circuit Court Cases Involve VOP And Theft

Two criminal trials were heard in Garrett County Circuit Court last week with Judge Fred A. Thayer presiding. Both defendants in the separate cases were convicted of their charges, which were violation of probation and misdemeanor theft.

Ronald W. Cogley, 32, Oakland, pleaded no contest to the charge of probation violation. Thayer found the defendant to be in violation and re-imposed a previous jail sentence of two years and 30 days. The judge then re-suspended all but six months.

Cogley will serve the time in the Garrett County Jail, and he has been granted a work release, according to the court report.

He was originally convicted in January 1993 of possession with intent to distribute marijuana and possession of cocaine. He was at that time sentenced to three years, two years suspended, plus 30 days; and two years supervised probation.

Cogley apparently incurred the probation violation by being charged earlier this year with distributing a non-controlled dangerous substance.

In the second case, Ray N. Lewis, 36, Silver Spring, was found guilty of misdemeanor theft. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by the judge, and bail was revoked.

Lewis was accused of stealing 16 tires from Glotfelty Enterprises, a business located north of Oakland. The incidents took place from August through December 1993. The value of the tires was set at $1,307, according to the report.

Clarification

In last week's coverage of Garrett County Circuit Court, a story appeared concerning the conviction of Kathy J. Harding, 19, Friendsville. The report indicated that she was found guilty of possession of marijuana and conspiracy. She was actually found guilty of the possession charge and possession of drug paraphernalia, not conspiracy. The error was caused by a simple typographical error in the court report.

The article was accurate in stating that she was found not guilty of possession with intent to distribute.

It was also noted in the article that the original charges stemmed from the findings of two search warrants at two Friendsville residences. However, the charges against Harding in the circuit court case were solely related to and stemmed from the findings at only one residence, where 100 grams of marijuana were found as well as three gram scales. It was reported that 27 marijuana stalks were found at the other residence, but according to a report in the Garrett County District Court files, the stalks were not in a form considered to be a controlled dangerous substance.

Theft, Property Damage Incidents Reported To GCSO

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office is currently probing various incidents of property damage and theft that have occurred in the local area. Several cars were damaged while parked at an area car repair business, and a teenager's bicycle was destroyed at Southern High School. Also reported was the theft of a four-wheeler.

Carl J. Rucker contacted the sheriff's office early Tuesday morning when he found that his 1982 Toyota Corolla had been vandalized. The vehicle was parked at Garrett Auto Glass.

The driver's side window was shattered, at a cost of $150, and stolen from the car were the following items: a CB radio, power booster, and CB antenna. The loss was estimated at $268.

A 1977 Ford truck was similarly broken into, with the driver's side window shattered. Nothing was stolen from inside the truck, which is owned by John Alexander. According to the report, several other cars in the lot were damaged in the same fashion.

In another case, a 1986 Yamaha four-wheeler was apparently stolen from a residence located in the Mountainside Development. The vehicle, owned by Karen Spiker, was last seen on May 22. On May 27, it was gone from the property, according to Kathleen Thompson, who reported the theft.

The four-wheeler has been valued at $1,000.

Eric L. Bendler, Oakland, reported the destruction of his bicycle and helmet on Aug. 4. Bendler had ridden the bike to Southern High School and parked it outside at 11 a.m. that day. When he returned at 3 p.m., he found that the Roadmaster 10 speed had both tires bent, the spokes knocked loose, the shifter unit broken off, and the frame bent. His helmet was completely destroyed, according to the report.

The loss in the case was set at $130. There is a suspect in the case, according to the report.

New Vehicle Bids Read By Commissioners

Terry Spear, traffic safety coordinator for Garrett County, appeared before the county Board of Commissioners Tuesday to read sealed bids, submitted by area car and truck dealerships, for the new vehicles that the county plans to purchase.

Dealers in Maryland, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania quoted prices for the several vehicles. The county had requested bids for police vehicles, compact and full size trucks, and a dump truck. The commissioners advised Spear to tabulate the lowest bids and review the offers before reporting back.

In other business, five residents of Walnut Bottom Road came before the board to request that the road be repaired. According to the concerned citizens, the road is in poor condition and the ditches need to be cleaned. Resident Patsy Tasker remarked that the ditches had not been cleared since 1986.

Director of County Roads Bob Fousek stated that the Walnut Bottom Road will receive some attention within the next two weeks.

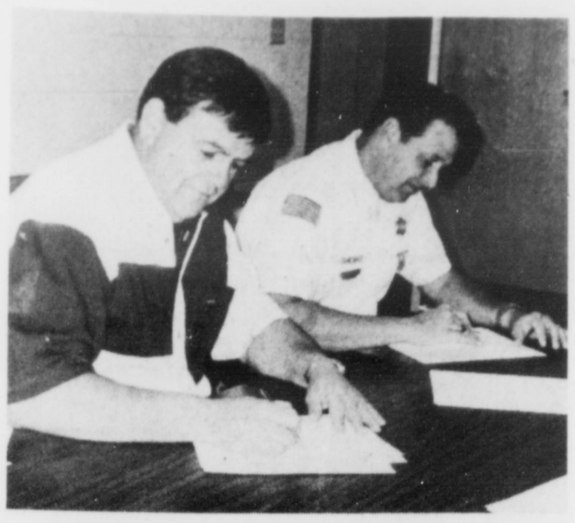
MSP, Sheriff Sign Agreement On Enforcement

Maryland State Police Superintendent Colonel Larry W. Tolliver and Garrett County Sheriff M. Van Evans last week jointly signed a "memorandum of understanding" that delineates law enforcement responsibilities for the two agencies within Garrett County.

The agreement is the result of efforts by Colonel Tolliver and Evans to enhance law enforcement within the county and ensure that the most efficient and effective police services are being provided. Both departments reportedly have an "excellent working relationship" and the agreement is expected to strengthen the ties by outlining duties and responsibilities for each agency.

"This agreement is important because it clearly defines the roles of both agencies," Tolliver said. "Building on the existing cooperation between our departments, we are reducing the duplication of efforts and providing improved law enforcement services for the people of Garrett County."

"Cooperation between the Maryland State Police and the Garrett County Sheriff's Office is of the utmost importance," Evans stated. "This formal agreement will enhance the already existing cooperative spirit experienced between the two agencies. This is not the beginning of cooperation, but the acknowledgement of a continued excellent working and cooperative partnership in fighting crime and promoting public safety."



TOLLIVER AND EVANS SIGN AGREEMENT - Maryland State Police Superintendent Larry W. Tolliver and Garrett County Sheriff M. Van Evans are pictured as they sign a "memorandum of understanding" that delineates law enforcement responsibilities for the two agencies in the county. The agreement is expected to strengthen the ties between the law agencies by outlining duties and responsibilities for each agency. See story.

Calls for emergency and non-emergency police services will be shared by both departments on an equal basis. Priority will be given to the patrol units that are closest to the incident and can provide the fastest response.

The state police and the sheriff's office will share the primary responsibility for all criminal investigations within the county. Both departments will be responsible for investigating organized crime and other criminal conspiracies.

The state police will respond to all criminal offenses at state owned or operated facilities and on interstate highways. The sheriff's office will have the same responsibility at county-owned or operated building and facilities.

A police officer from either department will take immediate action if he or she witnesses a crime in progress.

An important part of the agreement, and a priority of both Tolliver and Evans, is the mandate for both departments to work together in gathering and exchanging information about crime and criminal activities within Garrett County. The law enforcement agencies will coordinate their criminal investigations whenever possible, the officers said.

Road patrol and traffic enforcement duties will be shared by the departments except on Interstate 68, where the state police will have primary responsibility. If a traffic accident is witnessed by a member of either department, the officer will take immediate action.

The sheriff's office will have primary responsibility for county crime prevention activities and will coordinate the D.A.R.E. program.

Both agencies have pledged to work together at all major incident scenes, such as plane crashes, train accidents, natural disasters and lost person searches.

Both Tolliver and Evans expressed their belief that the delineation of duties and the pledge to continue to work together will enhance the law enforcement services both departments provide for the people of Garrett County.

The Good News About Drug Prices

According to a recent report in Hospital Formulary, U.S. manufacturers of drugs held the 1993 price rate increase to 3.1 percent, the smallest rate increase in 20 years. That is good news for consumers, provided that the savings eventually are passed along and if future increases remain moderate. One source indicates that for 66 percent of 61,000 products tracked, there was no price increase in 1993. The average increase for the top 200 drugs sold during the year was 4.23 percent.

Income Survey Begins Today In Jennings

The Community Outreach Team of the Garrett County Health Department will be conducting an income survey throughout the Jennings community beginning today, Aug. 11. The outreach team is working in conjunction with Environmental Health Services of the Garrett County Health Department.

According to Walter Haydel, local environmental sanitarian for the health department, "The purpose of the survey is to determine eligibility for grant money. If obtained, the grant will be used to study and choose the best type of community sewage disposal system for the Jennings community."

All households in and around the Jennings area will be surveyed to determine the number of people in each home and the income levels of the households. Outreach team members will be conducting the surveys door-to-door.

More information on the upcoming survey is available by calling the Environmental Health office of the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8980, or Community Outreach, 334-8111.

An 18-year-old Corinth, W.Va., resident was charged with possession of marijuana. Patricia A. Thrasher was a passenger in a vehicle in which the driver was charged with the same violation last week. Her arrest followed some time later, according to the report.

Thomas F. Koton, 43, Oakland, was arrested on the strength of a warrant charging him with violation of an exparte order. Koton apparently failed to comply with the conditions of a protective order sworn out against him. He allegedly contacted the victim in the case, which he had been instructed not to do.

Two bench warrants were issued for the arrest of Bradley K. Lewis, 20, Oakland. Lewis apparently failed to appear in Garrett County District Court on August 5.

Johnny J. Thomas, 33, Deer Park, was arrested this week on the strength of a bench warrant. The defendant allegedly failed to appear in court on August 5 to face a DWI (driving while intoxicated) charge.

Two bench warrants were issued for the arrest of Jeffrey E. Cosner, 26, Guernsey, Ohio. He is accused of failing to appear in district court on October 27, 1988, and failure to pay deferred payments.

Donald R. Park, 34, Deer Park, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant. The defendant is accused of violation of probation, according to the report.

Meyers further checked into Thibodeau's identity, and discovered his driver's license had been suspended indefinitely in the state of Maine. A search of Thibodeau's wallet revealed several stolen and forged checks.

Thibodeau is currently lodged in the Garrett County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond. He is also being held on a fugitive warrant/bond from the state of Maine, according to a spokesperson from the McHenry barracks.

THEFTS

Several recent thefts are being investigated by the state police.

Tfc. C.E. Goldstrom is investigating the report of a theft from the residence of V.A. Sherwood on the Bumble Bee Road, McHenry.

Sherwood told police that someone entered his residence sometime between July 15 and Aug. 8, and stole a chrome-plated Desert Eagle 44 magnum semi-automatic pistol.

Tfc. Clapper is probing the reported theft of a 1987 Honda Four Trax 250X four-wheeler belonging to Jimmy Uphold, Trap Run Road, Friendsville.

Uphold told the officer that unknown culprits stole the four-wheeler from his yard sometime between 5 p.m., Aug. 3, and 4 p.m. on Aug. 5. The vehicle is grey-ish-white with a red seat, a black metal rack on the back, and a four-stroke engine, according to the report.

State police are also looking into the report of two saws being stolen from a Friendsville man.

Stewart S. McCrobie, Hoyes-Sang Run Road, told Tfc. D.W. Broadwater that sometime between July 15 and Aug. 1, unknown persons entered an unlocked storage shed on his property and took a Model 28 Stihl chainsaw with an 18-inch blade, and a Model 44 Stihl chainsaw with a 24-inch blade. The saws are valued at $475 and $750, respectively.

None of the above items have been recovered, and the officers are continuing their investigations.

DWI ARREST

A Cumberland man was arrested and charged with failing to drive right of center and driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs (DWI) by Tfc. E.P. Johanson early Sunday morning.

Rodney Gene Rounds, operating a 1991 Chevrolet truck, was stopped by the officer after his vehicle was observed weaving across the center line on Rt. 40, just west of Rt. 219, according to the report. Rounds reportedly failed sobriety maneuvers, and was subsequently arrested on the DWI charge.

Just Keep Walking...

America's favorite pastime, by some people's definition, seems destined to go on an indefinite hiatus tomorrow, as major league baseball players plan to walk off the job. The major bone of contention between the players and the team owners is the salary cap issue. The players do not want to see their salaries capped, while the owners, who must pay the salaries, are adamant about capping them.

The controversy is reminiscent of the air traffic controllers' strike during the Reagan administration, and we believe that this strike should be handled in similar fashion. When the controllers walked off the job, Reagan told them, simply, to keep walking. There were plenty of people waiting in the wings to take their jobs.

It seems to us that the baseball players are rapidly pricing themselves out of the market, somewhat like our steelworkers did a number of years ago. We have commented before how ludicrous it is that a baseball player can make many times what a neurosurgeon, a research scientist, and the president of the United States are paid.

While most of the owners of these teams are far from destitute, all of the risk falls on their shoulders, not on those of the players. Once their contracts are signed, the players will receive their pay, whether they bat .100 or .350, and whether they remain healthy or get injured and miss an entire season. The owners, on the other hand, must carry the burden of marketing and making the money to pay the players and the rest of the expenses involved in running a baseball team. If the fans don't show up in large numbers, the owners and not the players must bear the brunt of that loss.

We also feel sorry for the many other individuals, such as vendors, ticket sellers, custodians, and others who will also be out of work because of the strike. While the players may have huge sums in the bank to live on during the strike, most of the aforementioned do not.

Perhaps the owners should do what Reagan did. There are thousands of minor leaguers who would love to get their shot at the majors for considerably less money. Granted, the overall quality of baseball would suffer for a few years, and attendance would most likely drop off for a while. But it would not take long for the younger, truly talented players to emerge and there would be a brand new group of baseball stars playing for far more reasonable salaries.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I know people like my letters because they tend to say what a lot of people think, but few people can risk stating publicly. Dozens of people leave messages and/or stop me on the street to express their support or ask when the next one is coming. I even hear from nice people who don't agree with me. Thank you all.

In the 30 years since the Kennedy Ascendancy, federal and state governments have used bureaucrats and the courts to emasculate local government. Their success is a matter of record. Judges from Mars have caused more crime than the Depression did. Well connected bureaucrats in courthouses, on school boards, and in regulatory agencies no longer pay attention to local officials. They pray to Annapolis or Washington for their manna.

I don't know what I can say that might convince more people to vote in the upcoming local elections. Local elections are important now, and with zoning and garbage disposal controversaries just ahead, responsible people will vote. Your vote counts more in local elections than it does in state and national elections. By voting we demonstrate that we are responsible citizens. My opinion is that unless more ordinary people vote, the following types are going to take us further down the path paved with good intentions.

Experts: Experts are rampant in government. I don't know where the idea came from that hothouse credentials qualify anyone to make real life decisions. For example, until recently Ph.D.s were correctly perceived to be advanced technicians, specialists if you will. They were presented with narrow problems and sent to the basement to formulate a range of possible solutions. More often than not, a less educated person made final decisions. It still works that way in private industry. Somehow, hypercredentialed zeroes have obtained real power in government, and the results couldn't be much worse if our enemies were deliberately sabotaging our system.

Pedants in Power (PIPs): PIPs are Experts with an attitude. PIPs don't care about normalcy or the mainstream. Something is or isn't right because they say it is or isn't. PIPs are the zero tolerance freaks. Mean spirited hypocrites for the most part, PIPs use threats, guilt, and moral imperatives more than facts. They are on school boards in disproportionate numbers, typically placing relatives and friends in important positions. Pedants in power lead witch hunts.

DoUble Dippers (DUDs). A DUD is a government worker who puts in 20 years at one job, retires, then gets another government job using connections made on the first. I have a real problem with retirement before retirement age in the public sector, except from the military. There is zero benefit to the public and the cost to the public and the cost to the private sector is great. In addition, DUDs tend to be followers, willing puppets of the behind the scenes leaders who got them their second or third government job.

The two types of government workers exist in a ratio of about 99 to one. One type answers your question with "That's not my department," or "I don't know who could help you." The other one says "Yes, that's my department and I can help you," or "I'll find out who is responsible and call you back." Which type is the 99 do you think? Can any person reading this give a specific example of a government worker fired for incompetence?

It would be nice if we had an unusually large turnout at county elections this year. Important issues are on the line this term. Zoning, trash disposal, and incompetent planning by the school board and by the commissioners are issues that need active and perhaps aggressive attention. Do your duty; vote. People died for the right. Stand and look at a picture of the graveyard at Arlington for a few minutes. Think about The Wall. What was it all for?

Sincerely,
W.L. Welch

To the Editor:

"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread," and I guess I fall into the first category, because I am calling attention to some bad acting on my part. This, therefore, can be designated a "mea culpa" letter.

I do need, however, to thank a thoughtful, courageous, but anonymous, person who did me a favor on Saturday which ultimately may save my life, and perhaps the lives of others. Since I don't know who he is, I would like to use the exposure of your paper to perhaps deliver this message.

Last Saturday, I had to go to McHenry Plaza in the afternoon, and I was in a hurry. I won't explain, but it was a fairly valid reason. I made a left turn from old 219 into the plaza which was crowded. There were some people standing near

FRIENDS OF THE RUTH ENLOW LIBRARY

Friends of The Ruth Enlow Library

The American Trust Bank's Charity Golf Tournament was a great success again this year in spite of the downpour which forced golfers off the course early. A new tournament record of over $15,000 was raised for the Childrens Book Fund.

A successful event such as this requires a lot of work and planning. Mike Baylor, Sherri Oliffe and Travis Bohrer of the American Trust Bank spent a lot of time and expended a lot of effort to ensure the success of this year's event. The bank crew did their usual outstanding job of erecting the tent and putting up tables and chairs. Wheeler Stewart of the Oakland Country Club as always was in charge of the actual golf tournament. Brad Murdock coordinated all of the Friends volunteers in addition to fund raising. Many Friends members assisted with the event, raised funds and worked the telephone line. To all of these people, as well as the ones I may have forgotten to mention, thanks for a job well done.

To all the sponsors, players and contributors, thank you for your support of this worthy cause.

On behalf of Friends and the other members of the tournament committee, I would especially like to thank "The Chief", Jim Wallin, for all of his valuable help. Jim has been on the tournament committee ever since the beginning and will be greatly missed. He and his wonderful wife, Myrtle, are unfortunately for us, leaving the area.

Thanks also to Gary Yoder, who did his usual excellent job as emcee, as well as serving on the tournament committee.

I have recently finished two excellent novels. The Crossing by Cormac McCarthy is the second volume of his planned "border trilogy." The initial book in the trilogy was the much acclaimed All The Pretty Horses. The only common theme between the two is that the central characters are boys who make a journey into Mexico. Mr. McCarthy is a great writer and I'm looking forward to the third volume.

The Shipping News by E. Annie Proulx is a rarity among serious novels these days as it actually has a happy ending. The main character is a misfit named Quoyle, who leaves New York with his aunt and two daughters to return to Newfoundland, their ancestral home. I really enjoyed the characters and sense of place created by Ms. Proulx.

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

MARYLAND'S 6TH ANNUAL PARTY ON THE BAY
By Governor William Donald Schaefer

Everyone loves a party -- a chance to get together with good friends to celebrate a special occasion. That's why we've planned a very special party again this year to honor Maryland's greatest natural resource -- the Chesapeake Bay. We want to invite you all to come to our own "Party on The Bay," August 1 to 31 to celebrate the Bay's heritage, bounty, and most importantly, preservation.

There are 31 days of festivals and activities all over the state, focusing on Bay seafood, Bay recreation, Bay history and, most importantly, Bay education. That's the key. This party has a unique purpose. While we are having fun, we're all going to learn about the Bay and how we can all participate in the cleanup to protect the Bay.

The Party on The Bay includes events like the annual Crabfest at the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum in St. Michael's, and a cleanup of the Jones Falls River for those who like hands-on fun. There are activities in just about every part of the state to remind us that the Bay is one of Maryland's more treasured resources.

The restoration of the Bay is a story of stewardship and learning. Successful protection of the Bay and our waterways requires the involvement and support of everyone, since we all contribute to the Bay's pollution. There are many things you can do to prevent pollution of your local waterways. Here are some simple at-home practices you can adopt:

- Keep your car in good working order and try to reduce the amount you drive.
- Use the proper fertilizer and do not over fertilize.
- Compost your kitchen wastes. Reduce, reuse, and recycle.
- Plant trees, especially along streams.

Ninety-five percent of the water in Maryland eventually finds its way into the Chesapeake Bay. That means all of us whether we live in Garrett County or Montgomery County or directly on the Bay's shores -- have a tremendous effect on the health and welfare of its waters. That's why this year's sixth annual Party on The Bay is so important. It gives us a chance to reaffirm our commitment to the Chesapeake. Here is a sample of some of the party events:

August 13 -- Enjoy an all-you-can-eat feast on the shores of the Choptank River at Dorchester County's annual seafood Feast-i-val from 2 to 7:30 p.m. Sailwinds Park in Cambridge is the backdrop as hundreds of hungry Marylanders come together for good food, good company, and a beautiful view of one of the Bay's tributaries.

August 19 -- Celebrate the Bay-wide preservation effort of the Chesapeake at an Open House from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Chesapeake Bay Program headquarters in Annapolis. The Open House will feature water monitoring and watershed demonstrations, sponge painting and Bay-related videos. All visitors will receive a free Bay poster, and can take home educational and technical materials.

August 20 -- Come to the Eastern Shore for Rock Hall's sixth annual BAY DAY featuring a "Save the Bay Kids' Play" activity area with a live Bay animal exhibit, pony rides, face painting, environmental games, nature arts and crafts, as well as special appearances by Captain Seaweed. Also enjoy delicious local seafood, live country music, and skydiving demonstrations.

August 27 -- Spend three hours aboard the skipjack "Dee of St. Mary's" for a hands-on day exploring the lower Potomac and St. Mary's rivers. This 8-hour day also includes a Bay preservation workshop, bird and marsh study program, and a canoe trip of local wetlands.

For more information and a complete schedule of events planned during "Party on The Bay," call my Chesapeake Bay Communications Office in Annapolis at (410) 974-5300. Or if you have questions about our Chesapeake Bay programs, write me: Governor William Donald Schaefer, State House, Annapolis MD 21401.

Senior Citizens' Menus

"Eating Together" sites are now operating two days per week. The menu for the week of Aug. 15-19 is as follows:

Day 1 - Peaches w/cottage cheese, stuffed pepper, whipped potatoes, oat bread, fruit cocktail.

Day 2 - Italian garden soup, salmon pasta salad, banana muffin, orange, fig newtons.

Milk, Coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

Telephone numbers of individual sites are as follows:

Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, 746-8824; Finzel Fire Hall, Finzel, 689-8388; Old Mill Grill, Friendsville, 746-5414; Old Mill Restaurant, Gorman, 334-2848; Starner Hill Apts., Grantsville 895-5092; Jennings Community Building, Jennings, 245-4204; Kitzmiller Community Building, Kitzmiller, 453-3445; Mary Browning Senior Center, Oakland, 334-9431, ext. 135; and Swanton Community Building, Swanton, 387-9191.

Note: Friendsville Nutrition Site (Twila's Old Mill Grill) and Grantsville Nutrition Site (Starner Hill Apartments) will be using alternate menus.

MAGIC WORDS AND VACATIONS

Expectations built on memories are hard to meet. Last summer we went for our first family vacation to Lake Chautauqua in western New York State, about 35 miles east of Erie, Pa. More specifically, we attended the Chautauqua Institution, founded 120 years ago as a camp meeting with a difference.

Sometimes the things that seem to go wrong turn out to be the rightist things of all. When we arrived at the outer gate (the Chautauqua Institution is an enclosed community) none of our passes or lodgings' reservations were there. After nearly half an hour of phoning back and forth, it was discovered that though we had correctly registered for that week, someone had written us into the reservation book for the following week. Another family was in the same boat.

We were there under the auspices of the Presbyterian Association, and it had been intended that we should stay in their family facility, sensibly enough. Now we were to stay in the Presbyterian Headquarters, an imposing brick structure with vast two-story porches, immediately adjacent to the amphitheater where the main events took place.

Our children, the only ones in the house, were treated royally by staff and other guests alike. It was an idyllic week of discovery. Very little vehicular traffic is permitted inside the gate, so we hired bikes for the kids, and they rode to their hearts' content along the tree-lined streets. The grounds are covered with quaint Victorian cottages and massive, old beech trees.

I said it began as a camp meeting with a difference. No one camps there anymore. Besides the cottages, most Protestant denominations have facilities. There are hotels and boarding houses, with a range of amenities and a variety of prices. There is a chaplain of the week who speaks in the amphitheater, and the denominational houses have weekly chaplains too. There is no dearth of religion at Chautauqua, despite the efforts of the current President Daniel Bratton to undermine the religious and specifically Christian foundation of the place.

The difference is that Chautauqua has always recognized that religion is a shallow thing unless it has a cultural expression-- that's culture in the most encompassing sense. Politicians, musicians, journalists, novelists, poets, dancers, actors, professors all have their place at Chautauqua. There is a sermon every morning, followed by a lecture. In the afternoon there is another lecture, and in the evening there is a concert or some other entertainment. Those are only the main events.

And so we came home last summer, having had a glorious week together. Chautauqua became a word of magic among us, like abracadabra. "Last summer when we were at Chautauqua..." "Will we go to Chautauqua next year?" "Next summer when we go to Chautauqua..." The air vibrated with this word which is like no other. A week, a place, an experience all said in a word.

But could Chautauqua live up to itself, and be as good for then again as they remembered it? This year, in addition to four symphony concerts, we were to hear among other things a concert by Art Garfunkel. We were all excited about that.

Somebody got a Simon and Garfunkel tape out of the library to which we listened on the trip up. One of the songs was "Homeward Bound." It is seven hours to Chautauqua. We listened to the tape about three times. Nick, almost nine, would join Simon and Garfunkel each time "Homeward Bound" played. I realized that he was singing that song about Chautauqua. His participation grew as we got closer to our destination. That is a lot to lay on a place you've only visited once. My fears of disappointment mounted.

What I had not anticipated was that Chautauqua, in so many ways forever the same, engages us differently each time we go there. We stayed in the Presbyterian facility for families this year which made things enough different to start with. And there were different speakers, different programs for the concerts. But we were different too. Chautauqua had become like that doorpost where everybody's height and date are marked, so you can visibly see the growth of your children. It was enough the same to be comfortable and easy, and enough different to provide us with a new stimulus.

Now the kids take for granted that we will go to Chautauqua next year. My wife has their summer jobs planned there for their college years. We have almost reached the point where our memories are built upon our expectations. That is a harder riddle to solve when we remember what we hope will be.

MENTAL ILLNESSES AND MEDICATIONS
by Carol Cox

Psychiatric researchers believe that people suffering from many types of mental illnesses have imbalances in the way their brain metabolizes certain chemicals, called neurotransmitters.

Because neurotransmitters are the messengers the nerve cells use to communicate with one another, these imbalances may result in the emotional, physical and intellectual problems that mentally ill people suffer.

New knowledge about how the brain functions has permitted psychiatric researchers to develop medications which can alter the way in which the brain produces, stores and releases these chemicals, alleviating the symptoms of the illness.

Although many patients don't understand the medications and often refuse to take them, it is important to remember that psychiatric medications are like any other medicine your doctor would prescribe. They are formulated to treat specific conditions, and they must be monitored by a physician, such as a psychiatrist, who is skilled in treating your illness.

Like most medications, psychiatric prescriptions may take a few days or a few weeks to become fully effective.

People suffering from mental illness should work closely with their physicians to understand what medications have been suggested, why they should take them, how they are to be taken, and what side effects to watch for.

Above all, one should never refuse the relief and peace of mind medications can offer without exploring, discussing, and studying all about the medication.

For more information on psychiatric medications, contact your doctor or call me at 334-4357 for a brochure on the subject.

THE GLENDALE BRIDGE OVER DEEP CREEK LAKE, pictured above, is in need of repair, but work on the bridge might not begin for some time. Whether the bridge is repaired or replaced, the cost for the project will run into the millions of dollars. The county is currently discussing possible courses of action with the state highway administration.

Commissioners Seeking Fix For Glendale Bridge

The condition of the Glendale Bridge, Deep Creek Lake, has been the subject of ongoing negotiation between the Garrett County Board of Commissioners and the State Highway Administration, but the two agencies are not ready to begin repairs to the deteriorating bridge.

According to Robert Fousek, administrator of the Garrett County Roads Department, during the summer of 1991 the board of commissioners received a low bid of $2,868,790 for the repair of the bridge. These improvements would have included the installation of a new superstructure approved by the Maryland S.H.A. However, the contract was not awarded and the project was tabled for financial reasons.

In the meantime, negotiations have taken place between the county and the S.H.A. concerning the future of the Glendale Road and Bridge, Fousek explained. A proposal has been made to the highway administration by the board of commissioners and the S.H.A. has made a counter proposal to the county. Fousek was not at liberty to discuss these ongoing negotiations.

Total replacement of the bridge on a new alignment, which would require the construction of new piers and abutments, has also been considered, Fousek reported. The cost for replacement on new alignment has been estimated at between $4.3 and $4.8 million.

In a discussion that took place Tuesday between Garrett County Engineer Lee Thorne and Ralph Manna, a representative of the state bureau of bridge design, it was discovered that the condition of the Glendale Bridge is not bad enough to qualify for federal funds to replace the bridge, Fousek added. However, the bridge is in poor enough condition to qualify for funds for the superstructure repair project bid three years ago.

Fousek explained that such a repair job would replace the bridge structure from the piers up and would leave the Glendale Bridge resembling the U.S. 219 bridge. As part of this project, an epoxy resin would be applied to the piers to help them last an additional 50 to 60 years.

Despite some visible deterioration, the bridge has been able to hold its posted rating of 14 tons over the last few biennial inspections, Fousek stated.

Mike Belmonte, president of the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners Association, stated that the lake community would like the bridge to be improved. He would also like the bridge to be widened to allow two-way traffic. However, he does not want to see a bridge project put other county road priorities at risk.

Belmonte stated that despite his engineering background, he does not feel qualified to comment on the safety of the bridge. While boating under the bridge, he remarked, some structural decay is visible. However, Belmonte said that he will defer to the experts at the roads department on questions concerning the structural soundness of the bridge.

According to Commissioner Brenda Butscher, Glendale Road, which leads to the Glendale Bridge, will be repaved around Labor Day.

Mt. Zion Rd. May Be Fixed By Next Year

According to Garrett County Commissioner Elwood Groves, the old Mt. Zion Road, which provides northern access to Jennings Randolph Lake near Bloomington, may be completed as soon as 1995. However, it will take a budgetary amendment and the approval of the Board of Public Works to get the job done.

Groves stated that seven years ago the board asked the State of Maryland and the Department of Natural Resources to provide better access to the lake from the Maryland side. The project got "positive consideration" from the start, he stated, but progress on the road has slowed recently. The last major work done on Mt. Zion Road was a rough grade performed by the state National Guard, he remarked.

Since then, Westvaco, Chessie System, the DNR, and the Army Corp of Engineers have made progress on right of way issues, but not much work has been done on the road itself.

Groves recently expressed his concerns to Bruce Gilmore who is in charge of boating facilities on state waterways. According to Groves, "He [Gilmore] assured us that there are sufficient funds available for this kind of project but there were two things that had to be accomplished at this point." A budgetary amendment must be put through the Appropriations Committee and final approval must be obtained from the Board of Public Works, Groves explained. If all goes well, the access road could be finished by 1995.

Groves stated that the commissioners may attend the next meeting of the board of public works to give testimony in support of the road construction project. Improved access to the lake would benefit county residents and tourists, Groves commented.

The project, in addition to completing Mt. Zion Road, would involve the construction of restrooms, a launching facility by the picnic area, and a boat water's edge.

ROBERT K. PRITTS SR.

Robert Kyle "Bob" Pritts Sr., 65, Westminster, died Monday, Aug. 8, 1994, at the Carroll County General Hospital.

Born in Cumberland, he was the son of the late Robert Fredlock and Grace (Willis) Pritts.

He was the co-owner of the Pritts Funeral Home and Chapel, Westminster, which he and his wife established in 1984. He graduated from the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science in 1956, and served his apprenticeship at the Waltz Funeral Home, Winfield. He initially established a funeral home in Kitzmiller. While living in that area, he served as president of the Kitzmiller Lions Club, was a member of the town council, and was a former chief of the Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire Department. He was instrumental in having a flood wall built so the town would not flood.

In 1963, Pritts moved his family to Westminster and eventually formed a partnership with the late John E. Myers at the Myers-Pritts Funeral Home. After Myers' death in 1976, Pritts and his son eventually moved the business to its present location on Washington Road. He was joined by his daughter and son-in-law, Katherine Pritts-Sweitzer and Mark A. Sweitzer.

Pritts was an Army veteran of the Korean Conflict. He was one of three Marylanders who participated in the first secret atomic detonations in 1952 at Desert Rock, Nev. He also participated in the Ranger Infantry Company (Airborne) of the Korean Conflict. He was a member of St. John's Catholic Church, member and past president of the Westminster Lions Club, a life member of the Ranger Infantry Companies (Airborne) of the Korean Conflict, the National Funeral Directors Association, Associated Funeral Directors Service, Maryland State Funeral Directors, Tri-County Funeral Directors, the Westminster Elks Club 2277, the Westminster Knights of Columbus, life member of the Molleville Farm Post VFW 467, life member of American Legion Carroll Post 31, the Carroll County Chamber of Commerce, and a former member of the Westminster Zoning Appeals Board.

Survivors include his wife, Anne; one son, R. Kyle Pritts; two daughters, the Rev. Andrea (Pritts) Kling, Hamilton, Ohio, and Katherine Pritts-Sweitzer, Westminster; one sister, Marceleigh Paugh, Kitzmiller; and three granddaughters.

Friends will be received at the Pritts Funeral Home and Chapel, 412 Washington Road, Westminster, from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. today. A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated at St. John's Catholic Church, 43 Monroe Street, Westminster, on Friday, Aug. 12, at 11 a.m., with the Rev. Father Arthur Valenzano as celebrant. Interment will be in Meadow Branch Cemetery, Westminster.

The family requests that memorial donations be made to St. John's Catholic Church, Westminster Lions Club, or the Westminster Volunteer Fire Department.

MAUDE V. BECKMAN

Maude Virginia Beckman, 80, Swanton, died Thursday, Aug. 4, 1994, at her home.

Born July 2, 1914, in Swanton, she was a daughter of the late Benjamin F. Sweitzer and Mary (Feik) Sweitzer.

Mrs. Beckman was a homemaker and a member of the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband, John T. Beckman Sr.; two sons, John T. Beckman Jr., McCoole, and Bennie J. Beckman, Sand Flat; one daughter, Donna V. Harvey, Deep Creek Lake; one sister, Dorothy Cordell, Sebring, Fla.; nine grandchildren; and 12 great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland. A service was conducted at the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church on Monday, with the Rev. Ellis Harvey, the Rev. Joe Hatcher, and the Rev. Donald Wilson officiating. Interment was in the North Glade Cemetery.

The family requests memorials be directed to the Hospice of Garrett County, Hospice of Allegany County, or to the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church.

VIRGINIA F. FIKE

Virginia Frances Fike, 67, Friendsville, died Monday, Aug. 8, 1994, at her home.

Born Oct. 27, 1926, in Selbysport, she was a daughter of the late Albert and Bessie Marie (Artice) Silbaugh. She was also preceded in death by her husband, Emerson T. Fike, and four children.

Mrs. Fike was a homemaker and a member of Freedom Chapel. She was also a Gold Star Mother.

Survivors include three sons, Lynn Allen Fike, Euclid, Ohio, Kenny Fike and Danny Fike, both of Friendsville; two daughters, Kathy Kahl and Nancy Kitzmiller, both of Friendsville; one brother, Raymond "Todd" Silbaugh, Friendsville; one sister, Betty Coddington, Mtn. Lake Park; 13 grandchildren; one stepgranddaughter; and one great-granddaughter.

Friends were received at the Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville. A service was conducted Wednesday, Aug. 10, at Freedom Chapel, with the Rev. Michael Robinson officiat-

Food For Thought

McClive's Restaurant

Meals in minutes are easier when your grocer does some of the prep work. Choose cut-up vegetables and fruits from the salad bar or in packages and meats cut for stir-frying. Cleaned shrimp are available, too. Serve over quick-cooking grains.

The Canadian "rule" for cooking fish--ten minutes per inch at the thickest part--works for almost any kind of cooking, whether frying, steaming or even broiling.

Suprise pastry for strudel-like desserts gets its flakiness from ¼ cup soft ice cream mixed with ¼ cup cooled melted butter, both mixed with ½ cup flour. Chill the dough and, when firm, roll out and fill with nuts and raisins. Roll up and bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Get out of a rut! Stuff pasta shells with a savory tuna mixture instead of ricotta cheese. Mix canned tuna with sauteed onion and celery, bread crumbs and bottled ranch dressing. Top shells with a creamy, swiss-cheese-and dill- white sauce and bake 20 to 25 minutes.

Get out of a rut! Eat out for a change. Everyone has a good time at

BLOOMINGTON NEWS

PERSONALS

PV2 Greg Brown, Fort Bragg, N.C. visited with his family, Pastor Bill, Sylvia, April, and Scott Brown last weekend. Greg was awarded a three day pass for outstanding performance of his ceremonial duties. While on pass he also visited with his grandparents Melvin and Beaty Brown, Morgantown, W.Va., Darwin and Ruby Ringer, Accident, and his uncle Bill Megrail who was also visiting from Mexico.

Pastor Bill, Sylvia, Greg, April, and Scott Brown attended the Homecoming of the Woodland United Methodist Church, Morgantown, W.Va., last Sunday evening. Special singing for the service was provided by the Gospel Harmony Boys, Huntington, W.Va.

CHURCH NEWS

The Bloomington United Methodist Church Sunday School sponsored a trip to Lakemont Park for the children of the Bloomington area on Monday, August 8. A bus was chartered and more than 100 children and parents attended. Everyone took a sack lunch and hot dogs were provided for the evening meal. This is the second year for this trip.

The Chestnut Grove United Methodist Church will be having an "Old Fashioned Hymn Sing" this Sunday evening at 7 p.m. The Bever family will be providing music for congregational singing. Everyone is welcome to attend and bring a special song.

Next week the Chestnut Grove Youth will be traveling to Sandusky, Ohio where they will visit Cedar Point amusement park and stay at Lakeside, a United Methodist conference facility. Carlos Reese, Daybreak Ministries, Cumberland, will be accompanying the group along with Pastor Bill Brown. They will leave on Tuesday and return on Thursday.

State Park Summer Programs

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), State Forest and Park Services has announced activities scheduled at Deep Creek Lake State Park for Aug. 12-18.

* Friday, Aug. 12, 9 a.m., a canoe trip is planned on a calm section of the Youghiogheny River. Reservations are required, and there is a fee of $15 which includes all equipment, shuttles to and from the park, and lunch. Participants will meet at the amphitheater for a campfire and night hike, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

* Saturday, Aug. 13, 10 a.m., family members of all ages are welcome to participate in a scavenger/nature hike around a one and one-half mile loop. The event will be held rain or shine. In the afternoon, children of all ages are invited to meet at the first aid building for some beach activities with the park naturalist. At 8 p.m., a campfire program is planned at the park's amphitheater. Floyd and Sharon Presley, licensed Falconers, will give a presentation about birds of prey. Marshmallows will be provided for the kids, along with activities and a campfire.

* Monday, Aug. 15, a three-mile hike to the Brant Mine will begin at 10 a.m. From 9 a.m. until noon, there will be nature crafts at the nature shop.

* Wednesday, Aug. 17, 8 p.m., Doug Bittinger, Oakland, will give a presentation about "Mountain Men" during a campfire program.

* Thursday, Aug. 18, 9 a.m., children, ages 7-14 years, are welcome to attend a Junior Rangers program.

For more information about any of the above activities, persons may call the park office at 387-5563.

EAT MARGARINE OR NOT -- That is the question

That is the question

Just when we thought we understood what a healthy diet consists of there comes new information with an impact to thoroughly confuse us.

First and foremost: of the abundance on food and nutrition information available in printed matter, not everything is reliable and research-based. If you are unsure, please do contact our office, we can answer this question or find the answer for you. Some information is not research-based, some has not been confirmed by other studies, some is from prematurely released opinion papers, some is written just to benefit the writer.

The question about eating or not eating margarine centers around TRANS-FATTY Acids. They are formed during the HYDROGENATION process that makes solid margarine out of liquid oils. Likely you use margarine in cooking and eating. Please read the label, you will find the term "hydrogenated." Even though the percentage will be small (estimated to be only about 2% of our calories), margarine contains "trans-fatty acids," fat molecules that have been chemically changed and as such are not recognized by the body.

What is harmful? Evidence suggests that trans-fatty acids raise blood cholesterol. There are only a limited number of studies and not all of them show that trans-fatty acids also raise LDL (low density lipo-protein) and lower HDL (high density lipo-protein), both activities can be harmful to a person's health.

To put things in perspective; saturated fat have long been known as harmful to your heart health. The average American diet contains about 15% of its calories in this type of fat. This is substantiated to be a much greater danger to your health than the 2% trans-fatty acids you may consume.

What should you do? The main point is to cut back on fat consumption. That is under control with every home-cooked meal you prepare and eat. It is much more difficult when you eat out a lot, buy ready-made meals and/or snack foods and eat at fast-food restaurants. In that case, just cutting back on those activities will reduce your fat consumption.

For more information and a program on the above and other nutrition topics, please contact Irmgard R. Koscielniak, Extension Agent, Home Economics, 202 S. Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550 or call (301) 334-1990.

Garrett O.C.Y.F. Makes Progress Report To Board

In an update on his agency's activities, Robert Stephens, executive director of the county Office for Children, Youth, and Families, told the Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday that O.C.Y.F. has worked with 90 families through its family preservation services, 40 families with its infants and toddlers program, and four families with its return/diversion program since the office was formed in May of 1991.

The Family Preservation Service is an intensive program, lasting four to six weeks, which attempts to help families that are at risk of having a child removed from the home.

The infants and toddlers program helps families with a child, age birth to 3, who has developmental delays such as difficulty in walking or talking.

The return/diversion program works with families which have a child at risk of being taken out of state to receive services. The program attempts to find similar services closer to home.

According to O.C.Y.F. board member Joe Howe, the office was formed to help county social service agencies, such at the health department, Community Action, and the public schools, work together to meet the needs of area residents.

He stated that because it has been so successful, the Garrett O.C.Y.F. is considered one of "the model offices" in the state.

McCartney Files To Retain Seat On Education Bd.

Mikal McCartney (formerly Mikal Moomau) is a candidate for re-election to the Garrett County Board of Education. She was elected to the board in 1986 and served as vice-president from 1987-88. She was elected president in 1989.

She was re-elected to the board in 1990 and is currently serving as vice-president.

McCartney has a master's of education degree in educational psychology from the University of Maryland. Formerly a teacher in Garrett County schools, she worked at Red House, Center Street, and Dennett Road elementary schools. She also worked as the county coordinator on the child abuse prevention task force under the Department of Social Services.

McCartney has been employed for 10 years at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she is the director of community relations. Her job includes coordinating activities for public relations, community services for the hospital, and preventive health services for the Wellness Together Program. In this role she has been a presenter at two national health promotion conferences with publication of these programs in the American Journal of Health Promotion, a national professional journal.

McCartney is also a partner in the JC Penney catalog facility in Oakland.

Ms. McCartney resides in Oakland with her two children. She attends St. Matthew's Episcopal Church.

McCartney has served on the board for almost eight years and says she has experience in dealing with a wide variety of issues. She said it is her desire to be re-elected to the board for another term to try to help bring several major projects that have been underway for a number of years to completion. These projects include the Southern High School renovation, new classrooms at Northern High School, and the building of a new elementary school for the children of Loch Lynn and Red House.

Additionally, she would like to continue her involvement in a variety of instructional issues.

German Conductor, Pianist To Play At Local Church

Rainer Muhlbach, conductor, musical coach, and pianist, will be ministering in music on the piano at the Pleasant View Baptist Church this Sunday, August 14, at 10:45 a.m.

Rainer conducted his first orchestra when he was 16 years old and he has played the piano since he was five. He works in an opera house in Hamburg, Germany, where he will be conducting 20 operas this year.

Muhlbach traveled with Leonard Berstein and has worked with tenor Luciano Pavaroti. He was born in Dresden, East Germany, and is married to Christina Gersthoser. Rainer and Christina are in Oakland visiting Tom and Dorothee Bittinger, Christina's aunt and uncle.

The public is invited to this special worship service at Pleasant View, which is located two miles south of Oakland along Route 219. Persons may call 334-8515 for more information.

West Virginia All-Stars Edge British Soccer Coaches, 2-1

Saturday night provided area sports enthusiasts with one of the most entertaining games in recent history. Under clear skies and perfect conditions for a soccer match, the West Virginia College All-Stars prevailed over a team of British coaches by a score of 2-1.

The game opened with a lot of wide-open action and, in less than a minute, the Brits broke into the clear and cracked a point-blank shot on goal. In one of the best saves of his career, West Virginia's goalkeeper Allen Riches, who is now the assistant coach of the West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats, came up big diving to his right for the stop. This ignited the hilltoppers, who began a counter attack that never ceased.

With 19 minutes off the clock, Sheldon Hilaire put a precision centering pass into the goal area. As British goalkeeper Sean Bradley dove to smother the ball, W.Va. center forward Adam Vigon made a slide tackle of the ball and redirected it into the net for the first goal of the contest.

The international guests quickly countered with an attack of their own, set up by a steal in the defensive end by Eric Cox. He laid a perfect crossing pass to Greg Valentine, who volleyed the ball at the goal. This blast smashed into the crossbar and came straight-down off the bar and onto the goal line. However, the linesman was in perfect position to see that the ball was not entirely across the line, so no goal was awarded.

The second half opened with a pushing foul in the penalty area that went against the West Virginia squad. Cox was called upon to take the virtual certainty for a tie score. He cracked a shot to his right, but Riches reacted perfectly for a spectacular save that kept the local side on top. The counter attack continued from both teams which provided end-to-end action and superb saves by both keepers.

However, with 23 minutes left, West Virginia once again challenged and, in a four-shot flurry directly in front of the net, Sheldon Hilaire pushed a loose ball wide of the pack and into the goal.

The Brits kept up the attack and, with less than two minutes remaining, were once again fouled in the penalty area. This time the internationals elected to have Oakland's own Selvyn Brown, assistant coach of the Southern Rams, take the shot. Brown influenced Riches to dive to his right as the penalty kick went behind him into the opposite corner with 1:16 left on the clock.

Eight of the British coaches had been in town all week to conduct a camp for 118 soccer players from Garrett County. They were joined by six other coaches who work for North American Soccer Camps and were conducting a camp in Western Pennsylvania.

Saturday's event was sponsored by several local businesses as a fund-raiser for the Southern Rams' soccer program.

AN INCREDIBLE SAVE was recorded by West Virginia All-Star Allen Riches Saturday night on the Southern High School athletic field, where outstanding players from several West Virginia colleges and universities played an "international" game against British coaches who had conducted a soccer camp last week for over 100 area youth. The save of Eric Cox's penalty shot by Riches preserved a 2-1 victory for the West Virginians over the visiting Brits. Above right, British coach Dave Stanford prepares to take possession of the ball. The camp and the game were sponsored by the Mountaintop Soccer Association. See story.

Ringer Slingers Hold Tournament

The Garrett County Ringer Slingers horse shoe pitching club held a singles tournament Sunday afternoon at the Accident Park courts.

Junior Goodwin won first place in the event, followed by Jerry Tichnell, Chuck Ward, and Joe Lewis.

The Slingers will hold a doubles tournament Monday, Aug. 15, at 7 p.m. at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. Qualifying will also be held Monday, as well as Tuesday evening for the nightly tournaments that are scheduled for fair week.

Garrett County American Legion Team Defeated In State Semifinal

The 1994 season for the Garrett County Junior American Legion baseball team came to a close this week, as the local squad was ousted from the Maryland State Tournament at Municipal Stadium in Hagerstown.

The Garrett County team, coached by Ed Wildesen, earned a spot in the state tourney by winning the Mountain District title. They dropped their first state contest, 6-3, on Saturday to the team that eliminated them Tuesday by topping them again, 16-5. Sandwiched in between were Garrett victories over Dewey Loman Post of Baltimore on Sunday, 7-3, and over Bethesda, 10-4, on Monday. The two wins put Garrett County into the final four of the double-elimination tournament, which was the fifth time in the last seven years that the Mountain District winner reached the state semi-finals.

Garrett County took a 1-0 lead in the first inning of the first game against Chaney Post when Alan Sebold led off with a walk and scored on an RBI double by Matt Fritz.

Chaney tied the score in the third on a run-producing single by John Luther.

Chaney followed with single runs in the fifth, sixth, and seventh innings on a ground-out by Wayne Fowler, a single by Scott Raba, and a sacrifice fly by Mike Roberts, respectively.

Chaney Post added two more runs in the eighth to make it 6-1, with the first coming on a fielder's choice and the second on a Garrett error.

Garrett rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth, as Mark Elliott drove home Jeremy Fitzwater, who had singled, and Matt Newcomb, who doubled, but the game ended with runners stranded at first and third.

Fowler went the distance on the mound for the win and aided his own cause with a double and a single. Shawn Hyson also finished with two hits.

Elliott finished with two hits and three RBI and Fitzwater was two-for-four for Garrett County. Both teams finished with nine hits.

In Sunday's game against Dewey Loman, Garrett County trailed 3-0 going into the bottom of the fourth, but took the lead for good with four runs in that frame.

Elliott, who went the distance for the win, settled down after the fourth and tossed five scoreless innings to preserve the win.

Bobby Fritz opened the bottom of the fourth for Garrett County by drawing a walk and then moved to second on a single by Fitzwater. Rich Warnick and Mark Dawson then drew back-to-back walks, which forced Fritz home to record the first run.

Elliott then smacked a bases-loaded double that brought Fitzwater and Warnick home to knot the score at 3-3. Josh Woods followed with a fielder's choice that sent Dawson home with what would prove to be the winning run.

Garrett added a run in the seventh when Fitzwater doubled home Ryan Folk who had singled earlier.

The local team added two insurance runs in the eighth when Woods rapped a two-run double to score Newcomb and Elliott.

Elliott allowed six hits and struck out six, while Jeremy Kolarck gave up nine hits in going the distance for Dewey Loman.

Fitzwater and Woods led Garrett's hitting with a double and a single each.

Garrett County's bats pounded out 16 hits in Monday's win over Bethesda, which sent the local team into the semi-finals.

After taking a 1-0 lead in the first, Garrett made it 5-0 with a four-run fourth inning. Fitzwater led off that frame with a 400-foot double to center field. Warnick then singled to send Fitzwater home, Newcomb reached on an error, and Woods stroked a single to score Warnick. Folk then singled to score Newcomb and Woods.

After two and one-half scoreless innings, Garrett County added four more runs in the top of the seventh to take a commanding 9-0 lead. Alan Sebold drew a walk to lead off, Bobby Fritz singled, and Fitzwater walked to load the bases. Warnick then singled home two runs and Dawson and Elliott each singled to score two more.

After Garrett scored its 10th run in the eighth, Bethesda finally got on the board with three runs in the bottom of that inning behind singles by Tom Feneral, Rich Riston, and Jamie Quacles, a sacrifice fly by Tim Petitt, and a walk by Rich Murray.

Fitzwater, who earned the win on the mound, allowed a single in the second inning and then pitched into the eighth inning without giving up another hit. He was also three-for-four at the plate with a double and two RBI, while Folk went four-for-five, scored twice, and had two RBI. Warnick had two hits for three runs and also scored twice, while Woods recorded a pair of hits.

In Tuesday's contest, it was the Chaney Post bats that hammered out 16 hits, while Garrett County managed just six. Ray Michael drove in five runs with three singles, while Carl Williams, Scott Raba, Bryan Gamble, and Kydese Queen also finished with three singles apiece.

Williams was the winning pitcher, as he worked the first six innings, gave up six hits, and struck out six before being relieved by John Brennan.

The score was tied 3-3 at the end of the fourth, but Chaney took the lead for good with two runs in the sixth. They scored two more in the seventh and broke the game open with two more in the eighth and seven in the ninth.

Folk led Garrett's six-hit effort with a two-run double.

The Garrett County team also aided Chaney by committing six errors, three of which were in the seven-run ninth.

Southern High Soccer Practice To Begin Monday

Southern High School Soccer Coach Tom Powers has announced that practice for the fall season will begin Monday, August 15.

All players are to report to the Southern High practice field located inside the track at 8:30 a.m. Players must have all forms turned in for physical exams and parental permission before they can practice. Additionally, players should bring cleats, flats, and water. Shinguards are mandatory.

The pre-season practice schedule will be from 9 to 11 a.m and 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Plans are set to participate in the Fort Hill pre-season scrimmage tournament on Saturday, August 20.

The Rams finished last year with a 2-9-1 record, but had the second most potent offense of all public schools in the WMIL as they scored 30 goals.

"We expect to do significantly better this year," Powers said. "We only graduated two seniors and have an excellent group of incoming freshmen. Defense will be our focus in pre-season. Several players have invested in camps at Duke, Mount St. Mary's, and the local session which should enhance our overall skill base.

"The Rams' home opener will be September 6 at 5 p.m. against perrenial powerhouse Westmar.

Soccer Referee Re-Cert Slated

A re-certification session for local soccer referees will be held Saturday, Aug. 27, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Bausch & Lomb plant, according to Jim Hart, referee coordinator for the Mountaintop Soccer Association. All present referees who wish to recertify for the next season are urged to attend. The session will include a review and exam.

Novice Skipper Sweeps Weekend Sailboat Races

by Harry Filemyr

The Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association continued the July-August series last weekend. Several regular competitors were at the Flying Scot National Championship. A number of boats had women at the helm, perhaps tuning up for next weekend's women's regatta. The most notable was Allison Felix, who, with her father, Dick Gregory, won all three A fleet races.

This column reports, to the extent that the information is available, first the skipper, then the crew in the order of finishing. The official scoring may be different. Only dues-paying members are scored. Three boats must start for a race to count. The chief scorer keeps track of the Laser sailors, even when they swap boats or sails, and scores individuals. The Flying Scots are, by tradition. scored by boat number, without regard to who is on board. So, this weekend we have Allison's victories being credited to Dick Gregory, Jeremy and John Frank's scores go to Gary Shubert, and Jack Carpenter's second place is not counted because he was sailing an unregistered boat. Sally and Marilyn Carpenter were sailing Jack's. Saturday's second Laser race, with two boats, does not count.

RESULTS:
SATURDAY FIRST RACE

Lasers - Kevin Rissell, first; Keith MacMillan, second; Keith Spinnenweber, third.

Flying Scots A - Allison Felix and Dick Gregory, first; Jack and Sally Carpenter, second; Doug and Audrey MacMillan, third.

Flying Scots B - Dave and Monica Wible, first; Anne Brooke and Charles Graham, second; Jeremy and John Frank, third.

SATURDAY SECOND RACE

Lasers - Keith Spinnenweber, first; Tom Johnson, second.

Flying Scots A - Allison Felix and Dick Gregory, first; Doug and Audrey MacMillan, second; Bruce and Lauren Spinnenweber, third.

Flying Scots B - Mo and Vicki Willey, first; Jeremy and John Frank, second; Lynn and Jane Workmeister, third.

SUNDAY RACE

Lasers - Tom and Ann Johnson, first; Steve Wilson, second; Ande MacMillan, third.

Flying Scots A - Allison Felix and Dick Gregory, first; Jack Carpenter and the Carpenter Girls, second; Harry and Marilyn Filemyr, third.

Flying Scots B - Jeremy and John Frank, first; Ed and Barbara Peters, second; Lynn and Jane Workmeister, third.

SOCCER GOALS DONATED TO FRIENDSVILLE PARK - Among the events of last weekend's annual Friendsville Days was the donation of two soccer goals by the Mountaintop Soccer Association to the town of Friendsville. The goals have been placed in the Town Park, which has recently been renovated via the efforts of the Friendsville Rotary and Lions clubs and the Mayor and Town Council. Pictured above, from left, are: Tom Ables, soccer coach at Northern High School; Marlin Lawson, president of the Friendsville Lions Club; and Spencer R. Schlosnagle, mayor of Friendsville. The last day for northern Garrett County youth to sign up for the 1994 recreation league season is August 13. Players may be registered that day in the Friendsville Town Park, beginning at 10 a.m., and at Grantsville Park at 11:30 a.m.

Archery Shoot Winners Named

A 3-D archery shoot was held Sunday near Mt. Storm, W.Va., sponsored by G&T Sporting Goods.

Oakland Splits Pen-Mar Finale With Hyndman

The Oakland Oaks split a doubleheader with Hyndman Sunday afternoon to conclude the regular Pen-Mar League season and begin preparation for this weekend's league playoffs.

The Oaks were edged in the first game, 1-0, and then came back in the nightcap to record a 4-3 victory.

Hyndman won the first game in the first inning, as Jason Cutter rapped a single to send home Rick Swanger with the only run of the contest. Among Hyndman's six hits off Kent Taylor, who went the distance for Oakland, was a triple by Swanger.

Jamie Ringler and Jason Cutter combined on a five-hitter, while Taylor struck out nine batters in taking the loss. Brett Rice singled twice for the Oaks.

It was in the first inning of the second game that the Oaks scored three of their four runs. Hyndman came back to tie the score with a run in the second and two more in the third. Terry Helbig scored the winning run and final run of the game after he reached on an error in the fourth, advanced to second on a wild pitch, and came home on a two-out single by Chad Miller.

Oakland's Christian Smith fired a three-hitter in going the distance and recording the win over Swanger. Smith struck out five batters.

Joe Healy had two of Oakland's six hits, both singles, while Mike Rice singled twice for Hyndman.

Heart Association Golf Tournament Set For Aug. 19

The American Heart Association, Western Maryland Division, is holding its annual golf tournament on Friday, August 19, at the Oakland Golf Club. The format will be a modified scramble.

The fee for sponsors is $50 for a team of four. Individuals may pay $50 and form their own teams or they will be paired for team play. Club members with their own golf carts will receive a $25 discount. Prizes will be awarded for the best team and individual performances. Refreshments and a barbecue is included in the tournament fees.

Francis Grimm, Garrett County Branch chairman for the American Heart Association, asks that players sign up for the golf tournament "to join in the fight against heart disease and strokes."

Sponsors or persons desiring to enter the tournament are encouraged to contact Wheeler Stewart at the Oakland Golf Club (301-334-3883) or the American Heart Association (800-734-3769) for registration and tournament information.

Symphony Returns

Spring.

Jesse Levine is in his 13th season as music director of the Norwalk Symphony Orchestra and in his third year as music director of the Orquesta del Principado de Asturias in Spain. He has formerly held the positions of music director and conductor of the Chappaqua and the Feld Ballet.

Prior to these appointments, Levine was associate director of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra from 1973 until 1979, and assistant conductor of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra in 1972. In addition to his conducting activities, the musician has held the position of principal violist of the Buffalo, Dallas, and Baltimore symphony orchestras. Since 1983, he has been a professor of viola and chamber music at the Yale School of Music.

Levine studied viola with William Kroll in New York City and conducting with Igor Markevitch in Monte Carlo. He has appeared in recital, chamber music, and as soloist with orchestras in Europe, South America, Israel, Australia, and throughout the United States and Mexico.

He has guest conducted the Puerto Rico Symphony, the Rochester and Brooklyn philharmonics, the Orchestra of the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., the Ives Center Orchestra, the Norfolk Music Festival Orchestra, the orchestras of Paraiba and San Paulo, Brazil, and more recently the orchestras of Grenada and the Principality of Asturias in Spain.

Neal Corwell holds music degrees from Frostburg State and George Mason universities and is currently a doctoral candidate at the University of Maryland, completing work for a DMA in brass performance and pedagogy. He is presently an adjunct faculty member at both Frostburg State University and Shepherd College, where he provides instruction in brass performance and electronic music

From 1981 until 1989, Corwell served as a featured euphonium soloist and clinician with Pershing's Own, the United States Army Band in Washington, D.C. He presently serves as one of the contributing editors of the T.U.B.A. Journal, and is active in both the U.S. and Japan as a guest soloist, clinician, and adjudicator.

Corwell is a published composer and arranger with his specialty being music for brass solo instruments with synthesizer accompaniment. His composition Odyssey, for euphonium and synthesizer, was premiered by Brian Bowman at the 1990 International TUBA Symposium in Sapporo, Japan, and in 1991, adaptations of both Odyssey and Night Song, for an instrumental ensemble and a troupe of dancers, received rave reviews at the British Band Festival, according to a spokesperson.

The composer's recent work for synthesizer and tuba, New England Reveries, is the title work for a compact disc by tuba soloist Mark Nelson, released by Crystal Records in 1992. Corwell's first solo euphonium/trombone CD, Distant Images, is scheduled for release by Nicolai Music this year.

Corwell's original piece for the Symphony at Deep Creek will be presented on Friday, Aug. 19. Others composers' works to be interpreted during this year's series by the professional orchestra will include those of Brahms, Chausson, Bach, Dvorak, and Beethoven.

The program is scheduled as follows:

Program One
Thursday, Aug. 18, 8 p.m.

Piano Quartet No. 1 in C minor, Faure; Violin Sonata No. 3 in D minor, Brahms, featuring Erick Friedman, violin; and String Octet in E flat Major, Mendelssohn.

Program Two
Friday, Aug. 19, 8 p.m.

String Quartet, Brahms; Strings and Euphonium, Corwell; and Concerto for Piano, Violin, and String Quartet, Chausson.

Program Three
Thursday, Aug. 25, 8 p.m.

Serenade for Strings in E Major, Dvorak; Symphonie Concertante, Mozart, featuring Jesse Levine, viola, and Friedman; and Piano Trio, Shostakovich.

Program Four
Friday, Aug. 26, 8 p.m.

Brandenburg Concerto No. 4, Bach; Concerto Grosso in D Major, Op. 3, No. 1, Geminiani; Symphony No. 40, Mozart; and St. Paul's Suite for Strings, Holst.

Each concert is scheduled to last approximately 70 minutes with an intermission, and a different program will be presented each evening. Tickets are $7.50 for adults and $2 for students 16 and under. They may be purchased at Englander's Pharmacy, Deep Creek Pharmacy, Beachy's Pharmacy, or Gregg's Pharmacy. They may also be bought at the GLAF box office at GCC. For more information, persons may call the box office at 387-3082.

ty owners will be eligible to purchase these access stickers which are to be placed on the windshield of each registered vehicle.

According to Glotfelty, the sites will now be fenced, gated, and staffed when in operation because of economic and environmental considerations. It has been estimated that 20 to 30% of the refuse now being deposited at some of the sites is from non-county residents. Since the space this refuse would occupy in the new lined landfill is so valuable, its elimination will save hundreds of thousands of dollars per year in operation and future cell development costs. Further savings will be achieved by not having to haul this out-of-county refuse to the new facility.

The need to eliminate unacceptable material currently being dumped at the sites was another reason the new system was implemented, continued Glotfelty. These unacceptable materials which cannot be disposed of in the new landfill, include items such as tires, liquid waste, and controlled hazardous substances.

Glotfelty also stated that other major improvements will be seen at the collection sites. One example is the installation of stationary compactor systems. These 40-cubic-yard compactors will take the place of up to 30 of the small open top containers currently in use. Large, open top, roll-off containers will also be installed at each site for bulky items. Operation of this new system will eliminate many of the problems that occurred in the past with wind blown trash and the dumping of bulky items onto the ground. The new system is also expected to save county taxpayers' money by reducing hauling costs.

Recycling activities will also be expanded at the new sites. Since they will be staffed while in operation, recycling of used motor oil will now be possible. Additional newsprint recycling containers, funded by a grant from the Maryland Environmental Service, will be installed at each site and the old recycling containers will be re-segmented to allow more space for clear glass, aluminum, and bimetal cans. The quality of material collected is also expected to improve, as staff will now be available on site to aid and educate the public in proper recycling procedures.

Other materials which may collected and recycled at the sites in the future include scrap metal, white goods, and small amounts of brush. The upgrading of the sites was partially funded by a $50,000 Recycling Grant from the Maryland Environmental Service.

The new collection site system will afford the county better control of both the type and quantities of refuse and recyclables handled by the Solid Waste Department. Ultimately, better control of the system will result in reduced nuisance conditions at the sites, fewer chances of adverse environmental problems at the landfill from unacceptable materials entering the waste stream, and a more cost effective overall program, concluded Glotfelty.

the Christian Education Program on Friday at 7 p.m. This service includes a dramatic presentation by Salt and Light Company, and singing by the former Cherry Glade Men's Chorus.

Willard Mayer, former president and instructor of Rosedale Bible Institute and Bible teacher and evangelist, will bring the main conference sermon, titled "Freedom in Knowing the Truth" on Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

A seminar on "How to Help or Hurt Your Pastor" will be given in the auditorium on Saturday afternoon with several other seminars in various locations on the grounds.

The emphasis on Sunday will be on missions. A mass children's chorus will be singing at 10:10 a.m. Donald R. Jacobs, who has a doctorate in anthropology and has spent over 20 years as a missionary in Africa, will be the keynote speaker. He is also chairman of the Mennonite Christian Leadership Foundation and has traveled extensively.

The conference session will end with a commissioning service at 3 p.m. on Sunday, commissioning those leaving for mission work.

Meals will be served in the cafeteria on a free-will offering basis at noon and 5 p.m. each day.

Visitors are welcome at any or all of these services. Further details are available on the conference site or persons may call 245-4143.

by forcing grounders. But then the Massachusetts players went on a six-hit, seven-run rampage, aided by no fewer than seven Oakland errors. Pitcher Kevin Brower had a double, while Hebert hit two singles in the inning and Brandon Brower, Brandon Soule, Daryl Bradford, and Christian Perry each had a single. Soule finished with four hits and three RBI, while Perry recorded four with two RBI.

Singles by Oakland's Nathaniel Panther and Todd Tasker resulted in another run, making the score 7-2, but Middleboro came back with four more hits and another error to make it 11-2.

A two-run double by Hinebaugh and a run-producing single by Bosley in the fourth inning cut the lead again, but Middleboro added seven more runs over the next few innings behind back-to-back homers by Tyler Leroy and Bradford to put the game away. Bosley went two-for-three for Oakland and Panther also finished with two hits.

Brower, the winning pitcher, went the distance, striking out nine, giving up eight hits, and issuing no walks.

Hinebaugh is projected to start on the mound for the Oakland team this Friday.

Harper Streaks To EMS Victory

Chuck Harper of Beverly, W.Va., flew out of the pack from a ninth place start, captured the lead on lap seven, and cruised to his first 1994 late model victory at Elkins Motor Speedway.

Sonny Stutler led the way ahead of Kevin Marsh until lap five when Harper passed Marsh on the front straight, but a caution set Marsh back in second for the restart. One lap later, Harper grabbed the second spot and challenged Stutler for the lead. Again, out of turn four, as Harper passed the opposition, he was forced back one spot by the yellow flag and restarted lap seven in second. Sixteen seconds later, he took the lead for good. Nolan Dalton, who started tenth behind Harper, finished second, Frank Wilson was third, Stutler and Marsh finished fourth and fifth respectively. Denny Chamberlain did not start the feature because of a blown head gasket.

In the semi-late feature, five cars engaged in an all out war that was finally decided under the checkered flag by less than a foot.

Shawn Poling led the way until lap eight when Terry Conrad passed him in the turn. Two laps later, Danny Hamrick grabbed second and on lap 14 took the lead from Conrad. In a tight pack close behind the two front runners were Jerry Haseleu, Scott Miles and Kevin Hamrick vying for their share of the top five spots. Conrad and Danny Hamrick raced side-by-side for the final five laps and out of turn four on the last lap seemed glued together. Conrad won by a nose and a second later Haseleu, Kevin Hamrick and Miles filled in the remaining top five positions.

Twenty cars started the pure stock feature, but on the first lap a back straightaway demo derby erased six from the field. With one black flag and two additional cautions, only 10 cars finished with Bill Tincher leading the way ahead of Denny Sandy and Jim Bendershaw, Jr.

Numerous cautions kept the UMP modifieds close between the top three finishers: Phil Jeffries, Greg Wilt and Ron Parrish.

In the four cylinder stock feature, Thomas Simpson closed in on the points lead by outlasting a field of 22 cars. Tommy Pennington was second and Hayward Baker finished third.

This Saturday night, August 13, don't miss the thrilling action of the Sixth Annual R.H. Armstrong Classic. Twenty-five hundred dollars awaits the winner of the late model feature which promises to bring many new cars to the "Thunder in the Valley."

the real estate office at one side of the plaza and the stores were busy. I had stopped before making the turn, but did accelerate into the plaza and pulled into a parking space at the Deli. As I did this, I heard some person, a man I believe since it was a very powerful voice, yell "Slow down!" There was great projection in his voice and it carried distinctly over the entire plaza. I was the only moving car at that time, so I knew it was meant for me. I was very embarrassed, and without looking to right or left, I hurried into the store, made my purchase, and sort of "slunk" out, got in my car quickly and disappeared with only a cursory glance to right and left -- and I was I might add -- a good bit slower.

But I do wish to thank him. I was driving carelessly in a crowded area. I should have been more aware of others, and as a resident of the county, more courteous to the many visitors who were frequenting the shops. I, mysell, am very critical of, for instance, people who park at crowded gas pumps and then do extensive store shopping; of people who don't signal for a turn and for other fractional but irritating driving habits. Driving too fast, however, is dangerous.

So, to the gentleman who hollered at me last Saturday. Thanks!! I needed that!!

To the Editor:

I am sending a copy of the following letter to you because I believe the subject is of great interest to Deep Creek Lake property owners and business people. To my knowledge the boat sticker plan has not received any media attention. The letter was directed to Paul Durham, lake manager.

Thank you,
J. Baird Atwood

Dear Mr. Durham:

I just returned after a four-week absence from DCL and was given a copy of the proposed boat sticker system recommended by the DCL Advisory and Review Committee in May, 1994. Firstly, I would respectfully request that the August 12 deadline for comments be extended for four weeks. Your legal notice appearing in The Republican was buried in the last section and not noticed by many property owners. I wonder why this was not given to The Republican as a news story. I'm sure it would have been given space in the first section.

I have talked to a few members of the Advisory and Review Committee and believe I have a fairly accurate account of how this unbelievable proposal was generated. This sticker system is totally unacceptable to lake front property owners who have already had their buffer strip user fees increased by 300 to 400%. Let me remind you that at the time the new user fee schedule was established we were assured by your department, the state of Maryland, and Penelec that there would not be any further increases in buffer-strip fees for the remainder of the five-year Lease Management Agreement (see the fourth paragraph of James W. Dunmyer's letter of January 26, 1994 to Senator Hafer and Delegate Edwards, copy attached.)

It is true that there is an offset provision for reducing current permit fees, but only after a minimum of $100,000 of net revenue has been generated by the boat sticker program. How anyone in DNR or the State of Maryland could possibly justify an administrative cost of $100,000 per year for the implementation and administration of this program is beyond my comprehension. It is ridiculous and I suspect was "ginned up" by DNR to make certain this plan (a plan DNR opposed at the outset) would not be approved.

This boat sticker proposal was developed by the Advisory and Review Committee because this program was part of the counter proposal on usage fees made by the POA and the DCL Business Association. However, this proposal was only to apply to boats owned by non-lake-front property owners and other transients who have been using the lake at virtually no cost. Our proposal was simply to increase the current launching fee now charged by DNR to a reasonable level and to cover transients boats launched at marinas.

At the present time I understand a $2 launching fee is charged, but generally only collected when DNR personnel are at the launching ramp. We proposed that this procedure be tightened, local marinas be authorized to collect the fees for the DNR and that some distinctive sticker be used. Transit boats are primarily of the bass-boat design and are generally identifiable by the DNR personnel. An elaborate, all inclusion boat sticker program is obviously not cost effective in view of the relatively small number of fishing crafts involved (estimated to be 15 to 75 depending on the day of the week and season.)

I suspect it was the fishermen's group that forced the inclusion of sailboats in the $25 sticker system. To my knowlege up to this time no one has suggested that sailboats need to have an operating sticker. They now pay a higher fee for moorage under the new rate schedule. The provision for a special fee for regattas is totally counter productive. These special events bring out-of-towners to Garrett County who spend money for food, lodging, rentals, and other merchandise. These events should be encouraged and not discouraged.

In my opinion, the proposed $25 seasonal fee for transients boats is too low and should be $50 to be equitable with a two-week permit for $25. Daily launching fees should be at least $5. If the fishermen feel that is too high, they can also rent dock space and avoid the fee entirely.

Although the sticker proposal undoubtedly will go down the tubes, it really upsets me to realize that the DNR and possibly the county commissioners (at least Brenda Butscher) believe they can continue to raise user fees for the recreational use of DCL through new programs like this without regard to the commitments made in the winter and spring of 1994 by both DNR, Maryland, and Penelec. This is what many of us were fearful of when we raised our objections. I never thought your department would have the audacity to propose such an increase within two or three months of the user fee schedule finalization.

I will be calling you soon to make an appointment to review the new and substantially increased DNR budget for Lake Management. You will recall that at the meeting where you reviewed this budget, you invited property owners to come to your office for that purpose.

Sincerely,
J. Baird Atwood

Social Security Is 59 And Still Working

By Thomas W. Armbruster
Social Security Manager in Cumberland, Maryland

Social Security celebrates its 59th birthday August 14. While many people take the program for granted and others question whether it's going to be around in the future, here are some facts that are worth thinking about on this occasion. These are just a few examples of the stories that don't make headlines -- the business as usual items for the Social Security Administration and the millions of customers we serve.

*Currently, the Social Security Administration (SSA) serves 42 million Social Security beneficiaries, 5 million individuals who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits, and 135 million workers who are paying into the system.

*Out of each dollar you pay in Social Security taxes, only about one penny goes to pay for the administrative expenses necessary to run the largest social insurance system in the world.

*Every month, 99.8 percent of SSA's beneficiaries receive their checks in the right amount, at the right address, and on time. And, this service has been ongoing for more than a half-century through an era that has witnessed the nation at war, in recession, at peace, and in prosperous times.

*The largest single SSA workload is processing requests for new and replacement Social Security cards. Every working day, about 70,000 applications are taken and for 94 percent of them a response is in the mail to the customer in less than 5 days -- with a 99.7 percent accuracy rate.

*The primary purpose of the Social Security number is to help track the earnings of workers who pay Social Security taxes. Social Security benefits are based on earnings reports submitted by employers and credited to the worker's Social Security number. Every year, more than 220 million earnings reports are received from thousands of employers across the country: 99.6 percent of those earnings are accurately posted to SSA's records.

*Every year, more than 3 million new claims for monthly benefits are filed by retirees and their dependents and by widows, widowers, and children of workers who have died. These claims are processed and the first check is ready to mail in about 14 days -- with a 99.8 percent accuracy rate.

*Each year, 230,000 claims for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits are received from people aged 65 or older. Their first payment is ready in about 17 days, with a 96 percent record of accuracy.

*Every year, SSA receives more than 60 million reports of changes of address, marriage, divorce, death, and other events that affect a person's eligibility for Social Security benefits. Social Security representatives with "online" access to beneficiary files record the new information and update the files instantaneously.

Hopefully, these facts will help you feel better the next time you see a headline criticizing some aspect of Social Security. They should help you recognize that such criticism is not the whole story.

To the Editor:

A rare and wonderful thing is about to happen at Southern High School--again!

The town of Oakland does not yet know it, but soon they will be able to observe first hand a select group of students who will excel and achieve to whatever degree they desire. These individuals will work hard, practice long, grow, flourish, and possibly become nationally known for their might, power and tenacity! They will have instilled into them a gut-burning desire to be winners. They will learn how to have focus and purpose. They will develop a cohesive bond as they work as a team, and develop all the characteristics of true champions. They will be considered an elite group, and will march proudly as members of the 1994 Southern High School Band, representing Oakland, Maryland in competitions throughout the Eastern United States!

An internationally known giant in the field of marching band instructors is about to re-emerge on the scene at Southern High. Known for his strong leadership skills and attention to details, Bob Thomas returns to Southern to teach after nine years, more polished, more poised, and more professional then ever

Lightning Is Striking Again; Institute Provides Safety Tips

Like ribbons of electricity pouring out of the summer sky, lightning's speed and fury is unleashed overhead. A magical display of nature's beauty, lightning's mark may often times be fatal.

Being one of the most powerful natural forces, lightning takes with it between 100 and 150 lives every year in the U.S. and causes injury to hundreds of others. The United States experiences over 100,000 thunderstorms annually. The electrical fireworks that accompany these storms cause hundreds of millions of dollars in property damage and both directly and indirectly affect thousands of lives. Maryland ranks in the top 10 in the number of lightning related deaths in the nation and is no stranger to lightning's fiery flashes.

Scorching summertime temperatures and volatile air masses result in the often times violent thunderstorms indicative of Maryland. Summer rains become more frequent and the thunderstorms accompanying these rains can occur with little or no warning. Thunderstorms result from the powerful clash between cool and warm weather masses. As varying charges of positive and negative energy build up during a storm, the result is a discharge of negative energy sent rushing toward the earth. As this downward force nears, positive charges rise up to meet it. When the two opposing forces meet, they create a closed circuit. This completed ionized path to the ground creates the lightning flash. A bolt of lightning may carry up to 100 million volts of electricity.

Andrew Larsen, Executive Director of the Lightning Protection Institute, a not-for profit organization that promotes public awareness of the dangers of lightning and lightning safety issues, concedes many of the lightning-related deaths and injuries are needless and preventable. Keeping aware of changing weather conditions and knowing how to react to a storm can save lives. It is no coincidence many deaths and injuries occur at the beginning and end of storms when stray lightning bolts emerge from a virtually cloudless sky. Lightning is released from the edges of storm clouds and is often unexpected. According to Bob Ebaugh, a Weather Specialist for the National Weather Service, it is during the height of the storm, when the rain is overhead that most people seek shelter. At other times people are often lulled into a false sense of security.

The best way to avoid injury is to be alert to oncoming storms. Watch out for billowy, white-topped cumulonimbus clouds with darkened areas. They appear threatening and should be taken seriously. Although impossible to prevent lightning from striking, you can avoid dangerous situations. The Lightning Protection Institute suggests following some basic guidelines: Upon the sighting of a thunderstorm: Immediately seek shelter in a protected structure - one that is guarded by a lightning protection system which safely harnesses the energy of a strike, guiding and dissipating the electrical current. Many public buildings are designed with certified, state-of-the-art lightning protection systems and many homeowners choose to protect property with these systems. If you find yourself in an unprotected building or home, it is important to avoid contact with electrical equipment and appliances and avoid standing near doors and windows - try to remain in a center room until the storm passes. Do not attempt to unplug appliances or televisions and computers during the storm and stay off the phone. Lightning can travel through phone lines and cause electrical shock! Also, avoid contact with bath tubs, sinks and faucets or other piping throughout the home.

If you're caught outside, avoid areas that are higher than the surrounding landscape. For anyone found near or in a body of water during a storm, the rule is to get as far from the water as possible. Lightning seeks the path of least resistance and water and metals are preferred targets. Vacate pool areas and avoid unprotected poolhouses or beach stands. Do not use a tree as shelter and avoid all metal and tall objects such as telephones, power lines and fences. Keep away from metal objects including bicycles, motorcycles and golf carts. If you're with a group of people, spread out; the chances of attracting a bolt as a group increase.

If you feel a tingling and your hair begins to stand on end, lightning may be about to strike! Immediately crouch down with your hands on your knees. Do not lie down or place your hands on the ground.

Persons struck by lightning receive a severe electrical shock and may also be burned. Victims carry no residual electrical charge and can be safely treated and handled. Even though a bolt may not be fatal, the millions of volts of electricity in a single strike can dangerously heat nerves and blood vessels, rupture eardrums, break bones, burn skin, damage the brain and cause cataracts. A strike victim may be unconscious, breathing may stop, and their pulse may be weak or absent. If there is no breath, immediately begin CPR. For lightning strike victims acting only briefly stunned or otherwise unhurt, take caution, they too may require special attention. Anyone affected by lightning should seek medical attention immediately.

For a free booklet on lightning and lightning safety tips, or information on lightning protection systems for the home please write: The Lightning Protection Institute, 3365 N. Arlington Hts. Rd., Suite J. Arlington Hts., IL 60004 or call 1800-488-6864.

As in the past, he will undoubtedly use his skills to create breath-taking performances that will bring appreciative audiences to their feet, and the competition to their knees!

Mr. Thomas, who literally could be teaching anywhere in the nation (he's that good), has elected to work with Southern's band again, and everyone will see what can happen when you match up kids who have desire, ambition, and guts to be the best, with an instructor whose knowledge, creativity, and vision are unsurpassed by any of his peers.

If you are a Southern band member, or a parent of one--congratulations! You are about to embark on the most exhilarating days of your lives! Band is for students who are bright, sharp, and ambitious! Being a member is the most incredible experience you never want to miss.

In 1980, a group of hard-working kids who had a gut-burning desire to win, made it to the National Finals of Marching Bands of America held in Jacksonville, Florida, and finished second in the nation in their class! An exclusive movie was made about this band entitled The Making of a Champion, and was distributed throughout the United States. They gained national stardom, and set a record as being the smallest band to ever make it to the National Finals! There were only 46 playing members! This band of 1980 is still talked about today as the "little band with the big sound." That band was the Southern High School Band, taught by Bob Thomas and Richard Clever.

Bob and "Rock" have teamed up once more, and history will surely repeat itself...and the Southern High School band from Oakland, Md., will be nationally known--again!

Good luck! God bless you, and best wishes for an awesome year! Don't ever quit! You're the Best of the Best!

To the Editor:

On behalf of Hospice of Garrett County, Inc., I want to take this opportunity to thank the businesses and individuals who donated items to be auctioned at the Hawaiian Luau/Silent Auction and to list a few donors that we didn't get in the newspaper last week. They were: Fitzwater Furniture, Helen's Ceramics, Discovery Toys, Harry Dunkin, Grantsville Liquors, Karen Lewis, Deep Creek Pharmacy, State Farm Insurance, Faye Livengood, Susan's Ceramics, Garrett County Commissioner John Braskey, Senator Paul Sarbanes, and Gems from Gem Star.

A big thanks to those who came and spent their money generously to support our Hospice program.

I would also like to invite you to stop by the Hospice Jail and Bail at the Garrett County Fair next week. We are very proud of the new jail that Walter Livengood built to house our "desperate prisoners." Be sure to look for our ad in this newspaper and see if any of your friends will be needing your donation to help raise their bail money.

Again, we sincerely thank all of you for your support in helping us to continue to serve the terminally ill and their families in Garrett County.

May God bless all of you.

Sincerely,
Brenda J. Butscher
Executive Director

CHAIN OF TOOLS

"Where can I keep my keys?" "I need to carry paper and pencil." These aren't new problems but the women of the 19th century often had no pockets.

The chatelaine was a clever solution. The lady of the house's keys, paper, pencil, scissors, a small purse, a watch, smelling salts and other useful gadgets were hung on small chains suspended from a pin or clip. Chatelaines had from five to nine accessory chains.

Most original chatelaines were made of silver, gold or even steel. Costume jewelry copies are being seen today at trendy shops. The chatelaine is back in favor.

Q. My pressed-glass bread plate has been in our family for years. It's about 12 inches in diameter with a lion in the center. The border has the words "Give us this day our daily bread." What is its age and value?

A. There are several versions of the pressed-glass lion bread plate. Lion was a pattern of glassware made in the 1870s. Full sets of goblets, dishes, compotes, pitchers and more were made. The stemmed pieces had a frosted lion head on the stem, and the platter had a frosted or clear lion in the center. Evidently, the popularity of the bread plate remained after the other pieces were discontinued. A Lion bread plate was offered for sale in an 1888 catalog in Pennsylvania. It has been copied in recent years and is seen in clear, yellow and blue glass. An old tray is worth $85.

Q. I'm a collector of Homer Laughlin's Fiestaware. I have a full set of nested mixing bowls in each of the six colors: orange, cobalt blue, green, yellow, ivory and turquoise. Each bowl is numbered on the bottom, with number 1 the smallest and number 7 the largest. There is great controversy about the lids for the bowls. Everyone agrees that there are lids for sizes 1 through 4. Some say there is a lid for 5 and 6. Do you know?

A. The Fiesta mixing bowl lid question has been discussed in many of the books about Fiesta and collectors have differing opinions. We have seen lids 1, 2, 3 and 4 in many collections. Lids break more easily than mixing bowls; the larger the lid, the more likely it would break. There are at least two known lids for bowl number 5, and one for bowl number 6. We suspect that there are many more that belong to people who don't realize that the lids are rare. The lid for bowl number 7 was probably made, too. It would be 11½ inches in diameter. Each of the lids had a flattened round button knob in the center, and the typical incised rings from a border on the top. Does anyone else have a lid for bowl number 5 or 6, or is there an existing lid for number 7?

Home Tips

INSECT CONTROL — I live in an apartment in New York City. While the building is very well-maintained, it is a fact of life that once in a while, a roach or two will surface. Since I have two cats, I refuse to use boric acid or toxic chemicals which could be harmful. However, I use an old trick my mother taught me to keep them away. I crush up bay leaves and put the powder in all the cracks and crevices of the kitchen and bathroom (roaches' favorite rooms). It works and best of all, it's not dangerous to my cats. Sheila H., New York, N.Y.

COUPON CLIPPING — When you redeem coupons, put that money aside and save it for something special. Put it toward a dinner out after a show, or for said show or any other frivolous thing. Lisa V., Cleveland, Texas

EVAPORATED MILK — I had a can of evaporated milk, opened it and only used a small amount and then put it in the refrigerator. Before I could use it all, it spoiled. I finally got wise and now freeze two-tablespoon amounts (my husband likes it in oatmeal) in plastic juice glasses sprayed with vegetable spray. They pop out after freezing and I store them in the freezer until I need them. Jeannie R., Commerce City, Colo.

KETCHUP PACKAGES — Whenever I go to fast-food restaurants and order french fries or onion rings, I get a few packages of ketchup. Very rarely do I use them on my food. I used to just throw them out.

Now I save them and when I need to clean my brass kitchen trivets, I use the ketchup from the small packages. It's ideal and best of all, the ketchup isn't wasted anymore.

STAIN-REMOVER USE — Here's a tip for those who have trouble getting gum out of hair. My daughter had gum down at the roots of her hair and I rubbed a stain-remover stick in her hair. I then let it sit a little while. It then came out very easily. Lana B., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Household Help
by John Amantea

Q. I live in a three-bedroom high ranch house with a finished basement. The job I need to tackle is the bathroom. I am planning to fully tile the walls with a decorative ceramic wall tile.

The bathroom is currently painted with a white semi-gloss finish. The floor is covered with tile and is in good condition. Can you give me some pointers on preparation of the wall surface and other important factors?

A. You have chosen an excellent covering for your bathroom walls because the durability of tile surpasses paint and/or wallpaper. Tile also adds a rich beauty to any bathroom and is generally very easy to keep clean.

There are a few steps you must follow in preparing your wall surface before you tile. The surface must be free of dirt, grease and all other types of wall coverings. However, in your case, you will have to sand and rough up that semi-gloss finish. Depending on the area that you will have to sand, you can either use a rubber block or an electric-powered hand sander. Whatever you choose, an 80-grit (or medium) grade sandpaper will suffice. If there are any unusual rough or high spots on the wall, sand them down to the level surface.

Once your surface is ready for the tile installation you can begin to protect the finish of the faucet handles, grab bars, and other fixtures. Also be sure to use a piece of cardboard and mask the entire bathtub perimeter with tape so no tile adhesive or grout drops into it.

The rest of the job consists of laying out the project as to how you will actually set the wall tile. You can do a number of variations if you have different types and styles of ceramic tile. However, the job will be most rewarding when completed.

LATE SUMMER LAWN AND GARDEN TIPS

* If your lawn has sustained some browning due to the hot sun, you can revive it with a good spreading of feed. Ask your local garden center for more information.

* Take good care of overgrown tomato plants that may fall and collapse due to their size. Tie some string around the plants and stake them to a piece of wood to hold them steady.

* Keep up with your weeding. This is the time weeds can easily overtake your flowers and vegetables.

Q. Is it possible to tell that a person has a viral infection of the throat by looking at it or by taking a culture? I was told that I had a typical viral infection and was given an antibiotic for it. I am confused.

A. It is almost impossible for anyone to say that an infection is due to a virus or germ by looking at it.

Cultures and smears of the throat can often show a germ or a fungus that might account for the illness. Unfortunately, it is almost impossible by ordinary means to isolate a virus from a throat culture.

Since antibiotics do not affect viruses, one wonders about the advantages of taking them. There may be one. Since sometimes a viral infection can so debilitate the body that it invites a secondary bacterial infection, antibiotics can act in a preventive manner.

Smith Promoted To Captain By Colonel Tolliver

Maryland State Police Superintendent Colonel Larry W. Tolliver highlighted the 20th anniversary of women in the Maryland State Police this week by promoting the first woman ever to the rank of captain.

Cynthia R. Smith, 35, formerly of Garrett County, was promoted to captain effective August 17. Lieutenant Smith has commanded the Cumberland Barrack since becoming the first female commissioned officer last week. She has served most of her 12-year career in Western Maryland. Once the promotion takes effect, Smith will be reassigned to the Personnel Management Division in Pikesville.

"Captain Smith continues to provide a level of leadership and professionalism that few can achieve," Colonel Tolliver said. "Her knowledge and leadership abilities will continue to serve the state police and the citizens of Maryland well."

Smith graduated from the Maryland State Police Academy in 1982, finishing second in a class of 54. Since that time, she has been assigned to Forestville, Hagerstown, McHenry, and Cumberland barracks. In 1987, she was named "Trooper of the Year" for the Garrett County Detachment.

There are currently 120 female troopers serving the Maryland State Police, with six more now attending the State Police Training Academy.

New Horizons Program Given Grant Approval

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College has been notified of grant approval to continue the program's operation for the next two years, FY 95 and FY 96.

The college will receive a $45,000 grant per year for the next two years to continue operation of the Single Parent/Displaced Homemaker/Single Pregnant Women Program from the Maryland State Department of Education, Division of Career Technology & Adult Learning, effective July 1, 1994.

The New Horizons Program, located at the McHenry Campus of GCC, provides career counseling, peer counseling, career assessment, career testing skills identification, job skills preparation, and vocational training. Tuition assistance is available through the New Horizons Program for both non-credit and credit classes at GCC. Child care and/or transportation assistance is also available to income-eligible program participants. The following categories are served by New Horizons:

Single parent: A. Who is unmarried or legally separated from a spouse; and B. (1) has a minor child or children for which the parent has either custody or joint custody; or (2) is pregnant.

Displaced homemaker: A. Is an adult; and B. (1) Has worked as an adult primarily without pay to care for the home and family, and for that reason has diminished marketable job skills; (2) Has been dependent on public assistance or on the income of a relative but is no longer support by such income; (3) Is a parent whose youngest dependent child will become ineligible to receive assistance under the program for aid to families with dependent children under part A of Title IV of the Social Security Act within two years of the parent's application for assistance under this Act; or (4) Is unemployed or underemployed and is experiencing difficulty in obtaining any employment or suitable employment, as appropriate, or C. Is described in subparagraph (A) or (B) and is a criminal offender.

According to Barbara Frey, director of New Horizons, $7,500 will be available for tuition and books assistance this funding year for eligible participants of the New Horizons Program in both the credit and non-credit areas of vocational training, as well as approximately $3,740 to be used for child care/transportation expenses while program participants are in training programs.

To determine eligibility for the New Horizons Program, interested persons are asked to call 387-3071 weekdays between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to schedule an appointment to learn more about the program and how it can provide assistance.

The New Horizons Program is jointly funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and Garrett Community College. Grant funds in the amount of $45,000 are made available to the program through Division of Career Technology & Adult Learning, which is 89.6% of the total program budget, with Garrett Community College contributing an additional $5,200, which is 10.4% of the total program budget.

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE
HEAT EXHAUSTION
OR SUN-STROKE?

Heat exhaustion and sun-stroke are both caused by the same thing -- over-exposure to extreme heat. But, they are very different and you should know how to tell them apart.

With sun-stroke, the skin is very hot and very dry. It is more serious than heat exhaustion and a doctor should be called at once. A cold water bath or sponging, ice on the head, moving to a shaded area and undressing can help until the doctor arrives. With heat exhaustion, the skin is cold and clammy. Move the person to a shady place, keep head lower than the body and loosen tight clothing while waiting for the doctor.

First Pair of Shoes

A great king, so the legend goes, once stepped on a thorn in his garden. In a furious rage, he ordered his prime minister to cover his entire kingdom with leather. "Your majesty," replied the wise prime minister, "let me cover your feet with leather, and wherever you go, you will be protected." And so the first pair of shoes was made!

A child whose first pair of shoes appealed to our photographer has a long way to travel. His or her journey through life will not be free of thorns, and more than shoes will be needed to make that journey!

The child will need to develop that spiritual fiber which will do for his or her character what the first pair of shoes did for the king's feet. We can't carpet the whole world – but we can acquire the faith and courage which will enable us to climb life's most rugged trails.

Our churches and synagogues bring such qualities to the life of mankind. They point the way to happy, wholesome living – for the grown-up with the burdens of life on his shoulders – and for the little tot in his first pair of shoes.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

LET'S GO BACK!
August 14, 1994

Background Scripture:
Numbers 13 through 14
Devotional Reading:
Numbers 23:18-23

"Let us choose a captain, and go back to Egypt" (14:4). So said the people of Israel when the twelve spies whom Moses had sent into the land of Canaan gave their report.

So say many people today when they are confronted with "an evil report." The "captain" may be a political candidate, a religious figure, or a charismatic person who promises a return to the good old days. It is a fact of life that lots of people would rather accept the known hardship of an Egypt than the seeming elusive promise of Canaan.

Before we come down too hard on the people of Israel, let us acknowledge that their reaction is understandable because we often respond to life in the same way. We long for the Promised Land, but we don't want to have to take any risks to get there. And when it is apparent that there are grave risks we frequently find it more attractive to go back to what was, instead of what can be. We assume that misery that is familiar is less uncomfortable than misery that is uncertain.

YOU CAN'T GO BACK

One of the lessons that the Bible teaches us, however, is that you cannot go back. Even if you return to a place geographically, it is not the same for life moves on inexorable. It is impossible for humans to hold back or even delay the march of time. Continuing change is one of the themes of the Old Testament and it is one of the hardest lessons for us to learn.

Change makes us fearful. Anything that disturbs our status quo is likely to make us resistant. But change was inevitable for the twelve tribes of Israel in the wilderness and it is inevitable for us. If we consider it bad news when God tells us of change, we need also to listen to the good news that goes with it: God goes with us into the changing future and not only sustains us amidst the perils of it, but transforms many of the perils into opportunity and advantage. We are right to distrust the future, but wrong not to trust in God.

That is the key to the report of twelve spies. They were agreed on one aspect of their reconnaissance; Canaan was all that God had led them to expect. "It flows with milk and honey, and this is its fruit," they said, bringing back a cluster of the abundant grapes they found in the Valley of Eshcol (which means "cluster"). Reports of the future usually have some element of positive opportunity. There is something to be gained by going forward.

MILK & HONEY

But the spies did not agree on the second part of their report. Moses had asked them to spy out both the land and the people: "Go into the Negeb yonder, and go up into the hill country, and see what the land is, and whether the people who dwell in it are strong or weak, whether they are few or many..." (13:17,18). Ten of the twelve spies reported that taking the Promised Land was beyond the capabilities of the Israelites. "...all the people that we saw in it are men of great stature ...and we seemed to ourselves like grasshoppers, and so we seemed to them" (13:32,33). But Caleb and Joshua saw the same situation differently: "Let us go up at once, and occupy it; for we are well able to overcome it," said Caleb.

Note that these twelve men all had the same experience in the same place. Ten of them, however, saw dangerous futility in the same place where two of them saw opportunity to do God's will. Ten of them came down with the "grasshopper complex," while two were willing to trust in God's promise.

Often, that's the same choice that confronts us.

COVER STORY

'TV Nation' offers barbs, belly laughs

BY JOHN CROOK

Michael Moore

Filmmaker Michael Moore ("Roger & Me") is racking up frequent flier miles galore for "TV Nation."

The summer comedy magazine series, which offers "stories from the other side of America," airs Tuesdays on NBC.

In recent weeks, Moore has:

•Traveled to Mexico for a typically biting piece on companies (and jobs) that have moved south of the border.

•Flown to the former Soviet Union on a tongue-in-cheek mission to disarm the old nuclear missile he suspected still was aimed at his hometown of Flint, Mich.

•Toured troubled Kuwait for what he says was one of his most challenging segments.

"I took a tour of that democratic state that we 'liberated' three years ago, to see how the democracy was coming," he says dryly. "Not very well. It's run by a feudal monarchy. It has an illusion of some sense of democracy, you know, where 15 percent of all residents can vote.

"I was an American, so I was a liberator. The red carpet was rolled out. But I'd ask questions like 'Well, why can't women vote here?' " he asks with exaggerated mock innocence.

Moore's outspokenness illuminates what sets "TV Nation" apart from other network television: a vivid viewpoint.

"I'm really proud of it," he says. "It's something that's never been done before on TV, combining humor and nonfiction like this. It has a definite point of view and an edge to it."

Indeed, some segments – such as an experiment to see whether New York cabbies are, in fact, less likely to stop for a black passenger than a white one – are so cutting that even the filmmaker himself wonders why people still consent to be interviewed on-camera by his correspondents and him.

"I always am running into people who have seen 'Roger & Me' and who know what I am up to," he muses. "And they still will do the interview. I've asked myself (why that is). And I say, 'Well, '60 Minutes' has been on the air for 25 years. Why, at this point, would anyone talk to Mike Wallace? I mean, if you saw him coming down the hall, what would you do? You know what I mean?

"But people still talk to him. People go on 'Geraldo' and 'Sally Jessy (Raphael)' to expose the most embarrassing things about their lives. Why?"

"TV Nation" has drawn almost uniformly positive reviews for its innovative content, and Moore acknowledges that it may return later after its seven-episode summer run.

"The prospect is always there, but the commitment was just to do the summer series," he explains. "If it does well, I'm sure they'll talk to us about continuing."

Meanwhile, Moore is putting the final touches on "Canadian Bacon," a fall theatrical feature starring the late John Candy, Alan Alda, Rip Torn and Rhea Perlman ("Cheers"). The comedy, which marks the filmmaker's first foray into fiction, has a typically Mooresian plot in which the United States declares war on Canada.

IN FOCUS

Kirk Douglas stars in the CBS rebroadcast of "The Secret" on Sunday, Aug. 14.

Douglas portrays Mike Dunmore, a likable man who is urged by the citizens of his community to run for local political office.

Things turn sour, however, when Mike's son realizes his own son is dyslexic.

As the story develops, Mike jeopardizes his political career and publicly discloses his own secret life as a dyslexic to spare his grandson a life of shame.

Director Yellen gives her actors free rein

BY JOHN CROOK

Alfred Hitchcock once waggishly compared actors to cattle, but Linda Yellen believes in giving her cast free rein.

Yellen is the director of "Parallel Lives," a Showtime original movie premiering Sunday, Aug. 14. She uses the same creative technique she found productive in 1993's "Chantilly Lace": Give the actors the information they need, then let them improvise.

"I'm very delighted with this method of working," Yellen says, "and it really lends itself to any form of movie making. I'd really like to consider myself a collaborative director, and really allow the talented actors to contribute fully, and really feel a part of it."

"Parallel Lives" focuses on a weekend fraternity-sorority reunion, a plot device that allows for a multitude of shifting dynamics for the ensemble cast.

Some of the actors are more successful than others. Lindsay Crouse's unstable rock singer is downright bizarre, and James Brolin seems more or less at sea. Second City veteran James Belushi, on the other hand, is assured and strong as a journalist, and Liza Minnelli is hilarious as the compulsive organizer of the reunion.

No one, however, is more mesmerizing than "Chantilly" alumna JoBeth Williams, who plays a driven public relations executive.

"So many movies now are repeats of repeats," Williams says. "Something like 'Chantilly Lace' ... wakes us up in a way, forces us to draw on resources that we are not called on to use very often. And the more of this kind of thing that we can do, the more juice it adds to the creative pool that we draw from."

Patricia Wettig (left) and Liza Minnelli star in Showtime's "Parallel Lives," premiering Sunday. The improvisational film explores the complexities of relationships.

Chuck Norris

Q: Where can our karate-crazy son write his idol, Chuck Norris? –A. Sadler, Champaign, Ill.

Q: Can you give me an address for the show "The Nanny"? –Paula Olsen, Port Orange, Fla.

A: For both: CBS Inc., 7800 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90036.

Q: Can you give me the latest on Blythe Danner? I haven't seen her since her one "M*A*S*H" program. –Don Horn, Dixon, Ill.

A: Danner recently co-starred as Diane Lane's high-strung mother in "The Oldest Living Confederate Widow Tells All" on CBS, as well as participating in "A Century of Women" on TBS. At 50, this Tony-winning actress still looks and sounds wonderful. Married to TV producer Bruce Paltrow, and mother to budding actress Gwyneth, Danner can afford to pick and choose among roles offered to her, as well as concentrate on theater when she likes. You must have missed her when she returned briefly to series television for the short-lived "Tattingers" in 1988-89, playing the elegant and acerbic Hillary Tattinger. The show bombed, was reworked as a comedy called "Nick and Hillary," but bombed again. She also guest starred in an episode of "Tales From the Crypt."

Q: How can I find the Rodgers and Hammerstein "Cinderella" on tape? It starred Lesley Ann Warren. –V. Snider, Ayr, Neb.

A: Almost any large video store stocks this title, which is available from CBS/Fox Video.

Q: Please help me find a video copy of "It's Never Too Late" with Paul Ford and Maureen O'Sullivan. –Robert L. Kornhauser, Sarasota, Fla.

A: Sorry. "Never Too Late" (no "It's") has never been released on tape.

Q: Whatever happened to Larry Parks ("The Jolson Story")? –D. Breeden, Charlottesville, Va.

A: He died nearly 20 years ago, in 1975.

Q: I would like to write to Ralph Fiennes ("Schindler's List"). Do you have his home address? –Angela Agee, St. Peters, Mo.

A: I never print personal addresses without permission, but you can write to Fiennes C/O CAA, 9830 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Q: For several years we have been trying to remember a movie with Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy, in which she kept martini ingredients in the glove compartment of her car. Can you help us? Is it on video? –G. Castro, Honolulu.

A: "Honky Tonk Freeway" is available from HBO Home Video.

Bill Murray, Dan Aykroyd and Harold Ramis (clockwise from top left) are amazed by another paranormal appearance in "Ghostbusters II" airing on ABC Sunday, Aug. 14.

In the sequel, the ghost-busting crew is pitted against a long-dead Carpathian warlock who attempts a return to earth to make life miserable for everyone.

Ivan Reitman of the original "Ghostbusters" returns as producer-director. The film was written by Aykroyd and Ramis.

CABLE OVERVIEW

Armchair archaeologists will dig 'Tut' repeat

BY JOHN CROOK

King Tutankhamun

The greatest archaeological find of all time is the subject of "The Face of Tutankhamun," A&E's critically acclaimed 1993 four-part documentary miniseries repeating Monday-Thursday, Aug. 15-18.

The opener, subtitled "The Great Adventure," recounts archaeologist Howard Carter's discovery of the undisturbed treasures within the tomb of King Tutankhamun. Tuesday's installment is "The Wonderful Things," which examines possible damage the explorers may have inflicted on the remains of the boy-Pharaoh in their excitement to uncover the treasure.

Most titillating, perhaps, is "The Pharaoh Awakes" on Wednesday, wherein the reputed curse of King Tut is recounted. Thursday's conclusion, "Heads in the Sand," reveals conservation problems at the Cairo Museum, which houses the world's greatest collection of Egyptian antiquities.

All-star improvisation forms the core of "Parallel Lives," a Showtime original movie about a reunion of college classmates premiering on Sunday, Aug. 14. As with last season's successful "Chantilly Lace" telefilm, producer-director Linda Yellen gave her ensemble cast a broad outline of each scene for the drama, then allowed the actors to improvise dialogue and action. Back from "Chantilly" are JoBeth Williams, Jill Eikenberry, Lindsay Crouse, Ally Sheedy and Helen Slater, joined by newcomers including Liza Minnelli, Gena Rowlands and Ben Gazzara.

On Saturday, Aug. 20, Showtime offers Brett Butler ("Grace Under Fire") and Kelsey Grammer ("Frasier") as hosts of the annual Montreal International Comedy Festival.

Viewers with stamina may be up for The Discovery Channel's repeat of its brilliant five-hour "Watergate" miniseries airing in one huge chunk on Sunday.

"The Thing," the 1951 sci-fi thriller about a space alien terrorizing an arctic research station, airs Monday on American Movie Classics. James Arness resembles a giant carrot in the title role, but the original is still preferable to John Carpenter's gory and unsubtle 1982 remake.

Richard Crenna won an Emmy for his portrayal of a callous detective who is sexually assaulted in "The Rape of Richard Beck," an unsettling 1985 drama airing Saturday on Lifetime.

Forest Whitaker, Sam Waterston and Dana Delany star in "The Enemy Within," a political thriller premiering Saturday on HBO.

SOAP TALK

Duncan leaves 'AW'; Boyd joins 'Days'

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Linda Dano

It looks like Iris' misguided doings are going to catch up with her this fall. "Another World" announced Carmen Duncan (Iris) will be leaving the show when her contract is up in October. Her departure is dictated by the story line.

Duncan, who has played the role since 1988, says, "I've loved working on 'AW,' and I have particularly enjoyed Iris' most recent story line. (Iris was involved in Carl's shooting.) But it is time to move on and pursue other avenues."

Also from "AW," Linda Dano (Felicia) has taken on yet another side job, but this time it isn't a talk show. She will be recording several romance novels that will be available on one-hour tapes later this year. One of the novels she is taping is "Princess Daisy" by Judith Krantz.

If you didn't get enough of the mysterious Celeste on "Days of Our Lives" this past spring, then you will be happy to know that the character has returned. Tanya Boyd (Celeste) has been signed to a contract role, so it looks like she could be around for a long time.

"Celeste will be creating some dangerous problems for several other characters in Salem," says co-executive producer Tom Langan.

Dear Candace: Could you please tell me why the actress who played Kat on "Guiding Light" left the show? She is very pretty, and although I didn't always like the character she played, I did like the actress.

Was she fired? I thought she did a pretty good job. I would like to know more about her. – J.G., New Mexico.

Dear Reader: Nia Long (Kat, "GL") left the show to pursue other interests.

The actress has had some success in Hollywood. She starred in "Made in America" with Whoopi Goldberg and Ted Danson, and with Larry Fishburne in "Boyz N the Hood."

Long is also an accomplished singer and dancer. She has performed in two music videos, "Do Me" by BBD and "Spark of Love" by Hammer's band Special Generation.

While Long was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., her formative years were spent in Los Angeles. Most of her family and her boyfriend live in California and she wanted to be closer to them, and her career in Hollywood.

MOVIE MARQUEE

Dalton departs as 007, Brosnan becomes Bond

BY JOHN HARMON

Timothy Dalton

Viewers can check out Timothy Dalton on Fox Monday, Aug. 15, in his last James Bond role before losing his "Licence to Kill."

Dalton's short-lived spell as Britain's master spy is over, and Pierce Brosnan is now the new choice to play 007.

Dalton has joined the ranks of retired spy stars Sean Connery and Roger Moore, but his early departure isn't due to old age or thinning hair.

Rather, Dalton was the victim of some thin plots, weak dialogue and poor casting in both "The Living Daylights" and "Licence to Kill."

In the latter film, one is almost embarrassed for Dalton as he tries to deliver the usual sarcastic Bond comments that worked so successfully for Connery and Moore in earlier movies.

But even Dalton's proven acting ability and the normal array of Bond beauties can't make up for the glaring problems that plague a "Licence to Kill."

Take, for example, the stunts. Bond films have always been renowned for their spectacular explosions, car chases, skydives and fistfights. "Licence" resorts to an outrageous scene where James Bond pulls a wheelie in a tractor trailer.

What ever happened to underwater Lotus Esprit sports cars and machine gun firing gondolas?

One can only hope that Mr. Brosnan has better luck with Mr. Bond than Mr. Dalton did, or 007's license may just be revoked forever.

Elsewhere this week, Bill Murray, Dan Aykroyd and Sigourney Weaver battle a Carpathian warlock in "Ghostbusters II," airing on ABC Sunday, Aug. 14.

On CBS, a political candidate is haunted by a painful memory in "The Secret," a 1992 drama starring Kirk Douglas, also on Sunday.

Part 1 of "Woman on the Run: The Lawrencia Bembenek Story" airs on NBC Sunday, Aug. 14. The film stars Tatum O'Neal as the title character, a former policewoman who claims she was framed for murder. It concludes Monday, Aug. 15.

A chess player is accused of murdering a TV celebrity in "A Perry Mason Mystery: The Case of the Lethal Lifestyle" on NBC Friday, Aug. 19. Hal Holbrook, Barbara Hale and William R. Moses star.

In "Moment of Truth: Stalking Back," a drama airing on NBC Saturday, Aug. 20, a woman wages a legal battle to protect her daughter from a violent stalker when authorities are unable to help.

1994 could be the year of the foreign golfer

BY JEFF PLASS

Ben Wright

For the first time in history, all four of golf's major events are in danger of becoming the domain of foreign players.

With Spain's Jose Maria Olazabal capturing this year's Masters, South Africa's Ernie Els taking the U.S. Open and Zimbabwe's Nick Price winning the British Open, only the PGA Championship stands as a major event still up for grabs to be won by an American.

Final round coverage of the tournament, from Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla., airs Sunday, Aug. 14, on CBS.

"The thing is," explains CBS veteran golf analyst Ben Wright, "Nick Price has really got to his stature in the world by virtue of the American Tour. OK, he did his apprenticeship on the European Tour, but what really refined him into being the best player in the world is the American Tour.

"And, as such, I think he's almost an American product."

Wright sees Price not only as the "best player in the world," but also as an odds-on favorite to recapture the PGA Championship title – a title he won back in 1992.

"I can't see what argument can be raised against him," Wright notes. "I did the broadcast at Sun City in South Africa in early December, last year, when he won in a very select field of 12 players, and he won by 12 shots!"

"His total was 24 under par. Now, the previous record-winning aggregate had been 13 under. It was absolutely unbelievable.

"And then, of course, he's proved himself as a multiple winner here. He's the only multiple winner on the tour this year and I can't see that you can make an argument against him at all."

The 76th PGA Championship also features the remarkable comeback of defending champion Paul Azinger, following a year-long battle with lymphoma.

"Oh, I hope it's immensely successful," Wright says. "He's one of my greatest friends out there and I respect him enormously and I hope everything goes well for him. It will be fantastic if he can do well.

"I think it's too much to expect for him to defend his title, but if he could just make the cut, it would be a significant achievement."

"His actual technical ability as a golfer," Wright adds, "is not the equal of his strength of character, which of course is very important in the game. The guys with the big hearts tend to win more often than they should sometimes, but they win because of that."

SCOUTS TOUR NAVY SHIPS - Members of Boy Scout Troop 82, Accident, recently participated in a camping program aboard the World War II aircraft carrier Yorktown (pictured below) at Patriots Point, Charleston, S.C. While there they also toured the World War II submarine Clamagore, the World War II destroyer Laffey, and the Coast Guard cutter Ingham. Morning and evening meals were prepared and served to the scouts in the "chief's mess" aboard the Yorktown. Troop 82 members also took a boat ride to Fort Sumter in Charleston Harbor, which is where the Civil War began. Scouts pictured above are, front row, from left: David Higdon, Jesse Shimrock, and Chad Stallman; and second row, same order: Ralph Miller, scoutmaster; Sean Miller, Jason Paterson, Aaron Miller; and Dave Higdon and Shawn Patterson, assistant scoutmaster. Troop 82 is sponsored by Zion Lutheran Church, Accident.

4-H Scholarships Awarded During State Program

Three Garrett County 4-H members were named recipients of state 4-H scholarships during the state 4-H recognition program held Sunday, June 26, at the Maryland State Fairgrounds in Timonium.

The state 4-H scholarships presented by the Maryland 4-H Foundation were awarded to the following:

Janet Hutzel, Grantsville 4-H Club, received the William E. and Eileen M. Klingelhofer Memorial Scholarship. She will be a junior at Frostburg State University in the fall.

Kimberly Miller, Bittinger 4-H Club, received the Beatrice Streaker Pfefferkorn Memorial Scholarship. She is currently a freshman at Garrett Community College.

Chris Herbert, North Glade 4-H Club, is the recipient of the Barbara Pue Streaker Memorial Scholarship. He is a sophomore at GCC.

Kim Miller and Chris Herbert were also recognized for having their scholarship applications forwarded to the national 4-H Scholarship Program, and Herbert has been named an alternate in the national program, in the area of leadership.

The Bittinger and Red House 4-H clubs each received plaques for being selected as outstanding 4-H clubs in the 1993 year. Vickie Teets, leader of the Bittinger club, accepted the award on behalf of her club.

Also recognized during the program was Irmgard Koscielniak, home economics extension agent in Garrett County, who received the 4-H Professional Partner Award.

Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Revenues Up

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said alcohol and tobacco tax revenues and license and permit fees for fiscal year 1994 accounted for $164,339,571 in state revenue, up more than one-half million dollars from fiscal year 1993.

"The increase in revenues in large part is due to the increase in beer tax revenue," said Goldstein.

Beer tax revenue in 1993 totaled $8,484,126, while 1994 beer tax revenue totaled $9,352,587. Taxes on distilled spirits accounted for $11,538,309 in 1994 revenue, wine taxes accounted for $3,459,165 in revenue, and cigarette tax revenue totaled $139,843,384.

"The 10.2% increase in beer revenue helped offset the marginal declines in revenue from distilled spirits (vodka, gin, whiskey, etc.), wine and cigarettes," Goldstein said. "An increase in wholesaler stock is one of the factors that led to the increase in 1994 beer tax revenue."

The 1993 cigarette tax increase from 16 cents to 36 cents per pack caused the tobacco tax revenue to rise while the actual number of tax stamps sold declined from 400.2 million in fiscal year 1993 to 397.3 million in fiscal year 1994. A tax stamp must be affixed to each pack of cigarettes as proof that the tax has been paid. Five years ago, in fiscal year 1989, nearly 508 million cigarette tax stamps were sold.

Public Pancake Breakfast Offered At State Park

Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area will once again be holding its annual public pancake breakfasts this year on August 17, August 24, and August 31, from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. at the "Oak" Shelter, located in the park's waterfront area. The meal will include regular and buckwheat pancakes, sausage, coffee, tea, juice, hot chocolate, and milk. The cost will be $5 for adults, $2.50 for children under 10.

Volunteers are needed to assist park personnel on all three dates. High school students who would like to accumulate student service learning hours by assisting with these events should contact: Carson Hummel, volunteer coordinator at (301) 387-4111.

B&L Employees Use Creativity For Recycling

The Bausch & Lomb Recycle/Environmental Process Team sponsored a contest in July which consisted of entries made from recyclable materials. There were 25 entries and 162 employees participated in the voting for their favorite items which were displayed for all three shifts. Prizes were gift certificates from the employee store.

Winners were: first prize, Peggy Everly, an airplane whirl-a-gig made from aluminum cans; second prize, Peggy Everly, a decorative basket made from pieces of wood from unused skids; third prize, tie by Debbie Bean, a covered decorative box made from diaper wipe box and Stephanie Lang, gift boxes made from greeting cards; fourth prize, Cindy Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus made from various scraps; fifth prize, Tammy Shaffer, Mrs. Mouse made from a two liter bottle and sock; sixth prize, Debbie Bean, crocheted grape wall hanging/hot pad from bottle caps; seventh prize, tie by Debbie Bean, a covered picture frame from cardboard, and Debbie Slaubaugh, artificial aquariums from plastic soda bottles.

Other items entered were: candle holders from soda bottles filled with sand and decorated for outdoors; handbag/knitting bag made from plastic bottles; game made from soda bottle -- get the nuts, washers on bolts on dowel inside the bottle; doll house furniture from popsickle sticks; Christmas ornaments from plastic balls from trinket machines, pie shell coverings and ends from soda bottles. Mrs. Bunny from room deodorizers; various bird feeders from plastic bottles; pencil cups from cans; door decorations from half plastic bottles; miscellaneous planters from plastic soda bottles; banks from various plastic containers; photo frames from popsickle sticks; Easter baskets from plastic bottles; different size funnels from plastic bottles; humming bird feeder kit utilizing a one liter soda bottle; booklets from Christmas cards for nursing homes/hospitals and napkin holder cut from toilet paper/paper towel rolls wrapped with yarn.

The B&L Recycle/Environmental Team encourages all to look at an item before placing in the trash and see if it can be reused for other purposes, or place in appropriate bins at the trash centers.

Bausch & Lomb has one full-time employee for recycling purposes and employees place recyclable items in appropriate containers throughout the facility. This year over 100 hundred tons of materials have been recycled instead of going to the landfill and other waste materials have been greatly reduced.

The public is invited to direct any questions to Stephanie Lang at (301) 334-9933 ext. 335.

On The Menu...

BASQUE PAELLA

- 1 cup chopped onions
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 cup long or medium grain white rice
- 2 garlic cloves, pressed
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 can (15 ounces) whole tomatoes, halved (do not drain)
- 1 can (13-3/4 ounces) reduced-sodium chicken broth
- 1 cup Sonoma dried tomato halves, cut into strips with kitchen shears
- 12 ounces shelled shrimp, deveined (with or without tails)
- 1 can (15 ounces) pinto beans, rinsed and drained or 1-1/2 cups cooked pinto beans
- 1 can (15 ounces) light red kidney beans, rinsed and drained or 1-1/2 cups cooked light red beans
- 1 cup diced (1/4-inch) trimmed zucchini
- 1 cup fresh, frozen or canned corn kernels
- Salt, to taste
- 1/4 cup chopped cilantro leaves
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped red bell pepper
- 2 teaspoons finely chopped, seeded jalapeño pepper

1. In 12-inch skillet over medium heat, sauté onions in olive oil about 5 minutes until golden. Add rice, garlic and cumin; stir over low heat 1 minute. Add canned tomatoes (with juice), broth and dried tomatoes; heat to boiling, stirring once. Cover; cook over medium-low heat 15 minutes.
2. Meanwhile, mix shrimp, beans, zucchini and corn in bowl. Add to skillet; mix. Cover and cook over low heat about 10 to 15 minutes (depending on size of shrimp), mixing often until shrimp is opaque throughout. Season with salt.
3. Transfer to serving dish; sprinkle with cilantro, bell pepper and jalapeño just before serving.

Makes 6 main-dish servings (about 10 cups).

A TASTE OF THE MEDITERRANEAN

When you think of Mediterranean countries, breathtaking images of sparkling blue waters, sun-baked earth and places rich in history are among the first things to come to mind. But it's the diet of this region that has received attention from nutritionists, chefs and home cooks alike.

The Mediterranean diet, rich with fruits and vegetables, bread, grains and legumes, relies on olive oil as the main fat. Meals are based on complex carbohydrates, including beans, rice, couscous, bulgur wheat and pasta — accented with small amounts of meat, fish and poultry. Wine is often a part of the meal as well. Adapting the Mediterranean cuisine to your lifestyle can be simple when you use readily available ingredients like olive oil, beans and dried tomatoes.

Olive oil, a fundamental ingredient in the Mediterranean diet, lends an aromatic and rich flavor to almost any dish. The intense flavor of this oil allows you to use less than you would of other cooking oils, keeping fat to a minimum. Use it to sauté vegetables, drizzle over crusty bread and add to salad dressings and pasta sauces. Olive oil is high in monounsaturated fats and, when used in place of saturated fat, may lower the "bad cholesterol" without affecting the "good cholesterol."

High in fiber and protein, and low in fat and calories, delicious beans are an essential part of almost every type of cuisine. In the Mediterranean diet, beans are often found dressed with olive oil, herbs and small amounts of cheese or meat. Available in a variety of colors and textures, versatile American-grown dry beans add good taste to everything from main dishes and soups to salads and appetizers. The wide assortment of beans, available either packaged or in cans, provides opportunity for experimentation and creativity.

Long ago, inhabitants of Mediterranean countries figured out how to dry meaty Roma tomatoes to capture the robust, zesty flavor for year-round use. Today, versatile and easy-to-use dried tomatoes are available in halves, bits or marinated in olive oil. Sonoma dried tomatoes add rich flavor and excitement to main dishes, sauces and salads. Look for dried tomatoes, dried without sulfites or salt, in the produce or specialty foods section of the supermarket.

Using staple, nutritious ingredients and simple preparation, you can prepare healthful and comforting meals. These five distinctive recipes are the perfect way to enjoy the true warmth and flavor of the Mediterranean diet.

HUMMUS

- 1 can (15 ounces) garbanzo beans, rinsed and drained
- 1/4 cup nonfat plain yogurt
- 2 tablespoons tahini (sesame seed paste)*
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 3 to 4 teaspoons lemon juice
- 2 to 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 1/8 teaspoon white pepper
- 2 tablespoons dried tomato bits
- 4 pita breads, each cut into 8 wedges
- 2 ribs celery, cut into sticks
- 2 medium carrots, cut into sticks
- 1 small zucchini, cut into sticks

1. Process garbanzo beans, yogurt, tahini, olive oil, lemon juice, garlic and pepper in food processor or blender until smooth. Reserve about 1 teaspoon tomato bits; stir remaining tomato bits into hummus. Cover and refrigerate several hours for flavors to blend.
2. Spoon hummus into serving bowl; sprinkle with reserved tomato bits. Serve with pita bread and vegetables for dipping.

Makes about 2-1/2 cups.

* Available in health and natural food stores and in the gourmet sections of some supermarkets.

Note: Hummus can be made and refrigerated 2 to 3 days in advance.

MOROCCAN COUSCOUS

- 3/4 cup quick-cooking couscous
- 3/4 to 1 cup dried tomato halves, cut into strips with kitchen shears
- 1/4 cup raisins or dried currants
- 1-1/4 cups boiling water or reduced-sodium chicken broth
- 2 cups chopped onions
- 3 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- 1 can (16 ounces) small pink beans, rinsed and drained or 1-1/2 cups cooked small pink beans
- 2 garlic cloves, pressed
- 2 teaspoons grated orange peel
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper, to taste
- 1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
- 1/3 cup orange juice
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon thinly sliced green onion tops

1. In bowl, stir couscous, tomatoes, raisins and boiling water; cover and let stand 15 minutes.
2. Meanwhile, in large skillet over medium heat, sauté onions in 2 tablespoons of olive oil about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally, until onions are golden. Add beans, garlic and orange peel. Cook, stirring, just until heated through. Season with salt and pepper.
3. Uncover couscous and stir with fork or chop sticks to fluff; add to skillet with parsley. In small bowl, whisk remaining 1 tablespoon olive oil, orange juice and lemon juice until blended; drizzle evenly over couscous mixture and fluff with fork.
4. Spoon into serving bowl and sprinkle with green onion.

Makes 6 side-dish servings.

SALADE PROVENÇAL

- 1-1/4 cups dried tomato halves, cut into strips with kitchen shears
- 1 can (15 ounces) red kidney beans, rinsed and drained or 1-1/2 cups cooked red kidney beans
- 1 can (15 ounces) great northern beans, rinsed and drained or 1-1/2 cups cooked great northern beans
- 1 can (2-1/4 ounces) sliced ripe olives, drained
- 1/2 cup sliced green onions
- 2 cans (6-1/8 ounces each) white tuna in water, drained
- 3 tablespoons chopped fresh basil leaves or 1 tablespoon dried basil
- Dijon Dressing (recipe follows)
- Salt, to taste
- 3 cups spinach leaves
- Basil sprigs (optional)

1. In bowl, cover tomatoes with boiling water; let stand 10 to 15 minutes.
2. Meanwhile, in large bowl, lightly toss beans with remaining ingredients except salt, spinach and tomatoes. Thoroughly drain tomatoes and add to salad; toss. Season with salt.
3. Line platter with spinach. Spoon salad onto spinach. Garnish with basil sprigs, if desired.

Makes 4 main-dish servings.

Dijon Dressing: In bowl, whisk 1/4 cup balsamic vinegar*, 3 tablespoons olive oil, 2 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and 1 large garlic clove, pressed.

* One-fourth cup red wine vinegar and 1-1/2 teaspoons sugar can be substituted.

TUSCAN BRUSCHETTA

- 1 cup dried tomato halves, halved with kitchen shears
- 2-1/2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 large garlic clove, pressed
- 1 can (15 ounces) any white beans (great northern or navy), rinsed and drained or 1-1/2 cups cooked white beans
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped red onion
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 to 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- Salt and pepper, to taste
- 16 slices Italian or French bread (3/4-inch thick, about 3-1/2 inches in diameter)
- 1 cup (4 ounces) shredded part-skim mozzarella or provolone cheese

1. In bowl, cover tomatoes with boiling water; let stand 10 to 15 minutes.
2. Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Meanwhile, in small bowl, mix olive oil and garlic. On large plate, mash beans with fork. Mix in 2 teaspoons of olive oil mixture, onion, water and lemon juice. Season with salt and pepper.
3. Brush top of each bread slice with olive oil mixture, then spread with about 2 teaspoons bean mixture. Place, spaced apart, on large baking sheet. Thoroughly drain tomatoes; place pieces, equally divided, on bread slices; top each with 1 tablespoon cheese.
4. Bake 5 to 6 minutes until bread is crisp and cheese is melted. Serve immediately.

Makes 8 appetizer servings (2 slices each).

Hafer Named To Special Committee

State Senator John J. Hafer has been appointed to serve on the Joint Oversight Committee on State Employees Health Insurance. The first meeting of this committee was held Tuesday and focused on the process the Department of Budget and Fiscal Planning used to make its decisions concerning the termination of the current provider contracts. All employee organizations and insurance providers are being invited to testify and comment on the process, but not on the new contracts which are still up for bid.

The Department of Budget and Fiscal Planning issued the request for proposals for the health insurance contracts on July 19 and they are due back by August 19. The Joint Oversight Committee will meet again after that date to hear the department's initial assessment of these proposals.

"Since health insurance benefits are of critical concern to everyone, I am pleased to be participating in this process on behalf of state employees," Hafer said.

Glimpse Of The Past . . .

A SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC, complete with a live band, was held July 26, 1902, at Wilson, W.Va. Everyone dressed in his/her Sunday finest for the occasion, hardly appropriate for the volleyball games, swimming, and related activities that are common at today's picnics. However, what is not available today is Mickey's Concert Band from Bayard that evidently provided the entertainment on that particular afternoon. This photo is on loan from the Mrs. Wayne Harvey collection and is published here courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican. A spokesman for the Society issued a reminder that the Garrett County Museum, located along Center Street in Oakland, is now open on Saturday's from noon to 4 p.m. (through Sept 10), besides being open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Sales And Use Tax Revenue Is Over Estimate

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said the lower interest rates prevalent through much of fiscal year 1994, together with a growth in Maryland employment, contributed to higher than anticipated sales and use tax revenue for the recently concluded fiscal year. Sales and use tax revenue totaled $1,814,938,144, nearly $8.7 million over the estimate for the year and a 5.6% growth over the amount collected for fiscal year 1993.

"The growth in sales and use tax revenue was broad based, covering every category and fueled largely by consumer confidence based on an improving employment picture in Maryland and by the lower interest rates that spurred purchases of homes and other major items," Goldstein said. "While the recent increases in interest rates may have an impact on the rate of economic growth in the months ahead, an improving job market gave Marylanders a greater feeling of security to make major purchases during fiscal year 1994."

The comptroller noted that each new home purchased and occupied in Maryland generates $3,000 to $5,000 in sales tax because of taxes paid by the contractor on purchases of materials and taxes on purchases of major home items by the consumer.

Goldstein said sales tax gains in the capital goods section reflect improved corporate profits and the resulting investment in equipment and facilities, especially in the telecommunication industry.

Goldstein also said that the sales and use tax revenue for the month of July posted one of the largest growth rates of any month during the fiscal year. July revenue represents retail activity in June. July sales and use tax revenue amounted to $173,409,203, a 7.2% gain over the same month of the prior year.

SHA Repairing Rt. 135 Section

The State Highway Administration (SHA) is now repairing a slide area along Md. Rt. 135 in Garrett County.

The project covers approximately 50 feet along Rt. 135 at Lee Road and includes removing the existing slide mass, placing rock fill, improving drainage systems, resurfacing and guardrail work. The work is necessary to stabilize the roadway and enhance motorist safety.

Traffic is shifted away from the construction area. Flagpersons, variable message signs, a temporary concrete barrier, traffic cones and drums are being used to guide motorists around the area.

I.A. Construction Corp. of Cumberland has been awarded the $935,000 contract. The project is expected to be completed this fall.

AIDS Quilt To Return To FSU

The AIDS Memorial Quilt is returning to Western Maryland, thanks to the coordinating efforts of Frostburg State University and many regional educational, health care, community, and business supporters. The three-day display of 680 panels of the internationally-known NAMES Project Foundation will culminate months of planning by volunteers.

The display entitled "See It and Understand" will be held Friday through Sunday, October 28-30, in the FSU Physical Education Center. Co-chairing the project are Patrick Deasy, FSU Counseling Center, and Roxanne A. Reed, FSU AIDS Educator.

Serving on the planning committee are Father Edward Hendricks, ceremonies coordinator: Jack Aylor, fund-raising coordinator; Marie Potts-Deakin and Lisa Yarbrough, publicity and media coordinators; Chris Shaffer, education coordinator; Nancy Bowling, panelmaking coordinator; and Katherine Kutler, volunteer coordinator.

Proceeds from donation and the sale of merchandise during the display will benefit the Allegany County AIDS Task Force and the Garrett County Interagency on AIDS.

Over five million people have seen the AIDS Quilt. As of June of this year, 27,247 panels comprised the AIDS Memorial Quilt. Each panel measures three feet by six feet and, without walkways, covers 11 acres.

More than 360,000 HIV cases and 220,871 AIDS-related deaths were recorded in the United States last year. The AIDS Memorial Quilt shows glimpses of the people behind the statistics. The panels capture the vibrancy of life, and the sorrow and loss.

For more information on the quilt display at FSU, please contact the FSU Foundation at (301) 689-4161.

State, County Jobless Rates Rise In June

Employment in Maryland increased for the fifth consecutive month in June, rising to a record high for the month. However, expansion in the labor force was greater than employment growth, causing the state's unemployment rate to increase from 5.3 percent in May to 5.6 percent in June.

Meanwhile, Garrett County's jobless rate also increased, from 9.4 percent in May to 9.8 percent in June, but was well below the June 1993 rate of 12.1 percent.

Increases in the state unemployment rate resulting from an influx of students and seasonal job seekers are typical during June. Compared to an average increase of between 0.5 and 0.6 percentage points, this June's 0.3 percent increase in the state's unemployment rate is modest.

"We expect rising unemployment this time of year as students look for summer work," said Secretary of Economic and Employment Development (DEED) Mark L. Wasserman. "However, record high employment and other positive economic indicators demonstrate that Maryland's economic recovery continues."

As students and summer job seekers continued to enter the labor market, the labor force grew by more than 47,200 people. Employment also increased by about 35,600 people, reaching a monthly high of 2,543,593. June's employment increase, while the largest gain of the year and the highest for the month since 1989, was not as large as the expansion in the labor force, causing unemployment to rise to 151,693 people.

When seasonally adjusted employment growth offset the labor force expansion, causing joblessness to fall from 5.4 percent in May to 5.2 percent in June. The drop in the seasonally adjusted rate indicates real growth in Maryland's economy.

During June, hiring took place throughout the private sector. Seasonal gains were strongest in the services industries, particularly in amusements, hotels and business services. Employment gains in restaurants and food stores caused an expansion in retail trade payrolls. Seasonal hiring also was reported in construction and manufacturing, where the addition of 1,300 jobs during June represented the largest monthly increase in factor employment in the past two years.

During June, employment by place of work also increased, compared with levels of a month ago and a year ago. Manufacturing hours and earnings rose above last year's levels, while unemployment insurance claims fell.

Liberian Family Reunited Thanks To Former Parishioners' Efforts

After three years of being separated from their family in war-torn Liberia, the Rev. and Mrs. Augustus "Gus" Monu have been reunited with their two young daughters, thanks to efforts coordinated by members of the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church and the Bethel United Methodist Church, Kitzmiller.

The campaign to raise money to reunite the family began in 1990 when Gus and his wife, Rebecca, who were then pastoring the two churches, were unable to return to their home in Monrovia, Liberia, because civil war had broken out in that African country and it was under the siege of rebel soldiers. At that time, the airport and one major road had been closed by the rebels and there was no way to enter or leave the country, thus causing separation from their two daughters, Grace and Andrea, who were then aged 14 and 16.

There were times during the separation, according to a spokesperson from the Swanton congregation, when the Monus had no news from their family because all international communications had been cut off. The girls were living with family members, but the anxious parents heard fewer and fewer reports from anyone in their home country.

The parishioners in the Swanton and Kitzmiller charge, with the help of 11 other churches and many individuals, set out to raise funds to bring the girls to this country. The three-year campaign included benefit dinners, hymn sings, special offerings and a fund that was set up specially to accept donations. Altogether, more than $5,000 was realized, thanks to the dedicated efforts of many. In addition to Rev. Monu's charge, other organizations that supported the fund included: Mtn. Top Christian Assembly; Parsons (W.Va.), Bloomington, Mt. Zion and State Line United Methodist churches; the Women's Fellowship of Oak Park Church of the Brethren; New Life Christian Church; St. John's Church, Parsons; the West Virginia Conference, Romney (W.Va.) District; the Superintendent's Discretionary Fund; and Albright (W.Va.) United Methodist Church.

In June 1993, Gus and Rebecca were transferred to the Charleston, W.Va., area where they currently pastor two churches. They promised their Garrett County parishioners and friends that when they were able to get the girls out of Africa and to the United States, they would return to the area for a reunion.

Shortly after their arrival in Charleston, the pastor and his wife were finally able to get their daughters safely to this country and, as promised, a reunion has been scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 14, following the 11 a.m. worship service at the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church.

A covered dish dinner will follow the service at 12:30 p.m. in the Swanton Community Center, to reunite the Rev. and Mrs. Monu and their daughters, now aged 18 and 20, with their friends. Members of the congregation invite all to attend this special event.

FAMILY REUNITED -- After several years of caring and fundraising efforts by various area churches and individuals, a family has been reunited. Andrea, left, and Grace Monu, daughters of the Rev. Gus and Rebecca Monu, former pastors of the Swanton Otterbein United Methodist Church and the Bethel United Methodist Church, Kitzmiller, joined their parents in the United States after a three-year separation because of civil war in Liberia, Africa. See story.

RC Bloodmobile Correction Noted

In last week's edition of The Republican, it was incorrectly reported that the American Red Cross Bloodmobile, scheduled to visit Friendsville, will be at the fire hall on Friday, Aug. 18. The correct date is Friday, Aug. 19.

Blood donors who come to the fire hall between noon and 6 p.m. on Aug. 19 will be introduced to a Pre-Check, a new Red Cross procedure to reinforce donor screening steps already taken to provide the safest possible blood supply for patients in need.

Prospective blood donors must provide a Red Cross blood donor card, or some other form of positive identification, when they come to donate blood in order to reduce the potential for duplication of, or discrepancies in donors' records, and thus help to further ensure blood product safety.

Forms of acceptable identification include driver's license, employment or school identification, voter registration card, and many other forms of identification that include a social security number or birth date.

SWANTON

Fannie and Bob Rizer and Mareva and Orval Teets traveled to Bedford, Pa. last Thursday.

On Saturday evening Linda and John Lowery went to dinner with Peg, Joe and Eric James of Taneytown.

Bob Winters returned from Salisbury, where he had visited Jeff Sweitzer.

Joey and Joseph Hatcher of Indianapolis, Ind., are visiting Dorothy and Joe Hatcher. They will return home this weekend.

On Sunday a birthday celebration for Darlene Reckley, Woodbine, hosted by Linda and John Lowery, at their home was attended by Mary Jones, Debbie Jones, and Brook Atkinson, Cumberland.

Linda Fleming, Lucinda Davis, and Mareva Teets motored to Williamsburg, Va., Friday. On Saturday they shopped at The Pottery, met Ken and Encie Teets of Norfolk, Va., and were their guests for lunch. They returned home that evening.

Ellis and Mary June Harvey met Helen and Wilber Hoopengardener of Hagerstown at Frostburg last Wednesday for a day of golf.

Rev. Joe Hatcher and his wife, Dorothy, attended the Hatcher reunion at Cedar Lake, Ripley, W.Va., last Sunday.

Roy, Carol, and Randy Sweitzer were Sunday dinner guests of Amy Sweitzer. The Swanton Mennonite Youth Group sang at Amy's home Sunday evening.

Charles, Clara, and Preston Coddington, Lanham, returned home after spending a week with Amy and Artie Sweitzer.

Last Tuesday on a return trip from Charlottesville, Va., Betty and Richard Harvey, New Martinsville, W.Va., stopped for a short visit with Ellis and Mary June Harvey.

The August meeting of the Community Association will be held at the center on Monday, August 15, at 7:30 p.m. A chicken barbecue will be held Saturday, August 13, at the center, beginning at 4 p.m.

Lela Albright, Twila Flores, and Robert and Sandra Sharpless visited Gary and Alice Smith in Baltimore over the weekend.

Linda Dodge, Denver, Colo., is spending a week with her mother, Annie Dodge.

Bolden Selects His Committee

DeCorsey E. Bolden, candidate for the Republican nomination for the Maryland House of Delegates, announces the appointment of a steering committee for this campaign, calling the members a "cross-section of District 1-A." They include: Francis Acton, producer and director for Act IV Productions; Catherine "Casey" Durst, resident of Town View Village in Accident; Von Johnson, former Oakland councilman; Leon Marple, Bloomington fire chief; John Ravenscroft, resident of Lonaconing; David Shaffer, former local attorney; Willis Shaffer, semi-retired owner of Shaffer Ford Sales; Robert Shahan, co-chair; Alice Strobel, active in auxiliary of Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion; and Charles Walters, past District Governor, Loyal Order of the Moose No. 0292.

Bolden invites questions and comments regarding issues important to the voters of District 1-A. He can be reached at 313 South Second Street, Oakland, or by phone at (301) 334-4739.

Northern EMS Club Works To Make A Difference In The Community

by Dana Winters

In the eyes of someone whose life has been shattered suddenly by an accident, emergency medical services (EMS) personnel are the most welcome sight in the world. However, without dedicated individuals to staff Garrett County's volunteer rescue squads, responding to the call for emergency medical help would not be possible.

When members of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad began discussing ways in which they could increase membership and improve coverage in their area, they looked to the local high school as a resource.

"We felt that if young people were given the opportunity to learn about emergency medical services, they might be interested in becoming EMS providers. This would allow students to get involved in their community by helping to staff shortages in squad personnel," stated Jamie Adams, NGCRS member.

In June of 1993, the Northern High School Emergency Medical Services Club was formed. Implemented by Adams and another squad member, H.B. Martz, who also serve as advisors, the club provides EMS training to students, allowing them to help staff ambulances after school and on weekends.

The EMS Club is comprised of 24 students in grades 9-12. Students who elect to pull squad duty are required to be at least 16 years of age and complete the Maryland First Responder course, becoming certified in basic life support techniques. First responders wanting to further enhance their skills, may go on to participate in training to become emergency medical technicians (EMT's). Students not yet of age to become first responders are able to ride along with rescue squad members for observational experience and to assist with non-medical related duties.

Most EMS Club members who are first responders and/or EMT's are active members of the Northern Rescue Squad. "My stomach still does flips when the 'tones' (alarms) go off," explained student Shonna DeWitt. "I always feel a little nervous because I don't know what to expect. But because of my training and experience, I feel more prepared with each call to handle different types of medical emergencies."

Rescue squad activities include: responding to emergency medical calls; maintaining rescue squad facilities and equipment; and participating in various squad-community activities.

"I can't emphasize enough what a lifesaver the Northern High School Emergency Medical Services Club has been to our organization," commented John H. Frank captain of the Northern Squad. "We are fortunate to have been able to tap into our local high school as a resource. It is the youth of our community -- the newer and younger members of our squad -- that will help to keep our services and membership going in the years to come."

"Because our community is small, you know a lot of the people you're helping. Many of them appreciate and thank us for what we do. Although not every emergency case works out in the same way, knowing that I did all I could to help someone, makes me want to continue working with the rescue squad," commented student Danielle Fike.

EMS Club members average 24 volunteer hours per month, which fulfills the recent implementation of the Maryland State Department of Education's requirements for service learning. The requirement states that all students, graduating after the year 1996, will be required to complete a designated amount of community service hours.

The EMS Club attributes much of the success of its program to the support of the community. So that club members could immediately begin the eight-week first responder course upon the club's inception, an instructor volunteered his time to teach the class, while Garrett Community College provided classroom space and the Maryland Department of Natural Resources lent textbooks to the club.

When financial support became necessary for the continued progression of the club, Garrett County Memorial Hospital provided funding for an instructor, textbooks and educational field trips to such sites as the University of Maryland Medical Center's R. Adams Cowley Shock Trauma Center and the Johns Hopkins' Pediatric Trauma Unit.

"When Northern High School's EMS club came to us to discuss funding for their program, we were very impressed with their presentation," stated Garrett Memorial's director of nursing, Joyce Andrews, R.N. "Garrett Memorial recognizes the valuable contribution of our area EMS personnel and our emergency room could not as effectively handle cases without the services provided by these dedicated individuals. The outcome of the EMS club has been very positive and we are pleased to be able to play a supportive role in their efforts."

"Without the community's support, the Northern High School EMS Club would not be able to provide this educational opportunity to our club members," said Adams. "The club wishes to extend a special thanks to Dave Ramsey, Region I administrator of the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems ((MIEMSS); Jean Tressler of Garrett Community College's Continuing Education Division; Northern High School principal Martin Green; Garrett County Memorial Hospital; and the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. Because of their support, our club members have been able to participate in a unique learning experience that allows them to provide a meaningful service to our community."

In addition to practical experience, the EMS Club has provided its members with other positive benefits. The squad hall serves as a safe social gathering place while community involvement has instilled a sense of pride and self-confidence in the students. Many of the club members are also interested in pursuing health careers as a result of their involvement with the EMS Club.

"Our club members have volunteered many hours to assist neighbors in need. Through their involvement with the community, these students have shown a compassion for others as well as an increased sense of pride and self-worth," noted Adams.

"Most importantly, we see the realization on the part of our club members, that even as young people, they still have the training, ability and confidence to truly make a difference in their community," Martz said.

Persons desiring more information about Northern High School's Emergency Medical Services Club may contact Martz at 746-8540 or Adams at 387-8436.

HELPING TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE - The Northern High School Emergency Medical Services Club provides emergency medical services training to high school students, giving them the opportunity to "make a difference" in their community by helping the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad to fill shortages in staffing. Twenty-four students from grades 9-12 currently make up the club's membership. In addition to providing emergency medical care to patients, club members also assist in maintaining rescue squad facilities and participate in community squad functions. Pictured back row, same order, are: Randy Beal, Jon Hamilton, Alex Lowery, Mike Sines, Eric Lapp and Adam Spiker. Other members, not pictured, include: Danielle Fike, Michael Hoover, Rob Moats, Danielle Sherwood, and Dana Sweitzer.

Area Butlers Hold Reunion

The annual Amos Butler reunion was held at the Harold Butler pavilion near Grantsville recently.

Attending from the Charlie Butler family were Verna and Stanley Sapotnick, Bill and Daisy Jennings, and Mable Thorton, all of Homer City, Pa.

Representing the Ben Butler family were Goldie Beachy and her daughter Donna, Berlin, Pa., and Mrs. Pete Butler and her son Wayne Butler, Grantsville.

From the John Amos Butler family were Lottie Mathis, Meyersdale, Pa.; Pearl Shaw Dawson, Brownsville, Pa.; Dawson's daughter and son-in-law, Loye and Billie Swiger, Waterford, Mich.; and Woody and Sara Ruth Butler, Grantsville. Also attending were Elma and Ralph Durst; their son and daughter-in-law, James and Shelly Durst; and daughters Shawna and Amy; all of Meyersdale.

From the Melvin Butler family were reunion hosts Harold and Louise Butler and their granddaughter Danielle Fazenbaker, Grantsville. Also attending were Orpha Wisserman and Stella Swauger, Grantsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Butler, Cumberland, visited the reunion in the afternoon.

A carry-in dinner was served and the afternoon was spent reminiscing and renewing acquaintances.

Eastern Garrett VFD Schedules Annual Car Show

The Eastern Garrett County Volunteer Fire Company will be holding its 15th Annual Antique and Custom Auto Show on Sunday, August 21, on the grounds of the Route 40 Elementary School near Finzel.

Vehicle registration will begin at 8 a.m. and conclude at 12:45 p.m., with judging scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. Pre-registration is open until August 15 at $5 and registration the day of the show is $6. Jim Raley, chairperson, reports there will be 31 different classes, including a non-competitive class for those wishing to show their vehicle, but not be judged. A first, second, and third place trophy is awarded in each class. In addition, there is a people's choice award and longest distance award.

The fire company's ladies auxiliary will be providing food and baked goods during the day. Gate admission will be $2 for adults and children under 13 are admitted free.

The show will continue until 4 p.m. and conclude with the awarding of trophies and cash drawing. For additional information, interested individuals may telephone 689-5431.

Three Young Women Strive For Title Of County Farm Queen

Three young women will compete Sunday night to earn the title of Garrett County Farm Queen. The contest, which will take place at 8 p.m. on the 4-H stage at the Garrett County Fairgrounds, will determine which of the three will represent Farm Bureau and agriculture for 1994-95.

The three contestants are: Melissa Ann Weimer, Laah Jane Broadwater, and Amy Susan Bowser.

Melissa Ann Weimer is 18 years old and has just graduated from Northern Garrett High School. She is the daughter of John and Debbie Weimer, and has three brothers and three sisters, all younger. The family owns a small farm near Grantsville on Route 40 where they raise beef and dairy cows, chickens, turkeys, sheep, goats, hogs, and a few steers. Everything raised on the farm is for the family's use.

Melissa says, "We have the farm to satisfy our needs only. Basically we get out of the farm what we put into it."

On the farm, Melissa is responsible for helping to clean all the animal pens and feeding the animals. It is her job to transport the animal feed to the farm from the feed store in her pickup truck.

She is currently a member of the Northern Garrett FFA and serves as president of the Grantsville 4-H Club, where she has been a member for three years. Her projects have included dairy, rabbits, crafts, gardening, swine, and sheep. She is also active at the Garrett County Fair. This year she will show a market lamb, a hog, and a registered guernsey cow and calf.

Melissa takes care of her siblings and helps keep the house in order. She also is responsible for some of the cooking, especially during the summer when everyone is busy.

In her spare time she likes to run, bike, hike, and swim. She enjoys skiing and snowmobiling in the winter, and in school she participated in cross country. In the past she has volunteered time at the Rocky Gap Festival Headquarters and has worked in her club's 4-H booth at Grantsville Days.

Since graduating from high school with a GPA of 91.4, perfect attendance, and an honors diploma, she plans to attend Black Hills State University in Spearfish, South Dakota. She hope to study abroad for a year and get a bachelor's degree in Spanish. Melissa has her future planned, and intends to get involved in the business field as an interpreter.

Laah Jane Broadwater, the daughter of Willard and Hazel Broadwater, lives on a diversified livestock farm, including beef cattle, swine, and poultry, near Swanton. The family also raises corn and oats and sells produce from their garden to local friends and family.

Some of Laah's outdoor responsibilities include feeding and caring for the chickens and fair animals, helping at calving time, loading hogs at market time, helping to make and unload hay, mowing grass, herding cattle, cleaning the barn and picking berries to freeze.

Indoors she helps with the cleaning, cooking, laundry and baking.

Laah will be a senior this fall at Southern High School and has a GPA of 3.4. She is a current board member of the Garrett County Livestock Association, and has shown beef and swine at the Garrett County Fair. She is very active with the Oakland FFA Chapter and has won many awards in various activities. Some of her achievements in the FFA include: 12th place in the state Vegetable Judging Contest in 1992; fourth place in the state Creed Contest in 1992; 11th place in state Livestock Judging; fifth place in the state FFA Talent Show; 10th place in state Meats Contest; 10th place in state Dairy Products Contest; first place at regional Extemporaneous Public Speaking; third place at state Extemporaneous Public Speaking Contest; proficiency awards in Diversified Livestock Production and Swine Production.

She has attended three FFA State Conventions in Hagerstown, and has also traveled to Kansas City, Missouri for the National FFA Convention.

In school she serves as president of the Oakland FFA, and is a member of Runnin' Rams Cross Country Team. She is employed at the Big Tee Burger in Oakland and is a member of Cherry Glade Mennonite Church in Accident.

Her hobbies and interests include reading, camping, hiking, shopping, baking, caring for plants and livestock, listening to the radio and taking photos.

After graduation she would like to become a State FFA Officer. She would like to keep working and possibly take some ag classes at either Garrett Community College or Potomac State College.

Laah would like to go on an FFA Abroad Program to either Canada or Australia, and someday wishes to own a diversified livestock enterprise of her own.

Amy Susan Bowser, who is 19, lives on a sheep, dairy and horse farm near Grantsville. The daughter of Arlene and Blaine M. Bowser, Sr., Amy is a 1994 graduate of Northern High School.

Her outdoor responsibilities include feeding the bull calves, watering the horses, taking care of market and pet lambs, and gardening. When shearing time comes, she works catching the sheep and bagging the wool. She also sets up and tears down the shearing equipment.

Amy's home responsibilities include cleaning, getting meals, doing the laundry and dishes, and making homemade butter from the family's cows.

Amy participates annually in the Garrett County Fair showing breeding and market animals. She has participated in the District 4-H Show, and has been the FFA representative to the Garrett County Livestock Association for three years. Currently she is a member of the Northern Garrett FFA. In the four years she has been a FFA member, she has participated in many contests to increase her knowledge in those areas. She has attended the FFA State Convention and FFA Spring Judging for three years. Amy says, "To the best of my ability, I have promoted agriculture and what it stands for."

At Northern High School she was in the chorus and on the yearbook staff for two years. She was also in the Northern High School Allied Health program, and put in over 60 hours of community volunteer service at Goodwill Nursing Home and Pineview Veterinary Hospital. Through the Allied Health Program she became a Certified Nursing Assistant. Amy is a member of the Grace Bible Independent Church.

Her hobbies and interests include reading, listening to music, swimming, horseback riding, and most important to her, being around her family and true friends.

In the upcoming future she plans to attend school and would like to become a veterinarian. Currently she is working full-time at Pineview Veterinary Hospital. She is also taking a home study course to become a veterinary technician. Amy would eventually like to get married, live on a farm and have several children.

Nutrient Management Course Scheduled For August 30 At MDA

Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA) Secretary Lewis R. Riley has announced that the Maryland Nutrient Management Program will offer a one-day training course on Enhanced Nutrient Management Planning, August 30, at MDA's headquarters building.

The course provides the continuing education requirement for certification renewal through the Maryland Nutrient Management Program. Individuals interested in improving their knowledge in this area are also encouraged to attend.

The program content will include soil nitrogen test, expected yield goal, the bay nutrient reduction strategy and regulations update. Turfgrass nutrient management is included in concurrent sessions for individuals who provide lawn care services.

"Controlling nutrients is a primary goal of the new tributary focus of the Chesapeake Bay Agreement. We're expecting a strong turnout among nutrient management providers interested in increasing their understanding of how to provide professional recommendations on an application of nutrients to croplands and management of lawn and gardens in urban areas," said Riley.

The one-day course will be held on the lower level of the MDA headquarters building at 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis. A $10 registration fee includes lunch. Due to space restrictions the course will be limited to the first 80 applicants, however the course may be repeated August 31 if needed. Application deadline is August 15. Registration forms and further information can be obtained by calling the Maryland Nutrient Management Program at (410) 841-5863.

Dexter Cattle To Be Shown At County Fair

An ancient breed of cattle known as Dexters will be exhibited this year at the Garrett County Fair. Dexters originated in Ireland centuries ago and roamed wild over the countryside. Carefully collected and bred by a Mr. Dexter in the early 1800s, these cattle have remained a hearty multi-purpose breed suitable for milk, meat, and draft. They were first brought to the United States in 1905. The first registry was organized in 1911.

Locally the Dexters have been brought into the area by the Garrett County Family Agricultural Project through funds provided by the Appalachian task force of the Catoctation Mountain Association of the United Church of Christ.

The Garrett County Family Agricultural Project is in the process of being chartered by Heifer Project International to provide animals, training, and other assistance to residents of Garrett County.

The Dexters were chosen with help from the American Livestock Conservancy because of their extreme hardiness, minimal feed requirements, ease of calving and multiple uses. They have currently been placed with Cathy Hamilton, Jean and Bill Durst, and Mark and Suzy Rinehart. Those exhibited will be Hamilton's 18-month-old heifer and Durst's 10-month-old bull calf.

Further information may be obtained at the exhibit.

Grantsville Ag Services To Hold Annual Meeting

"Seventy-one years ago, farmers organized Southern States Cooperative to serve their basic agricultural production needs. Through the years, the cooperative has been innovative in providing new products and services to help farmers improve their livelihood," says Carroll Gilbert, the cooperative's director of member relations.

"Cultivating Innovation," repeated as the theme of this year's local annual membership meetings, reflects the regional co-op's "continuing dedication to improve farm inputs and services," adds Gilbert.

Election of local board members and Farm Home Advisory Committee (FHAC) members are important features of the annual membership meeting for Grantsville Ag Services.

Board nominees are Randall Beitzel, Martin Bender, Barry McKenzie and George Shawley.

The FHAC slate consists of Beth Brenneman and Mrs. Glen Burow.

A taped report from Gene A. James, Southern States' president and chief executive officer, will discuss the co-op's supply and marketing operations for the last fiscal year.

Local operating statements and services provided to the agricultural community will be discussed. Local FHAC and board members completing terms will be recognized.

Membership Day begins at 10 a.m., Friday, August 26, Grantsville Ag Services (Local Store), Grantsville, with the business meeting to be held at 4 p.m.

Southern States Cooperative, headquartered in Richmond, Va., operates in six states. The cooperative processes or manufactures and distributes feed, seeds, fertilizers, petroleum products and a wide range of farm supplies and lawn and garden products in West Virginia, North Carolina, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and Kentucky. It has grain marketing facilities in five of these states. The cooperative's membership totalled more than 180,000 and the annual volume reached about $942 million last year.

Soil Moisture Generally Improves

Heavy rains brought much needed moisture to the state, however, its impact may have hurt some fruit harvests. There was no serious insect pressure on field crops.

Conditions allowed for fieldwork during the week to average 5.3 days, according to the Maryland Agricultural Statistics Service. Across the state, topsoil moisture was 83 percent adequate and 17 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture was 94 percent adequate, 6 percent surplus.

Statewide, hay supplies were adequate and pastures averaged in excellent condition. Field corn was in good condition, with almost a third of the acreage in the dough state. Soybeans were in good condition, with blooming observed in all stands and half the soybean acreage setting pods. Peaches rated mostly poor to fair. Apples averaged fair to mostly good condition. Other hay harvest was 25 percent into the third cutting and alfalfa hay harvest was well underway in third cutting at almost two-thirds complete.

Maryland's progress for the week ending August 7 was as follows, listing the item, this year's percentage, last year's percentage and a percentage for the 5-year average.

Planting progress: Corn, silked, 91, 85, 85; dough, 30, 43, 41. Soybeans, blooming, 99, 100, 99; set pods, 50, 50, 59. Sorghum, heading, 75, 48, 61. Small Grains: Sweet corn, harvested, 67, 60, 59; Alfalfa hay, 3rd cutting, 63, 73, 49. Other hay, 2nd cutting, 79, 77, 63; 3rd cutting, 25, 22, 10. Peaches, harvested, 77, 35, 41.

WEATHER

Maryland weather for the week ending August 5, had above normal temperatures and precipitation which ranged from light to moderate.

Fee is for household or family, limited to two people. If interested, you should contact my office soon, as space will be limited.

Warning! Organic Dust Toxic Syndrome

The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) warns agricultural workers that they may be at risk for developing organic dust toxic syndrome (ODTS), a common respiratory illness that may follow exposure to heavy concentrations of organic dust contaminated with micro-organisms. Workers are typically exposed to this dust when shoveling or moving organic matters such as oats, wood chips, composted leaves, and silage. The syndrome is characterized by fever, occurring 4 to 12 hours after exposure, and flu-like symptoms such as general weakness, headache, chills, body aches, and cough. Shortness of breath may also occur. In addition, pulmonary function may be impaired, and an increase in the number of white cells in the blood is common. Listening to the chest ususally reveals normal breathing sounds, and chest X-rays are usually normal. Antibodies typically associated with certain allergic lung diseases such as farmer's lung are usually not present. ODTS usually disappears within 24 hours to a few days after the worker is removed from the exposure. No specific therapy is needed to treat ODTS. However, the syndrome may often be misdiagnosed as acute bronchitis, influenza, or farmer's lung disease, which may lead to unnecessary or excessive therapy with antibiotics or anti-inflammatory medication.

Agricultural workers should minimize the risk of exposure to organic dust by taking the following precautions:

* Be aware of the adverse effects of breathing organic dust.
* Inform your doctor about recent dust exposures when seeking treatment for respiratory illness.
* Carefully harvest and store agricultural products to minimize spoilage.
* Use automated or mechanized equipment to move decayed materials.
* Use engineering controls such as source containment, local exhaust ventilation, and wet methods of dust suppression to minimize exposure to organic dust.
* Use appropriate respirators approved by NIOSH when exposure to organic dust cannot be avoided.

Letters

To the Editor:

Recently, Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole and Senator Bob Packwood introduced the Dole-Packwood health care bill. This health care reform legislation would provide access to health care coverage to all Americans, implement reforms to make health insurance coverage portable and secure, and provide low-income people with vouchers to purchase private health care plans. This proposal offers the best choice for bipartisan support.

The Dole-Packwood bill would provide all Americans access to health insurance that is guaranteed to be renewable, portable, and available regardless of preexisting conditions. It grants small employers group purchasing power to enable them to obtain affordable coverage for their workers. Small business and self-employed people will be permitted to enroll in the same health care plan that the White House and members of Congress now enjoy. Another important aspect of this plan is that it relies on markets, not government controls, to rein in rising health care costs. This plan also contains tort reform for medical malpractice suits and creates a medical savings account which can be used to pay medical bills or to meet longterm care expenses, among other necessary reforms.

Unlike the Clintons' health care bill the Dole-Packwood bill does not rely on new or increased taxes. The proposal is financed entirely through spending cuts and rejects the Clintons' price controls, mandatory alliances and job-killing employer mandates.

The Clintons won't admit what the rank-and-file in Congress already know -- the debate over a Clinton-style health care bill will be long, difficult, divisive, and ultimately unsuccessful for the White House. The best hope for a bipartisan solution to health care reform is the Dole-Packwood plan, a proposal that incorporates what most American people want and what most members of Congress support.

Sincerely,
Joyce Lyons Terhes
Chairman

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter to thank a few people who have helped me through some hard times.

First I would like to thank my wife, Crystal Friend, and my step-son, Micheal Haggerty, for being there for me through thick and thin. I would also like to thank my parents, Gerald and Phyllis Friend, for helping my wife and step-son by letting them stay with them.

Most of all I would like to thank Mr. Lindsey Gonder and Mr. Greig Johnson of Uno's Pizzeria for taking time out of their day to come up to the Garrett County Jail, where I am an inmate, to talk with me about a possible job. I highly appreciate this, for not many people would do such a thing.

And last I would like to thank The Republican for printing this for me.

Sincerely,
Gerald Eddie Friend Jr.

To the Editor:

I have inherited property located at 106 S. Fifth Street, Oakland, which was my home and my mother's home ca 1854; it was the first parsonage and the first Lutheran parsonage in the town of Oakland. This home, which is one of the nicest older homes in Oakland has been lovingly cared for by three generations.

I have also inherited a major town problem. I have in excess of $50,000 structural damage to my home and garage due to a softening of the ground caused by surface water runoff from public streets and from private property. There are no curbs on High, Sixth and Green streets and the storm drain at the corner of Fifth and Green ca 1920 is always clogged with debris. Downspout drains have been removed from private sewer lines per town ordinance leaving water to take the path of least resistance. Changes have been made on three adjacent properties altering the natural divides. The town paved the alley next to my property and blocked my drains. This was reported, but to no avail. The street in front of my home has been washed down to the cobblestones indicating the tremendous amount of water running down the hill.

My insurance carrier and the town's carrier have denied the claim because the damage is due to surface water runoff for which no coverage can be purchased, as it is gross negligence.

I attempted to get the mayor and council to visit my home for inspection of the damage and an explanation of the causes. The mayor did not respond to my letters or phone calls. Finally, upon reaching him at Dennett Road School he agreed to check the runoff and sent me a letter dated January 18, 1993, where in he stated, "I will instruct our street department to clean the storm drain on the corner of Fifth and Green streets, as well as raise the edge of Green Street to further prohibit runoff toward your property." To date nothing has been done. It took him one year to show up at my property to see the damage and that was after I had individually called council members. He informed me "I was the only one who cared and he wasn't going to do anything for me, so sue me." When I asked him what I was supposed to do about the carpenter ants eating on my house he stuttered and said, "Sue me, if we have to pay we will." As of December 1993 Council President Mary Lou Stemple told me she felt the town should divert the water from my property and pay for my damages, but she couldn't get "them" to agree.

The mayor further informed me in a phone conversation that I could not put this item on the council agenda, I was not to talk to council about it, nor was I to invite council to my home. I invited council to my home and met with an indifferent attitude. Two council members, Moyer and Naylor, admitted to having water in their basements from the same source. It was reported to me that my business was discussed at least four times at council without my notification. I have been told by neighbors and others, "every one knows you are getting all of the water off of Green Street." One illustrious neighbor has informed me I will have to pay to put a curb on Green Street and I should just pay for the repairs since it will cost me that much in legal fees to go against the town. I am not independently wealthy.

Following the fire downtown this past winter, the town and some citizens were quick to respond to the plight of the property owners and tenants. A special effort was made to help the Chinese family, which was commendable. Being a "local" myself, I have not met with the same response. What is the difference between damage to private property by fire and damage by water? It is damage all the same for which there is a responsible party.

In my case it is the responsibility of the town to pay for my damages. Maryland law requires that in order for a governmental entity to pay damages to a property owner, of historic property, a Historical Structures Survey costing $12,000-$15,000 must be done to justify the expenditure to constituents. This is not a matter of to pay or not to pay; it is a matter of when the payment will be made.

I have written a letter dated May 17, 1994 detailing the problem and damages to the town and elected representatives. To date there has been only lip service or no response at all.

To complicate matters further, I have learned recently from the National Trust for Historic Preservation that I am grossly underinsured. Presently, my homeowner's policy for contents and structures is $70,000. It should be $300,000. I cannot get the proper coverage because of the structural damage.

And to add insult to injury I am paying property taxes on a property that is seriously devalued because of the extensive structural damage.

I would appreciate hearing your comments, as well as, hearing from those with damage to their property, be it residential or commercial, from surface water runoff.

Thank you,
Marilyn S. Posten

Editor's Note: The following letter was written to Mrs. Posten from the Oakland mayor and town council in response to her May 17 complaint. The letter was later forwarded to this office for reprint in this column.

Dear Ms. Posten:

Peggy Jamison has forwarded to me, the memorandum which you sent to her, dated May 17, 1994. I am surprised and concerned that you did not send the letter directly to City Hall, myself, or any of the other town representatives. I was also surprised and concerned to read that you have misrepresented many issues in your letter.

Your letter has been reviewed. On behalf of the Town of Oakland, I wish to inform you that the mayor and town council stands behind its original position that the Town of Oakland has done nothing to cause damages to your home.

If you will recall, some time ago each of the town council members and myself visited your property and each of us drew the same conclusion--we are not responsible. In addition, our insurance representative visited your home, and notified you that we were not responsible. Our attorney has also notified you that the Town of Oakland is not liable for any damages.

Please be advised that any further concerns or correspondence should be directed to the town's attorney, Robert E. Watson.

Sincerely,
Asa M. McCain, Jr.
Mayor of Oakland

SHRUBS DONATED -- The Truesdell Home for Senior Citizens, Deer Park, recently received a donation of shrubs from Frank King, Volunteer Maryland Coordinator, and Dave Taylor, owner of Green Acres Garden Center. Under the direction of Taylor, 11 volunteers from the Outward Bound Group donated their time to plant the shrubs under the Truesdell sign. The group, based in Baltimore, is under the direction of Susan Newsome. Sisler Lumber Company donated the mulch for the plants and shrubs.

Caring Connection Program Receives Two-Year Funding

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College, which operates The Caring Connection, has been notified of grant approval to continue the program's operation for the next two fiscal years.

The college will receive a $20,000 grant per year for the next two years to continue operation of the Adolescent Single Parent Model Program. The grant is provided by the Maryland State Department of Education, Division of Career Technology & Adult Learning.

The funding will be used to continue operation of a model vocational program for adolescent single parents, ages 12 to 19, which includes outreach, recruitment, career counseling, interest testing, personal development workshop participation at both Northern and Southern middle and high schools, vocational exploration and training in both credit and non-credit areas at GCC, and job awareness assistance through The Caring Connection Program.

The Carl Perkins Vocational Act defines the term "single parent" as an individual who is unmarried or legally separated from a spouse and has a minor child or children for which the parent has either custody or joint custody; or pregnant teens.

Part of the grant will be used for tuition assistance for vocational training at GCC and to provide child care assistance to enable program participants to complete their education.

Adolescent single parents will be encouraged to complete their high school education if still enrolled in school, obtain their GED if they have withdrawn from high school, and enroll in vocational training at GCC in preparation for employment. For those seeking employment, job awareness training will be available and a job referral program may be used to find employment.

A self-awareness series of workshops has been developed utilizing either the "Choices" format, or "Life Skills" curriculum and has been coordinated for those still attending middle or high school. Similar arrangements will be made for those who have graduated or received their GED who may be interested in this self-awareness series.

Interested persons, ages 12 to 19, who meet the eligibility qualifications may call New Horizons/The Caring Connection at Garrett Community College's McHenry Campus Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at 387-3071 or 387-3103 for more information or to schedule an appointment to meet with the program counselor.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Day have returned to their home in Seminole, Fla., after spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Gladys Smith, and Ruth Yommer.

Mrs. Ora Younkin attended a birthday party at the Randy Wisner home on Monday, Aug. 1. There were 15 in attendance.

Mrs. Joanne Walker has returned home after helping her son, John Walker, move to his new home near his work in Washington, D.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Shawn Truly of Baltimore were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wable. Janet Wable's condition is improving.

Mrs. Marion Bowser was a guest of Walter and Alice Younkin on Thrusday.

Rev. James Show, Farmington, Pa., visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Younkin Thursday after leading services at the Goodwill Home.

The John and Lydia Yoder family held their reunion at the Grantsville Park, where all the brothers and sisters were present. Some 100 persons were in attendance from Ohio, New York, Florida, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware. On Sunday morning they all gathered for a family church service. A brother, the Rev. Monroe Yoder, was the main speaker. A carry-in dinner followed.

Scott and Stacey Wable and friend spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wable, and attended the wedding of Wendy Maust. They all had their dinner at the Wable home with Jane and Keith Wable and Walter and Alice Younkin as guests.

Zion Schools Organize Home School Division

The board of advisors of Zion Schools, Grantsville, announced this week it is expanding services to include a home school division, known as the Home School Institute to serve students from kindergarten through grade 12.

Zion Christian Academy is recognized by the State of Maryland as a bonafide home school provider. This expansion is being undertaken in celebration of the 20th commencement of Zion Christian Academy and College.

According to a spokesman for the board, the Home School Institute is equipped to provide testing for grade placement, progress evaluation, and guidance and counseling. A variety of curricula are available, geared to the specific abilities and aptitudes of each individual child. The staff is also willing to evaluate curricula already in use by home schoolers and offer assistance and advice on its suitability for the student.

In addition, assistance can be provided by Zion faculty to any student or parent experiencing difficulties in any academic area. Professional help is also available for children with learning disabilities, physical limitations, or phycho-social problems. These additional professional services can be arranged as need becomes apparent through testing or in personal conferences. Home school students are eligible to participate in Zion Academy field trips, drama and music programs, and other activities offered at the Academy.

This program is in place and prepared for the 1994-95 school year. Persons seeking more information may call 301-895-3742.

4-H Club News

NORTH STAR
by Debra Green, reporter

The North Star 4-H Club's monthly meeting was July 12 at the Accident Park.

Our club talked about donations to the fire department, $150; Grantsville Lions Club, $25; and the rescue squad, $50.

We are going to Kennywood Park on July 24, and may be taking a bus. We also talked about fair clean-up on Aug. 9.

There were two demonstrations. They were by April Enlow, on how to make a lamb feeder; and by Beverly Sebold, on how to make a candle holder.

The next meeting of the North Star 4-H Club will be Sept. 13 at 7 p.m., at Accident Park. There will be no meeting in August because of the Garrett County Fair, and the fair clean-up activity.

BITTINGER

The Bittinger 4-H Club held its monthly meeting on Monday, August 1. There were nine members, one visitor, and four leaders present.

John Garlitz led the pledges. We discussed our trip to Hershey Park planned for Monday, August 22. The booth committee reported on our 4-H booth for the fair. We also talked about our float for the fair parade.

The next meeting will be Monday, August 29.

"LOVE BEARS" DONATED -- The Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Resource Center has received a donation of 30 Teddy bears from the ladies organization of the Oakland Church of Christ. The "Love Bears," handmade by the ladies, and are meant to comfort children in difficult situations, when they may be frightened, upset or hurt. Pictured from left to right, back row, are Beverly Smith, Church of Christ; Deanna Groves and Debbie Holler, who accepted the bears on behalf of the resource center, and Laura Holley, Church of Christ; and in the front row, Vanessa and Zac Holley, representing the Church of Christ.

Film Showing Set In Kitzmiller

"Come the Morning," a new dramatic film from World Wide Pictures, motion picture ministry of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, will be shown at the Kitzmiller Assembly of God this Sunday, Aug. 14, at 7 p.m.

"The film uses the contemporary issue of homelessness as a backdrop for the timeless message of man's need to reconcile himself to God," stated a World Wide Pictures spokesman. Starring in the film are Travis Knight, David Morin, Susan Howard, John Schneider, and Andi Chapman, all of whom have extensive television and cinema experience.

James F. Mou, pastor of the Kitzmiller Assembly, invites the public to attend the showing. There is no admission charge, however a free-will love offering will be collected. The church is located at 291 West Main Street in Kitzmiller.

Persons desiring more information about this program may call 453-3156.

March For Jesus Rally Scheduled

A March for Jesus Victory Rally will be held this Friday, August 12, at 7 p.m. in the Meyersdale Grace Brethren Church. Held in 135 locations across the United States, the victory rallies are the culmination of activities for the 1994 March for Jesus which was held June 25.

The rally is open to all marchers or anyone interested in the March. A 17-minute video of the 1994 march, with footage from around the world, will highlight the evening. In addition, some of the March choruses will be sung and stories will be shared from the local march.

A time of fellowship and refreshment will follow. Persons attending are invited to bring finger foods.

William Skipper To Seek Seat On GOP Committee

William C. Skipper, Oakland, has announced his candidacy for a position on the Garrett County Republican Central Committee. Skipper, a native of Garrett County, was born in Crellin in 1948 and has lived most of his life in Garrett County. He is a 1967 graduate of Southern High School and earned a B.A. degree from Central Bible College, Springfield, Mo.

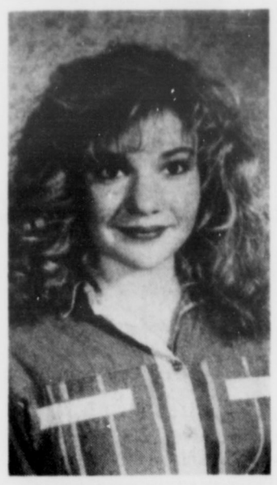
A life-long republican, Skipper has taken part in may republican campaigns in local, state, and national elections. While living in North Carolina for several years, he was appointed county coordinator for Governor Jim Martin, the first republican governor in North Carolina since the Civil War. While there, Skipper says he was also instrumental in making the GOP a viable force in Dare County, where he resided, which subsequently resulted in the election of the first republican county commissioner there in over 100 years.

Skipper believes that his political experience of the past 20 years has prepared him to help build and maintain a strong and active republican party in Garrett County.

Since returning to Garrett County in 1986, Skipper has served as pastor of the Rocky Drean Assembly of God and for several years worked a salesman at Fitzwater Furniture. He resides on Bray School Road with his wife, Donna, and their two daughters, Candi and Stacy.

Gary L. Fitzwater will be serving as the treasurer for the Skipper campaign.

Student Receives Three Separate Academic Honors



Mandi Stemple, daughter of Robert and Wilma Stemple, Oakland, has been notified of three separate recognition awards for her achievement in academics.

She has been named an All-American Scholar by the United States Achievement Academy (USAA), a USAA National Award Winner in History and Government, and, for the third year, she has been recognized by Who's Who Among American High School Students.

An All-American Scholar must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average in order to qualify for the honor. Scholars are first nominated by a teacher, counselor, or other qualified sponsor. Biographical information about Miss Stemple will appear in the All-American Scholar Directory, published nationally by the USAA.

She was nominated for the history and government award by her civics teacher, Dave Beard. The criteria for selection include a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, enthusiasm, and motivation to learn. Her biography will also appear in the USAA Official Yearbook.

Miss Stemple received notification in July that she had been recommended for the third time to receive honorary award recognition and to have her biography published in Who's Who Among American High School Students. According to a press release from the organization, only five percent of all high school students receive the award, and fewer than one half of one percent are honored for two or more years.

The student is the granddaughter of Bill and Betty Ream, Swanton, and Rosalie DeWitt, Oakland, and the late Charles Stemple.

New W.Va. Scenic Railroad Invites Tourists To Ride Into Coal Country

by Benjamin Robb

A 112-year-old railroad in Preston County, W.Va., which for years hauled coal from the surrounding mountains, creaked back to life last week as a tourist excursion line. The diesel train will make six sightseeing runs through the area's heavily wooded hills each weekend.

The West Virginia Northern Railroad, 10.7 miles of serpentine iron and timber that stretches between Kingwood, the county seat, and Tunnelton, a one-time boom town and site of the line's junction with the B & O Railroad, was constructed in 1882 to haul timber. Early planners had hoped to extend the line into Pennsylvania, but besides the construction of two short spurs, the rail line never grew in length in over 100 years.

Because of the 37 mines that have been worked near the tracks, the Northern became best known as a coal train. Many Prestonians who lived near the Northern line walked to the tracks each night to gather coal which had fallen from the day's trains. Coal transport ceased on the Northern line in 1989, and the tracks began to be eyed for their scrap value.

Through the efforts of railroad buff Jim Arnold, local volunteers, and hopeful investors, the W.Va. Northern was purchased in April and recommissioned to carry sightseers. The excursion line began operation on August 5, with many members of the news media boarding the train for its maiden voyage.

From the Northern's large passenger car, riders can see thickly wooded forests and thinly populated towns; abandoned mining equipment, wildlife, rock formations, and backyard gardens. Tour guides will point out historic coal towns and scenic overlooks, but just as interesting are the unofficial sights: an abandoned Pepsi machine, senior citizens sitting on their front porches, and a lawn filled with a dozen doghouses. A few miles into the trip the tour guide points out the village of Borgman.

According to research done by Northern volunteer Marilyn Snyder, John and Elizabeth Borgman imigrated to America in the early 1800's and had seven children, the youngest named Christopher. After the death of his father in the middle of the 19th century, Christopher built his mother a cabin which is still visible from the tracks. Christopher founded the Borgman Coal Company in 1910.

To house Borgman mine workers, 30 homes and two boarding houses were constructed near the Northern tracks. Many of these homes, identical in design, are in use today and can be seen from the train. During the Borgman company's peak years, coal was carried from the mines to the Northern line by a steam powered tram.

Another piece of Northern history reported by Snyder involves an area of track that was known by rail workers to be infested with black widow spiders. Snyder stated, "In that area, workers wore long-sleeved shirts, gloves, and boots, as well as garters around the bottoms of their trouser legs."

By the time the train passes the line's midway point in Howesville it has climbed 400 feet in elevation, a feat accomplished in part by a double switchback. This unusual configuration of track, which resembles a letter Z, allows the train to use its forward and reverse gears to zig-zag up the face of the steep grade. The Northern will descend another 400 feet and negotiate two infamous curves before reaching the turn around point in Tunnelton.

The first, and lesser, of the two curves is near the village of Smokeless. Here a toppled train car still lies upside down by the tracks, a victim of one of the many train wrecks that occurred on the bottom half of the Northern line. The second and more treacherous bend in the tracks, called the Marion Curve, lies just outside of Tunnelton.

According to Northern volunteers Iris Jennings and Virginia Zetty, "This curve was the perpetrator of train wreck after train wreck, bringing out the entire countryside to gasp and marvel at the spectacle of power gone mad." Other than the omnipresent spilled coal, no physical evidence of these historic derailments remains.

The track at Marion, steeply banked to help keep heavy coal trains upright, hugs the rocky hillside. At one point, jagged rocks pass a few inches from the car's windows. On its opening day, the new W.Va. Northern negotiated the Marion Curve without so much as a jostle.

Once past the Marion Curve, the train enters Tunnelton, slows to a halt, and then begins the trip back to Kingwood. The entire ride takes about two and a half hours.

In addition to its regular weekend runs, the W.Va. Northern is available for weekday charter trips and "caboose parties." Persons interested in the train may call (304) 329-3333.

In a related endeavor, the Tunnelton Historical Society is currently raising money to purchase and refurbish the town's old train station and is planning a train trip fundraiser for September 3. The train will board in Tunnelton at 5 p.m. Tickets for the excursion will cost $15.

READING, RIDING, AND 'RITHMETIC CONCLUDES SEASON - A total of 49 children from four states participated this year in Reading, Riding, and 'Rithmetic, a summer day camp which integrates horseback riding with reading and math education. In addition to exploring the fundamentals of horsemanship, students participated in a variety of hands on learning activities such as averaging the horses' pulse and respiration rates, height, and girth; creating terrariums; and reading for details during a treasure hunt. Students concluded the week with an exhibition of projects and skills. Camp participants pictured above, front row, left to right, are Sam Preston, Karl Waite, Adam Chase, Nick Waite, Shasta Jones, Carrie Samuels, and Austin Jones. In the second row, left to right, are staff member Jason Snyder, Sarah Grubb, Brandon Deardon, Johnathan Deardon, Christopher Stover, Travis Jones, and staff member Darren Ream. The camp is located in Eglon, W.Va.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

"We All Are Different" was the topic of study for the August 2 meeting of the Eglon Extension Homemakers held at the Eglon Memorial Building. To emphasize the theme for the day, Rebecca Teets, the hostess, based her devotions on "Encouraging Individuality." Ruth Teets led the discussion topic using crayons and potatoes to show differences, how they are recognized and used. She asked members to share memories and showed a method of retaining memories.

Mary Rembold provided recreation in the form of "license plate madness," Avenell Parsons provided a joke, and Jean Winters told of the "mortgage lifter tomato" origin.

Club members spent four hours reading to children during July.

The meeting adjourned following the serving of refreshments to Lectie Bonner, Lillian Knotts, Mary Teets, Mary Rembold, Sandra Hauser, Linda and Sara Lewis, Avenell Parsons, Beth Hauser and Jean Winters.

PERSONAL MENTION

A family picnic was held Saturday evening at the home of John, Shirley, and Steve Parsons, Mt. Top. Attending were Don and Evelyn Johnson, Hedgesville; George, Rhonda, and Zack White, Abingdon, Md.; Cr. Jack, Carla and Katie Rodman of Nashville, Tenn.; Carlton and Jean Skipper, Kingwood; Ruth Parks, Jim, Cheryl and Cindy Parks, Ron and Avenell Parsons, Eglon; Leonard and Tammy Parsons, Mt. Top; and Mike, Tammy and Alexis Markwood, Aurora.

The George Whites were overnight guests in Eglon with Ron and Avenell Parsons Saturday and returned Sunday afternoon to their home.

Earns Certification In Home Health

Susan Holly, a Potomac Valley Home Health nurse, was recently notified that she had passed the Home Health Certification Exam offered through the American Nurses Credentialing Center of the American Nurses Association.

The American Nurses Association developed the Home Health Nurse Examination as a means of validating the home health nurse's professional expertise in the field of home care. The certification exam includes home health management; clinical management, of both pediatrics and adults, profession and ethical issues; research; and home health concepts and models.

Ms. Holly is a 1984 graduate of Carlow College, Pittsburgh, with a B.S. degree in nursing. She has 10 years experience in med-surg, psychiatric nursing, and community health. She has been employed by Potomac Valley Hospital Home Health for two years and is team leader for the Elk Garden area.

Special Activities Planned During Garrett Co. Fair

Several special activities are on the agenda for this year's Garrett County Fair, set for Aug. 14-20, in McHenry, according to Helen A. Glotfelty, a member of the publicity committee for the fair board.

PUMPKIN CONTEST

In an effort to find the county's largest pumpkin, a contest specifically for that purpose is underway during this year's fair. The rules and procedures for entering a pumpkin are as follows:

* All pumpkins must be entered by Monday, Aug. 15, at 6 p.m.

* Pumpkins may not be entered in the vegetable display area. The pumpkins will be displayed in their own specific area.

* A prize of $25 will be awarded to the person who enters the largest pumpkin. Second and third prizes will also be awarded.

BABY CRAWL

This year's county fair will again feature a baby crawl, and is set for Wednesday, Aug. 17, beginning at noon.

All babies who are not yet walking are eligible to participate. The infants will be placed in categories according to their birth months.

Two persons are allowed to encourage their infant to crawl. No material items are allowed -- only voices.

Prizes and ribbons will be awarded. The winners in each category will receive $10 and a ribbon. Each baby entered in the contest will receive $1 and a ribbon.

All babies must be registered by 11:45 on the day of the contest.

SENIOR CITIZENS' DAY

Senior Citizens' Day at the Garrett County Fair is Friday, Aug. 19.

A special appearance by The Ladies Barbershop Harmony Singers is set for 1 p.m. that afternoon.

Plans are again underway for an annual hat contest. Prizes will be awarded for the funniest, prettiest, ugliest, and most original hats. All seniors are encouraged to create a special hat and join the contest.

There is no admission charge to the fair for any senior citizen, aged 60 years or older.

For more information, for any of the above activities, persons may call 246-4224, or 387-6910.

The wedding will be held Saturday, October 29, at 1 p.m. at The Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Bittinger. A reception will follow the ceremony at the Bittinger fire hall.

Although some invitations are being sent, all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

AURORA/EGLON

Marie Fint of Aurora is a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital. She was transported there by ambulance on Friday night.

A family supper was held at the Maple Spring pavilion to celebrate Shawn Rembold's 13th birthday on Sunday evening. Those who attended were: his parents and brother, Bruce, Mary, and Craig Rembold, Eglon; Gary, Jason and Lauren Roth and Elizabeth Loughrie, Aurora; Bill, Sandra, Wade, Joe and Beth Hauser, Stemple Ridge; Chad Bishop, Aurora; Carlton and Jean Skipper, Kingwood; and Ron and Avenell Parsons and Aaron Layman, local.

Dan and Elaine Stemple have moved to Arnettsville, where he is now pastor of the Arnettsville United Methodist Charge. His parents, Pat and Adrain Stemple, Aurora, visited with the Stemples Sunday to celebrate his birthday.

A surprise visit was made Wednesday afternoon to Lillian Knotts in Eglon when her cousin, Ruth Harmon Thompson, Ruth's son Jim Thompson and his son, all of Texas, stopped by on the way to her father's old home. Ruth is the daughter of Charles and Blanche Hewitt Harmon, former Eglon residents.

Coy and Esther Allen of Solon, Ohio, and daughters were visitors here this weekend for the Fike reunion. Also in the area to attend the reunion were Darl and Rosemary Fike of Illinois. Everett Fike and Rosa, his daughter and husband of Colorado were also among those attending. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Judy Jr. of Delaware, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fike of Louisville, Ky., were also present among the many Fikes attending their annual reunion.

MALLOY FOR SENATE

To The Citizens Of Allegany & Garrett Counties:

I recently accepted the nomination of my party in Allegany and Garrett Counties to have my name placed on the November ballot for State Senate in opposition to John Hafer.

I feel Western Maryland deserves to have an effective voice in the Maryland Senate. While I intend to run a non-partisan campaign and hope that you, the voter, will make your decision on who you feel is the best choice, I must mention one fact. The Maryland Senate is made up of 47 members. Thirty-eight (38) are Democrats — nine (9) are Republicans. My opponent is Republican and I'm a Democrat. . .you decide who will be more effective on your behalf in Annapolis.

I also want to welcome into this district all of you who live in South Cumberland and Eastern Allegany County. For the first time in recent memory, you will no longer be represented by an elected official from Washington County.

I want to close by stating that I intend to run a people's campaign. To illustrate this point, I have decided NOT to accept PAC or special interest money in any amount. I will also accept no contribution over $100 from any individual. That's an additional assurance to you, the voter, that your interest is the only interest I'll be concerned about. But campaigns are expensive, so I need your help. This ad alone costs over $80. I look forward to meeting and talking to as many of you as possible in the coming months and will welcome your advice and counsel.

Sincerely,
Ted Malloy

5-For-Kids Project Itinerary Is Announced

The 5-For-Kids Project, a fund-raising, cycling event, will begin with a kick-off event at 2 p.m. on Sunday, August 21, at the Maryland Salem Children's Trust near Frostburg. The kick-off will be combined this year with Salem's annual Open House, which the public is invited to attend. Senator John Hafer is the honorary chairperson of the event.

The 10 volunteer cyclists will leave Salem at 8 a.m. on Monday, August 22. They will cross eight mountains to arrive at San Mar Children's Home in Boonesboro. On Tuesday, August 23, they will travel from the hilly roads of Western Maryland to the crowded streets of Baltimore City on the way to a special welcome, reception, and meeting with the mayor at City Hall in Baltimore.

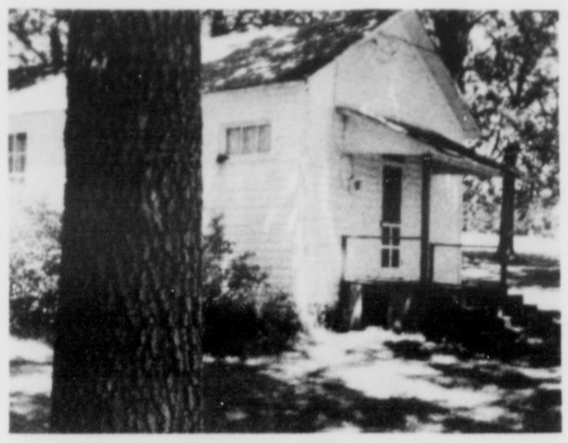
The group will travel from Baltimore City to the State House in Annapolis on Wednesday, August 24. They will complete their trip on Aug. 25 by traveling to St. Michael's on the Eastern Shore for a grand finale celebration.

According to Louise Richards, executive director, Salem needs to raise at least $100,000 annually to operate its program for children. Last year, the 5-For-Kids Project raised approximately $7,000 for Salem. This year's goal is $10,000. All funds raised will go directly to the children's programs of providing a home, food, clothing and therapeutic environment, Ms. Richards said. Both individual and corporate donations are being solicited.

The Maryland Salem Children's Trust is located along Lower New Germany Road in Garrett County. It provides a Christian home and care for 36 children between the ages of 6 and 18. Currently, Salem has five homes for children, plus a grandparents' home and a special education school.

For further information, persons may call Salem at (301) 689-8176.

Read. Then Recycle.



A REUNION of former students and staff of the old Swan Meadow School, pictured above, has been scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 27, at that location. Families are invited to bring a covered dish, lawn chairs, and old school photographs. The event will begin at 11:30 and the meal will be shared at noon. For more information, persons may call 334-3036 or 387-6277.

Columbia Gas Of Maryland Seeking Rate Increase

Columbia Gas of Maryland has filed a request with the Maryland Public Service Commission (PSC) for an annual increase in rates of $1 million, effective Sept. 4.

Gary J. Robinson, Columbia Gas of Maryland president, said the company is filing the proposed rate increase to respond to ongoing capital investments and increased operating costs.

It the rate increase is approved by the commission, the average monthly bill of the typical residential customer using 9,000 cubic feet of gas per month will increase from $59.46 to $61.60 or by 3.6 percent.

"Columbia consistently strives to operate in the most efficient manner possible and ensure continued safe and reliable gas service for customers at the lowest reasonable price," Robinson said.

He pointed out that even with the increase customers will still be paying 11 percent less than they were paying in 1983. "Natural gas remains the best energy value available today," he said.

Columbia filed the case utilizing a statute of the PSC law known as the "make-whole" provision. Under this provision, the commission allows the company the opportunity to earn the existing rate of return that was established in its most recent general rate case proceeding.

The commission is permitted to suspend a "make-whole" case for up to 90 days in order to study the rate increase request.

"Columbia is concerned about stabilizing customers' bills. We have proposed in the past and plan to continue to pursue several innovative initiatives that could help alleviate extreme fluctuations in customers' bills and serve as an alternative method to filing rate cases in the future," Robinson said.

Columbia Gas of Maryland is the third largest investor-owned natural gas utility in the state, serving about 31,000 customers in 17 communities in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties.

Reed Receives Scouting Silver Beaver Award

At its recent annual business meeting and recognition ceremony, Potomac Council, BSA, honored three of its outstanding volunteer leaders with the Silver Beaver Award. The recognition is the highest honor the council can bestow on adult scouters for their ongoing involvement in local scouting activities. Those honored were Janet Householder, Westernport Mike Reed, Accident, (pictured above) and Larry Fairley, Rawlings.

An Explorer Post advisor in 1983, Reed became a Cubmaster in 1984. In 1990, he organized Troop 82, Accident, which quickly became one of the most active and successful in the Council. Since 1991, he has served as Deep Creek District advancement chair, where he supervised many high quality Eagle service projects. He is currently DCD outdoor activities chair.

Reed earned his scouter's woodbadge beads in 1992 and in 1993 led Potomac Council's contingent to the National Scout Jamboree. He has earned his Scouter's Key and was honored by his district in 1992 with the District Award of Merit. In addition to his scouting activities, he has served for many years as a Little League baseball coach.

HOME ECONOMICS
Guide to Better Living

LEARN TO RELAX

During the busy summer months, it can be difficult to find time to relax between family reunions, activities for the children, and career concerns. However, a great deal of research shows that scheduling a small amount of free time every day can increase a person's productivity at work and provide him or her with a more pleasant disposition. Thus, if you consider relaxation to be a waste of valuable time, consider the benefits to people around you.

Think of your "down time" as a chance for inspiration. Some companies, recognizing the importance of relaxation, have exercise equipment at the worksite or are situated in an area was well-suited for walking. Take advantage of these facilities during lunchtime or other breaks to rest your mind. Remember that Isaac Newton discovered gravity while napping under a tree.

There are plenty of other ways to relax during the day in just a few spare minutes. Keep a small photo album in your desk to look through between business meetings. Do a short meditation or a few stretching exercises when you need a break. Find an at-home task that you enjoy, such as walking the dog or fetching the day's mail, and reward yourself with it after finishing something less enjoyable.

A great deal of stress can be avoided by learning your limits and refusing to overextend yourself. Set a limit on the number of work projects or community activities you become involved in. Determine the types of projects you volunteer for most often (committees at work, charity events, youth sports, etc.) and learn to say "no" to some of these, no matter how worthwhile the cause. Remember that it is best not to begin something new if you do not have the time and energy required to do it well.

For more information on how to fit rest and relaxation into your busy schedule, contact the Garrett County Extension Office at 334-1990. Our programs are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, handicaps religion, age, or national origin.

ELECT
GARRETT COUNTY COMMISSIONER
DISTRICT # 1
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

If elected, I will be committed to enhancing our local economy!

Garrett County has always been faced with an up and down, seasonal economy. Our unemployment rate is around 15% in the winter and 9% during the summer. The national average is around 6.8%. Private enterprise is our #1employer and is being strangled to death by over-regulation. Somone at the local level must attempt to loosen these regulations and fight to prevent further job/robbing mandates. One way to help is to offer a TAX CUT to our small business community. This means jobs! Full time, permanent, year round jobs would be at the top of my priority list. We need people in the County Commissioner's office who are committed to seeking out these jobs and to do what is necessary to lure companies to Garrett County. It is difficult to lure job producers to our county without providing incentives, quality schools and safe roadways. YOU CANNOT HOLD THE LINE ON TAXES WITHOUT A HEALTHY ECONOMY!

Oakland Woman Convicted In Dist. Court Of Theft Scheming

An Oakland woman who was arrested last fall in connection with the theft of funds from Garrett Community College, was convicted on one count of theft scheming in last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings.

Donna L. Schrier, 44, was found guilty of the offense by Garrett County District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett, who handed her a four-year term in the Garrett County Jail, with all of the sentence suspended except 18 months. Schrier's court costs were suspended, but the judge ordered her to make $7,500 restitution to the college, with $4,110 of that amount to be paid for vacation pay she received from GCC. She was also placed on two years of supervised probation. An additional charge of felony theft was not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

According to district court records, Schrier, who had worked at GCC for 14 years prior to her dismissal, was charged with those offenses by Tfc. R.M. Hershberger of Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, after he was contacted by GCC officials on Sept. 15, 1993, and advised that cash was missing from the college's books. It was reportedly learned that the college lost $26,661.38 in cash that Schrier was supposed to have deposited in Garrett National Bank. She was reportedly in charge of making deposits and reconciling the monthly bank records. Court records indicate the theft occurred during the period of Jan. 2, 1992 through May 27, 1993.

In other district court news, John R. Major Jr., 24, Accident, was found guilty on one count of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS). The judge sentenced him to 30 days in jail, with all of that sentence suspended except 48 hours. Major was also given credit for 14 hours already served on a different charge. The judge also fined him $350, and placed him on one year of supervised probation. An additional charge of possession of CDS paraphernalia was not prosecuted because of a plea agreement with the state's attorney's office.

According to court documents, Major was arrested for the offense on April 14 by the MSP Drug Enforcement Division and the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force after they found him to be in possession of marijuana during an ongoing investigation at a residence near the Wisp Resort.

Dewayne R. Fisher, 28, Manassas Park, Va., was found to be in violation of probation from an earlier CDS conviction. Judge Burnett ordered Fisher's probation to be continued, but to withhold extending the probation until the defendant has completed a drug evaluation program. Fisher's initial arrest had occurred on Sept. 17, 1993, after he was stopped at a drug interdiction check point on I-68 by state police.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for an Accident pair after they were found guilty on charges of forgery of private documents.

Judge Burnett amended the charges to an "attempt to steal" documents for David Boylan, 45, and Carla R. Bowers, 26, and ordered their bond to be continued.

According to district court records, on March 3, the pair conspired to cash a retirement check that belonged to Charles Ringer, in the amount of $800.95, by forging Ringer's name. Bowers handed the check to the teller, who reportedly asked for identification. They stated they had no ID, but gave a social security number that did not match, and the teller refused to cash the check. The pair reportedly then left the bank empty-handed.

Bowers and Boylan were arrested on March 13 on the strength of a warrant executed by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Galen Resh, 48, Accident, was found not to be in violation of probation stemming from one earlier trespassing and three malicious destruction of property convictions, stemming from charges filed by Regina J. Resh, also of Accident.

In a related case, Resh was also found not guilty of one count of harassment. This charge was also filed by Regina Resh, who claimed that on May 12, Galen had blocked her driveway and kept her from leaving. He then reportedly spit in her yard.

Deborah A. Estill, 36, Oakland, was found not guilty on one count of assault and one count of battery, stemming from charges filed by Cathy J. Ford, who stated that on April 23, Estill attacked her in Naylor's parking lot.

Ashley Watts, 18, Aurora, W.Va., was not prosecuted on one count of battery, at the request of the complainant, Donna J. Hershman. The charges stemmed from an incident on May 13 in the Par-Matt Lanes parking lot.

A Mountain Lake Park woman was found guilty of a number of bad check charges in Judge Burnett's court.

Carolyn S. Simmons, 46, was sentenced to a total of 30 days in jail, with all of that sentence suspended except for four weekend incarcerations. She was ordered to make a total restitution of $329.18, plus all service charges, and was placed on 12 months of supervised probation for the offenses.

DWI CASES

Three DWI (driving while intoxicated) cases were heard last week in district court proceedings.

Clifford Frank Elliott Jr., 22, Oakland, was found guilty of a violation of probation charge stemming from his DWI charge by MSP on May 5, 1992. The judge ordered Elliott's probation be revoked, and his original seven-day incarceration time was reimposed.

George Ronald McGarvey Jr., 20, Md., was convicted on a DWI charge, stemming from his March 7 arrest by MSP. The judge fined him $350, handed him a 30-day suspended sentence, and placed him on one year of supervised probation for the offense.

Harland Gene Beitzel, 41, Md., was also found guilty of a DWI offense. He, too, was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, placed on one year of supervised probation, and fined $300. Beitzel's arrest by state police was on April 30.

"SURVIVORS" - The 1993 Top Team of the American Cancer Society's Making Strides Against Cancer, representing the Garrett County Cancer Support Group, is challenging other local groups. The team of 20 members raised $1,629 last year for the local American Cancer Society. This year's event is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 18, at Deep Creek State Park. Registration begins at noon and the official start of the event will be 1:30 p.m. Persons may call 1-800-STRIDES to sign-up.

Natural History Course Offered At GC College

A course in Natural History (BIO 110) will be offered by Garrett Community College during the fall semester on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, according to a college spokesperson. The course, which has not been offered for several years, will be taught by Kevin Dodge, associate professor of wildlife and biology.

The course focuses on basic principles of natural history, including ecosystem structure and function, plant and animal identification, geology and soils. According to Dodge, students in the course will go beyond the classroom with a number of field trips to local ecosystems.

Dodge stated that the course should appeal to many people other than traditional college students. "This course is designed to make persons more familiar with the environment they live in. With many now enjoying outdoor recreation in our area, it is logical that they want to know more about the rocks, trees, plants, and animals they are likely to see here," he said.

A four-credit lab science, natural history is transferrable to many institutions and is considered to be a good selection for students in two-year AAS career programs. Hours for the course are Mondays, 3-5 p.m., and Wednesdays, 1-5 p.m.

Students may register for the course at the Registrar's Office, weekdays during business hours. Persons desiring more information may call Dodge at 387-3067.

Autumn Glory Fest Brochure Now Available

The Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council announced this week that a brochure detailing the various events and activities of the 27th annual Autumn Glory Festival, slated for Oct. 13-16, is now available.

Highlights of the festival include the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department's Firemen's Parade and Oktoberfest, the Maryland State Banjo and Fiddle Championships, the Grand Feature Parade, the Western Maryland Tournament of Bands, the Tall Tale Liars' Festival, the TLT Baseball Card Show, and a variety of arts, crafts, and antiques shows and sales.

Among the major sponsors of Autumn Glory events are First United National Bank & Trust, First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland, the Garrett County Arts Council, and Bell Atlantic.

For a copy of the free brochure, persons may contact Festival Headquarters at 301-334-1948.

IMPROVEMENTS AT DEEP CREEK WILL REQUIRE TEMPORARY LOWERING OF LAKE'S WATER LEVEL

Penelec, owner of Deep Creek Lake and the Deep Creek Hydroelectric Station, will begin making improvements this month at the lake and power station.

This work will require the lake to be drawn down to lower-than-normal levels in September and October.

Work to repair the lake's primary spillway, a structure that helps control the flow of excess water from the lake, began in mid-July and will continue through November.

In addition, Penelec plans to build two water-control structures, a flow bypass and a tailrace weir, near the station — measures designed to enhance the fishery in the Youghiogheny River. The flow bypass will help maintain water flow in the Youghiogheny during low-water times.

The tailrace weir will improve the oxygen content of water discharged from the plant by aerating the water as it splashes through the W-shaped concrete structure.

Work on the flow bypass and tailrace weir is set to begin in October and is expected to extend into November.

Work on all three projects will require the lake's water level to be lowered. The water level will be lowered by four feet, from an elevation of 2,458 feet on Labor Day to an elevation of 2,454 feet on Oct. 3. At or near the lower elevation, boaters may experience some inconveniences.

Boat owners are advised to take the necessary docking precautions before the water level is reduced. Unattended boats could become stranded. After Oct. 3, the lake's water level will be uncontrolled as a result of a temporary shut-down of the power plant. The water level could rise rapidly in the event of heavy rainfall.

The relatively rapid drawdown will provide frequent white-water boating conditions on the Youghiogheny River from Sept. 5 through Oct. 3 as water from the lake is released into the river. There will be no release of water to the river from Oct. 3 through November because the hydroelectric plant will be shut down.

(Questions regarding Penelec's projects at Deep Creek should be directed to David Clossin, (814) 533-8738.)

Imposter Nabbed Via MVA's New License System

Enforcement officials took Brian James Everett into custody recently, charging him with various fraud offenses, including the procurement of a driver's license under the name of John Kenneth Temple, a murder victim who, along with his wife, Lori, were killed last December.

Because of Motor Vehicle Administration's (MVA) new licensing system, officials were able to identify Everett within 48 hours of MVA's retrieval of his photograph and signature. When he renewed "Temple's" driver's license, the new MVA process took a digitally produced photo of Mr. Everett and was able to retrieve it, along with Everett's forgery of John Temple's signature. Authorities apprehended Everett at a Maryland Automobile Insurance Fund (MAIF) office in Parole.

Maryland's new driver licensing system became effective statewide on January 1, touting its most significant advantage as evidenced during the Brian Everett incident -- the ability to store and retrieve an applicant's photograph and signature. MVA Administrator W. Marshall Rickert sees the technological benefits as a step in closing a large gap in criminal activity.

"As time goes one, more and more Marylanders will become part of the new system, and that's when we'll increasingly realize the rewards of cutting down on the illicit actions surrounding fraud. The driver's license is a valuable tool for criminals to be armed with when going about their business. We want the public to know that such attempts as assuming someone else's identity could carry severe penalties, and we're now being armed with a method for finding these people," Rickert said.

The enforcement community, anxiously awaiting the arrival of MVA's new digital imaging licensing program, applauds the results.

"Having a photo and signature of suspects gives us a welcomed edge in locating potential criminals. Once we had Mr. Everett's photo, it was less than 48 hours when we had the identity of whom we were after," said Greg Shipley, spokesperson for the Maryland State Police. "MVA's new procedure is working and working well."

GCC President Leads Workshop At Conference

Dr. Steve Herman, president of Garrett Community College, was among the presenters at the 10th International Workshop Conference on Teaching Philosophy conducted recently in Montreal, Quebec, Canada. The conference was sponsored by the American Association of Philosophy Teachers.

The topic of Dr. Herman's workshop was "Preparing Students to Think and Communicate Rationally." Workshops were scheduled in the categories of Introduction to Philosophy, Expanding Philosophy; Critical Thinking and Logic; Ethics, Art, Literature and Film; Using the Law Formulating Policy; Assessment and Grading; and New Techniques, New Technology.

Workshop sessions emphasized an interactive learning environment using media and computer technology to teach philosophy.

Special Service At Pleasant View To Feature Herron

The public is invited to an "Evening of Praise" at the Pleasant View Baptist Church this Sunday, Aug. 14, at 6:30 p.m.

This special service will feature the singing of John Philip Herron, who was appointed to the Governors School of Music for the state of Tennessee in 1986, was a member of the University of Tennessee Honors Chorale in 1987 and a part of the Tennessee All-State Chorus in 1986-87. He has sung solos accompanied by the United States Air Force Band overseas and has ministered in music in churches throughout Tennessee and Missouri.

Pleasant View is located two miles south of Oakland along Route 219. Persons may call 334-8515 for more information.

Jennings ELCA Women Convene

Women of the ELCA, Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, held their monthly meeting in the church on August 2 with four members attending.

The Bible study, "Holy Places" was led by Leota Baker. The study text, taken from the Letter to the Hebrews, built on the themes of covenant and sanctuary. The hymn, "At The Lamb's High Feast We Sing," was used as a choral reading in the devotions.

Ruthella Resh presided over the business meeting.

A thank-you note was received from the Vena Beachy family.

Subscriptions were renewed for the devotional guide, "Christ in our Home."

A copy of the treasurer's report, as audited by the parish committee in March, was sent to the synodical unit treasurer to be sent to ELCA churchwide.

A birthday offering was presented by Ruthella Resh, and a gift offering was received from Ethel Hetrick a former member of Zion's unit.

A tribute to the memory of Verta E. Durst, on her birthday anniversary, was made through a special offering from Leota Baker. This offering was forwarded to Women of the ELCA churchwide and designated for World Hunger.

Invalid gowns are being made from men's shirts, and also bibs from terry towels. These, and washcloths received in the annual shower until September, will be sent to The Lutheran Home in Kane, Pa.

The next meeting is scheduled for September 6.

HILLBILLIES VISIT OAKLAND - A cold rain did not deter several dedicated members of the Christiana, Pa., Lions Club as they passed through Garrett County on their way to the Street Rod Nationals in Louisville, Ky. Dressed in hillbilly costumes and calling themselves the "Christiana Clampetts," the Lions, pictured above, are making the trip in a 1929 Chevrolet. The group hopes to raise money to support Lions International's effort to eliminate all preventable blindness in the world.

Homemaker Quilt On Display At Fair

The Garrett County Extension Homemakers will display a quilt, created and donated by several area homemakers, during this year's Garrett County Fair. The display will be located next to the organization's booth.

Chances for the quilt are available for sale at a cost of $1 each, or six for $5, and persons interested in purchasing them may stop by the Extension Office at 202 S. Third Street, Oakland, next to the courthouse. The winner's name will be drawn during the Oct. 12 Achievement Day.

The Extension Homemakers invite everyone to visit their booth during the fair. This year's theme is "Energy Conservation," which includes a variety of displays and free literature.

JWCC Meets And Prepares Booth For County Fair

The Junior Woman's Civic Club met last week at the Garrett County Fairgrounds to clean the club's "Pizza Shack" in preparation to sell pizza, pepperoni rolls, and soft drinks during the Garrett County Agricultural Fair. The fair will open this Sunday, Aug. 14.

Following the clean-up of the booth, a business meeting was held. Updates from the various committees were presented, and current and future fund raising activities were discussed. The evening concluded with the drawing for a door prize - a gift certificate to Uno's - which was won by Beverly Haines.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 8, at 6:30 p.m. This meeting will include the club's annual membership drive.

The Junior Woman's Civic Club is open to all women 18 or older. Any person interested in attending a meeting or obtaining more information may contact Vicki Naliborski at 387-6890, or any other club member.

Maryland Made & Grown With Pride

ASSIGNEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

situate in Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage from Manuel M. Ferreira, Trust, established in the Last Will and Testament of the said Manuel M. Ferreira, in Estate No. 31798 in the Orphans' Court for Prince Georges County, Maryland, by David M. Ferreira, Trustee, dated August 7, 1986 and recorded in Liber No. 476, folio 681, and Memorandum of Modification Agreement to Liberty Bank of Maryland, now known as American Trust Bank, dated August 31, 1989, and recorded in Liber 537, folio 2, both of the Land (Mortgage) Records of Garrett County, Maryland. Default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and it having been duly assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will on, at the hour of 11:00 o'clock A.M.

in the Rotunda of the Garrett County Courthouse in the Town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, which is described as follows:

Condominium Unit No. 223, in the Wisp Condominium as described and shown on the Declaration of Condominium of theWisp Condominium recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in C.C.D. Liber No. 461, folio 328, as amended to date; together with an undivided percentage interest in the common elements of The Wisp Condominium appurtenant to that unit.

Subject to and with the benefits of the Condominium Declaration aforesaid as amended The Wisp Condominium By-Laws, both recorded among the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, in C.C.D. Liber No. 461, folio 328, and further subject to all rights, easements, restrictions, covenants, and reservations contained in or referred to in The Wisp Condominium Declaration and By-Laws as amended as if the same had been fully set forth herein, including, but not limited to, the obligation to pay the assessments as described in the Condominium Declaration and By-Laws as amended.

Together with all improvements thereon, and the rights, roads, waters, privileges, appurtenances, and advantages, including, but not limited to, the percentage interest in the common elements of the said Wisp Condominium, to the same belonging or appertaining.

Being the same property conveyed to the Mortgagor herein by deed dated August 7, 1986 and recorded in Liber 481, folio 391, of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS cash on day of sale will be required from the purchaser at the time and place of sale, to be paid in cash or by cashier's or certified check, or in such other form as the Assignee may in his sole discretion determine. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid in cash or by cashier's or certified check upon final ratification of the sale by the Court for Garrett County. Taxes and all other public charges and assessments, if any, payable on an annual basis to be adjusted to date of sale and assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Cost of all documentary stamps and transfer taxes to be paid by the purchaser. The above described property will be sold in "as is" condition and without warranty as to the accuracy of information furnished to and/or by the Assignee and made available to prospective bidders.

Sealed bids will be received by the Mayor and Council of Grantsville until 4:00 p.m. local time September 6, 1994 and then publicly opened and read.

The work will consist of furnishing and installing labor, equipment and material: to connect an existing water supply well to the Town's existing 4 inch supply line with 342 feet of 4 inch ductile iron pipe; to install power, control and radio telemetry equipment to place the well in service; to remove and re-construct existing 4 inch and 6 inch underground piping at the water filter plant; to tap an existing 8 inch PVC main and install a fire hydrant; and to furnish and install an emergency generator with LP gas tank.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the Grantsville Municipal Building, 171 Hill Street, Grantsville, MD each working day between 9:30 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. Copies of the contact documents can be obtained at the Municipal Building for $25.00 per set or by mail for $30.00 per set, non-refundable.

Each bidder must furnish with his bid an acceptable bid bond or certified check in the amount of five (5) percent of his bid payable to the Mayor and Council of Grantsville.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids, to waive any informalities in the bid and to accept or reject any items of any bid.

Work under the Contract is to be funded by the Maryland Department of the Environment and the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development and is subject to pre-determined minimum wage rates as established by the U.S. Department of Labor.

A pre-bid conference will be held at the Grantsville Municipal Building at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, August 23, 1994.

Frederick A. Holliday
Mayor

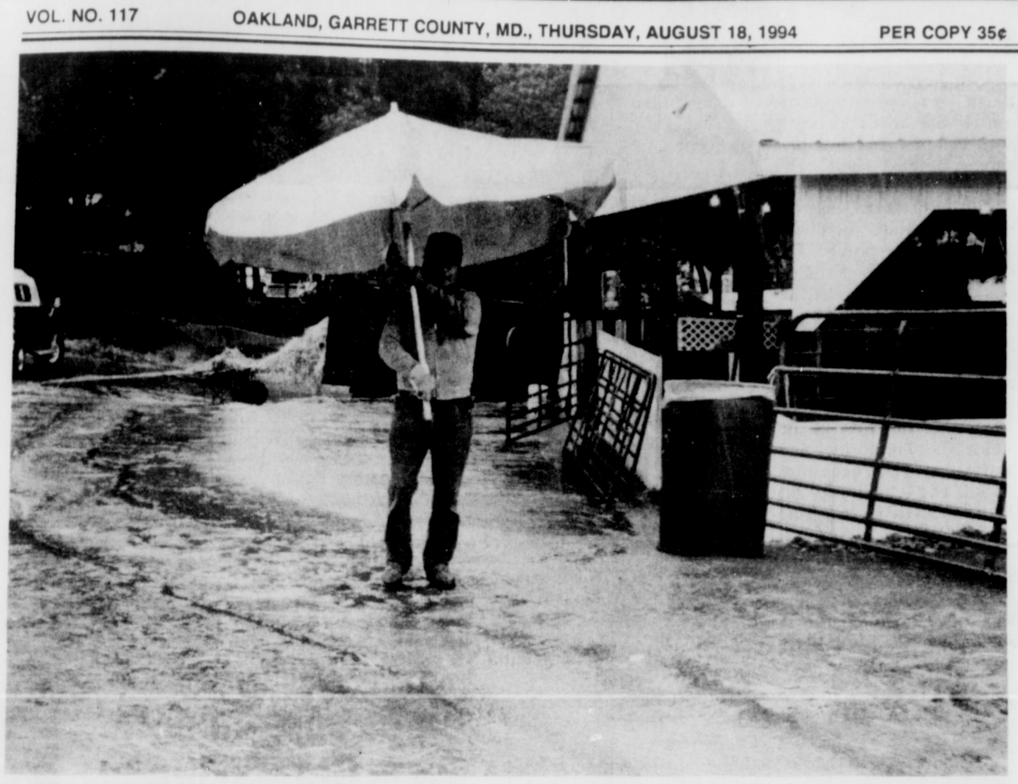
THE REPUBLICAN

VOL. NO. 117 OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1994 PER COPY 35¢ Printed on RECYCLED NEWSPRINT



IT'S FAIR WEEK! How can you tell? Why, it's raining, of course! Tropical storm Beryl (and that's pronounced "burl") dumped a couple inches of rain on Garrett County yesterday, causing some minor flooding on the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. The gentleman pictured above seemed well prepared for the water falling from the sky, but may have wished he had also brought along his hip boots and/or a canoe. Drier weather is forecast for the rest of the week, however, affording residents a perfect opportunity to enjoy the many attractions of the fair. A $5 admission fee provides unlimited amusement rides and entry to all of the special shows and exhibits.

Suit Against Board Settled Out Of Court

A law suit filed by John Hinebaugh, Sang Run, against the Garrett County Board of Commissioners was settled recently with the county's insurer, the Local Government Insurance Trust, paying Hinebaugh's attorney's fees. However, the Commissioners still deny any wrongdoing.

Hinebaugh had filed the suit against the commissioners for their alleged failure to supply copies of public documents pertaining to the board's purchase of over $1 million worth of heavy John Deere road equipment last year. His suit, filed in the Garrett County Circuit Court, sought copies of the documents and $10,000 in punitive damages. He agreed to settle the case after receiving the documents in question and payment of his legal fees.

In a statement released by County Clerk Bob Fousek on Wednesday, he remarked, "The decision to conclude the proceedings was made by the Insurance Trust without having sought or obtained the agreement of the county commissioners. The county commissioners did not agree to the payment."

Hinebaugh had stated in the suit that on December 22, 1993, he sent a letter to the board requesting copies of several documents relating to a purchase of road equipment that had taken place earlier that year. He made this request under Maryland's "Access to Public Records" statute.

Hinebaugh's law suit,

Union-Employee Confrontation Yields Charges

Recent union activity at Garrett County Memorial Hospital resulted in charges being filed this past week in Garrett County District Court between a hospital employee and an individual representing UFCW Local 27 after a confrontation at the employee's residence.

Kimberly Shirer, the hospital employee, was charged with battery by union representative Timothy Bruce Goins after Ms. Shirer allegedly used a garden hose to spray water on him. Goins alleges he had stopped by Ms. Shirer's residence along Alexander Lane in Mtn. Lake Park for "an educational visit to help employees understand what

Amy Susan Bowser Is Crowned 1994 Garrett County Farm Queen

Amy Susan Bowser was crowned the 1994 Garrett County Farm Queen Sunday at opening ceremonies of the 38th Annual Garrett County Fair in McHenry. Amy is the 19-year-old daughter of Blaine and Arlene Bowser. The family has a sheep, dairy and horse farm near Grantsville, where Amy's responsibilities include feeding the calves, watering the horses, care of the lambs, and gardening. Amy is especially busy at sheep shearing time, when she works catching the sheep and bagging the wool. She also sets up and tears down the shearing equipment. Her home responsibilities includes general housework and helping to make homemade butter from the family's cows.

Amy is active in 4-H and FFA, participating in 4-H shows and representing the FFA in the Garrett County Livestock Association. A 1994 graduate of Northern High School, she was active in chorus and on the yearbook staff. Through the Allied Health Program at school she became a Certified Nursing Assistant, and volunteered over 60 hours of community service at Goodwill Nursing Home and Pineview Veterinary Hospital. She is a member of the Grace Bible Independent Church.

The 1994 Farm Queen would like to become a veterinarian in the future and is currently working full-time at Pineview Veterinary Hospital in Oakland. She would eventually like to get married, live on a farm and have several children.

The new Farm Queen will represent Garrett County agriculture and the Farm Bureau, and will represent the county at the State Farm Queen Contest which will be held during

Man Accused Of Illegal Black Bear Killing

An Oakland man has been charged in connection with the illegal killing of a black bear which occurred in late September 1993. Robert G. Skeweris, 33, incurred the violation from the Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) after a 10-month investigation.

Officer John Milbourne of the NRP reportedly obtained a signed statement from an individual who was with Skeweris when the bear was shot.

The animal was killed near Kempton on or about Sept. 29, 1993, and was later discovered by two bow hunters.

"The killing was apparently opportunistic," Milbourne said. "The bear had not been field dressed nor had any parts been removed from the carcass. It was merely killed and left to decompose."

Milbourne wished to remind all hunters that there is no open season for black bears in Maryland. The penalty for a first offense can be a fine up to $1,500 and/or six months in jail.

A trial date for Skeweris has not yet been set.

Two Seriously Injured In Car Wreck Monday

Two area men were seriously injured in a one-car accident early Monday morning just over the West Virginia state line. Dennis Murray, 36, Mtn. Lake Park, and Lester Russell, 44, Bayard, W.Va., both remain patients today in "guarded" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following the 6:10 a.m. mishap.

Murray was driving toward Garrett County on West Virginia Route 90 when a deer apparently jumped out in front of his pickup truck just south of Bayard. The driver swerved to miss the animal and reportedly lost control of the truck as he rounded a sharp curve. The vehicle left the roadway and struck a large boulder, according to reports.

The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the scene and worked for approximately 40 minutes to extricate Russell from the wreckage. Both men were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where they were admitted into the intensive care unit. Murray underwent surgery Monday eve-

Oakland All-Stars Place Third In Eastern Regional Tournament

The dream season for the Oakland Little League Junior Division (11-12) All-Stars came to an end Tuesday evening in Bristol, Conn., but not before the local youngsters were within just two wins of capturing one of eight spots in the Little League World Series.

The Oakland team, coached by Joey DiSimone and managed by Junior Uphold, was defeated 9-4 Tuesday by the Massachusetts all-star squad, the same team that last week handed the Garrett County youth their first loss in the double-elimination Eastern Regional Championships. Only Oakland, the Middleboro, Mass., team, and the New Jersey all-stars from Short Hills, N.J. remained in the 11-team regional tournament. Middleboro will now play Short Hills in the finals, the winner of which will be one of only four teams in the United States to advance to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa. Joining those four teams will be four foreign teams of all-stars.

Oakland earned a spot in the regional semi-finals by defeating the all-star team from Rhode Island in an opening game, and then, after losing to Middleboro in the second game last Wednesday, defeating Pennsylvania on Friday, 5-2, topping New York on Saturday, 6-3, and stopping the Deleware all-stars Monday, 8-4.

Jason Hinebaugh fired a six-hitter against the Franklin, Pa., team on Friday, while Toby Upton led the offense with a three-run

Chamber Orchestra Of Western Md. Symphony To Be Penn Alps Finale

A performance by the chamber orchestra of the Western Maryland Symphony will be the finale for the summer series, Music at Penn Alps. The chamber orchestra will play Saturday, Aug. 27, at 7 p.m. at the Great Hall at Penn Alps, Grantsville. Tickets will be available at the door.

Conducted by Dr. Jon Bauman, professor of music at Frostburg State University and coordinator of the musical series, the program will feature J.S. Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 4, with flute soloists Don and Rachel Anderson, and Sarah O'Boyle, violin. The Brook Green Suite by Gustav Holst will complete the first half of the performance. Following intermission, the group will return with the Serenade for Strings by Peter Warlock and Haydn's Symphony No. 85.

Soloist O'Boyle began studying violin at the age of four. In 1993 she received her B.F.A with university honors from Carnegie Mellon University where she was a student of Andres Cardenes. She has played professionally in numerous orchestras, including the Orquesta Filarmonica de Santiago, Chile, where she served as assistant concertmaster from 1987-89. She played with the Pittsburgh Symphony during its 1991 tour of the Orient and continues to perform with them on occasion. She is currently a member of the Pittsburgh Ballet and Opera Orchestras. During July, Ms. O'Boyle performed in recital in Santiago, Chile.

The chamber orchestra is a small component of the Western Maryland Symphony, which is under the di-

Oakland Man Accused Of Stabbing Wife Repeatedly Is Jailed In W.Va.

An Oakland man was arrested Sunday in Preston County and is being held there in lieu of $50,000 on several assault charges. Thomas F. Koton, 44, is accused of chasing his estranged wife down Saturday night and stabbing her seven times with a pocket knife, according to a report on file at the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

Judy C. Koton, 39, had filed an exparte (protective) order against her husband several weeks ago after domestic disputes between the two had allegedly escalated. While the order was to have been in effect until January 1995, Koton had been charged with violating it at least one time before the Saturday night incident.

According to the sheriff's office report, the defendant forced his way into the family residence in Crellin at approximately 10:30 p.m. Mrs. Koton and her daughter ran out the back door, and the defendant allegedly chased after them. The daughter reached a neighbor's house, but Mrs. Koton was stopped by her husband in the yard where he apparently stabbed her twice in the shoulders.

According to the witnesses' statements, the victim was able to run a few more steps before the defendant caught her again and stabbed her five more times in the back and arms. When the neighbor ran out to help the victim, Koton allegedly fled the scene on foot. The defendant was reportedly suspected to be under the influence of alcohol at the time of the assault.

The police and the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad responded to the neighbor's home where Mrs. Koton remained after the incident. She was trans-

HAND-TO-EYE COORDINATION is just one of the many skills necessary to become a world-class croquet player like professional Fred Jones, of Venice, Fla., and Newport, R.I., who was a recent guest of the Chestnut Croquet Club of Turkey Neck. Jones and his wife, Jackie, also a professional and member of the United States Croquet Association, conducted a clinic last week on the court owned by Ray Thayer, Ted Kemp, and Tom Potts. Jones, who is pictured above right instructing a Chestnut Club member on the proper angle of her next shot, is the founder of the Waterford Croquet Club. The Chestnut Club members, who number approximately 15, meet every Thursday afternoon for competition and fellowship.

BRENNEMAN'S STORE SUSTAINED MAJOR DAMAGE early Friday morning when a 1993 Chevrolet Lumina, driven by Gregory W. Thomas, 21, Frostburg, reportedly failed to negotiate a turn, traveled out of control on Rt. 495 (Bittinger Road) near the Rock Lodge Road, struck a curb, and traveled through the video section of the establishment. The car reportedly came to rest at the opposite end of the building, in the ceramics section of the store, causing in the destruction of thousands of videos and ceramic pieces. Thomas was charged with driving while intoxicated, negligent driving, failure to reduce speed, and failure to keep right of center following the 1 a.m. accident, according to a report filed by Tfc. G.S. Becker, Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

Traffic Violators Among Those Cited Recently By GCSO

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office logged various arrests this week, several of which involved traffic violations such as DWI (driving while intoxicated) and other moving charges. A controlled dangerous substance arrest stemmed from one traffic stop, according to the report.

Craig L. Stephens Sr., 28, Oakland, was stopped on the evening of Aug. 13 for a traffic violation and was charged with DWI. A routine search of the defendant's vehicle reportedly revealed a "smoking device" with marijuana residue inside.

Upon further search of the car, a long-bladed knife was found hidden under the floor mat. Stephens was then charged with possession of CDS paraphernalia and possession of a concealed weapon, according to the report. The traffic stop was effected on Rt. 135.

A resident of Dry Fork, W.Va., was charged with DWI on Aug. 14. Roger D. Lipscomb, 37, was stopped on Rt. 135 at approximately 1:45 a.m. Further details were not noted in the police report.

A 21-year-old Mountain Lake Park woman was charged with three traffic violations after an incident on Aug. 12. Angelica M. Thayer allegedly spun the wheels of her vehicle in the parking lot of Par-Matt Lanes and was observed doing so by a sheriff's deputy. She apparently then drove out of the parking lot and Dep. D. McLaughlin followed her eastbound on Oakland Drive.

The officer reported that she accelerated to 45-50 miles per hour in a 30 mile-per-hour zone, and then slid to a stop in a yard on Baltimore Ave. Thayer was charged with driving with a suspended license, failure to control speed to avoid an accident, and spinning her wheels.

Neither she nor her passenger, Michael W. Machado, 19, were hurt in the minor mishap.

In other sheriff's office news, a Corinth, W.Va., man was charged with disorderly conduct and destruction of property on Aug. 13. Troy A. Ashby, 24, was apparently running down the center of the southbound lane of Rt. 39 in Crellin at about 6:30 p.m., blocking traffic.

Ashby also allegedly struck a vehicle owned by Earl W. Shuttleworth, denting it. Officers responded to the area and arrested the defendant, according to the report.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of an Oakland man. Todd W. Riley, 19, apparently failed to appear in court to face one charge of battery.

Charles R. Housely, 20, Mountain Lake Park, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant on Aug. 11. He allegedly failed to appear in court to face a charge of underage possession of an alcoholic beverage.

Car Mishap

A Friday car accident on Rt. 219 north of Oakland was investigated by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. Stanley L. Miller, 64, Accident, was operating a 1985 Plymouth south on Rt. 219 and stopped to turn into Food Lion grocery store. He had activated his blinker, according to the report.

Miller's vehicle was then struck from behind by a 1992 Chevrolet driven by Ronald E. Edwards, 26, Swanton. Edwards told officers he did not see that the Miller vehicle had stopped.

Both drivers were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. They were both treated and released, according to the report.

No charges were noted in the police log.

Thefts, Property Destruction Being Probed By GCSO

Various reports of vandalism, theft, and property destruction were brought to the attention of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office this week, and investigations are currently underway by office deputies and detectives.

The rear window of a Dodge Caravan was shattered by an unknown culprit on the night of August 13. Clara Johnston, Oakland, owns the vehicle and contacted the sheriff's office when she found the damage on the morning of Aug. 14. The window replacement will cost approximately $800, according to the report.

The van had been parked at Johnston's home at the time of the apparent vandalism.

Orland V. Fike, Oakland, contacted the sheriff's office Monday when he discovered that someone had damaged the grill, air conditioner cooler, and radiator of his 1979 Dodge. Fike told police that he had driven the vehicle to Snaggy Mountain Monday and at 1:30 p.m. had parked the car along Fire Tower Road. He then left with a friend until 10 p.m.

As he drove home, Fike said he noticed that the car was overheating and operating erratically. Upon inspection of the engine, he discovered that the radiator and other engine parts had been punched full of holes with some sort of sharp object. The damage estimate was set at $325, according to the report. There are no suspects in the case.

The theft of a 10-speed bicycle was reported this week by Larry Wilson, Oakland. The Huffy 24-inch Mojave gold bike was taken from a campground off of Steyer Gorman Road. Wilson told officers he and his son were camping there on August 5-7, and the bike was stolen sometime during that weekend.

The bike's worth was estimated at $169.

Calvin F. Mellinger, Loch Lynn, reported to the sheriff's office the theft of 20 12-foot two-by-eight boards. The lumber was stacked alongside a building owned by Mellinger on First Avenue in Loch Lynn, and was last seen there on the evening of Aug. 11. Mellinger saw that it was gone on the morning of Aug. 12.

The value of the boards was estimated to be $150, according to the report.

Sheriff Candidate Reports Theft Of Numerous Signs

A candidate in race for Garrett County sheriff reported the destruction and theft of a large campaign sign to the Oakland City Police this week. Randy Sines, a corporal with the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and a candidate in the election for sheriff, has reported a loss of up to $150 in campaign signs including this incident.

The large painted campaign sign worth approximately $80 was apparently torn off of a porch sometime Monday night. The house is located on Oak Street in Oakland, and the red and white sign was nailed to the porch. The culprit apparently sawed off one end of the sign, leaving the edge still nailed to the porch post.

Police Chief John Sines said that the sign was reported missing by Jack Michaels, who drove by the house Tuesday morning and saw where it had been torn away. The chief said his department is investigating the vandalism.

Cpl. Sines indicated in an interview that approximately 300 smaller campaign signs have been taken from yards and public property over the past several weeks.

"I'm not accusing anybody," Sines said. "I just wish it would stop."

FATHER FEILD RECOGNIZED -- The Garrett County Board of Commissioners recently presented Father Martin Feild with a letter of recognition for his many years of assistance to the board. Father Feild offered his final morning prayer to open the commissioners' meeting on Tuesday. He will leave the area on Aug. 29 for a six-month sabbatical in Rome, and will then assume a new appointment in Taneytown. The commissioners also presented him with a picture depicting the Garrett County Seal. "Father Feild was always willing to help the commissioners," said Pat Vetter, administrative secretary for the board, "and we offer him our best wishes." Pictured above, from left to right, are Vetter, Commissioner Brenda Butscher, Commissioner Elwood Groves, Father Feild, and Commissioner John Braskey.

Grantsville Lions To Host Concert

The Fixed Rate and Adjustable Rate Mortgage in One

American Trust Bank offers a mortgage loan that gives you the benefit of both fixed and adjustable rates. The 5/1 mortgage provides a fixed rate for the first five years and then automatically converts to a one-year adjustable rate mortgage for the remaining term. You get an initial five-year fixed rate that's lower than most conventional fixed rate mortgages.

Plus, as with other American Trust mortgages, you have the opportunity to choose a bi-weekly payment feature that saves thousands of dollars in interest paid over the term, a no points option and a low down payment option.

Visit any American Trust Bank community office for further details on how you can get a fixed rate and adjustable rate mortgage in ONE!

PSI Ordered For Bloomington Man Convicted Of Phone Abuse

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by Judge Ralph M. Burnett in last week's Garrett County District Court for a Bloomington man found guilty of one count of repeated telephone abuse.

Robin M. Vandergrift, 40, who was also charged with three counts of obscene use of the telephone, and two additional counts of repeated telephone abuse, was not prosecuted on those charges because of plea agreements with the state's attorney's office.

Charges were filed against Vandergrift on March 10 by Lana J. Smith. She reportedly contacted the state police who, in turn, contacted C&P Telephone Company. Smith reported she received several annoying calls between Feb. 21 and March 10 from a male subject who would not identify himself. He reportedly made sexual remarks about her and would then hang up.

According to district court records, the calls were traced and, upon investigation, Vandergrift admitted to making two of the calls.

In other district court news, Michael L. Paugh, 23, Oakland, was found not guilty on one count of battery, two counts of malicious destruction of property, and one count of assault, because the complainant did not wish to testify.

District court records note that Paugh's wife, Rebecca L. Paugh, charged him with the above offenses on May 18 after he reportedly went to her home in an intoxicated state, called her names, grabbed her by the hair, hit her in the face and shoved her. When she went into the bedroom, he followed her and hit her in the back. The altercation reportedly continued to the yard outside when Paugh picked up a metal pipe and threatened to kill her.

According to the report, Mrs. Paugh's mother came out into the yard and Paugh broke the windshield on his car with the pipe. When Mrs. Paugh and her mother went to call the police, Paugh reportedly fled into the woods. He was apprehended later on the strength of an arrest warrant, executed by sheriff's deputies.

Ruth Pysell, 31, Barton, was not prosecuted on one count of battery because the victim declined to testify. The charge stemmed from a May 17 altercation with Ross Pysell.

Teresa J. DeWitt, 21, Oakland, was granted probation before judgment on one count of breaking and entering, stemming from a guilty plea on the offense. She was also sentenced to six months in jail, with all of the sentence suspended except 30 days, fined $350, and placed on two years of supervised probation. The motion was later revised to include the suspension of her sentence, except for time already served. Additional charges of daytime burglary, breaking, entering and stealing, and petty theft were not prosecuted because of plea agreements with the state's attorney's office.

DeWitt's initial arrest was executed on July 7 by Garrett County sheriff's deputies after an incident on June 28 at a residence belonging to Christian Deutsch on the Mayhew Inn Road.

According to a statement taken from DeWitt, and in district court records, she told the investigating officers that she and her brother entered Deutsch's home early in the afternoon and then again in the early evening. During those times they took perfume, a fish finder, a man's ring, VCR tapes, a Trivia Pursuit game, and a 10-speed bicycle from the residence.

Probation before judgment was also granted to Shawn A. Rishell, 20, Markleysburg, Pa., on one count of trespassing and one count of being disorderly on private property after he pleaded guilty to those charges in last week's district court proceedings. Judge Burnett sentenced him to 30 days in jail, fined him a total of $150, and placed him on one year of probation for each offense, which will be served concurrently.

Additional charges of breaking and entering, and battery against Rishell were not prosecuted because of plea agreements with the state's attorney.

According to court records, charges were filed against Rishell by Paul R. Schroyer, Friendsville, on March 27, after the defendant remained on his property after repeatedly being asked to leave. He then insisted on taking Schroyer's grandchildren with him, and threatened to kill Schroyer's daughter.

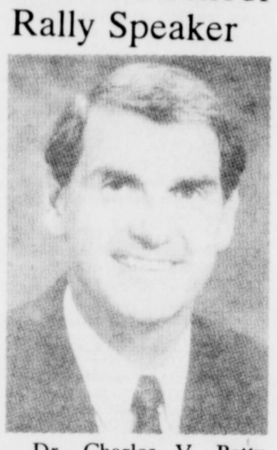
Dr. Petty To Be Back-To-School Rally Speaker



Dr. Charles V. Petty, founder and president of Family Success Unlimited, located in Raleigh, N.C., has been selected as the keynote speaker for the annual back-to-school teacher/staff rally to be held at Northern High School on August 25 at 9 a.m.

Dr. Petty began his college career at Mississippi State, majoring in chemical engineering. He graduated from Quachita (Wash-i-taw) University in Arkansas, and Southwestern Seminary in Texas, writing his doctoral dissertation on divorce. His diverse professional career helps him identify with all groups.

For six years he worked for a large corporation in Texas and North Carolina. For seven years he was on the staff of the Governor of North Carolina, carrying out the state emphasis upon volunteerism. Over 1,000,000 volunteers have participated in these programs.

Petty's remarks will focus on the theme, "Shapers of The Dream." The president of a public relations firm, who has observed Dr. Petty's presentations for years, says, "The real genius of Charles Petty is his ability to relate to all groups, under any and all circumstances." Recent speaking engagements have included: IBM; AT&T; Eastern Airlines; Teacher Training in Ohio, New York, Indiana, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Nevada, and South Dakota.

Tunnelton Youth Cited For DWI Following Mishap

A Tunnelton, W.Va., teenager was charged by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office with driving while intoxicated (DWI) following a one-car accident early Saturday morning.

Richard A. Fadeley, 18, was operating a 1990 Mitsubishi Eclipse eastbound on Rt. 50 when, at approximately 2 a.m. and about three miles from Table Rock Road, he lost control of the vehicle. The car skidded approximately 140 feet, hit a boulder, and ejected the driver. The vehicle came to rest in the westbound lane of Rt. 50, according to the sheriff's office report.

Officers on the scene detected the odor of alcohol on the driver and he was subsequently charged. During processing at the sheriff's office, an outstanding arrest warrant was found for the defendant and he was then charged with theft and forgery, stemming from a separate incident.

The driver was apparently unhurt in the accident.

Food For Thought

Chef Francesco Pisano
McClive's Restaurant

Ratatouille, the summer harvest dish, is a perfect filling for lasagna. Saute together zucchini, eggplant, red and green peppers. Set aside. In a saucepan, sizzle an onion, then simmer with a 28-ounce can tomatoes. Build layers of noodles, vegetables, sauce and grated mozzarella. Bake.

To keep Bloody Mary cocktails from turning watery and bland, you can freeze cubes of spiced-up tomato juice beforehand.

There's nothing easier than honey-orange chicken. Arrange seasoned chicken pieces in a baking dish and top with 1/3 cup orange juice combined with 2 Tbs. honey, 2 tsp. soy sauce and ½ tsp. ginger. Bake 50 to 55 minutes at 375°, adding orange slices the last 15 minutes.

Skewer marinated scallops with squares of red and yellow bell pepper and grill briefly--about five minutes total. Simply superb!

Who says salad has to be green? We love a combination of sliced red potatoes, red leaf lettuce, red Belgian endive, radicchio, sliced beets and red onion. Toss with red-wine vinaigrette, of course.

Who says our food is terrific? The zillions of fans who enjoy eating out at Thanks, All-Stars...

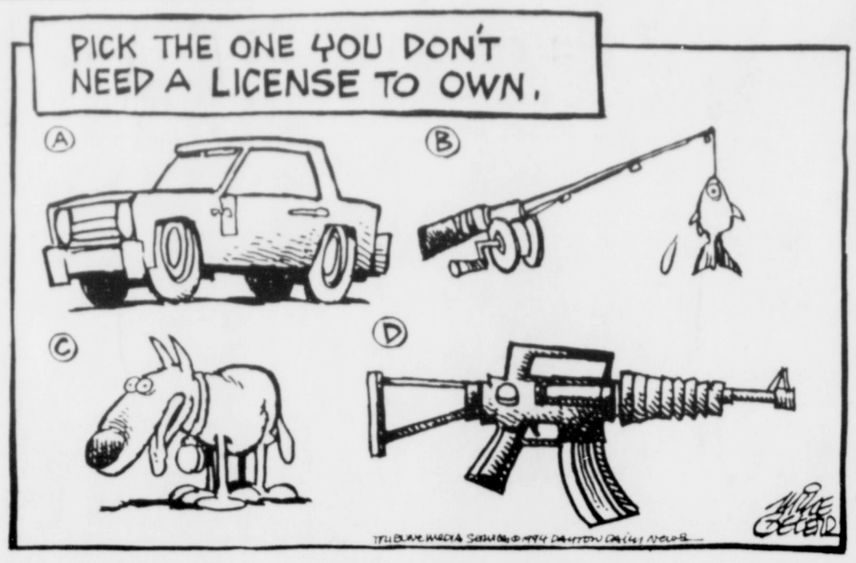
We would be remiss if we let this week, and this column, get by without commenting on the outstanding accomplishments of Oakland's Junior Division Little League All-Stars, who reached a plateau attained only by a miniscule percentage of Little League teams in this country.

While the professional baseball players in this nation are on strike, it is especially gratifying to see the true spirit of the game demonstrated by our youth. It was with that spirit, determination, teamwork, and exceptional talent that the Oakland All-Stars captured the Maryland State and Mid-Atlantic championships and finished just two wins short of a berth in the Little League World Series. The third place finish in the Eastern Regional Championship placed the Oakland team third among 2,002 teams and among the top 12 teams in the nation!

We extend special thanks, congratulations, and admiration to Junior Uphold, manager of the local team, and Joey DiSimone, coach. We have learned that Uphold and DiSimone played every member of the team in every ball game. This is the absolute highest ideal of the Little League organization, that every player is given the opportunity to play, but certainly one of the most difficult for coaches and managers, especially when a team continues to climb the ladder of success. It is so tempting to keep the best nine players on the field, thus making winning, rather than participation, the single most important goal. Apparently Oakland was one of the few, and perhaps the only, team in the tournament that upheld this ideal.

Uphold said that he does not believe the youngsters on the team yet realize what they have accomplished, and because of their ages, that is probably true. But as they grow in years, they will understand and never forget the experience. Undoubtedly, each one of them has grown because of it.

So to Jordan, Toby, Josh, Nathaniel, Justin, Chris, Jason, Derek, Keith, Justin, Todd, Lance, and Mike, congratulations to each of you, and thanks for bringing such fine distinction and recognition to your league, your town, our county, our state, and the mid-Atlantic region.



Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In response to previous letters to the editor regarding the salary of elected officials of Garrett County.

The salaries of the current incumbents and those with aspirations for the next election were established IAW Chapter 219, Acts of the Maryland General Assembly of 1991. The Salary Commission created by this act consists of representatives from the Republican Central Committee, the Democrat Central Committee, the League of Women Voters, the Chamber of Commerce, the Farm Bureau, the Council of PTA's and the Volunteer Firemen's Association, Inc., all of Garrett County. The Commission recommends the salaries for the forthcoming term for each of the applicable officials. The county commissioners may accept, reduce or reject, but may not increase the recommendations of the Commission.

The objective of the Commission, which recommended the salaries for the 1995-1998 term, was to recommend salary commensurate with the functions, responsibilities and duties of each office. To determine these functions, etc. an in-depth study was undertaken of the Maryland State Constitution, the Annotated Code of Maryland, the Garrett County Code, the Registration and Election Laws of Maryland, the Laws and Regulations of Maryland relating to Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco Tax, and several other pieces of data pertinent to the offices.

Upon completion of the study, each incumbent was requested to appear before the Commission (and did so) to respond to questions asked Commission members.

The recommendations of the Commission were purely those of the Commission. They were intended to provide equal treatment to all elected officials, eliminate the desparity in the treatment of full-time versus part-time officials, and make the total compensation package of elected officials a matter of public record.

Specifically in regard to the sheriff's office, the policy of paying the sheriff for papers served has been a long time standard operating procedure. It was at one time standard procedure in all or most Maryland counties. Garrett County just happens to be the last county to eliminate it and place the sheriff's salary totally under Chapter 219, as are all other elected officials.

Sincerely,
Arthur E. Lake
Chairperson,
Garrett County Salary
Review Commission

To the Editor:

We, the members of the Deer Park Community Volunteer Fire Department, would like to express our sincere thanks to persons involved in our recent siren rebuilding project: George Tichnell of Mettiki Coal, Titus Beitzel of Beitzel Corporation, and Leonard from Ridgely Rafters.

Mettiki Coal and Beitzel Corp. absorbed the cost of having the siren's motor rebuilt, and Ridgely Rafters always made time to stop by and lift the siren on and off the tower, never charging us a dime. Leonard always said, "You fellows came pretty fast when we had our fire."

Titus Beitzel stopped by, checked our electrical components, and then made needed changes.

George Tichnell got involved when I told him about the problems we were having with our siren. George said, "Bring it up and let's see what we can do." He has also helped us in the past with other projects.

I would also like to thank David Paugh Sr. who helped me rebuild the siren tower.

So, thanks again guys. Also, thanks to all the people who have donated their time, energy, and money in the past to keep us going.

To the Editor:

On the 12th of June, Southern Garrett County was proudly boasting our high school graduates. About two weeks before graduation I was told by a concerned parent about a party that was being planned for the 17- and 18-year-old seniors. I was told that there were two main rules to be followed to be able to attend this party: (1) Everyone had to have a written permission slip from their parents or a phone call to the "hostess" from a parent giving permission for them to attend. (2) They had to turn over their car keys when they arrived at the party because they were being served alcohol.

That is one of the silliest things that I have ever heard. What 17- or 18-year-old is going to go to his parents and say, "Hey, I've been invited to a booze party: can I go?"

O.K., so maybe some of the kids would be open with their parents and tell them the truth, but how many parents who really care about their children would knowingly allow them to go? Unless of course the parents were told that the "hostess" of this party had permission from the Sheriff's Dept., as long as no one drove a car and they kept their mouths shut.

So now we have a bunch of kids that think this is really cool, so they get friends to write their permission slips, fake phone calls, or tell their parents half truths. And of course we have some parents that think this is O.K.

Did anyone stop to think of the possible consequences? So what if they had their car keys taken from them that one night; what about the nights since then and the nights still to come when our "hostess" isn't around.

Well, I spoke with our sheriff myself and was assured that what they were doing was against the law and the people involved were told this and they promised not to have any alcohol at the party, but he was going to send deputies out periodically through the day to make sure that they held to their word. My understanding is that one deputy went out once that day. As soon as he left, the liquor was brought out.

I also know that these people are not the only "adults" giving underaged people alcohol. We have bars here locally that a teen can walk into and even stay until closing time and never be carded or asked to leave. And of course we have the West Virginia border close by, so they can go there if they can't find it here.

Do these people even care what they are doing to our children? These young people are not always going to be in a so-called "controlled environment".

I was raised in a family of alcoholics. Drinking killed my mother and she drank at home in a so called "controlled environment". Believe me, it was a sight that a girl of 14 never forgets.

My son was given alcohol by a "young adult". She let him drive away and he wrecked. Thank God that he only had minor injuries, but he came close to being crushed by the vehicle. He was one of the lucky ones.

Anyone 21 or over giving alcohol to anyone under 21 is breaking the law and can have charges filed against them. I didn't hesitate to file charges against the adult who gave my son alcohol. How about you?

We need a center in the southern end of the county, something that is strictly an Under 21 Club or 18 and Under with strict rules and someone who cares enough to enforce them.

If I had that kind of money, I would do something, but the only thing that I can do is to speak up for our rights and the rights of our children. I can try to educate myself and others.

That is why I am trying to get a chapter of M.A.D.D. started here in Garrett County. If anyone reading this really cares and would like to volunteer time please contact me at the following address: Robin Ford, Star Route 2, Box 40 Oakland, MD 21550.

I am very disappointed in the way that our sheriff's office handled that graduation party on June 12. I think that it should have and could have been stopped. I hope that this letter reaches the hearts of some of you and that it discourages something like that from happening again.

Robin Ford

To the Editor:

I am writing in regard to the business in Garrett County. I honestly think that if it wouldn't be for Deep Creek Lake, this county would be in financial ruins.

Yes, the tourism brings work, but ask yourself; what kind? Well, 90 percent are minimum wage. What kind of person can support a family on that kind of money, especially if he has to pay $300 a month or more just for a place to live?

With inflation rising the way that it is, employee wages sure aren't rising too much in this county. It seems most places want you to have college degrees and still don't want to pay much above minimum wage.

One thing's for sure, if I had to rely on work around here, my family and I would be homeless. I'm one of many people who have to leave my family every week at home while I work away in another state just to make a comfortable living.

I just wish the business owners would wake up and ask themselves one thing: if it wouldn't be for their hard-working employees at low wages, they wouldn't be as rich as they are today.

Maybe one of these days the majority of business owners in Garrett County will be as poor as their workers. Then a lot of people will have quite a laugh on how you will be able to survive.

I think Garrett County needs some better county commissioners, ones that will bring industrial jobs to the area and quit worrying about Deep Creek Lake as much.

I'm very sorry about the layoff at Baush & Lomb. But a lot of people think that a lot more layoffs are coming. I think we need unity in Garrett County, not greed!

The Garrett County Chapter of the Christian Coalition is in the process of conducting a voter information survey of various candidates for office in Garrett County. Similar in concept to those done by other public interest groups, the Coalition's survey differs in that it concentrates on key issues that affect families and the values that are important to them.

Recently, candidates for the Board of Education and the Board of County Commissioners were mailed surveys soliciting their response to a number of these issues. Questions ranged from such things as

A BIRTHDAY AND AN ANNIVERSARY

Last Friday was the 39th anniversary of my birth. To reveal my age in more ways than one: I am as old as Jack Benny. That is a joke few people younger than I will even get. So, if you are asking "Who is Jack Benny?", put the question to someone on the other side of 40. Unlike Jack Benny I hope to be older next year.

My mother still cooks my birthday dinner; and does not ask what I want. She knows the menu well: fried chicken, mashed potatoes, peas and gravy, with German chocolate cake for dessert, all washed down with plenty of ice-cold milk.

There must have been a period when the menu was still in formation, but it was a long time ago and mostly beyond memory. I do remember as a child having regular chocolate cake for dessert (also known as devil's food-- an ugly name for a cake). By the time I turned 21, however, German chocolate was well established in the ritual.

I like to take the day as a personal holiday on which no strenuous labor is done, a day spent in reading, running the dogs or other such gentle activities. This year it was not to be. There is a great deal to do in and about our house, and I have the month of August to do it.

This month I am celebrating another anniversary besides that of my birth. Ten years ago on the first day of August I took possession of this homestead which I call Love-in-the-Ruins. Now, that isn't ruined love, rather love even (perhaps especially) in the ruins. There is a novel by the late Dr. Walker Percy after which the house is named which I commend to all of a literary turn.

If you could have seen this place when I first moved here, you would understand the 'ruins' part of the name. Most people would have posted the place for a volunteer fire company practice drill. I saw beauty that only needed to be awakened.

Sometimes beauty is a pretty sound sleeper, and so it has been here. To the present date it helps to remember what the place used to look like in order to appreciate it today. The chimneys stood at roofline. There was no insulation in the house. The garage looked like a barrio in Latin America. The two-story granary had lost most of its siding. A forsaken fence row enclosed a grown-up meadow and the swampy remains of a pond. The place was a mess.

Ten years later, there is a lot less ruin and a lot more love. In order to continue the decrease of the one and the increase of the other, I spent my birthday cleaning out the garage. In truth, I had already spent one half day a week before cleaning out half the garage. I am proud of the fact that it took me less than two man-days to clean up a mess that it had taken me two years to make. For 24 months I have been building-- a phase in my life and in the life of the house I hope soon to bring, not to a conclusion, rather to a pause for breathing.

Some things in the garage I threw out and some things I moved to the place where we are gathering other people's treasures for our forthcoming yard sale, but mostly I re-organized. Like weeds and a great many other messes in life, the garage mess was largely a matter of many, many things being in the wrong place.

I went to my mother's table with a well-deserved appetite. Besides my family, brother Eric and his family and Grandma, the regulars at the feast, there were also Grandma's three sisters and two of her nieces. The four sisters live in four different places, and had happened to choose this week to gather. The family flowed out of the kitchen and onto the porch. There were additions to the menu to accommodate the larger crowd, but I stuck fast to tradition, and partook only of the ritual food.

When we came back from my mother's, Deborah, for the first time in the nearly year she has lived here, parked her car in the garage. The way she drove in made me think it was something that could easily and happily become a habit. There was indeed a little more love and a little less ruin than there had been that very morning.

Mortality has always rested palpably on my shoulders, and more so in the past 14 months. No matter how long I live, I, unlike Jack Benny, shall have only this one 39th year. It began well with a day of hard work and an evening surrounded by my family. As the year began, so may it be.

Blaze Damages River Road Club

The Meshack Browning Club on River Road sustained $2,000 in damage Wednesday afternoon when a flue fire spread into the building's attic.

Members of the Grantsville and Salisbury Fire Departments and the Northern Rescue Squad were at the scene for one and a half hours. A maintenance problem is suspected to have caused the fire.

filed Feb. 10, stated that he had not received either the documents or any answer to his request from the county. According to Hinebaugh's attorney, Robert E. Watson, Oakland, the documents in question were not received until late March.

According to Fousek, Hinebaugh's December application for copies of public documents was forwarded to the commissioners' legal council. "The response from legal council was not provided within 30 days of the request," Fousek stated, "but all documents were immediately thereafter provided to Mr. Hinebaugh."

Because Hinebaugh's main aim was to obtain these documents, he decided not to pursue the $10,000 in punitive damages, Watson explained.

Maryland Crews Battle Fires In Western States

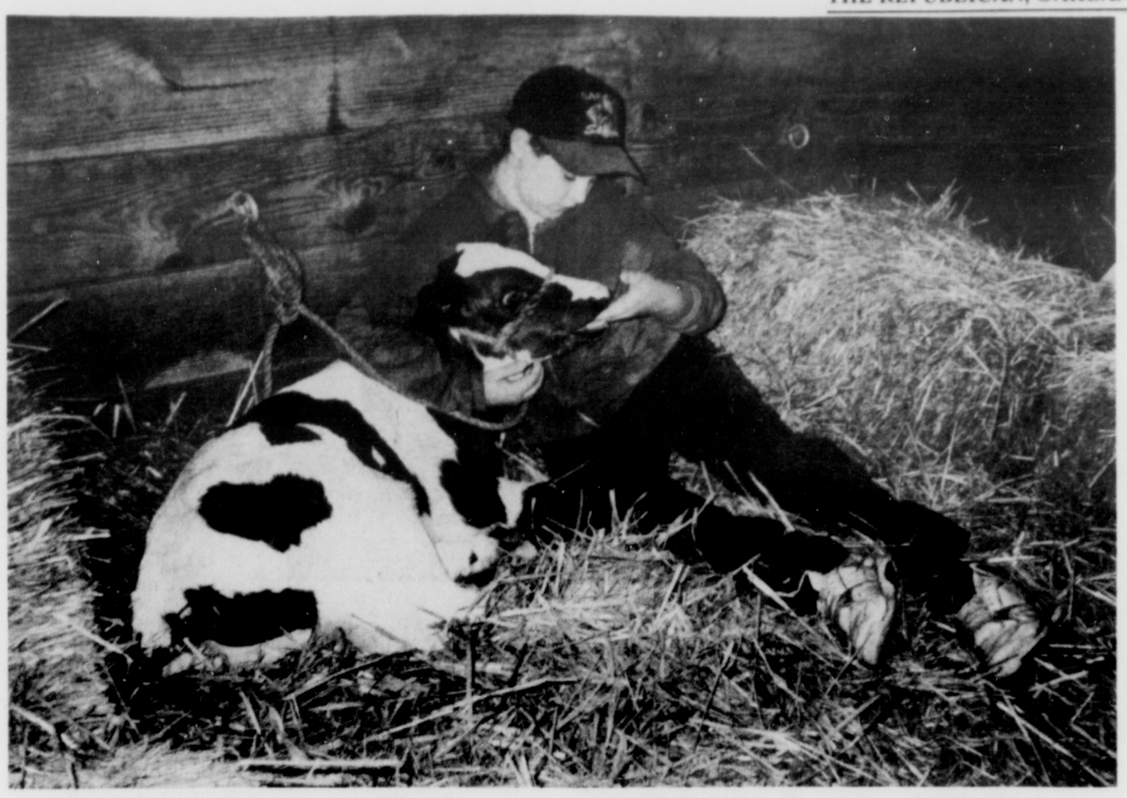
The Maryland Department of Natural Resources, Forest Service, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture Forest Service, has sent two 20-man fire crews to western states to assist with the fire suppression efforts. This year by all accounts, is one of the worst fire seasons on record in the west, as eight western states are experiencing wildfire problems.

Each crew member had to pass a rigorous fitness test and complete a basic fire fighting course and a fire behavior course to qualify to be on the fire crews. Each of Maryland's fire crews consisted of 10 MD Forest Service employees and 10 volunteers.

Each 20-man crew that went west spent two weeks on duty assignment. Maryland's first fire crew left on July 22 and was assigned to work on the Hatchery Complex fires in Washington State. Randy Kamp, forest ranger, Allegany County, was a member of this crew. They returned to Maryland on August 6.

Maryland's second fire crew was dispatched to go west on July 28, and they were sent to the Henry Peak fire near Plains, Montana. Three Maryland Conservation Corps (M.C.C.) students from Garrett County, namely Eric Richter and Brian Friend, both of Oakland, part of the M.C.C. crew assigned to Potomac-Garrett State Forest, and Bill Frazee, Friendsville, Green Ridge State Forest M.C.C. crew, were part of Maryland's second fire crew.

Maryland's second fire crew was demobilized and returned home August 10. The Henry Peak fire was contained on August 4, after burning approximately 8,200 acres, two residences, and three outbuildings.



PATRICK BURG COMFORTS A 4-DAY-OLD CALF, separated from its mother at the Garrett County Fair, by letting it suck on his fingers. Patrick took a break from the sights and sounds of the fair's carnival midway to visit the newborn bovine on Wednesday. The Holstein calf, owned by Raymond Bender, Accident, will probably by raised for milk production or slaughtered for veal. However, the animal is too young to compete at the fair this year. The fair, with all its rides, games, entertainment, and exhibits, will continue to draw large crowds from across the region until its conclusion Saturday night.

PSI Ordered

David S. Friend, 26, Oakland, was not prosecuted on one count of felony theft, at the request of the complainant, Innsbruck A. Lemley, also of Oakland. Friend was initially charged with stealing two Andersen windows, valued at more than $300, from Lemley on Feb. 24.

Eddie L. Hitchins, 20, Frostburg, was convicted on one count of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) in Judge Burnett's court. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail, with all of the sentence suspended except for 48 hours, fined $350, and placed on one year of supervised probation. Two additional charges of possession of CDS paraphernalia was not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

Hitchins was charged with the offenses on April 4 by Natural Resources Police Officer John H. Frank after he was observed fishing from a catch and release trout area at New Germany State Park. According to court documents, Hitchins removed the fish from the lake, concealed them in a bag under the brush and snow, and then left the area. He returned later from the New Germany Road area to retrieve the fish.

Frank arrested Hitchins, who was in possession of 14 rainbow trout, and a subsequent search revealed a short chamber pipe containing burned hashish residue, according to the court records. The officer also found a bag containing a small block of hashish in Hitchins' pocket, as well as a package of rolling papers.

Wendell E. Hartman, 18, Oakland, was convicted on one count of CDS possession in last week's district court. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail, with all of that sentence suspended except for 48 hours, fined $350, and placed on one year of supervised probation. An additional charge of intent to use drug paraphernalia to prepare a CDS was not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

Also charged with the CDS offenses was Sherri L. Tasker, 19, Oakland. She pleaded guilty to the CDS paraphernalia charge, and was not prosecuted on the CDS possession charge. The judge fined her $100 and placed her on one year of probation.

The pair had been arrested by members of the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force on March 5 after a search and seizure warrant was executed at Hartman and Tasker's home. The search revealed a small quantity of greenish-brown vegetation, determined to be marijuana, marijuana seeds, and a set of scales.

DWI CASES

A number of DWI cases were heard by Judge Burnett in last week's district court.

Herbert Dale Triplett, 39, Md., pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty of one count of DWI. The charge was amended to DUI (driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs). At the request of the defendant, the judge postponed sentencing for a later date. Triplett had been charged with DWI on April 10 by state police.

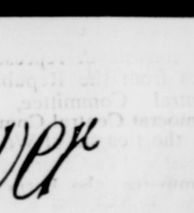
Bench warrants were issued for Clayton E. King, 24, Ohio, and James Patrick Tuck, 27, Pa., who failed to appear for their violation of probation hearings last week. The original bond for each was forfeited, and a new $2,000 bond issued. King's arrest for DWI was on July 25, 1992, by sheriff's deputies. Tuck was arrested by state police on Jan. 27.

Rodney Harland Bernard, 29, Md., was convicted on one count of DWI. The judge handed him a 30-day suspended sentence, fined him $350, and placed him on one year of supervised probation. Bernard's arrest for DWI was on May 30 by Maryland State Police.

Brian Keith Blair, 24, Md., pleaded guilty to his DWI charge, stemming from his May 8 arrest by MSP. The judge sentenced Blair to 60 days in jail, with all of the sentence suspended except for 30 days, fined him $350, and placed him on 12 months of supervised probation.

Michael Eugene Glass, 23, Md., John Michael Hardesty Sr., 26, Md., and Darrell Alan Savage, 22, Md., were all found guilty of DWI in Judge Burnett's court. Each was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, fined $350, and placed on one year of supervised probation. Glass was arrested for the offense on Feb. 24 by MSP; Hardesty was charged on Nov. 19, 1993, by MSP; and Savage's arrest was on May 22, also by MSP. Hardesty and Savage were additionally ordered to attend alcohol treatment programs offered through the health department, and alcohol restrictions were added to their driver's licenses for one year.

In Loving Memory of BARRY E. BEACHY



It is just a cluster of memories,
Sprayed with a million tears.
Wishing God could have spared you
For many, many more years.

We often sit and think of you,
And think of how you died.
To think you could not say goodbye,
Before you closed your eyes.

Sometimes its hard to understand
Why some things have to be.
But in His wisdom God has planned
Beyond our power to see.

So looking back in tenderness
Along the path we trod,
We cherish the years we had with you
And leave the rest to God.

No one knows how much we miss you.
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered since we lost you.
Life has never been the same.

A million times we've needed you.
A million times we've cried.
If love alone could have saved you,
You never would have died.

In life we loved you dearly.
In death we love you still.
In our hearts you hold a place
No one can ever fill.

Sadly Missed By,
Cathy & Amber,
Bob, Donna & Family

KEITH K. KIMBLE

Word has been received of the death of Keith Kermit Kimble, Sierra Vista, Ariz., who died Tuesday, June 7, 1994, from injuries he sustained in a vehicle-pedestrian accident in Sierra Vista.

He was born Nov. 21, 1921, in Dodson, near Shallmar, a son of the late Ora and Baxter Kimble. He was also preceded in death by his wife, Marion Kimble; and by two brothers, Carl Kimble and Hugh Alton Kimble.

He served in Europe with the U.S. Army during World War II as a medical technician. He retired from the Civil Service in 1980 from the Fort Huachuca Commissary.

Survivors include two daughters, Keitha Mountcastle, Utah, and Karen McCray, Sierra Vista; one sister, Doris Wheeler, Ravenswood, W.Va; seven grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

A memorial service was conducted June 10 at the Hatfield (Ariz.) Memorial Chapel. Officers of Elks Lodge No. 2065 officiated. Funeral arrangements were handled by Hatfield Funeral Home.

We would like to thank our sons, Bill and Gary Mullich, daughter, Margaret and son-in-law, Jerry Goldman and daughter, Betsy Ramey for a memorable 50th Anniversary Celebration.

A special thanks to our grandson, Bruce Van Wagner, and his fiancee, Lisa Zuckerman, for catering the party. The food was delicious and beautifully presented. The flowers and decor were beautiful. Thanks to Karen Kestner for so graciously helping with the service. And not to be forgotten, a thank you to Robert Wilt for helping to prepare the food and to Maria Campbell, Lea Miller, Ann Jackson, Tom Balhack, and Scott Kapel. Their cheerful and professional service made the party so special.

That day will be remembered for many years to come, not only by us, but also everyone who shared the day with us.

Our love and appreciation to all.

ported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she was treated for the stab wounds and later released.

According to the report, Mrs. Koton discovered on Sunday that the phone line to her home had recently been cut, presumably the night before.

After the incident, the defendant allegedly went to a relative's home in Preston County, and at 2 p.m. on Sunday turned himself in at the county sheriff's office. Koton has been charged with assault with intent to murder, assault with intent to maim, battery, burglary, and violation of an exparte order. He is currently awaiting extradition back to Garrett County, according to a sheriff's office spokesperson.

You Are Unique.
Your ears, hearing preferences, the places you go, and the sounds you love most are unique to you. Making your world sound its best to you requires hearing instruments that are custom molded for comfortable wear, and custom fit for your hearing loss and lifestyle.

Whether you're reluctant, or it just sounds too good to be true, one thing is for certain: you'll never know until you try.

7 QUESTIONS TO ASK YOURSELF

1. Do you find it difficult to follow a conversation in a crowded room or restaurant?
2. Do you frequently ask people to speak up or repeat themselves?
3. Do you find yourself turning one ear toward a speaker to hear better?
4. Do you find it difficult to hear when speaking on the phone?
5. Do you find young children's voices difficult to hear?
6. Do you often feel people are mumbling or not speaking clearly?
7. Do you have ringing in your ears?

If You Answered "Yes" To Any Of These Questions, A Hearing Evaluation May Be Necessary.

Education Board Agrees On School Design; Waits For State Approval

Members of the Garrett County Board of Education last week unanimously approved a design concept for the new Southern Area Elementary School, the facility that will eventually house students presently attending the Loch Lynn and Red House elementary schools. The design, developed by the architect firm of Altman & Altman, is of a 36,750 square-foot building estimated to cost $4-$4.2 million. It is to be located on a tract of land on Weber Road, off of Rt. 135 near the Mid-Towns Plaza area.

The next step for the education board involves obtaining approval of the plan by the Maryland Inner Agency on School Construction (IAC). If approved by the IAC, the board's request will be placed on a state "waiting list" for funding, according to Albert Coviello, assistant superintendent.

"If the IAC approves the plan soon, we hope to be placed as a high priority on the state funding list," Coviello said. The board is reportedly still waiting for the Garrett County Commissioners' formal approval of the land purchase, although verbal approval has been given.

At the meeting last week when Mark Altman presented the plan to the education board, Superintendent of Schools Jerome Ryscavage expressed some concern over the cost.

"At $4.2 million, we are going to have to look at compromising somewhere," he said. "We know from previous capital improvement projects that additional costs will most likely arise, and this figure is already somewhat higher than what we had first hoped for."

Ryscavage explained that the state agency has set a rate of $92 per square foot as a sufficient amount for building. The agency then provides 70% of that total amount, with the county expected to provide the remaining 30. However, this project will come in at approximately $105 per square foot unless various features are removed or altered.

Altman told the board that the pitched roof could be recalculated as a flat roof, which would take away some aesthetic value of the school's appearance as well as make the roof somewhat less resilient in winter. The flat roof is cheaper to build, however.

"I do feel, though, that while the pitched roof may cost more initially, it does save money in the long run because it is stronger," Altman said.

The architect also indicated that the heating system could be revamped to a more economic design. The present design is of a central heating system of forced air, which is the preferred design, according to Ryscavage.

Before cutting out any of the design plan, however, Ryscavage and Coviello have commented that other areas of funding may be explored, and that the county's location can be a factor in receiving more state monies. For example, harsh winter weather can cause the county to incur more costs in heating and sustain more structural damage of schools, among other consequences. Thus the IAC may be willing to grant more funding based on location.

Part of the cost of the project involves the construction of an entrance road, which will allow for the development of two entrance areas at the new school - one exclusively for buses and the other for private vehicles. The school itself is to be an L-shaped building with classrooms designed for pre-kindergarten through fifth grade students. A 4,000 square foot "multi-purpose" area is planned, which will also provide cafeteria space. A computer room is included in the design, with 30 computer stations for students.

Dave Spirk, representing the Mountaintop Soccer Association, attended the board meeting and presented a request to the members concerning the expanse of land surrounding the new school. Spirk asked the board to consider the construction of two full-sized regulation soccer fields, two intermediate-sized fields, and two small fields, all to be used exclusively for soccer activity.

Spirk cited the growing interest in the sport in Garrett County, noting that 118 youngsters attended soccer camp this summer and approximately 400 are expected to participate in the youth fall season. He also noted that the development and maintenance of the fields will incur minimal expenses because of corporate sponsorship and community support of the activity. He also cited the need for the fields, as the high school teams currently play on the football field.

"The teams need their own fields," Spirk said, explaining that the field needs of a soccer team are different from those of a football team. Board President Beverly Murphy thanked Spirk for attending and stated that although the board is in the "very preliminary" planning stages for the school, the request will be considered.

Also present at the board meeting were the principals of both Red House and Loch Lynn schools - Linda Buckel and Lindsay Stanton, respectively. Both principals conveyed their approval of the design.

"I think both communities will be thrilled with this school," Stanton said. Buckel expressed her interest in the surrounding wetlands at the school site, stating that the area has a great deal of potential in hands-on learning experiences for the students.

The vote to accept the design was unanimous among the board members. The IAC is to issue its stand on the design within the next month, Coviello said.

The board also discussed the six additional classrooms at Northern High School. The office is now accepting bids for the project, according to Coviello.

the Maryland State Fair in Timonium.

First Runner-Up was Laah Jane Broadwater, the daughter of Willard and Hazel Broadwater, who lives on a diversified livestock farm near Swanton.

She will be a senior this year at Southern High School where she serves as president of the Oakland FFA. After graduation Laah would like to become a State FFA Officer. She would also like to go on an FFA Abroad Program to either Canada or Australia, and someday wishes to own a diversified livestock enterprise of her own.

The Second Runner-Up was Melissa Ann Weimer, the 18-year-old daughter of John and Debbie Weimer, of Grantsville. She is a 1994 graduate of Northern High School and helps on her family's diversified farm.

Melissa plans to attend Black Hills State University and hopes to study abroad and get a bachelor's degree in Spanish leading to involvement in the business field as an interpreter.

Judges for the contest were Dr. James Fearer, John Folmsbee and Hazel Klotz.

A farewell address was given by 1993 Farm Queen Sarah Jane Hutzel, and entertainment was provided by the Birkby Family. Garrett County Farm Bureau President Brooks Hamilton welcomed those attending. Dove DeBerry, chairman of the Garrett County Farm Bureau Women's Committee, gave a welcome on behalf of the Women's Committee.

The contestants were introduced by 1992 Farm Queen Danielle DeBerry, and the interviews were conducted by 1970 Garrett County Farm Queen Debbie Barnard.

As the 1994 Farm Queen, Amy begins her reign this week at the fair by presenting ribbons, making appearances, doing radio interviews, and representing agriculture to those attending the fair from far and wide.

Brodak Joins Race For Garrett Co. Commissioner

Declaring it is time for Garrett County government to become responsive to the needs of the county and its people, Oakland businessman George J. Brodak will seek the District 3 Republican nomination for Garrett County Commissioner in the September primary.

Brodak, 53, has been active in the Oakland business community for more than 25 years as owner-operator of Brodak Super Dollar and several other businesses.

In announcing his intention to seek office, Brodak said, "County government has a responsibility to listen to the concerns of voters and take a leadership role in finding the best possible solutions to problems.

"I believe there are many issues in this county that have not been addressed," added Brodak, a minister of the Universal Life Church, and member of both the Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA) and the Deep Creek Business Association. "It is time for a change in Garrett County. I want to bring a fresh perspective and new ideas into county government."

Owner of Brodak's Video Showcase as well as J&G Electric, Brodak is active in several civic and professional organizations, including the Forty and Eight Club and the American Video Association. Licensed by the Federal Aviation Administration, he is a member of the Flying Circus Flying Club.

He is also a member of the American Legion, the Elks Club, the Academy of Model Aeronautics, and is a fourth degree Knight of Columbus. Brodak's other business interests include Brodak's Private Mountain Lake Resort and Brodak Plaza.

He and his wife, Judy, and son, Anthony, reside at Deep Creek Lake.

Bulk Mailings Seminars Slated

Free seminars that will explain the rules and regulations involved with the preparation of bulk mailings will be offered at three different locations in Garrett County, according to Thomas E. Twyman, postmaster of the Oakland Post Office.

The Oakland, McHenry, and Grantsville post offices will present the seminars to explain the procedure "in layman terms," Twyman said. The first one will be held Thursday, Aug. 25, at the Oakland Post Office, the second on Sept. 22 at Garrett Community College, and the third on Oct. 20 at the American Trust Bank building along Main Street in Grantsville. All three will be held from 1 to 3 p.m.

Individuals planning to attend one of the sessions is asked to register at one the sponsoring post office.

SWANTON NEWS

Jere, Larry, and Amy Kiser, Silver Spring; Dennise, Cam, Julie, and Missy Stickley, Seabrook, spent last week visiting their parents, Marilu and Gordon Rowe. While here they celebrated both Gordon's and Marilu's birthdays.

Last Wednesday Orval Teets attended a luncheon meeting of National Assoc. of Retired and Veteran Railway Employees, Inc., at Frostburg.

Anne and Ron Harvey, Smithfield, Va., are visiting Ellis and Mary June Harvey.

The Community Association canceled the August meeting. The next meeting will be September 19, 7:30 p.m.

Weekend guests of Luella and Jim Baker were Crystal, Larry, Ryan, and Julie Ann Baker and Bob, Delores, and Debbie Baker, Canton, Ohio.

David Rennds is a surgical patient in Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown.

Amy Sweitzer, Freda Teets, and Freda Rexrode visited patients in Cuppett and Weeks and Dennett Road Manor nursing homes last Saturday.

Annie Dodge was a patient in Garrett Memorial Hospital last week.

OTTERBEIN U.M. CHURCH NEWS

Richard Gerlach, Orval and Mareva Teets, Betty and Harley Wildesen, Mary June and Ellis Harvey, Richard, Ellida, and David Schofield, Jamie Barnard, the Rev. Joe Hatcher and his wife, Dorothy, his son, Joey, and grandson, Joseph, of Indianapolis, Ind., attended the Brotherhood Corn Roast at Paradise United Methodist Church last Tuesday.

The closing program of Vacation Bible School was held Friday evening. Attendance for the week averaged 50. Barbara Rexrode was the director.

The Rev. "Gus" Monu, his wife, Rebecca, and their daughters, Grace and Andrea, were dinner guests of the Swanton-Kitzmiller Charge at the Community Center on Sunday afternoon. Grace and Andrea were reunited with their parents in July 1993 after a four-year separation caused by the civil war in Liberia. The Swanton-Kitzmiller Charge, with the help of others in this area, raised the funds (more than $5,000) to reunite the family. The Rev. Monu, now pastoring two churches in Charleston, W.Va., expressed his "gratitude and love" for all who helped bring the family together.

The young adult Sunday school class had a picnic Saturday at the Harvey cottage at Deep Creek Lake. Attending were: Brian, Sandy, David and Ellida Schofield, Jamie Barnard, Rodney, Barbara and Beth Sweitzer, Steve, Lucinda and Amber Davis, Bob, Kim and Shayna Sweitzer, Amy Lohr, Vernon Sweitzer and Mark and Lorena Rodeheaver.

taxes, the school health curriculum, as well as issues that involve the quality of life in Garrett County such as pornography and the Sunday sales of alcohol. Once the surveys are returned, the information will be consolidated into thousands of voter information guides that will be distributed throughout Garrett County via churches and door to door distribution.

The Christian Coalition does not endorse any political party, or advocate the election or defeat of any political candidate. This effort is being conducted solely to inform voters of the positions that candidates take on a number of very important issues that do not usually receive attention during typical political campaigning. Likewise, the media seldom covers these issues prior to the elections.

While the Coalition is only covering these two races, voters are urged to consider the moral character and positions that the candidates for other races hold prior to casting their votes this September. This even includes the races for the various party central committees and other offices.

Voters are advised to remember that their active and informed involvement in this year's elections could make the difference in ensuring that Christian and pro-family Garrett Countians gain a voice in our government.

Sincerely,
Paul Durham

COVE

There will be no Bingo this Saturday, August 20, at the Accident fire hall because of the Garrett County Fair being held this week. The Accident Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor the Bingo evening on Saturday, Sept. 17, at the fire hall.

St. John's Lutheran Ladies Aid Society, ELCA, met Wednesday evening. Ruth Uphold, Accident, was the hostess and presented the topic. The group will go to the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home, Grantsville, this Monday, August 22, to hold a tea party for the residents.

Homecoming at the Rush Baptist Church will be on Sunday, August 28. Sunday school will begin at 9:45 a.m., the worship service will be at 11 a.m. A covered dish dinner and pig roast will be at 1 p.m. A program will be held in the afternoon with guest speakers. The Getty Keefer family, Friendsville, Mr. and Mrs. Daymond Schmuck, Accident, and the Rev. and Mrs. Alan Birkby, Grantsville, will be among those singing. Karin Tyson, Oakland, will entertain the children. The youth group of the church took a hike on Sunday to the Paw Paw Tunnel at Paw Paw, W.Va. There were 11 youth and six adults participating.

The Sunday school picnic at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will be Sunday, August 28, at 4 p.m. on the church grounds.

C.J. AND A SPECIAL FRIEND will be among the youth at the Maryland Salem Children's Trust along Lower New Germany Road who will greet visitors at Salem's annual open house and 5-For-Kids Project kickoff this Sunday, Aug. 21, from 2 to 5 p.m. Among the events that afternoon will be a horseback riding demonstration. See story on page C-1 for more information.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kloss, Westminster, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett McClintock were among those attending the Ringer-Diehl reunion at the Accident fire hall on Sunday, August 13, to attend the wedding of the former's daughter, Betty Deise to David May of Joppa. The Gary McClintocks returned to their home here that evening, while the Everett McClintocks remained overnight guests of Mrs. McClintock's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Straub, at Joppa.

Mrs. Richard Travis, Oakland, and her mother, Betty Richter, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Greg Diehl, Grantsville, at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland. Mr. and Mrs. Diehl announce the birth of their fourth child and second daughter, Alexandria Michelle, Sunday, August 14. The infant weighed 6 lbs., 13 1/4 ozs. Mrs. Diehl is the former Vivian Diehl, daughter of Mrs. Betty Richter and the late Vernon Richter. Greg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diehl, Grantsville.

Mrs. Donald Evans and infant son, Jordan Andrew, returned to their home on Monday evening from Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where Jordan was born on Thursday, August 4, weighing 5 lbs., 2 ozs. Mrs. Evans is the former Jill Margroff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Margroff. Donald is the son of Donald R. Evans Sr. of West Virginia and Margorie Evans, Oakland. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Evans, Oakland, Mrs. Ora Younkin, Grantsville, and Mrs. Esther Margroff. Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Evans and sons at their home here have been Marjorie Evans, Brenda Harvey, and son, Devin, Oakland, Josie Cayer, Deep Creek Lake, Pamela Trautwein, Sheila Miller, Jeremiah Wilt, Grantsville, Amy King, Deer Park, Verna and Fannie Peachy, Swanton, Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Margroff and sons, Friendsville, Holly Diehl, Kristen and Amanda Hanft, Addison, Pa., Mrs. Charles Needer and children, Laurie, Ryan and Kevin, Timonium, Donna Glass and daughter, Melissa, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Margroff, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Margroff and daughter, Hayley, Mrs. James Margroff, Mrs. Philip Margroff, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Margroff, Mrs. John Strider and daughter, Joy, and Mrs. Walter Hanft.

Whitney Lee Miller, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, Friendsville, born June 22, was baptized on Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, with Rev. Ernest Lindner, officiating. The sponsor was Joy Strider. Mr. and Mrs. James Margroff entertained approximately 60 persons to dinner that day at their home in honor of the occasion.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schwing have been their sons, Dr. Franklin Schwing and his wife, Dr. Holly Price, and children of Monterey, Calif., David Schwing, Philadelphia, and Scott Schwing and daughter, Cassandra, Zelienople, Pa. They honored their parents with a celebration in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary that was Wednesday, August 17. Additional friends and relatives attended the event. Mr. and Mrs. Schwing attended worship service at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, on Sunday where they were married 40 years ago. Altar flowers were placed in the church that day by friends in honor of the couple. Guests from Wednesday until Sunday of last week were the Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Stoltzfus and Mary Yoder, near Hazzard, Ky., who attended the Conservative Mennonite Conference that was held at Northern High School from Thursday until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holliday, Clearwater, Fla., treated Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jeffries, Addison, Pa., Alverta Dillon, and Gertrude Glass to dinner at Penn Alps Restaurant, Grantsville, recently. Sunday visitors of Mrs. Glass were Mr. and Mrs. James Massengil, Murraysville, Pa. Mrs. Glass was among the guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kolb, Accident, for the surprise 25th wedding anniversary celebration honoring the Kolb's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Fratz, Accident, last Sunday, August 7. Ralph Georg, Mrs. Glass and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Reichenbecher attended the memorial service for Martha Holliday on Friday at the Humbert Funeral Home, Confluence, Pa. She was born and reared in this community, but lived in Pennsylvania for a number of years. Following the memorial service, a luncheon was served at the Methodist Church, Addison, where the Reichenbechers, Mrs. Glass and Ralph were among those attending. Mr. and Mrs. Reichenbecher and Mrs. Glass were Sunday visitors of Freda Moser and Mrs. Artie Georg at the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home, Grantsville.

Many friends and relatives called at the Newman Funeral Home, near McHenry, following the death of Lawrence Glover, 82, that occurred Monday at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland. The funeral was held today, Thursday, August 18, at the Oak Grove Church of the Brethern with the Rev. Donald Matthews officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. Relatives have been guests of Mrs. Glover at her home also.

Becky Schmidt, Friendsville, and Rachel Schmidt are spending a week's vacation with the latter's sister, Pamela Schmidt, at Morgantown, W.Va. The John Schmidts attended the funeral of Mrs. Darlene Schmidt's grandmother, Mrs. Viola Will, 100 years old, on Tuesday, August 2, at the Scarpelli Funeral Home, Cumberland. She was a resident of the Allegany County Nursing Home and died at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, on Saturday, July 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bender were at the Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville, on Saturday evening following the death of Ford Fike, Accident, who died Thursday at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland. The funeral was held Sunday at the Oak Grove Church of the Brethern with the Rev. Donald Matthews officiating. Burial was in Zion Lutheran Cemetery, Accident. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bender for a few days were Raymond's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and daughter, Linda, Irwin, Ohio. Lynford Schrock and Lenn Miller, Irwin, Ohio, and Christopher Zerkle, Plain City, Ohio, stayed for a few days at the Bender's cabin and had breakfast at the Bender home each morning. The entire group attended the conservative Mennonite Conference at Northern High School each day from Thursday until Sunday afternoon.

Charles Ringer was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, on Sunday where family members visited with him each day.

Mildred Wucik returned to her home on Friday evening from Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where she was a surgical patient. Mrs. Dennis Margroff and grandsons, Ben Margroff and Ryan Evans, were among the visitors there. Spending some time at the Wucik-Darlington home are Stella Cartwright, Oak Hill, W.Va., and Jean Nichols, Thomasville, Ga. Other visitors included Mary Ann Grier, Annapolis, George Viragh, Betty Thomas, Morgantown, W.Va., Mary Douds, LaVale, Jean Richardson, Dot Georg, Grantsville, Dottie Gilpin, Florida, Homer and Kelly Martz and Michelle Robertson, Accident. About 45 relatives from various states attended a family reunion in July hosted by Miss Wucik at her home.

Helen Harman returned to her home on Thursday after being a patient at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland. A son, Carl Harman, Midland, Tex., is spending some time here with his mother.

Mrs. Ora Younkin, Grantsville, was a patient at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, and returned to her home on Friday evening with her daughter, Mrs. Dennis Margroff, who visited often with her at the hospital and at her home.

A HOSING DOWN was administered by members of the Deep Creek and Accident volunteer fire departments immediately following the conclusion of Monday's Demolition Derby at the Garrett County Fair in McHenry. It seems that most of the drivers in the final heat and a significant number of folks in the audience staunchly disagreed with the judges' decision concerning the winner of the derby. Words were exchanged and, when it appeared that fists were going to fly, the participants were warned that they would be hosed down. After they ignored the warning, the nozzles were opened. The disgruntled drivers and fans claimed that the driver of the car declared to be the winner had been in a stalled position well beyond the allowed time before he was able to get his car moving again and finally put out of commission the vehicle that, in their opinion, should have been the winner. The editor of The Republican received several angry letters about the incident; however, because they were libelous in nature, they were not published. Another demolition derby is slated for Friday evening at the fair.

COVE NEWS

A number of people from this community attended the farewell dinner on Sunday at the Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, attended by the three churches of the Accident Lutheran Parish for the Rev. and Mrs. Stephen Yelovich and family. The Rev. Yelovich preached his final sermon that day and will be the pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Cumberland, in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald plan to move to Hagerstown in the near future and plan to sell their property in this community.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Markel Maust for a few days were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Showalter and family, Flint, Mich., a weekend guest was Lois Maust, Columbus, Ohio, and a Sunday guest was Debbie Maust, Morgantown, W.Va., Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Beitzel, Salisbury, Pa., parked their camper at the Maust home for a few days and all attended the Conservative Mennonite Conference at Northern High School. Mr. and Mrs. Maust were on the food committee and helped to prepare all the meals. A daughter, Julia Maust, also Douglas Beitzel, Salisbury, Pa., spent time at C.A.M.P., Tar Hollow State Park, Ohio, where both were counselors.

Meghan Dabney Captures Women's Title In Western Md. Tournament

For the first time in many decades, a Garrett County resident captured a championship trophy in the Western Maryland Amateur Tennis Tournament, the 73rd annual of which was held recently at the clay courts in Mtn. Lake Park.

Meghan Dabney, 15-year-old daughter of Tom and Dayle Dabney, Mtn. Lake Park, defeated Jennifer Cole, Petersburg, W.Va., in a gruelling three-set match to win the women's singles title.

Dabney, who was a standout this past spring as a freshman on the Southern High School team, won the first set in a tie-breaker, 7-6, lost the second set, 6-2, and then won the third, 6-2. The match lasted nearly three hours.

The Mtn. Lake Park courts are truly home courts for Ms. Dabney, who lives adjacent to them and has played there since she was able to hold a racquet.

Dabney had played Cole, a student at Petersburg High School, earlier this year during scholastic competition.

"Whenever we play the game format that we use in high school matches, she beats me," Dabney said, "but whenever we play sets, I beat her."

Tom Bender, Baltimore, captured the men's open title by breezing past Colin Parker, Olney, in the finals, 6-0, 6-2.

There were approximately 125 participants in the tournament from Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Washington, D.C., Ohio, and Florida. One player of special interest was Arlie Eddins, who is ranked fifth in the senior men's (50) division in Hawaii.

Other final results were as follows:

Men's Senior (35) - Mike Barnes, Westminster, def. Cal Simmons, Alexandria, Va., 6-1, 4-2.

Men's Senior (45) - Mike Barnes, Westminster, def. Fred Drilling, Bethesda, 6-1, 7-5.

Men's Senior (55) - Charles Atherton, Chevy Chase, def. Harvey Ratner, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Men's Senior (65) - Raffael Bisconti, Chevy Chase, def. Rex Matthews, McLean, Va., 6-0, 6-1.

Men's Doubles - Tom Bender and Paul Hynson, Baltimore, def. Pete and Steve Mudre, Galena, Ohio, 6-2, 7-5.

Women's Doubles - Dot Hill and Virginia Manspeaker, Hagerstown, def. Barbara Bowers and Amy Snyder, Fairmont, W.Va., 6-3, 6-2.

Men's Senior (45) Doubles - Fred Drilling, Bethesda, and Ned Scherer, McLean, Va., def Arlie Eddins and Jay Franklin, Washington, D.C., 6-0, 6-2.

Men's Senior (60) Doubles - Charles Atherton, Chevy Chase, and Pete Mudre Sr., Galena, Ohio, def. Dave DeGrafft, Lutherville, and Rex Matthews, McLean, Va., 6-1, 6-4.

Mixed Doubles - Bob Stayman and Virginia Manspeaker, Hagerstown, def. Dave Huston and Troya Fayock, Uniontown, Pa., 6-4, 6-3.

The tournament, one of the oldest sanctioned amateur tournaments in the nation, is coordinated and conducted each year by the members of the Mtn. Lake Park Tennis Club. Other sponsors this year were Bausch & Lomb and Stewart Funeral Home.

Barry Captures Western Maryland Golf Championship

Brian Barry, a resident of Frostburg and champion at the Maplehurst Country Club, carded a 36-hole total of 141 to win the 31st annual Western Maryland Amateur Golf Open at the Oakland Golf Club this past weekend.

The tournament was shortened to 36 holes because of rain on Sunday.

Barry finished with rounds of 72 and 69 to defeat Frank Berchin, Bentleyville, Pa., by two strokes. Berchin led the first day with a round of 71.

Seven-time winner of the tournament, Jack Forbes, Morgantown, W.Va., placed third with a 144 and won the Silver Seniors division. Larry Shaffer, Arthurdale, W.Va., placed fourth with a 148 and Don Lamb, Pittsburgh, finished fifth with a 149.

Fairmont's Raymond Manzo won the "Gold Seniors" division with a 163.

Tying for flight honors with scores of 38 were Gary Wiseman, Cumberland, and Keith Funkhouser, Ridgeley, W.Va. Jay Meyers, Oakland, won the second flight with a 36, followed by Mike Stansberry, Morgantown, with a 41.

Buddy Hinebaugh, Philadelphia, won the third flight with a 40, with Jim Gulley, Frederick, in second place with a 42. Richard Browning, McHenry, won fourth flight with a 40, with Jack Lyon, Swanton, runner-up with 43.

Barry, who will be a sophomore this fall at Western Maryland College, was that institution's top player as a freshman last year. He was the winner of the Centennial Athletic Conference championship.

There were 77 players in the tournament.

Bowlers To Meet

A meeting to organize a winter bowling league for the Tuesday Early Birds will be Tuesday, Aug. 23, at 10 a.m. at Par-Matt Lanes, Oakland. Anyone interested in bowling with the league is welcome to attend.

Albert Gallatin Standout To Play For GCC Lakers

Albert Gallatin High School basketball standout Larry Dice plans to continue his academic and athletic career this fall at Garrett Community College, according to a GCC spokesman.

Dice averaged 11.8 points, 5.4 rebounds, and 3.1 assists per game. While at Albert Gallatin under Head Coach Ray Trincia, he was named All-County, and Senior Recognition Most Valuable Player.

"I decided to attend Garrett because it will allow me to get my foot in the door, and hopefully attend a four-year school," remarked Dice. "When I visited the campus I like the atmosphere of the school, and the friendliness of the staff."

"Recently during basketball camp at Garrett, Larry had the opportunity to play with other recruits, and he showed that he could develop into a excellent player," said GCC Coach Dennis Gibson. "I think that he has the potential to land a scholarship after his career here."

Last year the Lakers (28-7) finished their season sixth in the nation (NJCAA Div. II), and qualified for the national tournament held in Danville, Ill. In additional, they were tournament champions of the Maryland JUCO and Regional XX.

Dice is the son of Linda and Larry Dice, Uniontown, Pa.

Annual Volleyball Tournament Set For August 27

A women's open six player volleyball tournament will be held in the Garrett Community College gymnasium this Saturday, August 27, beginning at 9 a.m., according to Margaret Quinn, volleyball coach. Teams are being sought to compete in the tournament which will benefit the women's volleyball scholarship fund.

Entry fee is $60 per team, with prizes of $50 and T-shirts being awarded to the first place team and a prize of $25 to the second place team. The competition will be pool play, with the top two teams of each pool playing off for the championship.

"This is a great opportunity to participate in a competitive sixes tournament," said Quinn. "Our volleyball program depends on the support of the community to ensure scholarship opportunities for our players. We are looking forward to a great day of volleyball."

Persons desiring to register a team should call Ms. Quinn at 301-387-3052 or 304-788-6703. Entries must be submitted by August 24. Teams will be notified of playing time on Thursday, August 25.

Grays Place In Biking Event At Snowshoe Resort

A mother and son from Oakland captured high honors in the fifth annual Mountain Biking Challenge at Snowshoe Resort in West Virginia this past weekend.

Cathy Gray was the winner in the Women's Veteran Division, which was a 15-mile cross-country race.

Her son, Bobby, finished third overall among 40 riders in the junior division (13-17), a division which included 15 of the top riders in the eastern United States. Gray, 15, won sixth place in the uphill race and fourth places in both the dual slalom and the downhill to win third overall. He was awarded $175 in prize money.

Gray, who will be a sophomore at Southern High School this fall, also placed second in the downhill and cross-country races held recently at the Wisp in McHenry.

There were 278 participants in the Snowshoe event, ranging from novice to professional in the various divisions.

GCC Foundation Golf Tourney Is Postponed

A golf tournament to be sponsored by the Garrett Community College Foundation, originally scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 21, has been postponed, according to a GCC spokesperson.

A new date for the event has not yet been scheduled.

The Law States:

". . . All fees collected by the sheriff shall be accounted for and paid to the treasary of the several counties and of Baltimore City, respectively." Art. IV , Sec. 44.

"Pursuant to, and as a follow-up to your letter of June 27, 1994, regarding collection fees for service of court papers, we would advise that we have never authorized any payments." The Garrett County Commissioners, July 12, 1994.

From this it would appear that Sheriff Van Evans was never given authority to keep fees collected from paper service. In light of this, we would ask that the Grand Jury be convened to look, into the following:

1. The possible misuse of funds from $100,000 to $300,000 collected by Sheriff Evans over nine years.
2. To have an audit completed on all financial records at the Sheriff's office.
3. To have all monies collected by the Sheriff to be turned over to the Treasurer.
4. To see what criminal and ethical violations may have occurred.
5. To see if the use of uniformed Deputies, while on duty in patrol vehicles, served civil papers. What fees were paid to Sheriff Evans for his personal use; and if any were turned over to the Treasurer.
6. To have the Grand Jury report made public.

I would urge all citizens to call the States Attorney's office (334-1972) and express their desire to convene the Grand Jury.

SHS Standout To Attend Coastal Carolina Univ.

Aaron Buser, a two-sport standout at Southern High School for the past several years, will continue her track and field career this fall at Coastal Carolina University in Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Buser, a daughter of William (BJ) and Brenda Buser, Swanton, will run hurdles and sprints for Coach Alan Connie. CCU competes as a Division I university in the Big South Conference.

While a student at Southern, Buser qualified for the Maryland State Track and Field Championships the past four years. She won regional honors in the 100 hurdles and triple jump, and was a member of the winning 400 and 800 relay teams.

She was also named MVP of the 1993-94 girls' varsity basketball team, which captured the regional title and made it to the Maryland Class C semi-finals. She was named to the All-Tournament team of Southern's Snowflake Classic and in the Williamsport Shoot-Out.

She was also a standout in the classroom, where she earned an overall grade point average of 3.5. She was a member of the Student Council all four years at Southern, was a member of the National Honor Society, the National Rotary World Affairs Team, and Who's Whom Among American High School Students for four years. She received a U.S. Achievement Academy Award for Student Council, the Minds in Motion Award, the U.S. Air Force Math and Science Award, the U.S. Navy Honors Program certificate of achievement, the Southern Garrett Athletic Association Scholarship Award, and was a National Athletic Merit Scholar. She was a participant in a summer session of the Gifted and Talented Program at the Inner Harbor in Baltimore.

Miss Buser is a certified scuba diver and, besides running, also enjoys mountain biking and snow skiing.

She is enrolled in the Marine Science Program at CCU, where she will pursue a bachelor's degree. She plans to take a summer semester of study in Jamaica.

Mountain Bike Rides Slated In Garrett Forest

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources State Forest and Park Service is offering guided mountain bike rides for beginner and intermediate riders on Wednesdays, Aug. 24 and 31, and Saturdays, Aug. 20 and 27.

The rides on Aug. 20 and 31 will begin at 10 a.m. in the Herrington Creek parking lot along Herrington Manor Road (approx. one-half mile north of Herrington Manor State Park). The seven-mile ride will wind through the Snaggy Mountain area of the forest and will end back at the parking lot at approximately 1 p.m.

The rides on Aug. 24 and 27 will be evening rides, with riders meeting at the same location at 6 p.m. The same course will be followed, with the rides ending at about 9 p.m.

For more information, persons may call 334-2038.

Oakland Falls To First Federal In Pen-Mar Finals

The Oakland Oaks earned a spot in the finals of the Pen-Mar League playoffs Saturday afternoon by ripping Hyndman, 15-4, but then dropped the first two games in a best-of-three series to First Federal to wrap up their 1994 season.

The first game against First Federal was played Saturday after the win over Hyndman, with First Federal recording a 10-7 victory. The final contest, played Sunday, was won easily by First Federal, 14-1.

The Oaks pounded out 17 hits against Hyndman, with Kevin Green going four-for-six to record eight RBI. Green's hits included a three-run homer in the first that gave Oakland the lead for good. He also doubled and singled twice.

Brett Rice added three singles for Oakland, Brad Williams, Chad Miller, Joe Healy, and Christian Smith each singled twice, and John Gordon tripled.

Kent Taylor paced the defense in going the distance on the mound and allowing only four hits, including a three-run homer by Jason Cutter in the eighth inning. He struck out eight batters. Cutter also had a single to account for half of Hyndman's runs.

The first game against First Federal was tied at 2-2 after three and one-half innings, but the Bankers erupted for six runs in the bottom of the fourth on six consecutive hits.

The Oaks rallied for three runs in the fifth and two in the seventh, but could get no closer.

Jake Sawyers doubled and singled for three RBI to lead First Federal's offensive effort, John White had a triple and a single for two RBI, Myrle Grose rapped a two-run homer in the second inning, and Jeff Barclay, the winning pitcher, tripled and singled to score a run. Barclay struck out nine batters in going the distance.

Miller and Williams paced Oakland's six-hit performance with two singles apiece.

The second meeting with First Federal on Sunday was really no contest, as the Bankers built a 7-1 lead and then doubled their total with seven runs in the final inning.

The regular season champions were led by Dave Yates with a triple and a single, J.T. Holland with two hits and three RBI, Erick Likens and Mike Whiteman with two hits and three runs scored apiece, and Barclay with a double and two RBI.

Oakland was limited to five hits by Jason Niner, who recorded eight strikeouts. Brett Rice, who hit two singles, was the only multiple hitter for Oakland.

Area Speedway Review

Somerset County Speedway

There was a whole lot of racing going on at the Somerset County Speedway in Meyersdale, Pa., on Sunday, August 7. Four features had to run because of a previous rainout before an entire racing program could begin.

In the first lap of the "C" Main, racing came to a halt when Dennis Sell of Berlin went over the wall between three and four. He was taken to the hospital and released the next day. When racing continued, several drivers took their turn in the lead but Don Shaffer from Somerset took the checkered. He was followed by Tim Rounds, Brad Reckner, Carl Arnold, Greg Cornell Sr., and Henry Bockes.

The top five finishers in the "B" Main were Kevin Bender, Denny Rounds, Dave Geyer, Doug Barclay and Dave Greer. Dan Stockwell from Confluence held the lead for 15 laps in the "A" Main before Tom Humberson took the lead and the checkered and Bobby Smith took second. They were followed by Stockwell, Rodger Stephens, and Jim Saylor.

The Pro Stock feature went to Mark Smith of Meyersdale. Charging hard for the lead were J.R. Isner and Eric Corella. Smith was followed by J.R. Isner, Greg McClellan, Doug Shaffer, and Dana Cotter.

A new card of racing began with five heats, a consy, and four more features. Heat winners for the evening were Roger Shaulis, Rodger Stephens, Tom Humberson, Don Shaffer, Jim Saylor, and Mark Smith.

When the "C" Main began Dave Porter was on the pole and he held on for the win. Porter has been a top ten driver for four years and just recently got his car together for this season. He was followed by Steve Chipps, Henry Bockes, John Tressler, Keith Breegle, and Greg Cornell Sr.

Tim Rounds from Grantsville has been having some bad luck this season but made an impressive run in the "B" Main. He held the lead for 11 laps before making way for Dave Geyer of Johnstown to take the checkered. They were followed by Clair Duppstadt, Dale Wilt, Roman Yoder, Len Livengood, Brad Rackner, Carl Arnold, Keith Barron, James Hileman, and Jeff Barclay.

No one expected to see Jim Sayler or Jon Deal in the "A" Main because both drivers had major fires in their cars earlier in the evening. Deal drove his car to the firemen to have it extinguished while Sayler was able to put his fire out on the backstretch. Both drivers completed the feature with Sayler taking fourth while Deal settled for ninth.

This "A" Main was almost a repeat of the "A" Main run earlier in the evening. Dan Stockwell held the lead for 13 laps this time before making way once again for Tom Humberson. They were followed by Jamie Kemp, Jim Sayler, Duane Shultz, Bobby Smith, Kevin Bender, Don Shaffer, Jon Deal, Dave Greer, Greg Cornell, Brad Dickey, Doug Barclay, Eddie Kemp, Roger McKenzie, Roger Shaulis, and Rodger Stephens.

Eric Corella of Hollsopple and Mark Smith of Meyersdale took turns at the lead in the Pro Stock Main. When the checkered dropped, Corella captured the win. Smith dropped to eighth when a flat tire sent him to the pits for a quick tire change. Corella was followed by Brad Brown, J.R. Isner, Doug Shaffer, Dana Cotter, Greg McClellan, Alvin Hosselrode, Mark Smith, and Robert Porter.

Racing at the speedway will continue on Thursday, August 25. This event will be held in conjunction with the Somerset County Fair which runs from August 21 to 28.

DRIVER OF THE WEEK - RODNEY YOUMANS -- This week's "Driver of the Week" is Rodney Youmans of Grantsville. Youmans runs his #93 Chevy Malibu in the Strictly Stock Class at the Somerset County Speedway in Meyersdale. This single stock car driver/owner is 35 years old and has raced one year at Meyersdale and one year at Jennerstown Speedway. His goal is to do the best he can with his 400 c.i. Chevy motor built by C S Automotive & Diesel and Automotive Machine. His sponsors are Chestnut Ridge Gas & Liquors, Allnail, Inc. and Youmans Enterprises, Inc. His crew chief is Duane Folk and Craig Sullivan is his engine builder. This season he has won one heat race and two "B" Main events at Somerset County Speedway.

Cumberland Raceway

The Ponderosa Late Models was won by Tom Clise from Frostburg; the Hamilton Dodge Semi-lates was won by Allen Buckley of Romney, W.Va.; and the Pure Stock feature was won by Troy Harrison of New Paris, Pa. This was first time wins for all three feature winners this year at Cumberland. It was Arch Fan Club Night and all three winners received an Arch jacket. "The Gang" and Lambert's Auto Service gave Tom Clise a $100 bonus for the win. There were 18 Late Models, 23 Semi-lates and 39 Pure Stocks in the pits. All features were heads-up starts. In the Late Model Feature, Tom Clise led from flag to flag with three cautions for the win. Wayne Johnson was second, followed by Scott Brode and then Kevin Smith, J.R. Kiefer, Randy Kimmel, Butch Moyer, Chuck Clise, Todd Price, and Jeff Miller. Heat wins were Tony Flanagan and Wayne Johnson. In the Semi-late Feature, Bobby Elbin led for 10 laps. Allen Buckley, who started eighth, passed him on the outside for the lead and the win. Elbin was second. Jack Pencil came from the rear of the field for third, followed by Dion LaSalle, Eric Zembower, Jim Deneen, Donnie Witt, Wayne Joy, Brian Lowery, and Dave Carlheim. Heat winners were Bob Elbin and Lynn Ogden.

In the Pure Stock Feature, Troy Harrison, from the outside pole, led from flag to flag through five cautions for the win, followed by Dennie Sponaugle, Bill VanMeter, Darras Deneen, Bill Buchanan, Allen Stone and Rick Saville, Johnny Harr, Jim Snyder and Wally Mowry. Heat winners were John Malcolm, Troy Harrison, Tom Messick, and Rick Saville. The Consy winner was Jim Snyder.

The Junior Fan Club winner was Ronnie Roach of Cumberland. The Fan of the Week was Joe Edgar from Boynton, Pa. The Tri-State Racing Photo Hard Charger Award was given to Dave Carlheim. Marshall Oil Company gave five gallons of racing fuel to the Semi-late and Pure Stock Feature winners.

Next week will be McDonald's Night at the Races with added money for three feature winners, plus special appearance by Ronald McDonald.

As the fans leave next Saturday night, Western Maryland Distributing Co. of Cumberland will give a special Rusty Wallace Pit Crew "Over the Wall Gang" poster to the first 2,000 fans. Gates will open at 4:30 p.m. with racing starting at 7:00 p.m.

Interstate 79 Speedway

Interstate 79 Speedway promoters Steve Baker and Mark Richards were forced to postpone the third leg of the West Virginia State Championship Series on Sunday, August 14, because of heavy rains. The race has been rescheduled for this Sunday, August 21.

Late model drivers will be going to the $2,500 winner's share in the 30-lap main event. Weston, W.Va.'s, Tim Hitt will try to win the bonus of $1,000 after he won Saturday's companion race at the Elkins Speedway. The bonus was offered to any late model driver who could pick up wins at both tracks this past weekend.

Also on the racing card will be heats and feature events for the UMP Modifieds and features only for the Pure Stocks and 4-Cylinder Stocks. Gates will open Sunday at 5:00 p.m. with time trials beginning at 7:00 p.m.

Regular Friday night racing in all five divisions will be held this week as usual with gates opening at 6:00 p.m. and racing at 8:00 p.m.

Interstate 79 Speedway is located at Exit 125 (Shinnston/Saltwell Road) just south of Fairmont, W.Va.

Elkins Motor Speedway

Weston's Tim Hitt led all laps and took home a handsome $2,500 for his effort at Elkins Motor Speedway's memorial to the late R.H. Armstrong, in the Sixth Annual R.H. Armstrong Classic.

Time trial qualifying started the evening with Hitt scoring the fastest lap at 15.87 on a slick track. Doug Hall's lap time of 16.50 placed him second ahead of Steve Lucas and Denny Chamberlain who each clocked in at 16.53. The top four time-trialers then went to an inverted, four-lap dash to decide the top four positions in the feature. In one of the best races of the evening, Lucas edged out Hitt for pole position, and Chamberlain crossed a split second ahead of Hall.

Sixteen additional racers qualified for the feature in four exciting heat races. In heat number one, EMS points leader, Frank Wilson, comfortably won ahead of Sonny Stutler. Nolan Dalton, fourth in points, took the second heat crown over semi-late driver, Danny Hamrick. Booper Bare showed at Elkins for the first time this season and took the heat number three honors ahead of Gary Dalton. In heat number four, it was Butch McGill over Chuck Harper.

The last two feature spots were determined in a 15-car consolation race that was full of great driving by the top three runners, John Tallman, Terry Conrad and Chris Smith. Tallman led the entire race but was constantly nagged by Smith in the first 10 laps and then by Conrad in the final five laps.

A beautiful parade of 24 cars lined up for the 30-lap feature and from the drop of the initial green it was Tim Hitt all the way. The battle for second was the most contended spot of the night, putting Steve Lucas against Denny Chamberlain. Few laps were completed that didn't have the two racers locked in battle under the flag stand with Lucas edging out Chamberlain for the second spot on every lap except 17. Fourth place went to Frank Wilson and Gary Dalton was fifth.

Twenty-six UMP Modifieds showed for the chance at qualifying for the $500 first place feature money. Twenty drivers from three heats and one consy started the 20 lap event with Steve Cook on the pole. Dave Groves quickly took control on the first lap and on lap three, Mike Hawkins and Kevin Jones moved into the second and third spots respectively. In a tight line, Groves, Hawkins and Jones retained these top three positions for the remainder of the race. Greg Wilt crossed the finish line ahead of Jack Kress to take the fourth spot.

The Pure Stock and Four-Cylinder Stock features were lined up according to EMS points position. John Smith, Jr. took the pole position start in the Pure Stock feature but relinquished the lead to Bill Tincher, second in points, on the first lap. Tincher won the race ahead of Denny Sandy who started in the eighth spot. John Smith, Jr. was third.

Points leader, Thomas Simpson, started the 4C Stock feature ahead of Tommy Pennington and Mike Simpson. A total of 10 points separates these top three racers in the battle for track champion and the 20 lap feature showed the intensity in each driver's quest for the top honor. Tommy Pennington took the lead on the first lap and muscled his way for the win ahead of Thomas Simpson. Jeff Pennington, eighth in points, was third.

Deep Creek Lake Women's Regatta Results Announced

by Harry Filemyr

The Deep Creek Yacht Racing Association held its fourth Women's Regatta this past weekend. To expand the format and the number of potential entries, classes were open for women in Flying Scots and Lasers and a "handicap" class for women helmsmen with a man allowed as crew. A men's Laser regatta was run simultaneously.

Saturday was gray and overcast with blustery west winds. The race was twice around a dog-leg course between Turkey Neck and Blakeslee and down to Thousand Acres. Five women-skippered Flying Scots were entered in each class. A dozen Lasers started -- all men.

In the all-women class, the Carpenter ladies led from the start of the first race and were not closely challenged. In the handicap group, four different boats had the lead at some point in the race. Karen Betz, still in the novice racing group, gamely pursued.

For the second race, Jack Carpenter, weekend race commander, responded to the Laser sailors' request for a windier course. The Lasers' course went down the "slot" between Turkey Neck and Poland Run, while the women re-sailed the original, gentler course. Jane Mahan and Geri Meehan got clear at the start and led from "wire to wire," while the Carpenters were late to the line. Sharon and Monica Wible crossed the finish line second, but were disqualified for an unauthorized crew change. The MacMillan boat approached the finish line third, then missed completing a tack and, always thwarted by the shifting winds, backed slowly, painfully away from the line as the remaining two boats passed them.

On Sunday, the rains came, windy and cold. Some asked if a race would be counted if fewer than three boats started. But in a regatta, the number of boats entered rather than the number in a given race determines scoring. One boat is a first place; any boat not starting (or not finishing) is scored sixth.

Three boats in each women's class and six Lasers braved the storm. In the women-only class, the Mahan-Meehan duo, undaunted by fog and rain, forged ahead and increased their lead on every leg. In the handicap group, Elster and Brooke scrapped toe-to-toe all six legs of the course, but Barbara Elster's boat was over the finish line first.

After five miles, five of the six Lasers were within hailing distance of each other at the last mark. Keith MacMillan was just ahead of Kevin Rissell who had won the first two races. Kevin gained the advantage in a brief tacking duel, but did not take the bait when Keith tacked away. Kevin stayed in the better wind and streaked away to the finish line, while Dave Mahan slipped into second.

RESULTS - WOMEN'S REGATTA

Flying Scots, all women: Jane Mahan and Geri Meehan, first; Sally Carpenter, Marilyn Carpenter, and Carrie Carpenter, second; Vicki Willey and Mary Kay Farnum, third.

Flying Scots, handicap: Anne Brooke and Charles Graham, first; Barbara Lester, Barbara Peters, and Ed Peters, second; Kristen Frank and John Frank, third.

LASER REGATTA

Kevin Rissell, first; Keith MacMillan, second; Dan Rubel, third.

Jordon Uphold, son of Manager Uphold, led off the first with a single and Hinebaugh followed with a double to put runners at second and third, and set the stage for Upton's blast that went over the left field fence.

Oakland added two more runs in the second, as Todd Tasker singled, advanced to second when Nathaniel Panther reached on an error, and scored on a throwing error by the centerfielder. Josh Bosley followed with a two-out single that scored Panther.

Franklin attempted to rally in the sixth inning, but managed just two runs to conclude the game's scoring.

Bosley, Oakland's shortstop, recorded an outstanding stop of a sharply hit ball in the third inning to force out a runner at second base.

In Saturday's contest against Orchard Park, N.Y., Oakland took a 2-0 lead with single runs in the second and fourth innings, and then led 3-1 before the New York all-stars knotted the game at 3-3 with two runs in the sixth inning.

Oakland scored the first run of the game in the second inning when Keith Parks led off with a double, moved to third when Mike Shahan reached on an error, and came home on a grounder by Panther.

The Oakland team made it 2-0 in the fourth, as Hinebaugh reached on an error, advanced to second on a single by Upton, and scored on an overthrow.

Oakland led 3-1 until the sixth inning when Orchard Park's Chris Ware and Chris Vogel both singled, pinch hitter Ryan Dunning walked to load the bases, and, after a strike-out by Uphold, Mike Voytovich singled to send home Ware and Vogel and tie the score.

Panther opened Oakland's winning effort in the seventh with a single off starter Dave Holtz, who was then replaced by Joe Todoro, the team's number one starter and son of Orchard Park manager Carl Todoro.

Uphold greeted Todoro with a line drive single to center to send Panther to second. After a ground-out by Hinebaugh, which advanced the runners to second and third, Bosley smacked a two-run double on a 3-2 count to bring home Panther and Uphold. After Bosley moved to third on a wild pitch, he came home on a single by Christian Warfield to score an insurance run.

Bosley was again credited with an outstanding defensive play, as he made a leaping catch of a line drive by Todoro in the first inning with a runner at first.

Uphold, who went the distance on the mound and went three-for-four at the plate, yielded eight hits, walked three, and struck out 10 to record his second win of the tournament. Holtz took the loss.

A seventh-inning, three-run homer by Toby Upton was the highlight of Monday's game against the team from Canal, Del.

The Oaklanders let a 3-1 lead slip away, as the Deleware all-stars tied the contest at 3-3 in the fourth.

Uphold and Hinebaugh both singled in the first inning and scored on errors and grounders to give Oakland a 2-0 lead. After Canal scored a single run in the bottom of the inning, Oakland made it 3-1 in the third when Upton and Warfield each singled and Upton scored on a wild throw by an outfielder.

Singles by Matt Folke, Devin Wiley, and Matt Ziegler off Bosley in the fourth inning tied the score at 3-3.

Panther, who had recorded six hits in 14 at-bats in the tournament, led off Oakland's winning seventh inning with a soundly hit double to the right field corner. Uphold singled him to third and Hinebaugh followed with another single that sent Panther home with what would be the winning run.

Then Bosley stepped up and aided his own cause with a single that scored Uphold, and Upton followed with his three-run blast over the right field fence.

It appeared that Oakland may add still more runs, as the bases were loaded again via hits by Justin DiSimone and Justin Liller and a walk to Todd Tasker with just one out, but two force plays at the plate put an end to that threat.

Canal threatened in the bottom of the seventh behind a single by Jim Needles, a walk to Matt Nichols, and a wild pitch by Bosley, which caused Manager Uphold to move Bosley back to shortstop and put Hinebaugh on the mound. Pinch hitter John Thompson smacked a liner to center field, but Warfield

Prayer Of The Blessed Virgin

(Never Known To Fail)

Oh, Most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh, star of the sea, help me and show me and show me here you are my mother. Oh, Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven & Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days and then you must publish it and it will be granted to you. Grateful thanks.

made a scooping catch just above the grass to get the out.

After a walk to Kevin Maloney, Donovan hit a fly to Warfield for the second out. Then Nate Husser drew a walk to force home the final run of the game.

The final out was made at the plate by Uphold after a wild pitch by Hinebaugh ultimately resulted in Nichols attempting to score.

Bosley was credited with the win, as he allowed seven hits and struck out seven during his six innings. Hinebaugh recorded a save.

Oakland started out with a bang against Middleboro, Mass., Tuesday, as the local players loaded the bases when Uphold was struck by a Brandon Bower pitch. Hinebaugh followed with a single off the glove of the first baseman, Bosley smacked a single to center to load the bases, and Upton followed with a grand slam over the center field fence to make it 4-0. Brower had fired a no-hitter against the Maine all-stars earlier in the tournament.

Unfortunately for Oakland fans, those would be the final hits and final runs of the day for the local all-stars, despite the fact that Oakland had the bases loaded in the third inning.

Shahan was hit by Brower to lead off the third, and Uphold and Bosley also drew walks on balls to fill the bases, but the Massachusetts manager Steve McKenna pulled Brower and replaced him with Joe Moles, who silenced the Oakland bats for the remainder of the game.

Oakland enjoyed its 4-0 lead until the third when Middleboro tied the score behind a two-run homer by Brandon Soule, a triple by Daryl Bradford, and a wild pitch.

The Massachusetts squad took the lead for good with two runs in the fourth, and then added two more in the sixth on a homer by Kevin Brower.

Hinebaugh pitched four complete innings, giving up eight hits, walking four, and striking out eight. Uphold pitched the final two innings.

Middleboro went on to defeat the New Jersey all-stars yesterday, 8-4, to win a trip to the World Series.

Jordan Uphold finished the tournament with eight hits, nine runs, and a batting average of .400 to lead the team in those categories. Tony Upton led in home runs with three and in RBI with 11, with a .389 batting average. Josh Bosley and Nathaniel Panther batted .368 and .353, while Justin Liller hit .375 coming off the bench.

In the pitching stats, Uphold went 2-0 with an ERA of 3.60 and 22 strike-outs in 15 innings pitched. Jason Hinebaugh recorded one win and one save and Bosley earned the fourth win.

Manager Junior Uphold truly upheld the Little League philosophy, unlike most of the other team managers, as he played every member of his team in every game at the tournament.

"The whole experience reminded me of a line in the song Truckin' by Grateful Dead, 'What a long, strange trip it's been'," stated Uphold after the team's arrival back in Oakland. "But it was also a fantastic experience for all of us that I'm sure we'll never forget.

"I really don't think the kids realize yet what they accomplished," he said. "The Eastern Region, which is the largest Little League region in the world, includes just over 2,000 teams, and we finished third. There are hundreds of thousands of players and volunteers in the region. Essentially, we are among the top 12 all-star teams in the country. It was just a great accomplishment."

Uphold said that he had nothing but compliments for the organizers of the tournament.

"It was very well coordinated and very well run," he said, "and the people were just exceptional to us. After about the first three days there, the organizers sort of adopted our team as their own. They bent over backward to make sure we had a great time."

Uphold said that two of the women involved with the tournament accompanied the Oakland players to an amusement park following their loss and, upon their return to the complex, they had a movie waiting for them.

"I think probably the only bad experience for the kids was with Joey and me," Uphold said, "when we tried to get them to quiet down after the 10 p.m. lights-out. They were pretty wound up and got a little upset with us when we tried to get them settled down."

The team is composed of the following players and teams: Justin Liller, Jordan Uphold, and Chris Wakefield, from the Knights of Pythias; Jason Hinebaugh and Dereck Nelson, from A&A Realty; Keith Parks, of Woodmen of the World; Toby Upton, Justin DiSimone, and Todd Tasker, of Browning's; Josh Bosley, Nathaniel Panther, and Lance Tressler, of Glotflety's; and Mike Shahan, of State Farm Insurance.

Photos from the tournament will appear in next week's issue of The Republican.

Editor's note: The following letter was faxed by Maryland Governor Wm. Donald Schaefer to the Oakland Little League All-Stars on Tuesday, just before Oakland met the Massachusetts all-stars in the semi-finals of the Eastern Regional Championships.

Dear Members of the Oakland All-Stars:

Congratulations on making it to the Eastern Regional Little League Tournaments! Every single one of you has already achieved something that most young men have only dreamed about -- a winning baseball game and a chance to go to the Little League World Series. You and your families should be very proud.

As you get ready to play the Massachusetts All Stars this afternoon, remember the season you have already played. You started practice last spring, you worked hard, you showed up to play every game and at every practice all because you wanted to be able to play in today's tournament game. Other teams that didn't work as hard as you have not gotten to today's game.

Some of the other teams at the tournament may have fancy uniforms and fancy busses, but they're not from Maryland. They don't have the kind of Maryland spirit that make you guys so special. Mr. Uphold and Coach DiSimone can tell you all about team spirit and I can tell you about Maryland spirit: we're not a big state but we keep coming out #1 in so many ways, Why? Hard work.

Some of you remember the story of David, a shepherd boy in the Bible, who accepted the giant Goliath's dares to fight. The giant was huge and had a sword and a shield and David only had a slingshot. Who won? David did because he had courage and faith in him. And I'm sure you also remember this story about the race between a turtle and a rabbit. There was no way the turtle could beat the rabbit. Wrong! The turtle won because the rabbit thought he had the race in the bag and laid down to rest.

I wish I could be at today's game to cheer you on. But remember, your families and friends at the game and back home in Maryland will be rooting for you as much as we can. Bring home another win!

was going on" at the hospital. He said Ms. Shirer responded that she had nothing to say to him and asked him to leave her property. Goins claimed that he then turned to leave and Ms. Shirer began to spray him with the hose. He said she continued to do so as he was attempting to get in his vehicle. He added that he had two witnesses to the incident, both of whom were seated in his car.

Ms. Shirer then filed counter charges of trespassing and harassment against Goins, alleging that she had repeatedly told Goins to leave her property, but he refused to do so. She further alleged that soon after Goins finally did leave, she received an anonymous, obscene, threatening telephone call, and alleged that the voice was that of Goins.

In response to the incident, Annette M. Livengood, administrative director of human services at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, released a statement on behalf of Ms. Shirer and the other employees of the hospital.

"We are particularly concerned with the intimidating manner which the union organizers are using during their home visits," she said. "As reported to me by employees, it appears the union organizers come to our employees' homes unannounced and uninvited, and in at least two cases have walked into homes unannounced. When asked to leave the property, they don't readily comply.

"We can certainly understand the fear and panic that Mrs. Shirer must have felt when Mr. Goins made no attempt to leave her property when asked to do so.

"The hospital stands behind and fully supports our employees in their attempts to keep unwanted union organizers off their property."

Mrs. Livengood's statement also alleged that, because hospitals across the country are facing "serious financial challenges which cause their employees at all levels to feel significant anxiety about their future," unions are capitalizing on the situation.

"The union is attempting to generate or escalate dissatisfaction among our employees, using the hospital's need to 'right size' to spread a lot of unrest and mis-information," she said.

The union has filed with the National Labor Relations Board for an election at the hospital to determine whether or not the union will be accepted or rejected by certain groups of hospital employees, Livengood said. The date of that election has not yet been announced, but is expected to be sometime next month.

ROBINSON TAKES THE HELM - Bill Robinson, Friendsville, has taken over the responsibilities of band director at Northern in light of James Boord's recent relocation to a new school. Robinson received his college degree in music education, and ironically did so in the same year and at the same school - Frostburg State - as Marjorie and Richard Clever. He has assisted with the band in the past, accruing more than 1,000 volunteer hours. He has two children who are students at Northern, and has lived in Garrett County since 1971. When asked what his goals are this season, his first response, with a laugh, was "to get over band camp." He quickly added that the camp went very well and that the "kids did a nice job." Robinson said his main objective is to help the students combine education with experience and dedication. He also expressed his interest in combining the efforts of students, parents, and the community in supporting the band's efforts.

NHS, SHS Band Members Endure Grueling Week Of Band Camp

High school band members from both Northern and Southern took to their respective marching fields last week for an arduous six-day camp. The intensive day-camps allow for the students to learn their competitive field shows for the fall marching season, during which both bands compete nearly every weekend in Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

Northern's band is under new leadership as former director James Boord has left the school. Bill Robinson, Friendsville, has taken over as director and in an interview expressed his pride in the marching group.

"I'm really proud of these kids," Robinson said. He explained that a group of five members have designed the show for the band.

"I don't know of any other band who has their own students write the show. But these kids have done a terrific job. I think it is important that they have taken on such a responsibility and done it so well."

The music Northern will use this season includes show tunes, Tocatta by Clifton Williams, and Scarborough Fair by Simon and Garfunkel.

Southern remains under the direction of Richard D. Clever, Mtn. Lake Park, who explained that this season the band will utilize a Civil War theme, using music from the popular movie Gettysburg. The show will begin with a warm-up piece, Just Before the Battle, Mother, and the opener for the season will be Where Never Lark Nor Eagle Flew, which was originally a poem written by a World War II pilot who was later lost in action, Clever said.

Fantasia on the Dargason by Gustav Holst will follow the opener, and the drum solo, arranged by Blair Glass, will be Hell on the Wabash. The finale will be an arrangement of the Gettysburg music. Clever explained that the guard and other members will portray a Civil War re-enactment of sorts.

For Northern High, assistants include John McLaughlin, brass; Sharon McLaughlin, silks and rifles; and Tracy Teets, general assistant. The drum line at Northern has received instruction from West Virginia University percussionist Chanler Bailey, who left from the local camp to go

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY makes band members cranky, so at the Southern camp last week, time was taken out for the traditional freshman initiation. Several first-time band members are pictured above as they endure the slightly humiliating trials happily dealt out by veterans - all in fun. A new recreation was added to the camp as well. The homemade water slide, pictured below, was set up for the more courageous.

Penney Sutcliffe Weds Steven Stahl In May Ceremony

Penney Lee Ogden Sutcliffe and Steven Anton Stahl were married May 21 at a ranch in Moab, Utah.

The bride is the daughter of Mary and Herb Sutcliffe, Oakland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stahl, Denver, Colo.

The bride and her attendants were driven to the ceremony in an old-fashioned, green and gold painted, horse-drawn wagon.

The bride wore an ivory gown of silk Shantung by Bill Blass. She carried a bouquet of wild flowers natural to the country of southern Utah. Her veil, the ring bearer's pillow, and the collars of the flower girls' dresses were made from material from the bride's mother's white organdy lace wedding dress.

The bride's nieces, 2-year-old Katherine Schreiner, Windham, N.H., and 3-year-old Haley Schreiner, Ellicott City, were the flower girls. Haley's 5-year-old brother, Alex, served as the ring bearer. Annik Stahl, sister of the groom, wrote and sang an original song. She accompanied herself on the guitar.

The maid of honor was Sara Cunningham, Brewer, Maine. Bridesmaids were Judy Jackson, Germantown, and Lisa McFarland Park, Deep Creek Lake and Hubert, S.C.

The best man was Frank Lily, and the groomsmen were Gary Goettleman and Jeff Jackowski, all of Breckenridge, Colo.

Pastor Scott Fine of the Church of God, Park City, Utah, performed the interdenominational service.

The bride graduated from the University of Maryland. She is employed as a counselor at the Aspen Achievement Academy in Loa, Utah. She has also worked as a snowboard instructor at the Snowbird Ski Area, Salt Lake City.

The groom attended Colorado State College. He is currently working as a medic for the U.S. Forest Service, fighting fires in southern Utah. He has been employed as the head ski patroller at Breckenridge Ski Area, and by Hatch River Expeditions.

Following a reception at the Pack Creek Ranch, the couple left for a month long white water rafting trip down the Colorado River in the Grand Canyon. They currently reside at their new home in Park City.

Thank You
From the Family of Samuel Jr. Wilson, Sr.

We would like to take this time to express our gratitude to all of our families, friends, and businesses for your lovely cards, food, flowers, and phone calls. Also thank you for keeping us in your thoughts and prayers. We appreciate the support you have shown us in the time of our great loss of my husband and our father Samuel Jr. Wilson, Sr.

The family would also like to give a special thank you to Reverend Galen Hixen for the wonderful service; to the Reverend & Mrs. Gail Hixen for the music, and to the church family for the preparation of the wonderful meal.

The family would also like to thank the dedicated nurses on the second floor of Garrett County Memorial Hospital for the kindness and wonderful care they gave my husband and our father. A special thank you to Dr. Goralski and Teresa at the Garrett Medical Group. A special thank you to Stewart's Funeral Home, the Southern Rescue Squad, and the Oakland Fire Department for all their support and kindness.

The family would also like to give a very special thank you to all of Sam's customers and the special friends he made while serving the public for 36 years.

God bless you all.

NORTHERN'S DRUM LINE was instructed this year by Chanler Bailey, a percussionist from West Virginia University. Bailey has instructed percussion lines all over the country this summer, including the drummers of the University of Alabama and Ohio.

SHS DRUM MAJOR HONORED AT PA. CAMP - Southern Garrett Band Drum Major Meghan Price, daughter of John and Karlyn Price, Swanton, recently attended the Fred J. Miller Clinics at Seton Hill College, Greensburg, Pa. Out of 36 other drum majors from New York to Virginia, the local teenager was named Most Outstanding Drum Major. The award was based on leadership skills, conducting ability, and attitude. Over 400 campers attended the clinics, ranging from dancers to drum majors. The student will be a senior at Southern this fall, where in addition to being the drum major for the band, she will also be the Student Council president, a member of the National Honor Society, and a member of the girls' softball team.

on to instruct the drum lines of Ohio University and the University of Alabama. The students who wrote the field show and have helped instruct the band are Mindy Frazee, Shad Wachter, Chas Yommer, Amy Wagner, and Josh Robinson.

At Southern, Marjorie Clever is instructing the woodwinds and Drew Aires and Michael Kahl are working with the brass players. Mike Friend is the percussion instructor and the guard instructors are Teresa Weeks and Tiffany Powers. Bob Thomas, Greensburg, Pa., has designed the field show for the group and is the field instructor.

"I'm excited about this show," Clever said. "And this year's band is a great group of kids. It was a good week."

Both bands will present their shows at the schools' opening football games, scheduled for early September.

SHS Students Advised Of Four-Period Day Sched.

Students at Southern High School will notice a few changes as they return to school on August 29, according to a school official. With the implementation of the new four period schedule, students have been scheduled into eight classes this year. Four of these classes will begin on August 29 and conclude with the end of the first semester while the remainder will be conducted during the second semester.

Each class period will normally be 90 minutes in duration. As a result, students will be expected to arrive at school no later than 8:25 a.m. daily in order to be present in their first period classes and ready to begin promptly at 8:30 a.m. All students should enter the building through the gymnasium entrance. While awaiting dismissal to classes, freshmen will be seated on the right side of the gymnasium. Sophomores will be seated on the left side of the gymnasium. Upperclassmen will report to the cafetorium where juniors will occupy the lower level and seniors will be located in the upper level.

In order to provide for the safety of students, parents choosing to drive students to school and/or pick them up at dismissal time are requested to utilize the Oak Street entrance by the auxiliary gymnasium. A paved turn around area is provided for this purpose. Because of congestion, fire lane access, and an increased risk of accidents as a result of lessened visibility, only authorized vehicles should enter the area by the vocational buildings and to the side of the main building. The faculty lot in front of the building will be restricted to bus and faculty transportation during arrival and dismissal times.

Students who wish to drive vehicles to school may park in the lot adjacent to the football field. Seniors requesting permits for the student lot by the auxiliary gymnasium should contact the school office for an application form. Permits for this lot are reserved for seniors who, during the 1993-94 school year, had fewer than 10 days of excused absence and maintained a grade point average of 70%.

Throughout the year, an attendance officer will be available at the cafetorium entrance until 8:25 a.m. to accept excuses signed by parents/guardians and to provide students with absence code slips. Students are reminded that absence code slips provided by the attendance officer on duty must be presented to classroom teachers in order to gain admission to class on the day following any absence. These should be obtained prior to 8:25 a.m. in order to avoid tardiness.

Students are also reminded that a total of four or more tardies during a semester will result in after-school detention and the possibility of in-school suspension. As students report directly to first period rather than to homerooms, there will be no differentiation between tardiness to school and tardiness to class. Additionally, more than ten absences from a class during a semester will automatically result in a loss of credit for the course.

On full days of school, the schedule will normally be as follows:

7:55 - 8:25, student arrival; 8:30 - 10:00, first period; 10:05 - 11:35, second period; 11:40 - 1:40, third period, including lunch; 1:45 - 3:15, fourth period; 3:15 dismissal.

However, as students will be dismissed from school at 1 p.m. on August 29, the schedule for the first day is outlined below.

New Findings:
Chronic Fatigue Syndrome

When chronic fatigue syndrome (CFS) was first defined as a health problem in 1988, health experts considered the illness to be a problem of the body's immune system. CFS produces flu-like symptoms, fatigue, and sleep disturbances. These were thought to be caused by viruses. Treatment included special diets, exercise, rest, anti-inflammatory drugs, and oral antiviral medicines. While the exact cause of CFS still is not known, researchers now believe that viruses may not play a major role. According to the medical journal Drugs, first line drug therapy involves anti-depressants even if signs of depression are not present.

River Art Show Opens At Windrush

The River Art Show, sponsored by the West Virginia Rivers Coalition and the Windrush Gallery in Friendsville will open Aug. 19 with a public reception from 7-9 p.m. at the gallery. Musical entertainment will be provided by two members of the Buffalo Run Band, Rob Smith and Ed Kight. According to Carol Calhoun, Windrush manager, "This ten-artist show promises to be a diverse art experience expressing many artistic visions in a wide range of media."

Planners hope the six week exhibit will generate support, specifically donations and memberships, for the WVRC. According to a spokesperson for the gallery, the WVRC is a non-profit organization with offices in Buckhannon, W.Va. The WVRC consists of 1,500 individual members and 36 in-state, regional, and national recreation and conservation organizations.

Calhoun stated, "The concept for this show is to present and exhibit works by artists bound by a common thread: their love for the river experience and their expression of this love through art and craftsmanship."

"We spend a lot of our days off running rivers in Maryland and West Virginia, and we wanted to develop a show that would provide an opportunity for artists in the river community to come together and share their creativity with the public. The support we received from the WVRC is helping to make this a great show with an important purpose, and we hope to establish The River Art Show as an annual event."

Artists represented include: potter Chuck Stump, Swanton; woodworker and kayak designer Jesse Whittemore, Friendsville; painters and potters Paul and Michelle Shaw, Fayetteville, W.Va.; custom wood worker Mykl Messer, Albright, W.Va.; jeweler Sarah Hubbard, Arden, W.Va.; wood furniture craftsperson David Hubbard, Baker, W.Va.; river watercolor painter Hoyt Reel, Possum Point, W.Va.; and photographer Crede Calhoun, Friendsville. Additional river artists and craftsman will also be attending and displaying their work at the opening reception.

"We are all responsible for future generations and the shape of our planet. It all begins with us, and rivers are a vital freshwater source. Free flowing rivers provide valuable opportunities for fishing, boating, and relaxing with the healing sights and sounds of the river environment. The River Art Show's combination of conservation and expression is a great way for people to get involved with important issues, and experience an exciting collection of creativity," Calhoun said.

Persons donating $25 to the WVRC at the gallery opening will receive five free tickets to the Gauley River Festival Raffle, a large raffle of river equipment, clothing, canoes, and kayaks. The prize drawing will be held Sept. 24 and attendance is not required to win. Persons interested in the WVRC may call (800) 747-5899 for more information.

The opening reception on Aug. 19 follows the Friday water release on the Upper Youghiogheny River, so the general public will have a chance to meet the artists and many river people, Calhoun remarked. The exhibit will continue through Sept. 28 and WVRC donations will be accepted throughout the show. Gallery hours are Friday through Monday, noon to 8 p.m. For more information on the Windrush Gallery, persons may call 746-4083.

FAMOUS, FUNCTIONAL FIFTIES FURNITURE

Wartime technology changed the look for furniture in the late 1940s. New materials like fiberglass, acrylics and foam rubber had been developed for weapons, and technological improvements made it possible to join metal, rubber and plastic.

One of the firms that took advantage of the technology was the Herman Miller Co. of Zeeland, Mich., which hired George Nelson and Charles Eames to design furniture. Eames, who made bent plywood for stretchers and splints during the war, designed molded plywood chairs using the same techniques. Fiberglass chairs soon followed.

The '50s look of these pieces of furniture is now back in style with collectors. Modular storage units and storage walls, amoeba-shaped coffee tables and unfamiliar chair shapes are now selling at antique shows. Look in your grandmother's attic, or perhaps her kitchen or living room, and you may find a piece of furniture by a famous designer of the '50s.

Q. How old is the use of pacifiers, rattles and other toys for very young children? I have started collecting the toys that were made to be chewed or sucked by a very young child.

A. Rattles, probably dry seed pods or pebble-filled balls were used in ancient times. There are pictures dating back to the 16th century of princes holding silver or gold rattles. In the 18th century more families could afford special toys for children.

A popular rattle at the time was one with coral and bells. The coral part was for teething and was said to protect the child from evil and illness. Teething rings and teething sticks made of mother-of-pearl, ivory, or bone became popular about 1850. Some early rattles also had whistles.

By 1900, silver companies started making cast rattles — hollow, thin metal animals that were lightweight. Celluloid was used for rattles and toys at about the same time and Bakelite plastic soon followed. Tin and other metals also were used. Some of these "old" products are considered unsafe for children.

Pacifiers with rubber nipples, inspired by rubber-topped nursing bottles, came into use in the 1930s. Modern pacifiers with molded handles that look like cartoon figures, especially Mickey Mouse, are already being collected.

Q. My spatterware plate, which has been in the family for more than 100 years, has a strange bird in the center. There is a label on the back that says, "Peahen plate from England."

A. Spatterware was made in Staffordshire, England, for sale in America. The soft paste or creamware dishes were decorated with informal, childlike patterns. The peahen or its mate, the peacock — or a schoolhouse or flower — was pictured in the center of the plate. The plate had a spatterware border of blue, red, yellow or green. It is said that the decorating was done by children, which may explain the naive, simple look of the patterns.

Spatterware has been popular with collectors. An early plate in good condition is worth hundreds of dollars.

SMART THINKING — We only have garbage pickup once a week and like everyone else, I have smelly food scraps. To keep the smell away, I take a plastic three-pound bowl that margarine comes in, line it with a small plastic bag, put scraps in it and store it in the freezer until garbage day. Then I toss it in the garbage can and put the can on the curb. I no longer have to worry about those odors. Annette M., Amenia, N.Y.

CLEAN IT UP — I have a ceramic-top stove in my kitchen which burned on top when I cooked, even though I didn't make spills. We ran out of special stove-top cleaner one day so I dampened the top of the stove, sprinkled on some baking soda and let it stand for about five minutes. I then wet a sponge and wiped up the dark stains without even having to use the plastic scraper.

The next time I cooked, the rice boiled over. It left a brown stain which curled up when it cooled. I simply picked up the curls and wiped the stove top with a damp sponge — no scraping or scrubbing.

I know for certain that baking soda is the only cleaner that will touch my stove again. Harsh chemicals don't have a place in my home. Louise H., Jacksonville, Fla.

Your Health
by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Q. Is weight lifting a dangerous sport for our 15-year-old son?

A. Weight lifting can be an excellent form of exercise when learned and used under proper supervision. Slow, progressive increase of weights is the key to safety.

With proper conditioning and preparation, this, as any other form of exercise, is beneficial.

The possibility of developing a hernia in the groin must be considered by anyone who contemplates this arduous form of exercise. A general physical examination before a weight-lifting program is started is advised. The presence of even a small hernia is one of the reasons weight lifting should not be undertaken.

Q. Is shortness of breath a sign of heart trouble? I am 50 pounds overweight. I can barely breathe if I walk up two flights of stairs.

A. You have virtually made your own diagnosis and probably do not have to look any further for the reason for your shortness of breath.

Anyone would be short of breath if they carried a 50-pound load on their shoulders. The sack of fat you are carrying is distributed to your back, around your heart and lungs, and places a tremendous burden on all the organs of your body.

Since there are so many other causes for shortness of breath, don't you think it's about time that you indulged yourself with a complete physical examination — just to be sure that there are no other reasons for your breathlessness? If there aren't, you will be delighted with your return to better health when you separate yourself from that 50-pound weight.

Q. During a recent electrical storm, my house received a direct hit of lightning which knocked out my phone service, wreaked havoc with certain appliances, such as my stereo, TVs, personal computer and, of all things, automatic garage door opener. Despite having surge protectors, I sustained quite a bit of damage, which I couldn't understand. If these so-called surge protectors don't work, what can I do to protect my things in the future? As it is now, I'm out a nice penny.

A. To begin with, surge protectors are generally very good. However, if the lightning was of considerable voltage, there isn't a surge protector in the world that would protect you. I, too, found this out the hard way. Just be thankful that your house is in one piece. From what I understand of the hit that my house took last year, it could have been a disaster in which I lost everything. It sounds as if you sustained the same type of bolt.

Now that you've replaced your lost or damaged appliances, I suggest you also replace the surge protectors. They are no good since they were zapped out by that lightning and need to be replaced.

When this first happened to me, I figured that it was an act of God, as they say, and my homeowner's insurance wouldn't cover it. However, in checking the policy, I discovered I was wrong. I needed only to pay a $250 deductible for all peril and the rest would be paid by the insurance company.

I suggest you check your own policy to see if you're covered for the losses you sustained. Chances are good that you are. If not, save the receipts for tax purposes. There may be some sort of tax deduction you can take, although I'm not sure. You'd have to consult with your tax preparer or accountant.

State Park Summer Programs

DEEP CREEK LAKE

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), State Forest and Park Service announces activities scheduled at Deep Creek Lake State Park for August 19-25.

There will be a canoe trip on a calm section of the Youghiogheny River on Friday, August 19, at 9 a.m. Reservations are required and there is a fee of $15 which includes all equipment, shuttles to and from the park, and lunch. At 8:30 p.m. there is a welcome campfire and night hike. Persons are to meet at the amphitheater.

There will be a Scavenger Hunt/Nature Hike Saturday, August 20, at 10 a.m. This is a family activity and all ages are encouraged to hike the 1.5-mile loop, rain or shine. In the afternoon children of all ages are invited to meet at the first aid building for some beach activities with the park naturalist. At 8 p.m. there will be a Campfire Program, at the park amphitheater. Ranger Recruit Brian Friend will present a "Scales & Tales" program with live animals. Marshmallows are provided, along with activities and a campfire.

There will be a three-mile hike to the Brant Mine at 10 a.m., Monday, August 22. From 9 a.m. until noon there will be nature crafts at the nature shop.

The basic Junior Ranger scavenger hunt for youth ages 7 to 14 is set for Tuesday, August 23. The fee for this on going program is $5.

There will be a Campfire Program Wednesday, August 24, at 8 p.m. Along with toasting marshmallows, participants will see a slide show about Antarctica.

There will be a Junior Ranger Program for children ages 7 to 14 Thursday, August 26, at 9 a.m.

For more information about these activities, persons may call the park office at 387-5563.

First Financial Corp. Announces Fiscal '94 Results

First Financial Corporation of Western Maryland (Nasdaq:FFWM), the holding company for First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland, has announced that income for the year ended June 30, 1994, before considering the effect of a change in accounting principle, totaled $2.4 million or $ 1.09 per share compared to $2.2 million or $1.02 per share for the year ended June 30, 1993.

Income for the year ended June 30, 1994, after the cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle, increased to $4.1 million or $1.87 per share. The change in accounting principle resulted from the adoption on July 1, 1993 of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes." The cumulative effect of this change was to increase net income for the year ended June 30, 1994 by $1.7 million or $.78 per share. Net interest income increased $633,000 or 5.6% to $11.9 million in fiscal 1994.

According to a company spokesman, the increase in net income before the cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle was primarily attributable to the net reduction of $645,000 in compensation expense related to the company's stock plans. Partially offsetting this reduction was a $430,000 increase in the provision for loan losses during the year ended June 30, 1994. The increase in the provision for loan losses was due to the company's ongoing analysis of its loan portfolio and reflects, in part, growth in the consumer loan portfolio in which the company anticipates it may experience a higher default rate than in its mortgage loan portfolio.

Net income for the quarter ended June 30, 1994 totaled $343,000 or $.16 per share compared to $544,000 or $.25 per share in 1993. Compensation expense increased by $ 153,000 as a result of the impact of a higher stock price on stock appreciation rights previously issued pursuant to the company's Stock Option Incentive Plan. In addition, the provision for loan losses was $87,000 higher due to growth in the consumer loan portfolio as noted above.

The company paid a quarterly cash dividend of $.10 per share on June 30, 1994 to stockholders of record at the close of business June 15, 1994, which, due to the company's 3-for-2 stock split in November 1993, effectively resulted in a 50% increase over the cash dividend level prior to the stock split.

WE HAVE WHAT IT T.A.K.E.S.

TRUST--Our friends and customers have learned that they can rely on us to expertly take care of all their pharmacy health needs.

ACCURACY--It is a pharmacy rule that every prescription must be checked at least twice before it leaves the pharmacy to avoid any chance of error.

KNOWLEDGE--The necessary years of college study and the passing of licensing exams required for every pharmacist.

EXPERIENCE--Is the absolute essential to achieving success in any field. We are proud of what we have learned while operating our pharmacy these many years.

SERVICE--We welcome the opportunity to prove to you that "service" is our motto.

How I had dreaded cleaning the attic! But it was all worth it after I found the picture of Nip and Tuck when they were puppies. I sat down there and then in the cold, dusty room and recalled the day my husband Bob brought them home to our daughter Carol. How she laughed and loved them and flung her arms around both our necks in excited gratitude. How much fun we three had, watching the cunning antics of the canine infants.

Nip is gone now, duly mourned and buried under our apple tree, and Tuck, gray and crotchety, limps if he moves too fast. Carol lives in Cincinnati in a happy home of her own, and I carry roses to the cemetery on the hill.

What a wonderful gift memory is. My days are rich with remembrances of the good life Bob and I had. How glad I am that we shared, not only a home, but also a love for God and His House. Even though I am now lonely, yet I am not alone.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHAT'S THE MEANING OF THIS?
August 21, 1994

Background Scripture:
Deuteronomy 6
Devotional Reading:
Deuteronomy 7:6-9, 12

I don't recall that my children ever asked me why we went to church, had family devotions and celebrated various Christian holidays. But, even if they never ask us, I'm certain most, if not all, children wonder about their family religious life. Why do we do this? What's the meaning of it?

So the writer of Deuteronomy gives clear instructions so that parents will know what to answer, "When your son asks you in time to come, 'What is the meaning of the testimonies and the statutes and the ordinances which the Lord our God has commanded you?' then you shall say to your son, 'We were Pharaoh's slaves in Egypt..." (6:20,21). I've been a guest at several Jewish Seders--the home observance of Passover--and I remember children participating by asking this very question.

Is this just an ancient ritual? No, I think it is also an opportunity for teaching, for passing on the faith from one generation to another. Too often, I'm afraid, our parental religious instruction does not go much beyond telling children what to do and what not to do. We are often remiss in helping our children to understand why.

WHAT GOD HAS DONE

I once heard a little girl ask her father why she had to go to church and the father's reply was: "Because, if you're a member of this family, that's what we do on Sunday mornings." The answer is OK as far as it goes, but it didn't go far enough. What he needed to tell his daughter was why, beyond being a family habit or tradition, "this family" goes to church on a Sunday morning. We need also to tell our children why we pray, read the Bible, and try to live the Christian life. We need to tell and show them what it does for us.

The Hebrew father answered his son's question by telling him what God had done for his people: 'We were Pharaoh's slaves in Egypt; and the Lord brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand; and the Lord showed signs and wonders ...against Egypt and against Pharaoh ...before our eyes..." (6:21,22).

Some of the best religious teaching we can do in our homes is to tell our children what the Lord has done for us, individually and as a people. We don't have to be eloquent or exceptionally wise to tell how God has acted in our own lives. So why is it we so seldom talk about these things?

WHAT GOD WANTS DONE

After telling his son what God has done and will do, he goes on to tell his son what God expects of us: "And the Lord commanded us to do all these statutes..." (6:24). Note that the commandments and statutes come only after the remembrance of what God has done. Living his commandments is our response to what he has done. When our children ask us why must we do this or why we can't do that, "because I say so" isn't nearly as satisfactory as "because we are thankful to the Lord for His goodness to us."

There is another clue in this passage as to what lies behind the commandments and statutes: "And the Lord commanded us to do all these statutes ...for our good always." We frequently have the wrong idea about God's commandments--they are not for the purpose of restricting us per se or to make him feel better, but for our own good. He requires us to do this or not do that because it is for our own well being in the long run. When we break the commandments, ultimately it is ourselves who suffer the most--lying, stealing, adultery, killing, covetousness and so forth. Even dishonoring our parents hurts us even more than it does them--in the long run. Breaking the commandments breaks down our lives and society as well.

That's why we do these things.

COVER STORY

Fox's 'M.A.N.T.I.S.' preys on criminals

BY JEFF PLASS

Carl Lumbly

Powers of darkness, beware.

There's a new crime-fighting force prowling the streets.

That force is the new and improved "M.A.N.T.I.S.," coming to series television Friday, Aug. 26, on Fox.

"M.A.N.T.I.S.," which supposedly stands for Mechanically Augmented Neuro-Transmitter Interactive System, first appeared on American TV as a two-hour movie last January.

The film stars Carl Lumbly as Dr. Miles Hawkins, a paraplegic biophysicist who devises a technologically advanced "exoskeleton."

That suit gives him superhuman strength and infra-red night vision, not to mention the ability to walk.

As M.A.N.T.I.S., Miles patrols the city streets, stopping evil-doers cold with either a paralyzing dart or a dose of nerve-numbing gas.

But fans of the film can look forward to a handful of changes in the series, not the least of which being the "M.A.N.T.I.S." exoskeleton.

Gone is the awkward looking headgear and cheesy black trench coat, replaced by a technically superior wraparound helmet and a muscled, contoured bodysuit.

The show's cast also underwent some streamlining.

"What ultimately shook down," explains Bryce Zabel, the series' executive producer, "is that Carl remains from the pilot and we have a new team around him, which includes Roger Rees (best known as corporate pirate Robin Colcord on "Cheers") playing John Stonebrake."

Another addition to Team M.A.N.T.I.S. is actor Chris Gartin, who plays a bicycle courier on the series.

"We always wanted to have a series that would last a number of years," Zabel states, "so what we've done is given a – more of an inner-core team to M.A.N.T.I.S., so that he has discreet people on his side, but that are not actually in places where they can help him so directly."

Lumbly particularly enjoys the added challenge of portraying a physically handicapped character.

"You see the world from a different point of view in a chair," Lumbly states. "And people see you in a different way.

"When I first began rolling around in my chair, doing research, I was shocked at the looks you get from people, everything from suspicious to outright pity to sort of 'Thank God it's you, not me.' That's interesting to me."

Lumbly also notes that while M.A.N.T.I.S., the costumed crime-fighter, is a superhero in the legitimate, comic book sense, "Miles Hawkins is also a superhero as much because he is taking advantage of the fact that he had to make a certain sacrifice to address the world as it is now."

"In my own feeling," Lumbly continues, "Miles Hawkins is in the tradition of a number of black superheroes who have been in our world from the time black people touched down on these shores.

"People who simply have sacrificed something for their community. People who have set their own lives aside on a certain level to make it better for everyone."

IN FOCUS

Academy Award winner Brenda Fricker ("My Left Foot") stars as Sister Agnes, the flinty mistress of novices, in "Brides of Christ," a three-part miniseries from Australia repeating Sunday through Tuesday, Aug. 21-23, on A&E.

The six-hour drama focuses on nuns, novices and students in an Australian convent during the 1960s, a tumultuous period that radically changed the Roman Catholic Church. The radiant Josephine Byrnes co-stars as Sister Catherine.

Will 'So-Called Life' prove too good for TV?

BY JOHN CROOK

"My So-Called Life," the new drama series that premieres Thursday, Aug. 25, on ABC, is so bold and original that it may be doomed.

The TV landscape is littered with the remains of series that were, in the patronizing words of some critics, just too good for TV. "I'll Fly Away." "Bakersfield P.D." "A Year in the Life." The list goes on.

Only time will tell whether this exceptional new drama from the producers of "thirtysomething" can catch on with Middle America. Certainly the creative team isn't making any compromises in that direction.

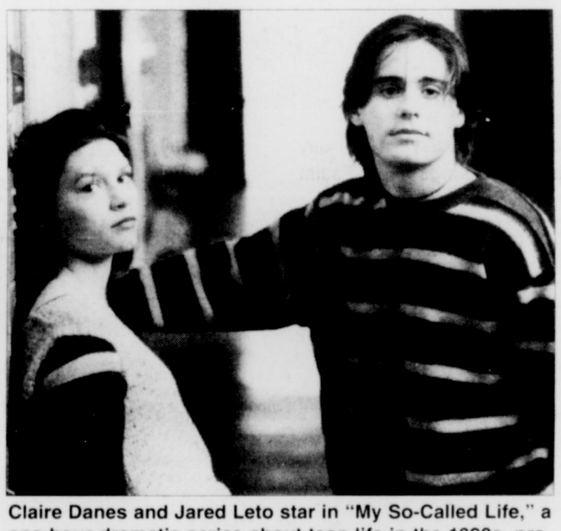
"My So-Called Life" looks at the world through the eyes of 15-year-old Angela Chase (Claire Danes), a pretty but fragile high school student trying to cope with adolescence. At school she gets pulled into scrapes by her new best friend Rayanne Graff (A.J. Langer) and her maybe-bisexual sidekick, Rickie Vasquez (Wilson Cruz), while pining unrequitedly over older hunk Jordan Catalano (Jared Leto).

Things are not promising on the homefront either, as Angela finds herself constantly at odds with her mother, Patty (Bess Armstrong), and begins to suspect that her father, Graham (Tom Irwin), may be having an affair.

Newcomer Danes is remarkable in the primary role, and producer Ed Zwick rightly credits her with bringing life to the project.

"I think had we not found Claire, we probably wouldn't have proceeded," he says.

"I'm in the midst of adolescence, so it's not a fun time," Danes says. "I think inevitably (the show) mirrors what I'm going through. I think it's very real."



Claire Danes and Jared Leto star in "My So-Called Life," a one-hour dramatic series about teen life in the 1990s, premiering Thursday on ABC.

TV PIPELINE

BY TAYLOR MICHAELS

Matthew Broderick

Q: What is Matthew Broderick's age and marital status? Which of his movies are on video? Where can I write to him? –L.J. Chamberlain, Lehigh Acres, Fla.

A: Broderick, 32, is seriously involved with actress Sarah Jessica Parker. His newest project is "Mrs. Parker" for director Alan Rudolph, and he provided the voice of the adult Simba in the Disney smash "The Lion King." He has far too many films on video to list them all here, but major titles include "Biloxi Blues," "Ferris Bueller's Day Off," "Torch Song Trilogy," "Glory," "Project X" and "Wargames." Write to him C/O CAA, 9830 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Q: Can you tell me where I can write to Lee Majors and John Schneider? –Chett Hodges, Portal, Ga.

A: I'll give it a shot, Chett. Actors change their management agencies from time to time, but the last address I have for both Lee and John is the same: C/O The William Morris Agency, 151 El Camino Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Good luck.

Q: Can you give me the address for The Nashville Network? –L. McCauley, Ontario, Ore.

A: TNN, 2806 Opryland Drive, Nashville, Tenn. 37214.

Q: What is Richard Chamberlain doing now? Where can I write to him? How did Henry Mancini die? How old was he? –J.S., Fort Madison, Iowa.

A: Chamberlain is resting following a lengthy tour and Broadway stint in a revival of "My Fair Lady." He vows that he will have nothing to do with the "Thorn Birds" sequel now in the works. Write to him C/O ICM, 8942 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90211. Mancini died of cancer at age 70.

CORRECTION: Beverlee McKinsey, the gifted and immensely popular daytime actress who played Alexandra Spaulding for many years on "The Guiding Light," recently wrote to set the record straight on why she left the soap. Long workdays, not health problems as reported here several months ago, were behind her departure. "In the summer of 1991 our workday expanded," she said. "We started at our usual 7 a.m., but instead of finishing around 8:30 p.m., we often went to 10 p.m. and sometimes midnight. I tried the new schedule for a year, but found it exhausting. After 30 years of working in the theater and on television, I felt it was time to stop for a while. I would work again if something else came along where the hours were reasonable." Any producer in his or her right mind should get on the phone. Now.

Wesley Snipes, along with Sean Connery, stars as a detective sent to investigate the murder of a prostitute in the boardroom of a Japanese-owned corporation, in "Rising Sun," Tuesday, Aug. 23 on Cinemax.

The thriller, based on Michael Crichton's best-seller of the same name, was the target of demonstrators who accused the movie of Japan-bashing before its 1993 premiere.

The cast also includes Tia Carrere ("True Lies") and Harvey Keitel ("The Piano").

TIME OUT

Fox's Long adjusts to life after the NFL

BY JEFF PLASS

Howie Long

When many professional athletes retire after a long and fruitful career, life becomes a series of adjustments.

But for former All-Pro Los Angeles Raiders defensive end and current Fox studio commentator Howie Long, things haven't been that complicated.

"The biggest adjustment for me," Long begins, "is probably whether or not to go with the two-thirds caffeinated to the one-third decaf in the morning. I don't want to strain myself out too much with the coffee. I'm on my third cup now and, yeah, I've got my motor running this morning."

Long, who will be in the Fox football studio on Saturday, Aug. 27, for the preseason game between the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears, is enjoying his first summer vacation in almost two decades.

"I came up here in Montana just to disappear this summer," Long states, "to get my first summer in 19 years with my family. And we have thoroughly enjoyed it."

And of his new career, Long says, "The big thing for me to avoid is cross-scheduling. I need to handle that a little better. But other than that, it's been a smooth adjustment, and I'm enjoying life after football, I really am."

Long sees Saturday's matchup between the Bears and Giants as a meeting of two teams that are actually much better than they look on paper.

Both teams have undergone major overhauling in the wake of the league's new salary cap and free agency policy.

"They (the Bears) lost (quarterback) Jim Harbaugh," Long says, "but I don't think they lose much in replacing him with Erik Kramer. He has a quick release, he's not the biggest guy in the world, but he can get it done."

The Giants also are adjusting to a new quarterback situation, following the off-season sacking of veteran QB Phil Simms, who was coming off shoulder surgery.

"From what I'm hearing out of New York," Long states, "Phil hadn't recovered from his injury and was having problems throwing the ball. And he was scheduled to make $2.25 million (this season).

"Last year or the year before, they would've waited to see how Phil Simms was, but you can't take that kind of a chance today, given the cap parameters.

"If you take a chance on Phil and he can't throw," Long concludes, "you're stuck with $2.25 million worth of player that can't play."

MOVIE MARQUEE

Cultures clash in PBS bio 'Long Shadows'

BY JOHN HARMON

Fumi Dan

Haru Reischauer spent her life performing a cultural balancing act.

The Japanese-born wife of Edwin Reischauer, former U.S. ambassador to Japan, is the subject of PBS' "Long Shadows," an "American Playhouse" presentation airing Wednesday, Aug. 24 (check local listings).

The film begins in 1990 as the widowed Haru (Fumi Dan) prepares to have her husband Edwin's (Matt Frewer) ashes strewn across the ocean in front of her home.

Her mind is filled with images of the past and what follows is a chronicle of her life in flashback, a life spent trying to find the perfect balance between two very different and distinct cultures.

The pervasive theme of the film is that of Haru's struggle with alienation and estrangement. After spending time in an American school in Tokyo, Haru's parents send her to college in the United States. Even in her teen years, Haru realizes she will have difficulty preparing for a traditional life in Japanese society because of her Westernized upbringing.

Other flashback clips deal with Haru's involvement in a doomed relationship with an American journalist in the political and social post-war turmoil in Japan.

At the age of 41, Haru marries Edwin, a Harvard professor who was raised in Japan by American parents. She vigorously accepts the challenge of life in America, but her attempts at assimilation are constantly hampered.

When Edwin is appointed ambassador to Japan, Haru is apprehensive about moving back to her homeland. But she soon finds her voice when she becomes involved in the political arena, working on women's rights and American-Japanese relations.

"Shadows" is a well-acted, inspiring portrayal of a woman's determined efforts to be accepted and respected as an ambassador of goodwill.

Other TV movies this week include the two-part drama "And the Sea Will Tell," airing Sunday, Aug. 21, and Tuesday, Aug. 23, on CBS. Rachel Ward and Richard Crenna star in this film about a sensational trial that follows a South Pacific double murder.

Also on Sunday, ABC airs "The Woman Who Sinned," starring Susan Lucci. "Father & Son: Dangerous Relations" stars Louis Gossett Jr. and Rae Dawn Chong on NBC.

In "Final Appeal," airing on NBC Monday, Aug. 22, an alcoholic lawyer defends his sister in a murder case.

CABLE OVERVIEW

Julie Brown takes aim at Tonya and Lorena

BY JOHN CROOK

Julie Brown

It took no less an imp than Julie Brown to take Madonna down a peg or two in "Medusa: Dare to Be Truthful."

The award-winning comic returns to the scene of that crime – Showtime – on Sunday, Aug. 21, in "National Lampoon's Attack of the 5'2" Women."

"Attack," a self-contained double-bill, is comprised of "Tonya: The Battle of Wounded Knee," a spoof of the Tonya Harding-Nancy Kerrigan fracas, and "He Never Give Me Orgasm: The Lenora Babbitt Story," based on those matrimonial cut-ups Wayne and Lorena Bobbitt.

A more tasteful note – several of them, in fact – is sounded in "Barbra Streisand the Concert," a tape of one of the singer's first public singing tours in more than two decades. It airs on HBO Sunday.

"Into Africa" kicks off a new season of "National Geographic Explorer" Sunday on TBS. One segment, "Lions of Darkness," uses pioneering lighting techniques to follow lions at night in a Botswana National Park. The film concludes next week.

Academy Award winner Brenda Fricker is featured in the formidable cast of "Brides of Christ," a miniseries about an Australian convent wracked by the changes of Vatican II. It airs Sunday through Tuesday, Aug. 23, on A&E.

CNN news anchor Susan Rook is host of "TalkBack Live," described as an interactive town meeting that originates from a newly renovated state-of-the-art amphitheater and control room in Atlanta. The hour-long show, which premieres Monday, airs weekdays on CNN.

All 35 episodes of the acclaimed comedy-drama series "Brooklyn Bridge" begin a weekday run Monday on Bravo as part of the cable channel's "TV Too Good for TV" showcase.

Journalism professors warn their students about plagiarism and libel, but almost invariably they neglect to advise what to do if you're seduced by a small-town sorcerer while working on a magazine story. That's Suzanne Somers' plight in "Seduced by Evil," a TV movie premiering Thursday, Aug. 25, on USA Network.

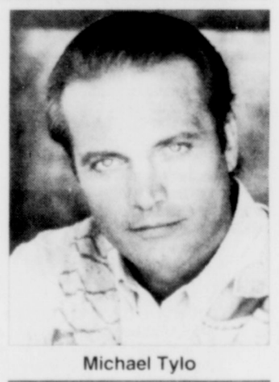
A 2,500-year-old tome, "The Art of War," is the topic of The Learning Channel's "Great Books" series on Saturday, Aug. 27.

Fay Wray and Bruce Cabot star in 1933's fantasy "King Kong," Saturday on American Movie Classics.

SOAP TALK

Michael Tylo tells sad family saga

BY CANDACE HAVENS



Michael Tylo

Dear Candace: Could you please tell me what is going on with the marriage of Hunter and Michael Tylo? A friend of mine told me that Hunter was divorcing Michael because he had cancer. Surely she cannot be that cruel. Do you know what happened? –Sheryl in Missouri.

Dear Reader: There has been a great deal of rumor and innuendo surrounding the breakup of one of daytime's most popular real-life couples, Hunter (Taylor, "The Bold and the Beautiful") and Michael Tylo (Blade, "The Young and the Restless"). At this time the Tylos are separated and have filed for divorce. There has been a terrible battle for custody of their children, and that is why the following statement was released by Michael to explain the situation:

"As much as I loathe making my private life public, I am forced to come forward in order to protect my children and lay rumors to rest. While building my wife, Hunter, her dream home in Nevada, I applied for more insurance, and being over 40, a standard physical, including blood tests, was required," Michael says. "The blood work turned up what appeared to be a condition called myelo fibrosis, which is a high white cell count. This condition could lead to lymphoma or leukemia. I underwent numerous and rigorous tests, and I was relieved to discover that I am not suffering from any illness.

"Hunter Tylo and I were married on July 7, 1987. I had fully intended to spend the rest of my life with her. In March of this year, Hunter, while on location in India for a miniseries, went shopping for wedding rings for a ceremony in which we planned to renew our vows to commemorate our seventh wedding anniversary. Two days later, Hunter called to tell me that she wasn't sure she could give me the love I needed, and later that week, she asked me for a divorce.

"Later on, she called and wished our youngest son happy birthday, at which time she told me to file for legal separation, but she agreed to go to family counseling.

"I would like to thank Hunter's family, my family and my children for being supportive of my role as primary custodian of our children. They are my sole and primary purpose in divulging this deeply embarrassing and hurtful saga in our lives."

Glimpse Of The Past . . .

A $500 RAM from the Truesdale Farm near Deer Park is pictured here as it was being auctioned off at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago in 1908. The owner of the farm was Col. George Truesdale, who served in the Union Army during the Civil War. He was known for raising a superior breed of sheep, which were shipped to breeders as far away as South Africa. The Truesdell Home for Senior Citizens was named for the Truesdale family, although it is unknown as to why the name was changed. The gentleman holding the ram in the above photo is Robert Thrasher, a resident of Deer Park who worked for Col. Truesdale and lived well into his 90s before his death in the mid-1980s. It is unlikely that such an animal will be shown at this week's Garrett County Fair since the breed probably no longer exists. This photo is on file at the Garrett County Historical Museum and is published here courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican.

working deep into the night, not for personal gain, but to improve something the community needs. Numerous homemakers volunteer time and talents to make the Home/Arts Building the showplace it is. Excellent cooperation between all involved people shows Garrett County at its best. Do not have your visit your fair visit spoiled; plan ahead and stop at the Extension Homemakers Booth to say "Hi," ask a question and see their demonstrations.

Eastern Garrett Fire Auxiliary Holds Meeting

Fourteen members of the Eastern Garrett Fire Company Auxiliary met recently in the fire hall community building.

During the meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lotz reported on a prayer breakfast they had attended recently at Mt. Savage. The auxiliary also made plans for a car show to be held Aug. 21 at the Route 40 School. The show will be organized by Lori Opel, Donna Werner, and Jean Raley. A hoagie sale will be held Sept. 13 at the fire hall.

In other business, Christy Bunnell was added to the auxiliary roll as a new member.

It was also announced that the Northern High School class reunion will be held Aug. 20 at the fire hall. Auxiliary members were reminded that cakes are needed for this event.

In other business, Rose Opel was nominated by the group to enter the Garrett County Fire Lady Contest.

Nazarene Pastor Offers Counseling

Rev. Bruce Knorpp, pastor of the Oakland Church of the Nazarene, offers a free counseling ministry he calls Abounding Hope, and during the month of August the program is reaching out specifically to victims of marital conflict.

Persons desiring to set up an appointment with Rev. Knorpp for confidential conversation and prayer may contact him at 334-9161. The number is served by an answering machine in his absence.

Maryland With Pride

IRS Diesel Fuel Inspectors Working On State Roadways

The Internal Revenue Service now has specially trained diesel fuel inspectors (DFI's) on Maryland and District of Columbia roadways to ensure that diesel fuel distributors and users pay federal and state excise taxes on diesel fuel.

The inspectors have the authority to check fuel terminals and storage facilities, retail facilities, and construction and mining sites to help detect violations. They can also stop, detain, and inspect vehicles on the road, or establish inspection sites in any location.

These latest efforts, to improve compliance with the payment of diesel fuel taxes, were generated by a change in the tax laws that became effective Jan. 1, 1994. Fuel destined for nontaxable purposes, such as farming, is dyed red when removed from a terminal rack or refinery, when it breaks from the bulk transfer system, or when it enters the United States. The dyed fuel will help IRS agents distinguish tax-exempt fuel from taxable fuel enabling the agency to better enforce excise tax reporting and payment requirements.

The roadway inspections are another phase of IRS efforts to improve the collection of excise taxes. The change in law resulted from investigations which uncovered individuals who were involved in diesel fuel schemes intended to defraud the U.S. Treasury out of millions of dollars in federal excise taxes. The IRS is confident that the DFI program will significantly reduce the tax evasion that has been prevalent in the diesel fuel tax area.

MAKE FAIR TIME A HAPPY TIME

I love being at the Fair, meeting the many people and seeing the exhibits and animals. I am always a little sad when I see impatient parents dragging fired children along at too hurried a pace or children running wild with the tired parent unable to keep up.

There is a happy middle way that can keep both adults and youngsters happy, even though tired. Planning ahead and discussing anticipated problems is the way to go. Both parent and child must know what to expect from themselves and each other. If the child is old enough to understand, discuss the upcoming day at the fair. Everyone should have a chance to learn something new and do something just to have fund. Equip the child with name, address and telephone number. Teach your offspring what to do if he/she gets lost and not to go with strangers. Use a baby leash for extra security, practice at home to get the child used to it. Get enough rest, have children nap, eat a healthy meal before you enter the fairgrounds. This preparation helps prevent upset stomachs and grouchy moods in everyone.

Children can be hyperactive with so many things going on, so many peoples milling around and so much noise. Take time out to sit in the grass, read, talk and play with the child. See the animals between rides. Do not always expect the child to be interested in the same things you are. Bring a babysitter or older child along who can stay with the little ones while you do something else. Dress comfortably (especially footwear) and use protection from the sun.

If inadequate discipline is practiced at home, a child cannot be expected to behave better at the fair. If a child is old enough to tag along with others, always know who she/he is with, where they are, possibly have them check-in with you periodically.

At a fair you see the heartbeat of a county. Exhibits vying for awards, excellence in animal showmanship, organizations

Savor a Sunday Morning

Savor your Sunday mornings by including these simple-to-make recipes in your brunch menu: (clockwise starting in lower left corner) Biscuit Sausage Quiche, Nutty Sour Cream Orange Muffins, Dilly Cheese Ring and Cinnamon Streusel Brunch Loaf.

How do you like to savor your Sunday mornings? Maybe it's time spent with family enjoying a favorite activity followed by a hearty sausage-and-eggs brunch. Or perhaps your perfect Sunday morning is a gathering of friends for good food and fun.

However you like to savor a Sunday, it probably doesn't involve a lot of time spent in the kitchen. And today there are lots of great ways to streamline preparation without shortchanging yourself on the traditional quality and good taste you want. Convenience products, like quick bread mixes, allow you to have home-baked goodies in less time than it takes most of us to run to the bakery. And with refrigerated biscuits, you can make main dishes, sweet and savory breads, desserts and more in record time.

For example, the ever-popular sausage-and-eggs combo turns into a simple-to-make quiche using the giant-sized refrigerated buttermilk biscuits as an easy, no-roll crust. With flaky refrigerated biscuits, you can create savory Dilly Cheese Ring that assembles in a snap yet looks company-pretty.

When you want a sweet addition for your brunch, choose a fruit- or nut-flavored quick bread. Nutty Sour Cream Orange Muffins and Cinnamon Streusel Brunch Loaf, both starting with quick bread mixes, are good mates for egg main dishes or with coffee for dessert.

Take advantage of the do-ahead features that make these recipes even more convenient to prepare and serve. Also, try out the easy brunch ideas included here. They're all designed to help you savor your Sunday mornings.

Dilly Cheese Ring

For a fresh-as-springtime taste, serve this quick and easy bread with the tantalizing scent and taste of dill.

- 1/4 cup margarine or butter, melted
- 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese
- 1 teaspoon dill weed
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- 2 (10-oz.) cans Hungry Jack Refrigerated Flaky Biscuits

Heat oven to 350°F. In small bowl, combine margarine, cheese, dill weed and garlic powder.

Separate each can of dough into 10 biscuits. Cut each biscuit in half and randomly place 20 pieces in ungreased fluted tube pan. Spoon half of cheese mixture over top. Repeat layers with remaining 20 biscuit halves and cheese mixture. Bake at 350°F. for 20 to 30 minutes or until golden brown. Cool 1 minute; remove from pan. Serve warm. 10 servings.

Nutty Sour Cream Orange Muffins

Prepare these on Saturday to serve with your favorite egg dish and fresh fruit for an easy Sunday brunch. Brush muffins with marmalade just before serving.

- 1 pkg. Pillsbury Nut Quick Bread Mix
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2/3 cup dairy sour cream
- 2 teaspoons grated orange peel
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup sliced almonds
- 3 tablespoons orange marmalade, warmed

Heat oven to 400°F. Line 12 muffin cups with paper liners or grease 12 muffin cups. In large bowl, combine mix, orange juice, sour cream, orange peel and egg. Stir 50 to 75 strokes by hand or until mix is moistened. Spoon batter into lined muffin cups. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake at 400°F. for 18 to 23 minutes or until golden brown. Cool 5 minutes; remove from pan. Serve warm or cool. Just before serving, brush with warm marmalade. 12 muffins.

HIGH ALTITUDE—Above 3500 Feet: Add 1 tablespoon flour to muffin ingredients. 14 muffins.

Biscuit Sausage Quiche

Streamline morning preparation by browning the sausage and beating the eggs the night before. Refrigerate overnight and assemble the dish quickly on Sunday morning. It will be ready to bake in just minutes.

- 1 lb. turkey breakfast sausage
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped green bell pepper
- 10 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1 (17.3-oz.) can Pillsbury Grands! Refrigerated Buttermilk Biscuits

Heat oven to 375°F. In large skillet, brown sausage, onion and green pepper; drain well. Combine eggs, cheese and sausage mixture. Separate dough into 8 biscuits. Press biscuits into bottom of 13x9-inch baking dish. Pour sausage mixture into biscuit-lined pan.

Bake at 375°F. for 30 to 35 minutes or until quiche is set and crust is deep golden brown. Cool 5 minutes before serving. 8 servings.

Cinnamon Streusel Brunch Loaf

Start a family tradition—serve delicious quick bread like this on Sunday morning for a special treat.

BREAD
- 1 pkg. Pillsbury Banana Quick Bread Mix
- 2/3 cup water
- 3 tablespoons oil
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

STREUSEL
- 1/3 cup finely chopped pecans
- 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon butter

GLAZE
- 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 to 3 teaspoons milk

Heat oven to 350°F. Grease and flour bottom only of 8x4 or 9x5-inch loaf pan. In large bowl, combine all bread ingredients; stir 50 to 75 strokes by hand until mix is moistened. Pour batter into greased and floured pan. In small bowl, mix all streusel ingredients with fork until crumbly. Sprinkle evenly over batter.

Bake at 350°F. for 50 to 60 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 15 minutes; remove from pan. Cool completely.

In small bowl, combine all glaze ingredients. Stir together by hand until of drizzling consistency. Drizzle over loaf. 1 (12-slice) loaf.

HIGH ALTITUDE—Above 3500 Feet: Add 1 tablespoon flour to bread ingredients. Bake at 375°F. for 40 to 50 minutes.

Sunday Brunch Made Easier

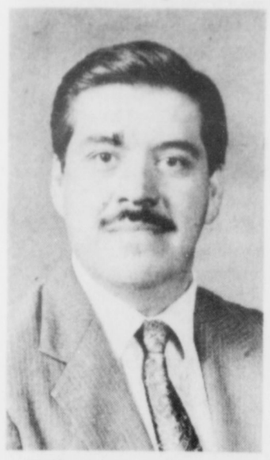
To transform your Sunday morning meal into a special occasion brunch...

- Set the table with pretty placemats and fresh flowers.
- Improvise a centerpiece by gathering a napkin around a flowering plant. Secure the napkin in place with a ribbon.
- Dress up your serving dishes with daisies, pansies, violets or violas that are edible as well as attractive.

To make sure you have time to savor your Sunday morning...

- Make muffins ahead of time, cool them to room temperature and arrange on a tray. Wrap the tray securely and freeze. Once the muffins have frozen, transfer them to a plastic freezer bag for more compact freezer storage. To thaw, simply remove muffins from bag and set on the kitchen countertop; warm in the microwave or conventional oven, if desired.
- Create simple-to-make sweet rolls by separating flaky refrigerated biscuits into two layers. Place a small cube of cream cheese or a sweet filling between the layers and press the biscuit edges together to seal. Dip the rolls in margarine or butter and roll in sugar. Bake at 375°F. for 10 to 15 minutes, until golden brown.
- Bake quick bread loaves the day before—they'll stay moist and delicious. After baking, wrap loaves securely.
- Assemble bread recipes using refrigerated biscuits, such as Dilly Cheese Ring, up to two hours in advance. Cover and refrigerate until ready to bake.

Local Evangelist Attends Conference



A local evangelist attended the historic North American Conference for Itinerant Evangelists (NACIE 94) that was held recently at the commonwealth Convention Center in Louisville, Ky.

Michael Cogley, an Assemblies of God Evangelist from Oakland, pictured above, was among the 2,500 delegates from 49 states and nine Canadian provinces, representing 85 denominations from North America, especially invited to attend the landmark conference, which includes speakers Billy Graham and former Nixon aide Charles Colson.

The conference was sponsored by the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, as well as 40 denominations and fellowships including the Fellowship of Canadian Evangelists and the Institute of Evangelism at Wheaton College. Other speakers were: Dr. Luis Palau, Joni Eareckson Tada, a paraplegic who works with the disabled, Tom Claus, a Mohawk Indian leader, who spoke about reaching Native North Americans, and Carl Ellis Jr., who spoke about "The Black Muslim Challenge to Evangelism."

Dr. Sterling Huston, chair for NACIE 94, summarized that the purpose of conference is "to encourage, equip and strengthen the North American itinerant evangelist and his spouse and meet their most pressing needs."

NACIE 94 also emphasized ways in which evangelists could continue to effectively communicate their message in the future amid the increasing challenges of presenting the Gospel in a pluralistic society. This would require smaller, more innovative and creative meetings incorporating available technology, cross-cultural communications, increased use of lay people and other contemporary methods.

The Billy Graham Evangelistic Association has previously sponsored conferences for itinerant evangelists in Amsterdam, The Netherlands, in 1983 and 1986. Argentine-born Luis Palau said, "What Amsterdam did for evangelists around the world in 1983 and 1986, the North American Conference can do for evangelism from this continent. This week of prayer and training will unite our hearts and minds together for the future."

Tom Phillips, program director of NACIE 94, described the conference as a "thrilling adventure," and went on to add, "With over 2,500 evangelists and spouses gathered, this has been a tremendous opportunity for fellowship and networking. Competitive barriers have been broken; North American Evangelism will never be the same."

Broadwaters Meet In Grantsville

The 85th annual Broadwater Reunion was held August 7, at the Grantsville Community Park. Approximately 200 friends and relatives were in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wagner, Friendsville, entertained with clog dancing, as Grover Broadwater and his musicians provided music. Howard Broadwater gave a brief speech and made introductions. Thelma Bittinger, Loretta Hummel, Edna Clark, and Lilly Broadwater sang, and Thelma Bittinger recited poetry.

A concession stand was provided by Al Custer. A pinata was donated by Margie Garlitz, who was in charge of children's games. She was assisted by Greg Tirado.

Marvin Broadwater, president, presented gifts to: Darius Bittinger, 85, oldest man, Grantsville; Mae Whiteman, 83, oldest lady, Lonaconing; Tyler D. Stullenbarger, 9 months, youngest baby, son of Allen and Misty Stullenbarger, Lonaconing; Ray and Jan Broadwater, newlyweds for one month, Oakland; Floyd and Ruby Gattens, married the longest, 59 years, Barton; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Bishoff, Loxahatchee, Fla., traveling the farthest; and for largest family present, Brenda Hopkins, Alexandria, Va., with five children present. The Grand Prize was won by Owen Broadwater, LaPlata. A wallhanging/towel/potholder set donated by Judy E. Broadwater was won by Siddy Broadwater, LaVale.

Freda Broadwater, treasurer, was in charge of gifts. Judy and Russell Broadwater, secretaries, registered the guests.

The 1995 reunion will be held the first Sunday in August at the same location.

Class On Training Of Child Care Workers Slated

A class at Garrett Community College titled "Training of Child Care Workers" is scheduled to begin September 7. This 90-hour course is designed to meet state regulations and will prepare individuals as day care or Head Start child workers.

The class will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays through December 12 from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m. (excluding November 23) and will include two Saturdays, October 29 and November 19, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The class is limited to 20 participants and will be taught by Tiddle Weaver.

The training will focus on the basic growth and development of young children, planning programming to assure positive child care experiences, and discipline and working effectively with children and parents in licensed day care settings. A certificate will be awarded upon successful completion of the course.

All classes will be held at the McHenry Campus of GCC. Anyone needing additional information should call Sandy Major or Ruth Pinter at 387-3080.

Registration for this class can be made through the Continuing Education Office at GCC.

B&L EMPLOYEES HONORED - Vesta Gank and Dennis Fike, pictured above, have been named employees of the month for July at the Bausch & Lomb plant, Oakland. Gank has been with B&L since 1978 and has had perfect attendance for the past four years. She has held several jobs in eight different departments and currently holds the position of training coordinator. Gank has two daughters and resides in Aurora, W.Va. Fike has worked at the plant since it opened 23 years ago and has worked as set-up, mechanic, and group leader. He currently serves as a continuous flow manufacturing technician. Dennis is married to Betty Fike and has two sons and four grandchildren.

Hafer, Edwards Will Meet With Mayors, Councils

State Senator John J. Hafer and Delegate George C. Edwards will be meeting with the mayors and town councils of the various county municipalities during the months of September and October.

The legislators will be available at the meetings to answer questions and discuss issues pertaining to state agencies and legislative matters. All citizens are invited to attend and participate in the discussions.

The schedule for the meetings is as follows: Tuesday, Sept. 6, 7 p.m., Oakland Town Hall; 8 p.m., Accident Town Hall; Monday, Sept. 19, 7 p.m., Grantsville Town Hall; Tuesday, Oct. 18, 8 p.m., Friendsville Municipal Building; Monday, Oct. 24, 7 p.m., Kitzmiller town meeting; and Tuesday, Oct. 25, 5-6 p.m., regional meeting for Mtn. Lake Park, Deer Park, and Loch Lynn at Mtn. Lake Park Town Hall.

Open House And Kickoff Slated At Salem Trust

The Maryland Salem Children's Trust will open its doors to the community Sunday, August 21, for its annual Open House and the kick-off of the 5-For-Kids Project. Scheduled for 2 to 5 p.m., the Open House will feature a program from 2 to 2:30 p.m. and horseback riding demonstration from 2:45 to 3:15 p.m. Tours and refreshments will be available from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

The Maryland Salem Children's Trust and MARFY (The Maryland Association of Resources and Families for Youth) are sponsoring the 1994 5-For-Kids Project. Senator John Hafer is the honorary chairperson for the project. This five-day event involves 10 volunteers who will ride their bicycles across the state of Maryland, from Garrett County to the Eastern Shore, to dramatize the plight of the 12,000 children in Maryland who cannot live at home, due to abandonment, neglect, or emotional, physical or sexual abuse. The event will seek to raise funds for Salem and other programs serving children in need. The riders will leave Salem at 8 a.m. on Monday, August 22.

The Maryland Salem Children's Trust is located along Lower New Germany Road in Garrett County. It provides a Christian home and care for 36 children between the ages of 6 and 18. Currently, Salem has five homes for children, plus a grandparent's home and a special education school.

For further information, persons may call Salem at (301) 689-8176.

CELEBRATING THE 15TH ANNIVERSARY of their drum and bagpipe corps' founding are the members of the Garrett Community College Pipes and Drums, who will hold a private concert and picnic at the Deep Creek Yacht Club this Sunday, Aug. 21. The band, originally known as the Garrett Highlanders, was founded by Charles P. Evans and Fred A. Thayer. See story.

GCC Pipes And Drums Observing 15th Anniversary

Garrett Community College Pipes and Drums will celebrate the 15th anniversary of its founding on August 21 with a concert and picnic at the Deep Creek Yacht Club.

The band, which began in August 1979 as the "Garrett Highlanders," was organized by Charles P. "Chip" Evans and Fred A. Thayer. A class of eight students started the course of instruction at Garrett Community College, Oakland Center. A member of the first class was the Rev. John A. Grant, who continues as a member of the band and is pipe sergeant. Thayer serves as pipe major and instructor.

The band's first public performance was at Wisp's Summerfest in July 1980. Public performances, approximately 20 per year, have continued since that time and have included an appearance at Rocky Gap State Park in 1988 to introduce Gov. William Donald Schaefer at the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra's Western Maryland Concert. The band was officially adopted by Garrett Community College in 1989 and is currently sponsored by the college. The Garrett Arts Council also supports the band through a grant from the Maryland Arts Council. Westvaco Corporation has also been a sponsor.

In 1989, the band led the dignitaries, both local and international, at the World Whitewater Championship opening ceremonies at Frostburg State University. It has served as host band for the games at McHenry Scottish Festival for the past seven years. The band has regularly participated in the Christmas Walk in Oldtown, Alexandria, Va., and was seen on international television last year as the feature of that parade. The Maryland Magazine, Summer 1993 issue, cover story featured the Garrett Community College Pipes and Drums in an article entitled "Oatmeal Warriors."

Formal instruction in piping and drumming is offered on the McHenry Campus of Garrett Community College in a curriculum designed by P/M Thayer (who currently serves as Chief Judge of Maryland's Fourth Judicial Circuit). All interested people are encouraged to join in instruction and/or the band.

The band roster presently includes: J.E. Beard, Jerry Browning, Paul Browning, Jim Callis, John Carlisle, Diana Cropp, Harry Dunkin, Cecil Glotfelty, Roselle Gow, Scribe; John Grant, P/Sgt.; Dwight Jeffrey, Virginia Jeffrey, Ron McKay, Ann Morris, Paul Shogren, Fred Thayer, P/M; and John Wolfe, D/Sgt. Each member of the band wears his or her own family tartan in formal performances.

The band is available for public performances, parades, or other functions either as a group, or in solo, duet, or other configuration by calling GCC or P/M Thayer.

Old-Time Music Fest Slated At New Germany

An Old-Time Music Fest will be held Saturday, Aug. 27, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the recreational hall of New Germany State Park near Grantsville.

"Jamming" will begin at 10 a.m. and the following performances are scheduled throughout the day.

12:30 p.m. - Performance by Garrett County's own "Hammers & Strings."

1 p.m. - Fiddle performance by Grover Broadwater of LaVale.

2 p.m. - Concert by the Ebenezer String Band of Wallace, W.Va.

3:15 p.m. - Keith Young and Neal Walters of the Mill Run Band.

4 p.m. - Performance by the Roulette Quartet.

Open Stage will start at 1 p.m. and continue between performances. The Richard Eddy Family, Terry Schmacher, and other artists will also perform during the afternoon. Food and beverages will be available and spectators should bring lawn chairs.

This event is sponsored by Hammers & Strings and the Dulcettes and Company, Oakland, and funded in part by Manor Home Center, Mtn. Lake Park, and the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council. For more information, persons may call (301) 334-4468 or the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council at (301) 334-1948.

NOTICE

Due to the opening of the new Garrett County landfill, the Town of Oakland must modify its "Friday Bulk Pick-up" procedures. Effective immediately, the following regulations will apply:

1. All brush must be tied in bundles, which must be no longer than 4 feet in length, and must not weigh more than 35 pounds each. More than 5 bundles will not be picked up.

2. All loose items such as small sticks, rocks, grass clippings, etc., will have to be boxed or bagged.

3. Charges will be assessed for the following items: Refrigerators/freezers-$15.00, small tires - $3.00, mattresses and other household items such as chairs and sofas - $5.00, and washers/dryers - $10.00. Other large miscellaneous items will be assessed according to size and weight. Payment for pick-up of these items must be paid for in advance at Oakland City Hall.

4. Bulk pick-up will not be done after October 28, 1994, and will resume May of 1995.

Questions should be directed to the Oakland Street Department at (301) 334-3253.

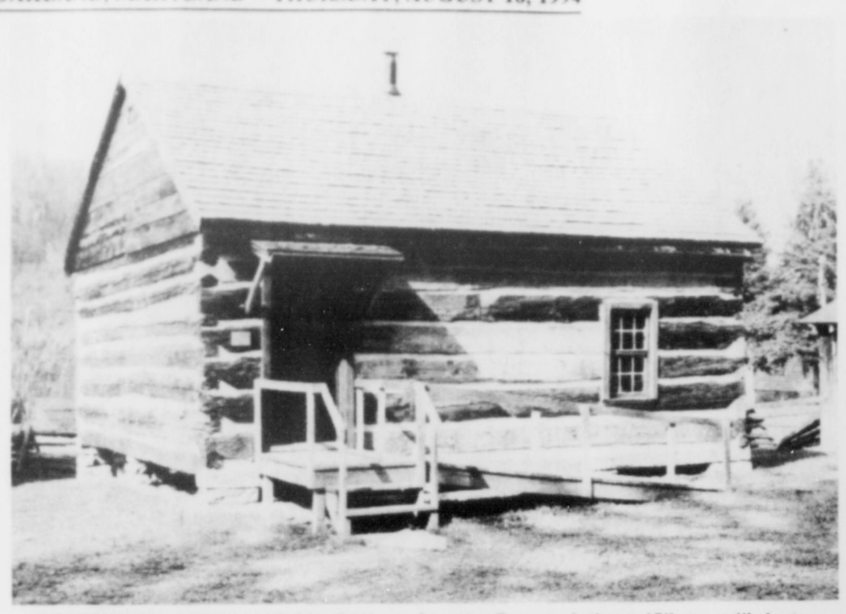
Spruce Forest, Penn Alps To Host Appreciation Day

Community Appreciation Day at Spruce Forest Artisan Village, jointly hosted by Penn Alps Restaurant and Spruce Forest, will commemorate the 36th annual milestone of Penn Alps and the 27th anniversary of Spruce Forest Village on Saturday, Aug. 20, in a repeat performance of last year's event. The village is located one mile east of Grantsville, adjacent to Penn Alps.

An afternoon of refreshments, continuous musical entertainment by the Birkby family and fiddler Eleanor Benedict, as well as guided tours of historical structures and horse-drawn wagon rides, will all be offered throughout the day, free of charge.

Tours include Spruce Forest Artisan Village, Casselman River Bridge, Stanton's Mill, and restored portions of Penn Alps as they were in stagecoach days.

Community Appreciation Day, deemed a local history teaching day, is offered for the benefit of the local citizens, according to Harriet Hershberger, a spokesperson for Spruce Forest, "to participate with their friends and family in a learning experience which is located in their backyard." Activities get underway at noon, and last until 5 p.m.



COMMUNITY APPRECIATION DAY at Spruce Forest Artisan Village will feature tours of historical landmarks in the Grantsville area, including the 200-year-old Compton School, pictured above. The building, once located at the intersection of New Germany and Chestnut Ridge roads, was dismantled and reconstructed at Spruce Forest during a project that began in 1989 and was completed in the summer of 1992. In the photo to the right, Raymond Wagner clogs for the crowd during last year's event. See story for details on the day.

GRANTSVILLE

Margaret Chaney is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Mrs. Ora Younkin returned home Friday after being a patient for a week at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Glenn Otts and Mary Kelley and son, Bill, visited Mrs. Kelly's sister, Helen Wadalman, and family over the weekend.

The Area Christian Women's Fellowship will meet September 14 at the St. Ann's Catholic Church for the annual get-to-gather. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Persons should bring a covered dish. All churches are welcome.

The Christ Lutheran Church Women are in charge of the program. The Maple Grove Church will be in charge of the food and the St. Ann's Church will be in charge of the program next year.

Meat and beverage will be furnished by the church where the meeting is held.

Hunter Safety Course Offered

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), State Forest and Park Service, is offering the Maryland Hunter Safety Course at the Potomac State Forest Headquarters, located on Potomac Camp Road, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, Sept. 6, 8, 13 and 15, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. each day.

The class is limited to 15 students, and there is no fee to take the class. For further information and registration, persons may call the forest headquarters, between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, at 334-2038.

Senator Hafer Will Seek Re-Election

State Senator John J. Hafer has announced his candidacy for re-election as State Senator representing District I, Allegany and Garrett counties.

"It is an honor and a pleasure to serve the citizens of District I in the Maryland Senate," Hafer stated. "This experience has given me considerate insight and knowledge. I am extremely pleased by the many endorsements from the people and their various organizations. It is rewarding to know that my service has been recognized by those who need it the most -- the citizens of Allegany and Garrett counties."

Hafer said that he will continue to uphold his 1990 pledge to the people: "To serve the citizens full-time with genuine dignity and respect, to listen to the voices of the people concerned about our future, and to respond with effective leadership while striving to improve western Maryland."

Hafer serves primarily on the Senate Finance Committee and served on the subcommittee on welfare reform during the 1994 session. Since last spring, Hafer has been serving on the Governor's Commission on Neighborhoods as co-chair of the Small Towns and Rural Neighborhoods Committee. Recently, he has been appointed to the Joint Oversight Committee on State Employees Health Insurance.

"These are significant appointments for me as they are in direct correlation to my personal strengths and interests," Hafer said. "I have always been involved in community activities, and I have worked very had to improve the quality of life for the people of western Maryland. My past records of involvement in volunteer and service organizations, business and professional associations, and interfacing with all facets of daily living associated with raising a family, cultivating the land, and operating a funeral business have resulted in first hand knowledge of the problems facing the people of Allegany and Garrett counties."

Hafer is a lifelong resident of western Maryland, having attended Frostburg and Cumberland public schools. He is a 1950 graduate of Fort Hill High School and received a degree in Economics from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Shortly thereafter, he entered the U.S. Army where he spent 18 months in Korea as an army medic. He further graduated from the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science receiving his Funeral Director's License in 1960. He joined his father in operating the family funeral business, Hafer Funeral Homes, Pa., as now his children join the business while he dedicates his time to politics.

Hafer is married to Lorene G. Hafer, and they have four children and three grandchildren.

"I have appreciated the opportunity to meet many new friends across the district and the state, and I look forward to serving District 1 for another four years which now includes all of Allegany and Garrett counties," Hafer commented.

Savage Reservoir Canoe Trip Set For Saturday

An evening canoe trip will be offered at the Savage River State Forest on Saturday, Aug. 20. Spaces available are limited, according to a park spokesperson, so registration will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

The trip will begin at the Dry Run boat launch, located at the intersection of Dry Run and Savage River roads. The trip will be led by Forest Naturalist Eric Savage.

The cost of the trip is $2 per person, which covers all trip equipment. Interested persons should sign up at the Savage River State Forest office or call 895-5759 or 746-8359.

Southern Garrett Band To March At Kennywood

The Southern Garrett Marching Band will participate in Kennywood Park's (Pa.) "Holidays on Parade" on Sunday, August 21. The parade is part of Kennywood's 45th annual Fall Fantasy, scheduled for August 16 through September 2.

Several high school marching bands participate in the festival parade, with seven to eight bands performing each evening.

In addition to Southern, other high school bands marching on Aug. 21 will include Mercer High, Burgettstown Area, Jefferson-Morgan, Freedom, Montour, and Cambridge Springs.

Southern is under the direction of Richard D. Clever.

SQUAD FUND-RAISERS

The Elk District Rescue Squad is having various fund-raisers to make money for a new rescue squad building. On August 6 an auction was held. All services and goods were donated, giving the squad a profit of over $500. Also available are Pizza Hut coupon books for a donation of $5 per book. Over $10,000 had been raised so far, but much more is needed. To contribute to the building fund or participate in other fundraisers, persons may call Ruby Watts at 446-5624.

KIDS' DAY

There will be a Kids' Day celebration on Sunday, August 21, at the Kitzmiller Park from 1 to 4 p.m. Games for children, food, and surprises are being planned. In addition, there will be a Mountain Man contest for anyone 16 years or older. A $5 registration fee is required. The day is sponsored by Kyle Pritts, and any profits will be donated to the Kitzmiller-Elk Garden Youth League. Everyone is welcome.

LIBRARY

The Library Club has been reading The Magic School Bus series of books by Joanna Cole. On July 26, the children studied the solar system using The Magic School Bus book. Paul Browning, an astronomer formerly with the Garrett Board of Education, was the guest speaker. He explained the different phases of the moon and some of the constellations. The children worked in teams to draw their own constellations.

The club celebrated its last week with a party on August 11. There were games with prizes and refreshments. Jamie White won the drawing for a windsock. Game prizes were won by Elizabeth White, Billy Whitacre, Zechariah McPhail, Christy Sherwood, and Amy Sherwood. Everyone received certificates and gifts donated by McDonald's Restaurant.

Regular library hours for the Kitzmiller Branch are as follows: Mondays and Wednesdays, 4 to 7 p.m.; Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, 9:30 a.m. to noon.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD

The Assembly of God Choir will have a gospel concert on Sunday, August 21. A combined service will begin at 10 a.m., with the Kingery Family singing. At noon, everyone will meet at the Kitzmiller School for a covered dish dinner. Everyone is welcome.

The Assembly of God Choir meets for practice every Tuesday evening at 6:30 at the church. Anyone wishing to join should attend.

FULL GOSPEL CHURCH

The Full Gospel Church in Blaine is celebrating Pastor Joseph Phillips' 35th year at the church with a homecoming celebration. The regular service will begin at 10 a.m. There will be a covered dish dinner at the church at 1 p.m. A hymn sing will follow at 2:30. The evening service starting at 7 p.m. will feature the Dale Hipp family, former missionaries to Haiti.

WALKING AWAY

A walking program, called Walk Away, has begun at the Kitzmiller Park. It is sponsored by the Garrett County Health Dept. Walkers meet on Mondays at 7 p.m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9 a.m. to follow the Fitness Trail, a course set up for walking in the park. People of all ages are welcome to join the group.

YOUTH LEAGUE

The Kitzmiller-Elk Garden Youth League, which organizes the area's T-ball and Little League games, meets every second Monday of each month at the Kitzmiller fire hall at 7 p.m. All who are interested are urged to attend.

KITZMILLER FIREMEN

The Kitzmiller Firemen hosted the Allegany-Garrett Counties Fire Association meeting on August 7. There were approximately 30 people attending. The Fire Ladies prepared the dinner.

EMPOWERMENT COMMITTEE

On Tuesday, August 17, the Empowerment Committee met to discuss the upcoming fall sessions of karate and gymnastics classes to be held after school at the Kitzmiller Elementary School. The next meeting will be Thursday, Sept. 1, at 10 a.m. at the Memorial Buiding. It is important for members to be present; final plans and schedules for the classes will be made.

Dennett Road Yard Sale Slated

A yard, bake and craft sale on Saturday, Aug. 27, is planned by the activities department at Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home to help raise money for the residents' Christmas fund.

"The proceeds from the sale will help us buy gifts to help make the residents' holiday more enjoyable," said Melissa Friend, activities director at the facility.

The public is welcome and encouraged to stop by, beginning at 9 a.m. The sale will continue throughout the day.

Yough River Lake To Be Site Of Open House

Open house meetings will be held at Youghiogheny River Lake Aug. 19-20.

The meetings, which are open to the public, will provide an opportunity to ask questions and comment on issues, regulations, policies, and the management of the Lake. The staff will also solicit input regarding a possible revision of the Shoreline Management Plan, the document which regulates all activities along the shoreline of the lake. Resource Manager Clyde Braun and the ranger staff will be available to answer questions and take comments.

The meetings will be held both days from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. in the conference room of the resource manager's office at the dam.

For more information, interested persons may call (814) 395-3242.

Farm Bill Forum Explores Potential For Future

Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

Farming In Maryland.....

A listening panel of top congressional staff and USDA officials listened on July 25 at Reading, Pa., as people from all sectors of the agricultural industry talked about problems they have had with the 1985 and 1990 Farm Bills and what they hope will be included or excluded from the 1995 Farm Bill being developed now.

The Food Security Act, more commonly known as the Farm Bill, is one of the most important pieces of legislation that affects all citizens of the United States. Farm Bills that were passed in 1985 and 1990 held conservation provisions that directly affected the way farmers farm and produce food. While many farmers are not opposed to land stewardship and protection of the natural resource on their property, implementation of the previous two Farm Bills left them with many problems and concerns not experienced before in other Farm Bills.

The forum, sponsored by USDA and the Soil and Water Conservation Society, was the fourth of eight forums that will be held around the United States to gain feedback toward development of the 1995 Farm Bill. There are also four urban groups that are also being held in an attempt to listen to the people working in these areas talk about the problems they are having getting conservation work such as urban forestry--also covered in the 1990 Farm Bill--accomplished.

Norm Berg, the Washington, D.C. representative of the Soil and Water Conservation Society, began the forum by telling the assembled group that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has been required by the provisions of the previous two Farm Bills to do more with erosion control and protection of water quality, wildlife habitat, and other related natural resources. He explained that each participant in the forum had been asked to talk about the problems they were experiencing because of the provisions, to discuss briefly what the causes of the problems were, and then to address what Congress and government agencies could do to address these concerns in the next Farm Bill.

"USDA with their conservation and forestry programs are being asked to do more with conservation of our natural resources. We are being asked to do this while still maintaining what we do best: producing the best and safest food supply in the world," he said.

A listening panel had been set up and included: Tim Smith representing Congressman Tim Holden of Pennsylvania, Tom Hebert, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Natural Resources and Environment at USDA, Pearlie Reed, Associate Chief of the Soil Conservation Service, Richard Duncan, Pennsylvania State conservationist through the Soil Conservation Service, Cheryl Cook from the Farmer's Home Administration, William Baumgartner, State Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Dick Van Noy, Pennsylvania State Conservation Commission, and James Grace, Pennsylvania State Forester.

The first panel of the day began with a farmer: Jane Seidel a Berks County, Pennsylvania Dairy Producer talked about the problems associated with animal waste and other waste management. She stated that with the overall management of waste, the farm was turning into one big landfill. Besides the management of their own animal waste, other waste, such as newspapers and tires was being shredded and used on farms. She stated problems with waste management are nothing new and read a report of waste management from the days of Plato. The report stated that when the stables filled up to capacity with animal waste, the river was diverted to sweep through the stables and clean them out.

Seidel explained how waste management affected water quality downstream after heavy rainfall. While she agreed that management of animal waste had many benefits, she also cautioned that the management practices employed by farmers must be financially sound or they would not be adopted. She cautioned government officials on the listening panel that they had to set priorities too. If it was important to dictate the preservation and protection of agricultural land, they had to stand ready to help farmers explore opportunities to make it financially sound and easy for the farmer to adopt this attitude too.

The environmental community was also represented on the first panel through Lamonte Garber representing the Chesapeake Bay Foundation and the Campaign for Sustainable Agriculture. Garber talked about sustainable agriculture as farming for the long term that protects family farms. He said we need to look at farming the way we are doing it now and make more of an effort to promote agriculture that is sensitive to the degradation of soil and water.

Garber felt that agencies such as the Soil Conservation Service were being hindered by staffing cuts which would result in a reduction of conservation practices applied to the land. He stated these practices do reduce the non-point source of pollution. He also stated that many farming producers need more education with regard to water quality. He said that when a farmer produces an acre of corn, he/she doesn't necessary understand what leaches into the soil and/or water systems when it rains. They don't understand what it is that happens nor how it affects the overall environment.

Throughout the day, problems experienced by others directly and indirectly involved in the farming industry were discussed. For example, Robert Yunker, representing the New York Land Improvement Contractors talked to the listening panel about his inability to help farmers installing conservation practices that would aid in water quality management. He said it was a nightmare of regulatory abuse to wade through the paperwork, the permitting processes, the fees, the overlapping or duplication of different agencies to try to get a single job done. He also felt owner's rights were being diminished by government action and regulation.

"Government authority needs to be through the people who are governed, not through those who are so out of touch with real life situations," Yunker said.

Since the 1990 Farm Bill also included the Forestry Stewardship emphasis, there were several forum participants who talked about forestry. Nancy Wolf, representing the Environmental Action Coalition and Alliance For Community Trees said her state of New York had experienced a wonderful surge in urban forestry management and appealed to the listening panel to maintain this program in the 1995 Farm Bill. She stated that all forestry, whether rural or urban is part of the overall ecosystem and that without more of it, especially in urban and suburban areas, sprawl will continue everywhere. She emphasized that the Forestry Stewardship Program had brought about a lot of alliances that had made a difference to empty city lots and failing woodlots within the New York metropolitan area. The revival of these locations and the Forestry Stewardship work with private landowners throughout New York has had a dramatic affect on the quality of the water in the urban areas, she emphasized.

Gordon Hiller from the Pennsylvania State Grange brought to the table the issue of wetland regulation as one of the points the Grange wants addressed. He stated that the Grange doesn't share the view that most of the agencies working with wetlands have as to definition or protection policies. He talked about how water impacts a farm and how many farmers need assistance in understanding how the wetlands regulations affect them.

Another farmer, Larry Kehl from Berks County, said he personally felt bitter because farmers are made to feel like criminals for their farming methods. "I have a wet spot in a stream on my farm," he said. "For a hundred years now, we have been able to clean it out with a front-end loader. Now I'm told, no, that is a wetland area and you can't touch it without breaking the law. I'm told I need a retaining wall put in there, but I can't afford an engineer to help me design."

Kehl made a plea to keep Conservation District and Soil Conservation Service personnel support at the local level to help with problems such as these.

"Farmers don't have access to help such as engineering help like developers do," he said. "We need that kind of support and that's one thing the government does well. Without some help with conservation, we wouldn't have the incentive to do it.

Kehl told the group that Conservation District personnel are supportive because they know how to solve these types of problems and they are also mostly farmers themselves. He said he feels better about working with other farmers than with bureaucrats. He stated the number one priority of any legislation right now should be water quality. People don't need to be having well problems, he said. But, he emphasized, we need some support to know what to do when a problem is discovered on a farm.

Speaking for the Maryland Soil Conservation District Association Supervisor from Howard County Maryland, had several issues the group wanted emphasized. The first was unfunded mandates that continue to be given to Conservation Districts from federal programs. Related to that was a review of the historic Memorandums of Understanding between USDA and the conservation District Association with an eye to going back to the original purpose of this partnership. Before, the memorandums called for long-range planning for conservation problems within each district allowing local citizens to determine and prioritize the conservation work that needed to be done. Now, with the Food Security Act, the Clean Water and Clean Air Acts, the Endangered Species Act, and so forth, the work of these pieces of legislation takes precedence over meeting the needs of producers, homeowners, and landusers within each district.

Clark also talked about retaining the conservation provisions of the Food Security Act, and said the Conservation Reserve Program should be maintained. She also made the point that farmers would participate in conservation programs more readily if there was an improved net farm income. She stated that farmers not only needed to see the environmental benefit of installing practices, but they also needed to improve their bottom line in some way. Clark ended by making a plea to the listening panel to consider in the new Farm Bill the issue of how young people enter the farming industry. The average age of farmers is somewhere between 50 and 60 years of age, she stated and there are very few young people who can afford to go into farming. She felt it was time now to start thinking about how this would impact food production in the future.

There were many other issues that were addressed including the distance that farmers need to travel to get help from governmental agencies, the closing of Soil Conservation Service field offices, paperwork reduction, voluntary incentive-based ways of reducing farmer debt, the Rural Abandoned Mine Program, and establishing wilderness and park areas to complete the greenway from Georgia to Maine.

Overall, the Farm Bill Forum at Reading, PA was instructive. There was no participant that stated the government shouldn't be in the business of conserving the nation's soil, water and related natural resources; there were many pleas to do a better job of it. There was overwhelming support for Conservation Districts, and the technical help for the Soil Conservation Service offered through the Conservation Districts to remain in place and be strengthened. There were about 20 farmers in all who were either on panels or who used the open mike to voice opinion about their concerns with farming and about the farming industry. Many commodity groups and others involved in some way in the agricultural industry also participated.

Most participants thanked the listening panel for giving them an opportunity to voice their concerns at the beginning and end of their comments. The listening panel worked into the lunch hour, took notes throughout the day, accepted written comments, and also recorded the entire session for further study.

Voluntary Farm Programs Help To Protect The Environment

Farmers in Maryland continue to answer the call to environmental stewardship by successfully incorporating plans to voluntarily reduce nutrient pollution and soil erosion in their farms. Since June 1994, 4,820, voluntary nutrient management plans have been developed by Maryland farmers, covering 384,500 acres of farmland.

The Maryland Department of Agriculture initiated the Maryland Nutrient Management Program in 1989 to reduce the amount of nutrient runoff into the Chesapeake Bay. The program benefits crop producers and the Bay by developing nutrient management plans which accurately specify the amount of fertilizer needed for a crop.

"The cooperative effort between government agencies and farmer commodity organizations has helped make environmental programs the preferred method of farming," said John Luthy, president of the Maryland Grain Producers Association. "Farmers and their families live on the land that they farm and drink the water around it. It only makes sense that we take care of it in the best way possible."

Through educational and research grants funded by special self-funding "check-off" programs, new types of environmental farming practices are being studied and practiced in the state of Maryland. These programs increase the awareness among farmers about how to minimize the environmental impact of farming practices. They also show the business benefits of switching to more environmentally sound procedures.

"By participating in voluntary conservation programs, Maryland farmers are contributing to a better quality of living for the residents of the state," said Luthy. "We recognize that environmentally sound farming makes good sense."

"A great deal has been done to incorporate conservation techniques into agricultural practices, and farmers will continue to search for better ways to practice farming in partnership with the environment," continued Luthy.

Maryland Grain Producers Association is a commodity organization that represents the interests of the Maryland grain industry. The association is composed of 300 grain growers and works with government, agri-business, and other farm organizations to promote agriculture and the use of grain.

Crops Generally Look Good

Crops in Maryland progressed normally during the week ending August 14. Insect infestation on crop growth appeared to be severe on corn and soybeans in some localities with some fields warranting treatment.

The average number of days suitable for fieldwork during the week was 5.8 days, according to the Maryland Agricultural Statistics Service. Across the state, topsoil moisture was 11 percent short and 89 percent adequate. Subsoil moisture was 10 percent short, and 90 percent adequate.

Statewide, hay supplies were adequate and pastures averaged in excellent condition. Weather conditions continue to improve the corn, soybean and tobacco crops. Field corn were in good condition, with almost half of the acreage in the dough stage. Soybeans were in good condition, with blooming observed in all stands and almost half the soybean acreage setting pods. Tobacco were in good condition, with almost half of the acreage in the topped stage. Peaches rated mostly poor to mostly fair, with almost three-fourths of the acreage harvested. Apples averaged fair to mostly good condition. Other hay harvest were 25 percent into the third cutting and alfalfa hay harvest were in third cutting near completion.

Maryland's progress for the week ending August 14 was as follows, listing the item, this year's percentage, last year's percentage and a percentage for the 5-year average.

Planting progress: Corn, silked, 96, 91, 91; dough, 41, 55, 57; dent, 12, 22, 26. Soybeans, blooming, 69, 66, 72; set pods, 45, 39, 43. Sorghum, heading, 86, 83, 81. Small Grains: Sweet corn, harvested, 75, 79, 70; Alfalfa hay, 3rd cutting, 81, 84, 61. Other hay, 2nd cutting, 83, 81, 70; 3rd cutting, 35, 25, 14. Peaches, harvested, 75, 56, 58.

WEATHER

Maryland weather for the week ending August 12, had below normal temperatures and precipitation which ranged from dry to moderate. Temperatures averaged 70.8 degrees, 5.0 degrees above the normal of 75.8 degrees for the August 6 through August 12 period. Minimum temperatures were as low as 43 degrees at Oakland, but generally in the low 50's. Maximum temperature was 98 degrees at Hancock; generally in the high 80's for all stations. Precipitation averaged 0.45 inches, 0.55 inches below the normal of 1.00 inches. Precipitation ranged from 0.00 at Cumberland to 1.95 inches at College Park. Regional rainfall averages were: Western, 0.23; North Central, 0.20; Southern Maryland west of the Bay, 1.08 and Eastern Shore, 0.54 inches.

Mile-A-Minute Vine Moves Into Garrett County

Mile-a-minute (Polygonum perfoliatum), also known as tearthumb, is an annual vine that was accidentally introduced into southeastern Pennsylvania from Asia sometime before 1946. It has since spread through eastern Pennsylvania, and into central and western Maryland and West Virginia. It has the potential of becoming a serious problem for our forests.

Mile-a-minute is a weak spindly vine with short, sharp, downward curving prickles that make it hard to handle. It has pale green triangular leaves 1 to 3 inches across and round leaf-like sheaths at the nodes along the length of the vine. The plants are killed by frost and then appear as mats of brittle brown vines. Mile-a-minute has small shallow roots and is easily uprooted. Clusters of berry-like fruit, green in summer, turn blue in late summer and fall. Each fruit has one round blue-black seed about 1/8 inch in diameter.

Mile-a-minute prefers moist sunny conditions, but it grows well on dry sites, especially when there is plenty of organic matter to mulch the soil, as in forests. Small forest openings where one or more large trees have died or been harvested can allow enough sunlight for the plant to grow. Likely areas for mile-a-minute problems include woodlands damaged by gypsy moth, loopers, or other pests or by disease; woodlands where natural mortality, harvesting, or storm damage has created openings, reforestation sites, roadsides and utility rights-of-way, abandoned agricultural fields, forest edges, and stream banks.

Mile-a-minute is not a strong climber, but will grow up and over small trees and shrubs, fallen trees, fences, and woodpiles. Once established it can shade out and kill other plants. It is likely to be as especial problem for forest regeneration, Christmas tree growers, nurseries, orchards and those who grow ornamental shrubbery. It is not expected to cause a problem in active agricultural fields or lawns.

Seeds may begin to germinate as early as March and the vine grows rapidly--up to 6 inches a day and up to 25 feet by summer's end. The plant starts to produce green fruit in late June, which begins to ripen about August 1 and continues until killed by hard frost. The pale blue fruits, each containing one seed, drop off and regenerate the plant on site or are eaten and spread by birds, rodents and other animals.

Mile-a-minute is shallow rooted and can easily be pulled out, especially in the spring before the vine gets long and tangled. It is best to wear gloves, long sleeves, and long pants. A garden rake can help uproot tangled vines. The job should be completed before August 1, when the seeds begin to ripen. This is an excellent way to control mile-a-minute in small, easily accessible areas. It can also be controlled by mowing, cultivating, or cutting with a brush cutter. Whichever method is used, it is advisable to recheck areas periodically and repeat the treatment when necessary.

Mile-a-minute can also be controlled by the use of some chemical herbicides. However, these are likely to kill other plants as well and must be used with caution.

The Forest Service is attempting to track the advance of mile-a-minute. To report infestations, or for more information, call the Garrett office of the Maryland Forest Service at 334-3296 or Garrett County ASCS Office at 334-1901.

Agriculture Experts From Kyrgyzstan Visiting Maryland

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley has announced that 20 agriculture experts from Kyrgyzstan are visiting the Maryland Department of agriculture for the month of August in a training program to learn about the production and distribution of agricultural products in a free market economy. Kyrgyzstan is an independent republic near the Chinese border that was formerly part of the Soviet Union.

"We are extremely pleased to be hosting these visitors from Kyrgyzstan. While they are with us in Maryland they will be visiting farms, markets, distribution centers and research facilities. We intend to show them the full range of what Maryland agriculture has to offer," Riley said.

The Kyrgyzstan participants will visit such places as the Maryland Wholesale Produce and Seafood Markets, farms all across the state, agricultural regulatory facilities, aquaculture operations, and the University of Maryland's Wye Research and Education Center.

"By the time our visitors depart on September 3 we hope to have exposed them to western methods of agribusiness management and marketing of food products. This will help them as they make the difficult transition to a free market economy," said Riley.

The Kyrgyzstan agribusiness training program is being funded through a grant from the United States Information Agency Citizen Exchange Program coordinated by the Maryland Department of Agriculture and the Maryland International Center

You Might Save Several $$s In Your Corn Planting

Scouting your corn fields for the presence of the Western Corn Rootworm could mean less chemical expense next year. You should be scouting the fields now, looking for the adult rootworm beetle. The overall coloration of the Western Corn Rootworm is yellow with a black strip around the margin of each wing cover and sometimes with a dark strip extending part way up the center of the wing covers. The male has more black on the wing covers. If the average count exceeds one rootworm per plant, then rotation to another crop or a soil insecticide is recommended if the field is to be planted in corn next year. An average count between one-half and one means a moderate potential. Treatment is not necessary if the count falls below one-half of an adult rootworm per plant.

Corn Production Is Up

Based on August 1, 1994 conditions, Maryland corn production is expected to total 41,800,000 bushels. An average yield of 110 bushels per acre is expected from 380,000 harvested acres. For the United States, corn production is forecast at 9.21 billion bushels, up 45 percent from 1993. Yields are expected to average 128.4 bushels per acre.

Time To Seed Alfalfa

In my opinion, this is the best time of the year to start new establishments of alfalfa. First of all, the weed pressure and competition is at the lowest point of the growing season and the soils are warm enhancing quick germination of the seed. Seeding rates fall between 16 to 20 pounds per acre.

❖HOWE FOR COMMISSIONER❖

Why is Joe Howe running for Garrett County Commissioner?

Joe decided to run for Garrett County Commissioner, Republican, District #1, due to the overwhelming requests from people trying to earn a living in Garrett County.

Joe has worked in the day-to-day operation of local government for a decade. His present job duties are varied and complex.

As Revenue Officer, his duties include Administrator to the County Liquor Control Board/Board of License Commissioners of Garrett County. He also serves as Administrator to the county junk yard ordinance; the trailer camp ordinance, the accommodation tax law and the admission amusement tax law. He sits on the Board of Officers to the County Office for Children, Youth and Families as the County Commissioner's representative. He coordinates licensing of construction and trades workers with the State of Maryland, Department of Licensing and Regulation.

He is also the immediate past President of the Maryland Association of Alcoholic Beverage License Administrators and currently serves on the Executive Committee of the Association. The Association represents the collective Liquor Control Boards/Boards of License Commissioners throughout the State of Maryland.

Having worked with citizens while performing these varied duties, Joe recognizes the problems that many confront while trying to earn a living.

One of the major problems is the over-regulation of private enterprise. State and Federal mandates are strangling small business to death. Private enterprise is the number one employer in the entire country and does not get that recognition. Joe believes that someone at the local level must attempt to loosen regulations and fight to prevent further job-robbing mandates. He says, "government needs to help their people, not hinder them." One way is to offer small business a tax cut. This means jobs! He says, "We need commissioners who are committed to enhancing our local economy. Full-time, year-round, permanent jobs—not just seasonal—would be my #1 priority."

"We need to help our people, not hinder them. One way to help is by offering small business a tax cut. We need to offer incentives to entice business into our County."

With realistic goals established for our economic development department, the resources made available, and the commitment to reach the goals by the County Commissioners and the employees of the department, we can provide these full-time, permanent, year-round jobs.

The best formula for a healthy economy is controlled economic growth along with an expanding tax base, coupled with responsible spending. We would have ample monies to build needed bridges and schools while maintaining and developing additional infrastructure. The most important feature to this formula is that the line can be held on taxes and the revenue would be available for needed capital projects. It is difficult to lure job-producing companies into our county without providing some incentives, quality schools and safe roadways.

Joe has been engaged in private enterprise for himself and his family. He knows the hard work involved in trying to earn a dollar. He does not take his county paycheck for granted as a number of government workers do. Sometimes those employed in government forget that those producing value in the private sector and the taxpayer are the very people that pay the salaries. It is the government's responsibility to recognize the taxpayer and to help the value-producers along with the job-creators. Helping people to become more productive pays dividends to all—tenfold.

IT IS TIME TO MAKE A DECISION!

"Our county is at a crossroads in time. We must have people in the Commissioner's Office that recognize that changes are coming whether we like them or not. We cannot afford to have commissioners that are followers instead of leaders. Leaders are not afraid to make a decision and take some heat. With proper planning and my visionary leadership, we can preserve the integrity and character that make our county the wonderful place it is while we meet tomorrow's challenges. If you live, work or pay taxes in Garrett County and care what happens to our county tomorrow—VOTE FOR JOE HOWE ON SEPTEMBER 13, 1994!"

By authority, Alice A. Howe, Treasurer

Our Father's House Consecration To Be Celebrated

Our Father's House, also known as the "Log Church," will mark the 61st anniversary of its consecration with a service of Holy Eucharist and a picnic on August 28 beginning at 10:30 a.m.

A parochial mission of St. John's Episcopal Church in Deer Park, the Log Church was consecrated in 1933 by The Right Reverend Edward Trail Helfenstein, Eighth Bishop of Maryland. It was established by "faith and 50 dollars." The 50 dollars was seed money provided by the Women's Auxiliary of Old St. Paul's Church in Baltimore. The land for the church was donated by Judge George Stewart Brown.

Our Father's House today stands as a historical landmark which provides regular summer worship services as well as special services for both summer visitors and residents.

The Reverend Chip Lee, vicar of St. John's and the Log Church and rector of St. Matthew's, will celebrate and preach. The public is invited to this special event. The congregations of St. John's and St. Matthew's, Oakland, will be participating as well.

Because of this special event, there will be no 9:30 a.m. service at St. John's and no 11:15 a.m. service at St. Matthew's. There will still be an 8 a.m. service at St. Matthew's.

LESTER R. HAUSER

Lester Richard Hauser, 89, Aurora, W.Va., died Monday, Aug. 15, 1994, at the Cortland Acres Nursing Home, Thomas, W.Va.

He was a retired farmer, logger, and carpenter. He was the oldest living member of the Stemple Ridge United Methodist Church.

Survivors include three sons, Richard Arvin Hauser, Tiff City, Mo., Stephen Monroe Hauser, Aurora, and Everett Allen Hauser, Deerfield, Mich.; one brother, Walter "Bill" Hauser, Aurora; two sisters, Loretta Snyder, Aurora, and Leah Luzier, Davis, W.Va.; six grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building. A funeral service will be conducted today, Aug. 18, at the Stemple Ridge United Methodist Church at 11 a.m., with the Rev. Dennis Mehaffie officiating. Interment will follow in the Stemple Ridge Cemetery.

Hinkle Funeral Home, Davis, is in charge of arrangements.

CAROL A. SHAULIS

Carol Ann Shaulis, 43, Grantsville, died Tuesday, Aug. 9, 1994.

Born on Nov. 4, 1950, in Meyersdale, Pa., she was a daughter of the late Robert E. McWilliams, and Myrtle (Murray) McWilliams.

She was a member of the Trinity United Methodist Church of Christ, New Germany, and the Mountain Chapter 15 Order of Eastern Star. She served as student council advisor for the Garrett County Association of Student Councils. She served as advisor for the Northern Middle School Student Council and was an economics teacher at Northern Middle School. She was also a member of the English Setters Association of America.

Survivors include her husband, David F. Shaulis; two daughters, Sally I. Shaulis and Stephanie A. Shaulis, both at home; and one sister, Sally Weyant, Cessna, Pa.

At the deceased's request, her body was cremated at the Cumberland Crematory.

A memorial service will be conducted at the Trinity United Church of Christ, Twin Churches Road, near New Germany State Park, on Saturday, Aug. 20, at 11 a.m., with the Rev. Raymond L. Brown officiating.

The family requests that expressions of sympathy be directed to the American Cancer Society.

The Merritt-Adams Funeral Home, 404 Decatur Street, Cumberland, is in charge of arrangements.

Summer Youth, Training Program Ended For 1994

The 1994 Summer Youth and Training Program came to a close on August 12, as 193 youth from Garrett County took advantage of the various segments of the program.

The Learning Alertness Program ran for five weeks, with 45 enrolees receiving classroom instruction in the morning and doing community service work in the afternoon. Nearly 150 enrollees worked on the regular program for six weeks, with most of them receiving "learning rich work experience," a new concept incorporated into the program this year.

Twenty enrollees were recognized as doing an outstanding job this summer and will receive a certificate for a large pizza from the following establishments: Pizza Hut, Oakland; Uno's, Deep Creek Lake; Silver Fox Pizza, Keysers Ridge; Tomanetti's, Oakland; and Fox's Pizza Den, Oakland. The youth receiving these awards are: Marvin White, Kim Miller, Jarod Boyce, Jeremy Crosco, Jason Pressley, Joshua Pressley, Sabrina Sines, Veronica Cross, Tom Miller, Keith Hebb, Kevin Lipscomb, Douglas Miller, Kista Thomas, Michael Durst, Joey Klink, Tim Kitzmiller, Jason Coddington, Jonathon Winters, Tommy Dixon, and Jennifer Schroyer.

Over 30,000 work hours were accomplished over the summer with more than $146,000 in wages and fringes paid. "The Summer Youth and Training Program continues to help the youth of Garrett County, not only financially, but educationally as well, and provides many of them with learning rich work experience to better prepare them for the world of work after graduation," stated Elmer Redinger, program coordinator.

On behalf of the WMC, Redinger noted appreciation to all the worksite supervisors for their continued support of the program and hope that the work done by the youth of Garrett County "helped them accomplish the tasks needed to be done."

Friendsville Man Arrested Saturday, Charged With DWI

Maryland State Police arrested a Friendsville man Saturday and charged him with DWI (driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs), fleeing/eluding a police officer, having an unregistered and uninsured vehicle, failure to remain at the scene of a property damage accident, providing false information to police, and 12 other miscellaneous citations, according to a report filed at Barrack W, McHenry.

Edward Clay Villarreal, 22, was arrested after he reportedly drove recklessly throughout Friendsville, crashing at one point into a guardrail off Rt. 42. He traveled onto First Avenue at a high rate of speed, crossing the double yellow lines, and traveled into the oncoming traffic lane, the report read.

In the report, filed by Tfc. M. Clapper, the trooper spotted Villarreal driving his 1979 Chevrolet on the Trap Run Road. Clapper arrested the suspect after he pulled into a driveway and bailed out of the vehicle and ran into a nearby house.

TREATED & RELEASED

A young Swanton woman was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released, following a two-vehicle mishap on Friday afternoon.

According to state police reports, Heidi J. Savage, 19, was operating her 1992 Plymouth Colt on Rt. 135, near the Loch Lynn-Gorman Road, Mtn. Lake Park, when her vehicle was struck by a 1994 Chevrolet operated by Robert L. Frantz Jr., 18, Eglon, W.Va., as he pulled out of a driveway near the American Burger Restaurant.

According to the police report, Frantz was cited for failure to yield right of way, resulting in an accident. No other injuries were reported following the 3:50 p.m. mishap.

DWI ARRESTS

Two additional DWI arrests were logged at the local state police barracks this past week.

Howard Perry Rhodes, 30, no address given, was arrested and charged with DWI on Aug. 13, by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater.

Also on Aug. 13, Tfc. G.S. Becker arrested Kathy Jo Stalnaker, 32, no address given, and charged her with DWI.

Interior Design Course Slated At GCC Campus

A course in interior design (ART 294) will be taught on Saturday mornings during the fall semester in the Bausch & Lomb art gallery of Garrett Community College. Instructor for the three-credit course will be Vicki Naliborski, certified interior designer and owner-operator of Interior Collections in Oakland.

According to Ms. Naliborski, the course will cover the basic fundamentals and provide creative ideas for persons who intend to do their own interior design and decoration It will begin with a general introduction and consideration of elements of design including space, form, line, texture, and ornament. Color and light will also be discussed.

In the unit on principles of design, scale, and proportion, balance, rhythm and emphasis and variety and unity of harmony will be covered. The course will also include space planning and psychological effects of space usage.

Beginning with the shell, students will learn to treat floors, ceilings, windows, and doors with various surface materials. They will learn about fabrics for window treatments as well as styles, types, materials, and construction of furniture. The final units in the course will deal with accessories and putting it all together.

The class will meet for 13 Saturdays, from 9 a.m. to noon, beginning September 10 and ending December 17. There will be no class on October 15 (Autumn Glory) or November 26 (Thanksgiving). Students may register at the Registrar's Office of the college weekdays during business hours.

Ms. Naliborski holds a B.S. degree in interior design from the University of Maryland and is a state-certified interior designer. She has operated her own business in Garrett County for eight years.

FINE ARTS CAMP HELD AT HICKORY - Several area children took part in the Allegany County Board of Education's annual Fine Arts Camp, a week-long event held at the Hickory Environmental Center, Accident. In accordance with the theme of "Americana," campers attended daily classes in all the arts concentrating on American Heritage. Specialized instruction was offered in all areas of art, including visual, audio, dance, and theatre. Dr. Nelson Fritts, supervisor of media, art, and music for Allegany County schools, was the camp director. Students pictured above take part in an art class, taught by Sue Baker and Frances Kenna-Schenk. A young orchestra works on a classical piece in the photo above right, and a modern dance group practices in the picture below. The dancers shown left to right are Bethany Smith, Sujata Roberts, Julia Geisler, Cecilia Fritts, Jennifer Preston, Kerry Murray, and Sonya Cooper-Evans, instructor. Several campers were awarded scholarships to the camp, which is funded by grants and Artist-in-Education monies obtained by the Allegany Arts Council.

at the Fred Forman farm August 8 with leaders, Betty Fint and Stacy Fint, guests Lori Durst, Mary Stemple, Chris, John and Jordan Lantz accompanying the group. Members who made the tour were Missy and Jessie Callahan, Meghan, Kendra, and Eric Durst, Kimberly and Kaylan Fike, Carla and Tina Fint, Courtney, Joey and Becca Fint, Darrell Fint, Ira Forman, Bethany Lantz, Joseph Paugh, Neil Mersing, Heather Radford, Jason Roth, and Adrain Stemple.

They also met that date at the home of Betty Fint for their regular meeting. Missy Callahan reported on Older Members Conference at Jackson's Mill, Kimberly Fike on Wildlife Judging and attending Alpha II Camp at Jackson's Mill. Becca Fint and Eric Durst reported on Younger Camp, Courtney Fint on Older Camp and on eye glass presentation. Adrain Stemple's report was on field day and the club council circle. Betty Fint and Stacy Fint reported attending Volunteer Leaders Weekend.

Nancy and Spot Fullerton were present to explain to the club the forthcoming primitive Rendezvous, a re-enactment of pioneer times to the held near Aurora. Nineteen members attended.

Recreation included "touch and go" led by Courtney and volleyball. The next meeting is scheduled for September 12 at the home of Betty Fint. Kimberly Fike, reporter.

PERSONAL MENTION

Boyd and Doris Arnold and their granddaughter of Bayard and Katie Henline of Gorman were Tuesday evening visitors in Eglon with Ruth and Roscoe Teets. Mrs. Henline was celebrating her birthday and Mrs. Teets joined them for dinner at Silver Lake prior to the visit.

Robert and Lois Strawser, Danny and Marsha Rumer and their sons went to Niagara Falls and other points of interest in that vicinity, including into Canada, and returned last Wednesday to their homes at Amboy.

Visiting in Ohio this past weekend for the family reunion of the children of Clayton and Lydia Harsh at Friendship Acres were Mary Jane and Lorain Hanline, Alan and Helen Lipscomb, Stanley and Eloise Harsh, Connie and Darrell Fint, Gary and Susan Lipscomb and sons, and Robin Lipscomb. Mrs. Henline and Mrs. Lipscomb stayed to be with their mother at Kent in the home of their sister, Cleota and Bill Hoisington. Mrs. Harsh is critically ill at this time.

Tom and Carolyn Wotring, Elizabeth and Rebecca, Phil, Anita, Nicole and Julia Britner, all of Aurora, have returned to their home following a visit in Shawnee, Okla., with the former's son, Kenny and Melissa Wotring.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Winters, Eglon, were all of their children and grandchildren for a family reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Winters, Suzanne, Chuck, and Clayton of Manassas, Va.; Tom and Linda Lewis, Emily and Sara of Eglon and Julie Baker of Virginia Beach, Va.; Paul, Becky, Michael, Laura and John McCollum of Scottsville, Ky.; Richard, Mary and Caitlin Norwish of Eglon. Friday evening visitors were Wayne and Norma McCollum of Kittanning, Pa., and their granddaughters, Angela and Sheila, who brought Laura and John McCollum to Eglon following a two-week visit with their McCollum grandparents.

Youth of the Bethel United Methodist Church were accompanied by others of the church family on a Wednesday tour to Baltimore's Inner Harbor where they saw the Aquarium, a dolphin show, and toured Fort McHenry.

Another tour to the Sight and Sound theater at Strasburg, Pa., was made by area residents on Saturday, August 13.

Mrs. Lester (Julia) Whitehair of Horse Shoe Run is a patient in the Monongalia General Hospital at Morgantown.

Mrs. Ray (Marie) Fint returned Saturday to her home in Aurora after treatment at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Lester "Slim" Hauser died at Cortland Acres Nursing Home, Thomas, Monday afternoon, August 15.

Mrs. Helen Lipscomb suffered an apparent heart attack while visiting with her mother and is hospitalized in a Kent, Ohio, hospital as a result.

The Wade Hauser family gathered at the home of Maxine Hauser on Saturday and Sunday for a family reunion. There were picnic dinners both Saturday and Sunday, on Tuesday morning a breakfast at Cathedral Restaurant for those who remained, and the Friday evening beef roast. Over 50 people attended the reunion from Kentucky, Maryland, West Virginia, South Carolina, and Florida.

On Sunday, all of the children and many of the grandchildren accompanied their mother to church.

CELEBRATE 25TH

Bill and Sandra Hauser were surprised by about 180 guests on Friday evening for a beef roast on their home farm, Stemple Ridge, at the poplar flat. Both pit roast and cooker roast beef was provided and the remainder of the meal was covered dish. During the evening, they renewed their vows with Bill's nephew, Dan Stemple, officiating. Members of both their families, his employees, and business associates, as well as other guests attended.

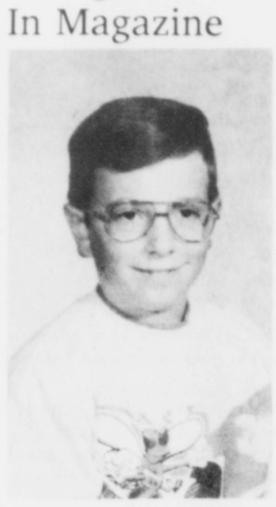
Jared Jones Recognized In Magazine



A self portrait drawn by Jared Jones, Mt. Storm, W.Va., has been selected from more than 3,000 entries to appear in Sports Illustrated for Kids magazine.

Jones, son of Kermit F. and Mary Jane Jones, submitted the drawing, along with an essay about his "sports dream" of playing basketball with the dream team in the 1996 Olympics, to a drawing contest the national magazine held recently.

Some of Jared's other achievements this year include winning at the Grant County Social Studies Fair and receiving an honorable mention at the state level, receiving a Presidential Academic Fitness Award, and winning second place in equations at the regional W.Va. Challenge.

Jared will be entering the 7th grade at Union Educational School this fall.

TERRA ALTA

The Terra Alta Presbyterian Men will be sponsoring a buckwheat cake dinner with sausage gravy on Saturday, Sept. 10, 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. The cost for adults is $5 and for children under 12, $2.50. The "all you can eat" dinner will be held at the Terra Alta Presbyterian Church.

LIBRARY NEWS

The Terra Alta Library continues to have Story Hour at 10 a.m. every Wednesday with Lorraine Ledden as story teller. Everyone is invited to attend. Patrons recently donating books were Mona Lothry, Pearl Gordon, and Alica Boyer.

Plans Underway For Youth Revival

Four nights of fun and togetherness are planned for the youth of the Mountain Top Parish. A four-evening youth revival is scheduled for Aug. 20-23.

Terra Alta First Church will begin the chain of events on Saturday, Aug. 20, with a 7 p.m. service. Revivalist Rev. Earl Cochran will be the guest speaker. A group of youth singers from Pinch (W.Va.) United Methodist Church in the Kanawha Valley, will be the featured singers. They will also participate in a lock-in at the church that night. Youth are encouraged to attend with their church youth groups. Counselors and other interested adults are also welcome.

Sunday evening, Aug. 21, at Corinth United Methodist Church, a Sundae Sunday will be featured, and all young people are invited to participate prior to the service.

Monday evening, Aug. 22, Faith United Methodist Church, Cranesville, invites all youth to be at the church by 3 p.m. for a scavenger hunt and picnic before the worship hour.

Amboy United Methodist Church will host the Tuesday, Aug. 23, service, to close the revival. Special music is planned, as well as a final activity.

Services begin each evening at 7 p.m. Although the services will be directed toward the youth, all interested persons are welcome to attend.

Labor Day Ox Roast Planned In Rowlesburg

Plans are underway for Rowlesburg's 31st Annual Labor Day Ox Roast on Monday, Sept. 5, at the community park.

In addition to pit-roasted beef dinners, beef sandwiches, hamburgers, hot dogs, sloppy joes, French fries, sodas and snow cones, which will be sold all day, music will be provided from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Groups scheduled to participate are the Short Brothers' Band, Keith and Joan Pitzer, the Wotring Sisters, and Carol Price-Young.

Also planned during the day will be a car show, craft booths, a volleyball tournament, drawings for prizes throughout the day, and fireworks at dusk.

Twenty trophies and one best of show award will be presented during the car show. Dash plaques will be given to the first 100 entrants. For more information, persons may call Sara Pratt at 454-9737.

The contact person for the craft booths is Doris Felton. She may be reached at 454-9603. Persons interested in more information about the volleyball tournament, sponsored by WKMM Radio, may call 329-0967.

AURORA/EGLON NEWS

YOUTH LEAGUE PICNIC

The annual picnic for Aurora Youth League members, family, coaches, and sponsors is being held this Sunday August 21, at Silver Lake Park pavilion. All are invited to bring a picnic basket for a 1 p.m. dinner.

CROSSROADS REUNION

The annual reunion for students and teachers of the former Cross Roads School at Horse Shoe Run will be held at the Farmers Wildlife Park on Sunday, August 21. The basket dinner will be shared at 1 p.m. All who attended, cooked, taught or was janitor at the school are invited.

ICE CREAM FESTIVAL

An ice cream festival will be held August 20 at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building from 4:30 until 7 p.m. There will be chicken dinners, homemade ice cream, hot sandwiches (hot dogs, sloppy joes, chili dogs), and a bake sale.

STEMPLE RIDGE FESTIVAL

The annual fall festival will be held at the Stemple Ridge United Methodist Church beginning at 5 p.m. on Saturday, September 3. There will be hot sandwiches, pies, cakes, homemade ice cream and crafts will also be offered for sale, including quilts and cushions.

UNION SENIORS

A patriotic program included the singing of "America" and the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag at the August 11 meeting of Union District Senior Citizens held in the Aurora U.M. Memorial building. Following the covered dish luncheon, for which Ted Hardesty asked the blessing, the program and devotions took place. Floyd Knapp used the 133rd Psalm and prayer as devotions. Wilda Stemple gave a reading, Prayer for the Aging, and Ruth Snyder a poem, Influence.

Linda Elliott distributed literature with information about the new food labels and Jeannie Estep was present to take blood pressure readings.

Those who wish to attend the county picnic to be held at Big Bear Lake on September 16, and wish to ride the bus, should contact Wilda Stemple (Mrs. Frank) by September 1 to make reservations for the bus. There were 26 present.

ANNUAL MEETING

Prior to the annual business of the Eglon Farm Service Southern States Cooperative Agency, a pot luck supper featuring roasted pig, lamb, and rabbit was served.

At the business meeting, there were reports of both the Southern States Cooperative and of the Eglon Farm Service, Inc., plus election of board and FHAC committee members. Elected to serve on the Board were Robert Strawser and Terry Hauser, who replace out-going members Carl Bachtel and Claude Winters.

Farm Home Advisory Committee members elected were Grace Bachtel and Lois Strawser and they replace retiring members Joyce Dixon and Patty Wilt.

Held August 11 at the Farmers Wildlife Park, door prizes were awarded to Crystal Bolyard, Shawn Rembold, Kevin Shahan, Carroll Hartsell, Allen Hartsell, Christopher Bolyard, and Shirley Parsons.

Historic Site Tour Scheduled

The 15th annual Hampshire Heritage Days celebration is coming to Romney, W.Va., on September 10 and 11. Included will be an Antique and Collectible Show and Sale featuring dealers from five states, the main street lined with craft booths, a train ride through "The Trough" with its almost certain eagle sightings, an extensive display of Civil War memorabilia housed in an 1840's church used as a hospital during that conflict, a parade, historic military encampments, antique and classic car and engine displays, almost constant musical entertainment, and other activities.

Of special interest this year is the addition of a bus tour to unique historic sites. A house from the late 1700s, a cemetery which includes an Indian mound as well as what is considered to be the first monument erected to Confederate dead, Union Army trenches said to be the best preserved of any in the United States, and a home built by a Black family freed by the Emancipation Proclamation will be part of the tour. In addition, a walking guide will be available to direct visitors to and provide information about centrally located sites, including the oldest house in Romney, an original log cabin now housing a museum, the first library west of the Blue Ridge Mountains, the former home of John Cornwell who was governor of West Virginia 75 years ago and established the State Police, and Stonewall Jackson's headquarter when he commanded troops in the area. Many of these sites will be open to the public free of charge during Heritage Days. There will be a charge of $1.50 for adults and $.50 for children for the bus tour.

Further information can be obtained by calling (304) 822-5013, or writing Festival Information, P.O. Box 184, Romney, WV 26757.

HENLINE, GNEGY WED

Erma Dumire Henline of Horse Shoe Run and Paul Gnegy of Plainsville, Kan., were married August 6 at the Ferndale Baptist Church in a private family ceremony. On Wednesday night, August 10, friends and family (about 50) gathered at their home to wish them well with an "old-fashioned serenade." A circular saw, cow bells, and other noise-producers provided the din, the guests provided the refreshments, and the bride distributed candy bars. The couple will be leaving soon to return to their home in Kansas.

4-H FAMILY PICNIC

A family picnic was held at the Farmers Wildlife Park on Monday evening, August 8, for the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club members and families. There were 20 members in attendance who brought their project exhibits for display and grading.

Lindsey Teets led the singing of West Virginia Boys and Girls and the pledges. Becky Snyder led the devotions and Kevin Corbin assisted. Maria Harsh provided recreation.

Tom Teets reported on Older 4-H Camp and Tim Teets on the WV Horticulture Judging on July 14. Melinda Teets reported attendance and interest at Younger Camp.

Volunteers for helping in the kitchen at the Buckwheat Festival or those wishing to enter lamb dressing contest were selected. Discussion of Buckwheat Festival exhibits was also held. County award forms are due in the county office by September 1.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for September 12 at the Eglon Memorial Building at 7 p.m. Guests are invited. Kelly Kowalkoski, reporter.

Workshop On Economics For Women Planned

A workshop on economic development titled Learning Economics: Empowering Women for Action, will be offered to area women starting September 10 at St. Sebastian Catholic Church in Kingwood.

The premise of the program, which is offered through the cooperation of Catholic Community Services and the Catholic Church of Preston County, is that "women can and must understand the economic factors which affect their lives and become shapers of a just economy that is responsive to all who depend on it for survival and well being," a spokesperson stated.

Workshop participants will share their economic stories and learn more about the role of women and work in the local economy. They will focus on their values and vision of how a just economy should look and then determine how they can work locally to contribute to economic justice.

This program has been designed by the Religious Network for Equality, a national interfaith organization which strives to educate women for economic empowerment. Organizing the workshop are former Preston County resident Sister Mary Lou Lisowski, ACSW, and Preston High School social studies teacher Ann Robb.

Learning Economics will be offered on Saturday mornings from 10 a.m. to noon, September 10, 17, and 24 and will resume after the Buckwheat Festival with sessions on October 8, 15, 22. Although there is no fee, a donation by participants will be accepted. All materials will be provided. Interested persons may call (304) 329-1519.

Annual Potato Festival Slated

The 13th Annual Potato Festival, sponsored by the Mt. Grove Volunteer Fire Department, is set for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 10-11, at Mt. Grove.

The day's activities will begin at 10 a.m. both days, and will include live gospel and country music, games, rides, a fireman's water battle, Bingo, a cake auction, concessions and crafts.

Also planned during the event will be the crowning of king and queen Farina. Turkey dinners will be served on Sunday.

POWLES ADDITION AREA WATER LINE REHABILITATION
INVITATION TO BID
Receipt of Proposals

Sealed bids marked "Bid for the Powles Addition Area Water Line Rehabilitation" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse Room 200, Oakland, Maryland 21550, until 11:00 a.m. on Monday, September 12, 1994, and then and there the bids will be publicly opened and read.

General Description of Work

This project will replace existing water lines in the Powles Addition area of Mountain Lake Park, Maryland. Approximately 2,600 feet of 6-inch water line and approximately 3,425 feet of 2-inch water line will be replaced. Thirty-five (35) existing service connections will have to be re-connected to the new water mains with a standard meterbox connection.

Pre-Bid Conference

A pre-bid conference will be held on Thursday, September 1, 1994 at 11:00 a.m. in the office of the Owner to answer any questions concerning the contract documents. All bidders are invited to attend.

Contract Documents

Contract Documents will be available for inspection during regular working hours at the office of the Owner.

Contract Documents may be obtained from the Owner upon written request and remittance of full payment of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each set with checks made payable to the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. Payment will not be refunded, said payment being retained by the Owner to cover cost of printing, handling and shipping. Requests for Contract Documents shall be submitted to:

Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc.
313 East Alder Street
Old Courthouse, Room 200
Oakland, Maryland 21550

All Bids must be made on the required Bid form. All blank spaces for Bid prices must be filled in, in ink or typewritten, and the bid form must be fully completed and executed when submitted.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any informalities or minor defects, or to reject any and all Bids. Any Bid may be withdrawn prior to the above scheduled time for the opening of Bids or authorized postponement thereof. Any Bid received after the time and date specified will not be considered. No Bidder may withdraw a Bid within 90 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Should there be reasons why the Contract cannot be awarded within the specified period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

Bidders must satisfy themselves of the scope-of-work by examination of the site and a review of the Contract Documents including Addenda. After Bids have been submitted, the Bidder shall not assert that there was a misunderstanding concerning the quantities of work or of the nature of the work to be done.

The Contract Documents contain the provisions required for the work included in the Project. Information obtained from an officer, agent or employee of the Owner or any other person shall not affect the risks or obligations assumed by the Contractor or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the Contract.

Bid Security and Bond Requirements

There are no bid securities or bond requirements for this project. Progress payments will be made for work in place and a ten percent (10%) retainage will be held on all work until the project is completed and the contract requirements are satisfied. Retainage in the amount of five percent (5%) of the final construction cost will be held for a one (1) year warranty period. Bidder may elect to provide a maintenance bond for one hundred percent (100%) of the construction cost in lieu of the five percent (5%) retainage.

The Owner may for any reason whatsoever, determine that it is not in its best interest to award a Contract. In that event, the Contract award will not be made by the Owner and the Owner will not then be liable for any payments whatsoever to the Bidder. Extension of time beyond the ninety (90) day period of the award may be made only by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

The party to whom the Contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement within ten (10) calendar days from the date when Notice of Award is delivered to the Bidder. The Notice of Award will be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and contract forms. In case of failure of the Bidder to execute the Agreement, the Owner may, at his option, consider the Bidder in default.

The Owner within ten (10) days of receipt of an acceptable Agreement signed by the party to whom the Contract was awarded, will sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the Agreement. Should the Owner not execute the Agreement within such period, the Bidder may, by Written Notice, withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of notice by the Owner.

A conditional or qualified Bid will not be accepted.

Award will be made by the Owner to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over the work shall apply to the Contract throughout.

Time For Completion

The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within sixty (60) consecutive calendar days from and including the date of receipt from the Owner of formal notice to proceed.

Award of Contract

The award of any contract will be made by the Owner.

Bidders are cautioned that bids that are deemed by the Owner to be obviously unbalanced may be rejected.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any proposal for failure to comply with all requirements of this notice or of any of the Contract Documents; however, it may waive any minor defects or informalities at its discretion.

The Owner further reserves the right to reject all proposals, or to award a contract or contracts which in its judgement is in the best interest of the Owner.

Nondiscrimination of Employment

BIDDERS ON THIS WORK WILL BE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH THE PRESIDENT'S EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 11246. THE REQUIREMENTS FOR BIDDERS AND CONTRACTORS UNDER THIS ORDER ARE EXPLAINED IN 41 CFR 60.4.

Notice of Requirement for Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities.

Bidders and offerors are cautioned as follows: By signing this bid or offer, the bidder or offeror will be deemed to have signed and agreed to the provisions or the "Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities" in this solicitation. The certification provides that the bidder or offeror does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color, or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a defacto basis. The certification also provides that he will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a bidder or offeror to agree to the Certification of Nonse-gregated facilities will render his bid or offer non-responsive to the terms of solicitations.

Date at Oakland, Maryland, this 15th day of August, 1994.

CARVING OUT FIVE TURNS on a 43-foot-line in a specific distance on Broadford Lake last Saturday was the best effort of the day and led to a first place finish for local skier Sam Ingram in the Open Division of the Broadford Lake Slalom Water Skiing Tournament. A record 38 skiers from several states participated in the event under near perfect conditions. See story on sports pages.

Symphony At Deep Creek Programs Continue Tonight And Tomorrow

The Symphony at Deep Creek, sponsored by the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, has performed two concerts at the Garrett Community College auditorium and will present two more, tonight and tomorrow night, both beginning at 8 p.m. While last week's programs spotlighted the smaller chamber orchestra pieces and solos, this week's concerts will feature a larger orchestra presenting pieces by Mozart, Dvorak, and Bach, among others.

Because of sudden serious illness, guest violist Jesse Levine will not appear in the program. He was to have performed with Erick Friedman, virtuoso violinist, this evening in the Symphonie Concertante by Mozart. Performing in Levine's stead will be Veronica Salas, an accomplished violist from New York City who has been a part of the Symphony at Deep Creek for several years. Also featured tonight will be Friedman, Ole Akahoshi, cello; and Heawon Kim Stuckenbruck, piano, as they present Shostakovich's Piano

THE SHOW MUST GO ON, despite what may befall the performers, and tonight's Symphony at Deep Creek concert will do just that even though the guest performer has suddenly taken ill and will be unable to perform. Jesse Levine, pictured above (right) with Erick Friedman, was scheduled to perform a duet with Friedman this evening, but in light of his illness, the part will be played by Veronica Salas, an accomplished New York City violist who has been part of the Symphony at Deep Creek for several years. (See story for more biographical information.) Levine was scheduled to conduct tomorrow night's concert, and this task will be taken over by Friedman. Friedman, a former protege of Jascha Heifetz, "wowed" the audiences last weekend with his unmatched abilities and talent. Concert-goers will have the opportunity to again witness his expertise this evening in the Mozart duet as well as in a Shostakovich piece in which he will be accompanied by piano virtuoso Heawon Kim Stuckenbruck - who also awed concert guests last weekend - and cellist Ole Akahoshi. A feature of tomorrow night's concert will be the performance of the popular Brandenburg Concerto No. 4, with the spotlight on Dale Stuckenbruck, solo violinist, and flutist Donald and Rachel Anderson. Tomorrow night's performance will also include Mozart's Symphony No. 40. Tickets will be available at the door and at area pharmacies. For more information, persons may contact the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival at 387-3082.

Airport, Park Improvements Discussed

Tom Jones, director of economic development for Garrett County, came before the Garrett County Board of Commissioners this week to discuss planned improvements to the Garrett County Airport and the Northern Garrett Industrial Park.

Jones stated that construction at the county airport may begin as soon as this spring. Additions to the airfield will include a taxi way extending the full length of the runway and a

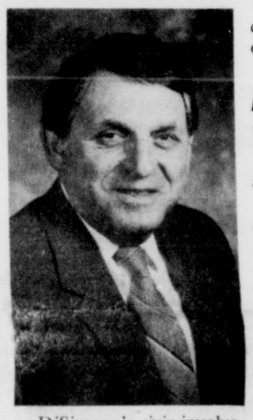
DiSimone Named Garrett County's Maryland, You Are Beautiful Winner



Joseph F. DiSimone, Oakland, has been named Garrett County's Maryland You Are Beautiful winner for 1994. According to Pat Vetter, county coordinator for the Maryland You Are Beautiful program, DiSimone was chosen by a selection committee for his community involvement and years of volunteerism.

DiSimone was nominated by Harry Biggs Jr., Oakland, who noted "Joe is truly one of Maryland's beautiful citizens...He has donated his time and talents to many community civic organizations."

DiSimone is a graduate of Oakland High School, and attended Catherman's Business School. He served in the U.S. Navy in Guam during the Korean Conflict, and received an honorable discharge. He was elected Register of Wills for Garrett County in 1978, and is currently running unopposed for a fifth term.

He has been a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland, for the past 60 years, where he has taught Sunday school, and sung on various occasions. He currently serves as lector and Eucharistic Minister.

DiSimone's civic involvement has included membership in the Oakland Rotary Club, where he has held various offices, and was song leader for many years. He currently serves as chairperson of the Rotary's community service committee. He is also a member of the Republican party, and is a board member of the Knights of Columbus.

He is a past member of the Southern Garrett Athletic Association, and frequently is asked to speak for Career Employability and Marketing classes at Southern High School. He served as a mentor and job shadowing supervisor with the Maryland's Tomorrow program, and was work site supervisor and guest speaker for the Summer Youth Employment and Training Program (SYETP), which included its Learning Awareness Program (LAP) component. He is currently

GCMH President Receives Award For Excellence

Benjamin Rosenthal, president of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, received the Maryland Regent's Award for Excellence from the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE) at the recent Maryland Hospital Association's annual meeting.

Numerous candidates from throughout Maryland were nominated on the basis of continuous excellence or notable achievement in one or more of the classical functions of managements exceptional personal and professional leadership qualities, and role-modeling capabilities.

Constance Row, FACHE, regent for the state of Maryland, delivered the award speech in which she cited Rosenthal for his efforts "to ensure the continued position of strength, permanence and survival of the community's sole provider hospital." Row further stated, "Mr. Rosenthal has demonstrated his commitment to the citizens of Garrett County and surrounding West Virginia counties by striving to build the primary care

County Moving Ahead On School Construction

Garrett County Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, came before the county Board of Commissioners Tuesday to present schematic drawings for the Northern High School classroom addition and new southern area elementary school.

These plans, recently approved by the county Board of Education, are the first in a series of increasingly detailed drawings that must be completed prior to actual construction, Ryscavage explained. According to his timetable, ground breaking for the new elementary school could take place as early as July, 1995.

Ryscavage said that the site for the new school has been approved by the State Planning Office Clearing House. After obtaining approval from the state Interagency of School Construction (IAC,) the county Board of Education will request that the commissioners purchase the site, he stated.

Ryscavage hopes to present completed plans for the new school to the IAC by this fall. This would put the county in line for state funding for next year's construction season. Total cost for the new school has been estimated at $4 million, Ryscavage commented.

From the schematic drawings, Ryscavage pointed out that the Northern

Driver Killed When Rig Slams Into Mountain

A tractor-trailer, loaded with treated lumber, lost its brakes while descending Backbone Mountain Monday afternoon, and collided into a hillside at the base of the mountain, killing its driver, according to a report filed by Tfc. G.S. Becker, Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

Robert H. Wilson, 52, Whiteford, was killed after he was unable to maneuver the 1989 International tractor-trailer around the sharp turn on eastbound Md. 135, at the Allegany/Garrett County line. According to police reports, the truck exploded into flames upon impact.

According to other written reports, the rig, owned by a New Jersey company, was hauling a box container filled with finished lumber to Baltimore.

The accident closed Md. 135 around Luke for several hours, following the 3:45 p.m. accident. Also responding to the scene were Bloomington and Westernport firefighters, Tri-Towns Ambulance, members of the Allegany County Hazardous Incident Response Team, officials from the Maryland Department of the Environment, and crews from the Md. State Highway Administration.

Mrs. Upole Seeks National Title

The 18th Annual Mrs. America Pageant, set for Sept. 11 in Fort Worth, Texas, will feature Garrett County's own Sherry Upole, Mrs. Maryland 1994, who earned the state title in April after competing with 15 other finalists from throughout the state.

Mrs. Upole is scheduled to arrive in Fort Worth on Aug. 31 to begin a week and a half of preliminary competition, including a scrapbook contest, Mrs. Fitness, Mrs. Photogenic, and best state costume.

Along with 50 friendship gifts for the other contestants, Mrs. Maryland will take two symbolic gifts from her state, one of which will be given Florence Henderson, hostess of the pageant. Mark Stutzman, Mtn. Lake Park, creator of the famed Elvis stamp, has autographed framed sheets of Elvis stamps for her take to the competition.

The winner of the Mrs. America pageant will be eligible to compete for Mrs. World.

Mrs. Maryland has made more than 50 public appearances since she was crowned on April 10. She has also been involved with the American Red Cross, the American Heart Association, and the American Cancer Society.

She lives in Gorman with her husband, Mike, and their daughter, Brittany.

Autumn Glory Festival Labeled Among Top Events In North America

The 27th Annual Autumn Glory Festival, slated for Oct. 12-15, has been chosen to appear in the 1995 Top 100 Events in North America by the American Bus Association.

Officials of ABA and Destinations magazine, the association's travel trade publication, made the announcement Tuesday in awards ceremonies at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C.

The Top 100 Events includes U.S. and Canadian events from each state and province. From the 100, two events are named as the top event in each country. For 1995, the Top Event in Canada is The Queen's Pictures, an exhibition at the National Gallery of Canada in Ottawa, Ont., from June 23 - Sept. 10. The Top Event in the United States is the Special Olympics World Games in New Haven, Conn., July 1-9.

ABA annually selects U.S. and Canadian events that appeal to a wide range of audiences. The events range from festivals honoring music and heritage to anniversary celebrations and light displays. The trade association of the intercity motorcoach industry, ABA has conducted the top 100 program since 1982 to

Mt. Zion Road Construction Delayed Again

Garrett County Commissioners John Braskey and Elwood Groves attended Wednesday's meeting of the State Board of Public Works in Annapolis to ask the state to resume work on Mt. Zion Road. However, following the meeting the commissioners stated that Governor William Donald Schaefer, "delayed action on moving the project forward."

The Mt. Zion Road project, which would provide northern access to Jennings Randolph Lake near Bloomington, has been in the works for seven years. After Wednesday's public works meeting, the commissioners restated their belief that the access road would be "an important tourism and recreational opportunity for the county."

According to the Board of Commissioners, "He [Schaefer] indicated, during the proceedings, that he would be visiting the county in the very near future in order to personally review the status and scope of the project"

"The two other members of the Board of Public Works indicated their support of the project, those members being Comptroller of the Treasury Louis Goldstein and State Treasurer Lucille Maurer. They delayed taking action until the Governor has had the opportunity to personally conduct his review of the project," the commissioners said.

The commissioners stated that they expect the Mt. Zion Road project to be put to a vote at the September meeting of the Board of Public Works.

In a letter to the Board of Public Works sent last week, the commissioners stated, "We encourage your continued funding of this project...We wish to amplify and reaffirm the county's commitment to provide maintenance of the new roadway when completed to county standards."

The commissioners also reminded the public works board of the county's offer to contribute $200,000 toward the completion of Mt. Zion Road.

The last work done on the road was a rough grade performed by the National Guard. In addition to the access road, the project also calls for the construction of a lake-side picnic area, rest rooms, and a boat launching facility.

FILM ARTISTS MEET IN GRANTSVILLE - Two nationally famous artists of film, one an actor and the other a photographer who has won 28 national awards and a Best of State in Pennsylvania, met in Grantsville recently for a combined performance of talents. The actor, Daniel Roebuck, left, is a regular co-star with Andy Griffith on the ABC hit series "Matlock" and the master photographer is Rich Beitzel, Meyersdale, Pa. Roebuck was married May 7 to Kelly Durst, daughter of Will and Jean Durst, Grantsville. Beitzel, who has prints on display at Epcot Center in Orlando, Fla., photographed the Roebucks in Grantsville. See story on page A-6.

Sheriff's Office Cites Union Rep For Stalking

A Towson man was arrested on the strength of a warrant by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office last week. Timothy B. Goins, 35, was charged with stalking, harassment, and a traffic violation after an alleged altercation with an employee of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Goins is a representative of UFCW Local 27, and as was reported in last week's issue of The Republican, has already been involved in an altercation with the employee, Kim Shirer.

According to Shirer's statement in the police report, Goins had harassed her for a week following an altercation two weeks ago when the defendant had come to Shirer's home to discuss union issues. At that time, Shirer had asked Goins to leave her property and when he allegedly failed to do so, she began to spray him with a garden hose. This confrontation resulted in both parties charging one another at the sheriff's office.

The latest charges against Goins arose on August 17 after he reportedly waited in the parking lot of the American Legion until Mrs. Shirer left work at the hospital. He is accused of tailgating her vehicle and stalking her, according to the report.

Goins was released on his own recognizance following the arrest, according to a sheriff's office spokesperson. He has also apparently filed a harassment complaint against Shirer in the form of a criminal summons.

Ranger Arrests Six Campers On CDS Charges

Six persons from West Virginia were arrested last Saturday at Swallow Falls State Park camping ground when a ranger discovered them to be in possession of a controlled dangerous substance.

Charged with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia were Rose A. Miller, 34, Crystal J. Frazer, 20, Cheryl L. Franklin, 33, Valerie J. Walters, 34, and a 17-year-old juvenile, all from Berkeley Springs, W.Va., and Allen D. Fox, 27, Hedgesville, W.Va.

The six were arrested at 11:15 p.m. by Ranger Michael Berry of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources State Forest and Park Service. The ranger had apparently entered the campsite to enforce "quiet hours" at the time of the arrest.

The adults were incarcerated in the Garrett County Jail, each held on $250 bond. The juvenile was released into the custody of family members, according to the report.

Property Damage Under Investigation By Sheriff's Office

Several incidents of property destruction were reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office this week, mainly involving apparent acts of vandalism.

Angela Sypolt, Terra Alta, W.Va., contacted the sheriff's office on Aug. 20 to report damage done to her 1987 Chevrolet Camaro. The vehicle was parked at the Garrett County Fairgrounds when an unknown person or persons "keyed" one side of the car from front to back.

The damage estimate is $1,000, according to the report. There are no suspects in the case.

Daniel Donly Sr. reported to police that someone had shattered the front window of his home on Underwood Road. Donly told officers that his family was at home on Aug. 21, and at about 8:30 p.m., a car drove by and the front window shattered, possibly struck by a pellet from a gas-powered pellet gun. A family member was seated next to the window when it was hit, according to the report.

Officers inspected the scene and found that the outer pane of the three-paned window was completely destroyed. The loss was set at $400. A neighbor of Donly's also told police that something struck his garage door with force around the same time. The investigation is continuing.

Candace Sweene, McHenry, reported apparent vandalism at her home on Aug. 17. Sweene's 1985 Toyota Tercel was parked at her house on that evening and an unknown culprit used a large rock to smash the windshield sometime between 4:30 p.m. and 6 a.m. on Aug. 18.

The rock was found lying next to the car. Sweene also discovered that deep gouge marks were made under the door lock on the driver's side. Repairs to the vehicle will cost approximately $500.

A Mountain Lake Park woman has reported the apparent theft of her purse, which was lying on a table in her home on Powles Drive. Ruth D. DeWitt went to bed on the night of Aug. 15, having left her purse on the table and the door unlocked. The item was gone the next day.

The loss has been estimated at $200, including cash, credit cards, and other items.

A breaking and entering was also reported to the sheriff's office this week. Nancy Hinebaugh, Table Rock Road, told officers that someone had pried open one of her doors on Aug. 21, causing $200 in damage. Once inside, the culprits removed some property items with a total worth of approximately $85.

Investigations are continuing in the cases.

ATTEMPTED BREAK-OUT THWARTED AT JAIL - An inmate at the Garrett County jail nearly captured his freedom two weeks ago after using hacksaw blades to saw through steel bars. Gerald D. Frazee, 27, was charged "in-house" for his attempted jailbreak, which involved the help of an unidentified accomplice. According to Detective J. Murphy, Frazee had managed to create a small hole in a window of the jail and had lowered a string to the street, where the accomplice allegedly tied four hacksaw blades to the string. Murphy said Frazee worked on a four-foot by three-foot section of bars over several days, filling in the cuts with toothpaste to hide his work. When the section was completely removed, the inmate allegedly threw it against the window in an effort to break it. However, the shatter-proof glass was only punctured with two small holes from the impact. Frazee then decided to try to break the glass by heating it first with a small fire. The smoke from the fire was immediately detected by jailers, Murphy said, and Frazee was caught. The window he damaged is pictured. The inmate was housed in the local jail following his May 4 escape from the Western Penitentiary, a maximum-security prison located near Pittsburgh, Pa. He was originally from Garrett County, and has been serving a 20-year term in the penitentiary for armed robbery. He has since been returned to the Pennsylvanian prison, Murphy said.

Garrett Choral Society Resumes Sunday Practice

The Garrett Choral Society will resume rehearsals this Sunday for the October concert of love songs. Practice for this program was initiated in the spring and the singers are asked to return for the remaining seven weeks of rehearsal.

The practices will be held on Sundays at 6:30 p.m., beginning Aug. 27, at the Southern Middle School cafetorium. The concert will be held in the auditorium of Garrett Community College on October 7, 8, and 9.

The Garrett Choral Society is under the direction of Nancy K. Learey.

Unrestrained Child Is Injured In Two-Car Collision Saturday

A two-year-old child was ejected from the front seat of a car driven by her mother, Kimberly A. Miller, 26, Barton, when Miller apparently failed to stop at a stop sign at the intersection of G Street and Rt. 135 in Mountain Lake Park on Saturday. According to Detective J. Murphy of the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, the child was not buckled in a safety seat at the time of the accident, nor was a 4-year-old child also sitting in the front seat.

Miller was operating a 1984 Ford Escort southbound on G Street and apparently entered the intersection of G and Rt. 135, into the path of a 1989 Ford driven by Sheila L. Rexrode, 40, Swanton. Rexrode's vehicle struck the Miller car broadside, according to Murphy. The child was ejected out the passenger side window and hit the asphalt pavement.

Both the 2-year-old and Rexrode were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where they received treatment for injuries and were later released. The accident occurred at approximately 4 p.m., Murphy said. Also responding to the scene was the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

The detective stated that Ms. Miller had been cited twice before for not securing her children properly in her vehicle, and received a third citation after Saturday's wreck. She was also charged for failing to stop at a stop sign, Murphy said.

Accident Man Cleared Of Assault, Harassment Charges

An Accident man was cleared of charges of assault, harassment, and driving an uninsured vehicle in last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings.

Francis E. Resh, 55, was found not guilty of those charges, which had been filed by Jessie M. Resh, Accident, who claimed she had been harassed by the defendant over a period of several years, with the most recent incidents occurring from Jan. 28 through April 12.

On one occasion, according to court documents, Jessie claimed she had gone to her mailbox, and Francis came toward her on an all-terrain vehicle. He stopped the vehicle, climbed off, and began slapping his fists together. She stated he then picked up a rock, and fearing he would throw it at her, she ran down a set of steps and twisted her ankle. She claimed Francis had been told by the courts to have no contact with her, and that he had, on occasion, threatened to kill her.

Judge Ralph M. Burnett did, however, convict Resh on a charge of operating an unregistered vehicle. He fined the defendant a total of $305, with $160 of that amount suspended, and placed him on six months of unsupervised probation. Conditions of the probation indicate Resh must avoid operating his four-wheeler near Jessie Resh's property, and he must have no contact with her.

In other district court news, Cathy Crosco, 36, Oakland, had one count of harassment placed on the stet docket, at the request of the complainant, Dennis W. Beckman, Oakland.

Catherine T. Buchak, 26, VanVoorhis, Pa., and Charles R. Gilmer, 25, Monongahela, Pa., were both convicted on one count of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS), stemming from their May 27 arrest by park rangers at Swallow Falls State Park. Each was handed a 30-day jail term, with all of the sentence suspended except for 48 hours, fined $350, and placed on one year of supervised probation. An additional charge of use of CDS paraphernalia against the pair was not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

According to court documents, Buchak and Gilmer were arrested after the rangers entered their campsite to enforce quiet hours. The rangers reportedly spotted a soda can wrapped in aluminum foil, and a plastic bag containing a greenish leafy substance that was later identified as marijuana.

Randle G. Ashby, 39, Oakland, pleaded guilty to one count of CDS possession and one count of DUI (driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs) in Judge Burnett's court. He was sentenced to a total of 32 days in jail, fined $100, and placed on two years of supervised probation. Additional charges of use of CDS paraphernalia, and driving on a revoked driver's license were not prosecuted because of a plea agreements with the state's attorney.

Court records indicate that on Dec. 25, 1993, Garrett County Sheriff's Deputy J.B. Sowers observed Ashby's vehicle stuck in the snow on Rt. 219, near the Jasper Riley Road. As the officer approached the vehicle, he detected a strong odor of alcohol. He noted the defendant subsequently failed a field sobriety test. Word was received from the Motor Vehicle Administration that Ashby's driver's license had been revoked on Oct. 31, 1990.

Sowers accompanied Ashby to the Garrett County Jail, and a subsequent search revealed a small quantity of marijuana and a brass pipe in his shirt pocket.

One count of malicious destruction of property, and one count of battery against Kathryn L. McDonald, 18, Oakland, were placed on the stet docket. The charges stemmed from an incident on May 25 in the Short Stop convenience store's parking lot.

Johnathan L. Booska, 19, Swanton, charged on Feb. 4, with felony theft, had his case placed on the stet docket, at the request of the investigating officer. According to court records, Booska had made restitution to Michael Frey, from whose vehicle he stole a stereo valued at $1,362, while it was parked at Team One in Oakland.

Corrections Noted In Two Vehicle Accident Reports

Last week's issue of The Republican included two stories about separate car accidents which contained some erroneous information.

On the front page of last week's issue was a story concerning the car accident involving Dennis Murray, 36, Mtn. Lake Park, and Lester Russell, 44, Bayard, W.Va. The story indicated that the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad extricated Russell from the wreckage, but it should be noted that the task was actually performed by crews of the Mount Storm Fire Department and the Mount Storm Ambulance.

Russell was transported to the hospital by the Southern Garrett squad, while Murray was taken there by the Mt. Storm Ambulance. The omission of the information is regretted.

A separate story concerned the one-car accident involving driver Richard A. Fadeley, 18, Tunnelton, W.Va. It was incorrectly reported that he was unhurt in the accident, which occurred on Rt. 50 near Table Rock Road. He was, in fact, transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad and he remained a patient there for four days, according to a family member. He was also not charged with DWI at the scene, but at the hospital.

Rabid Raccoon Brings Year's Count To 11

The 11th rabies case this year in Garrett County was recently confirmed by Maryland Department of the Environment Rabies Lab, according to the Garrett County Health Department.

The incident occurred on August 12 when a raccoon was shot after it was observed inside a dog house at a residence located on King Wildesen Road. One dog and a number of cats which may have been in contact with the rabid raccoon were euthanized as a result of the encounter. The cats were all unvaccinated and, although the dog had been vaccinated in the past, its rabies vaccination had expired.

This incident again emphasizes the importance of keeping dogs and cats rabies vaccination current, the spokesperson said. The health department has tentatively scheduled the next series of rabies clinics for the week of September 19-24. Persons should refer to local newspapers and radio stations for specific times and locations.

GLAF To Present Free Military Band Concert

"The President's Own" United States Marine Band will be arriving in Garrett County on October 1 to present a free concert in the gymnasium of Southern High School. The concert will be the 1994 season finale for the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival.

While the concert will be free of charge, guests will be required to have tickets to enter. To receive tickets, persons must send a self-addressed stamped envelope to GLAF, P.O. Box 151, McHenry MD 21541.

When the request is received, four tickets will be placed in the stamped envelope and put in the mail, according to Fred Stemple, GLAF executive director. More information about the ticket procedure as well as about the marine band will appear in The Republican and other area newspapers.

Persons may also receive more details by calling the GLAF office at 387-3082.

PRIORITY ONE: JOBS
I believe jobs must be a top priority of our county. We have seen layoffs and mine closings which have hurt many families. Often young people must leave our county to get work. I will work for the development of a comprehensive plan to attract desirable industry here. We cannot rely on tourism alone.

Such a Nice Guy...

He was probably about 16 years old when he was employed as a "printer's devil" at Sincell Publishing Company back in the late 1940s. It was evident even during his adolescent years that this was a truly special person who would one day make a positive impact on his community.

Several decades later, after spending a number of years in furniture merchandising, he decided to run for political office, and despite the fact that there were about a dozen other candidates, many of them extremely competent, there was little doubt as to who would win the election. He really did not win that election so much on his experience and abilities, but primarily because he was "such a nice guy." The office of register of wills needs such a person, among whose greatest assets are kindness and empathy.

In that office now for more than a decade, Joe DiSimone has proven that he is much more than just a nice guy, as he has done an outstanding job in handling the delicate and often complicated matters involved with the settling of estates.

But in a broader sense, Joe has contributed so much more to his community than simply being a good register of wills. He has spent his entire life serving others in a wide variety of capacities, many of which are listed in the news story on the front page of this newspaper.

Even beyond his contributions, what makes Joe so unusually special is simply the way he treats and responds to the people around him. He always has a kind word for everyone he sees. He always has a smile for others, no matter the circumstances. He is always ready to pitch in and help when someone is in need. It is this behavior that has made Joe "such a nice guy" in the minds of everyone who knows him.

There have been a number of fine people who have been selected Garrett County's Maryland, You are Beautiful award winner, and we have never written an editorial about previous winners, although each certainly could have been featured. There's just something about Joe DiSimone, though, that in our opinion epitomizes the concept of this honor. We can think of no one else in the entire county more deserving.

Congratulations, Joe, and thanks for all that you do to make life better for so many people.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am writing concerning the cartoon in the August 18th issue of The Republican. May I explain why we gun owners do not want a license for gun ownership.

There are many people in our government who want to disarm all citizens. If a gun license would be required to own a firearm the fee could be increased until gun ownership would be too costly.

It is my belief that the crime problem in our nation is not caused by firearms, but by a moral breakdown. As we depart from God our crime rate increases.

I hope you understand why we gun owners are against a license for gun and ammo ownership.

Respectfully yours,
Paul W. Hoye, Jr.

To the Editor:

My husband has recently received several calls from persons in this area who have been solicited by some out-of-town companies. These companies are offering so called "bargain" satellite TV systems. These solicitors operate by either going door to door, or by sending flyers in the mail. The "bargain" satellite systems include extended warranties (up to years), "free" TV programming for up to five years, and also their own "easy credit plan." Sad to say, but after time has passed, these unsuspecting consumers have found the old adage "If it sounds too good to be true it usually is" to indeed be true.

The "bargain" satellite systems are budget systems which are greatly over-priced. The "free" programming is not "free", but is over-priced, and is unsuspectingly included in the price of the system. One customer told us that after only one year of her five years of "free" programming, she has been getting bills from the programming service. She stated that she had repeatedly tried to get this company to do warranty service work to no avail, and that they do not give her reasons for her continuing to be billed for her TV programming, which was supposed to be "free."

This letter is not to state that every out-of-town company is operating this way. It is intended to sound an alarm to consumers in this area. Beware of unwanted solicitations! Use caution and good judgment regarding purchases. The average consumer does not have the right information to combat unscrupulous salespersons, especially regarding satellite TV systems. Satellite TV systems are intricate pieces of equipment. Equip yourself with information prior to signing on any dotted line. Check with local dealers regarding equipment, set-up practices, programming, credit, etc. It's not a bargain at $39 a month if you go to your grave owing for it! Just as an Escort is not a Cadillac, so all satellite equipment is not the same. There are budget systems and there are the top of the line systems. When shopping, compare systems which offer the same features. Then and only then will you know if it is indeed a bargain.

Know what you're getting for your money. Consumer beware!

Sincerely,
Norma J. Rodeheaver

To the Editor:

While my family and I visited the Garrett County Fair last Monday night, we were expecting to enjoy ourselves. Everyone told us what a nice place it is.

But to our surprise, we experienced quite the opposite. The rides were good for the price, but the people were not as friendly as we expected. Then we went to the derby. You always expect a small community to be fair. But the final round, ruined our opinion of the G.C.F.

How can two cars be out for five minutes and come back and knock out car 3 to win? I thought there were rules they went by. It was a waste of money I never expected, because we spent approximately $100 to have a good time, not to be in a place where people don't play fair.

They always told us, go to Garrett County. You'll never meet friendlier people. We really went away disappointed.

To the Editor:

Recently there seems to have been a media blitz to convince the voters that the primary race for the office of governor of our state is all but over. This blitz grew out of a recent poll of a paltry 850 votes out of the many thousands that will be cast in our primary election, indicating that Glendening was the leading Democrat, even though the political tide of candidate American Joe seems to be on a rapid rise, and that Helen Bentley is the sure choice of the Republicans. Not so, Republicans, if you sense the countywide response to the candidacy of Ellen Sauerbrey or read the Voter's Choice page in the Frederick Post where she is the runaway choice of the voters.

People want change, not just in Carroll and Frederick counties, but all over the state. Helen Bentley is a long-time member of the Schaffer and old line Republican network that has dominated the political scene in the state for years. With the election of Helen Bentley and her dismal voting record for unions, bug spending and government waste, more often that not against her own party, voters can expect no change - only more of the same and of course Spending Glendening, who hasn't told the taxpayers where he will get the extra 300 million dollars to pay for his campaign promises to date, would be even worse. This is not what the people of the state want. Our citizens across the state, of both parties, want the next governor to be one upon whom they can depend to "rein in" the excessive spending of their tax dollars, one who will provide a better climate for our economic prosperity, one who will address the issue of crime in a manner that will mandate a positive impact, one who will halt the rapid spread of the bureaucratic maze that aggressively infringes upon the lives and property rights of the ordinary citizens of the state, one who will not condone the frittering away of our public funds for costly faddism school programs, but will demand sound basic education for all, and one who will chop the waste and extravagance out of our state spending and use the money where it counts, for the betterment of all citizens. I doubt as governor Ellen Sauerbrey would have sent, during her last few months in office, a bevy of lame duck political friends, soon to be out of office, to a Harvard seminar at a cost to the taxpayers of $45,000.

Ellen Sauerbrey is the right person for the right job at the right time. She is an elegant lady whose character and integrity are without flaw. She is intellectually brilliant, a graduate of Western Maryland College, and as minority leader of our State's House of Delegates has commanded the respect of the members of the Legislature from both parties. She has been an astute student of the fiscal policies of the state and has developed an expertise in the fiscal matters and functioning of the state government second to none. Ellen Sauerbrey, among all the candidates of both parties, is best qualified to tackle the huge and ominous fiscal problems that the next governor of our state will face - a legacy from our present" spendthrift" administration.

Pay no attention to the polls. Vote for the change long overdue in our state. Don't allow the politicians to win this election. See to it that it is won by the voters who pay the bill and reap the results. No candidate is more dedicated or more capable of serving the best interests of all the people of our state than Ellen Sauerbrey.

For the change we need, Ellen Sauerbrey for our next governor.

Willard L. Hawkins Sr.

To the Editor:

The health care bill, proposed by the Majority Leader and the White House, and now being debated in the House of Representatives will not fix what is wrong with health care.

The Clinton/Gephardt Health Plan will cost jobs and reduce compensation for workers. The Democrat leadership's health care plan in the House is a job killer for hard working Marylanders and workers across the nation. Not only will the Clinton/Gephardt plan cost jobs, it also will cost workers lower pay or reduced benefits as businesses struggle to pay for the employer mandate.

More than 25,000 working Marylanders would lose jobs under the Clinton/Gephardt plan, according to a study conducted by the CONSAD Research Corporation for the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB). An additional 218,496 workers would be hit by $265,520,459 in lost compensation. Over 1.3 million jobs nationwide would suffer wage reductions averaging $1,200 annually.

Republicans support health care reform. We do not support creating a government-run health care system that costs billions in new taxes, kills millions of jobs, and hurts the quality of care American families receive. The way to reform health care is to fix what is wrong with it and strengthen what is right through a comprehensive package of specific reforms.

Sincerely,
Joyce Lyons Terhes

Out Of The Darkness

by Carol Cox

FREE AT LAST

I began this column three years ago as a public forum in which to speak out for my husband, Jerome W. Cox, and others like him who suffered from the devastating effects of mental illness.

I titled it (and the book I am writing) "Out of the Darkness" in an attempt to help lead the general public away from the ignorance and stigma surrounding the many forms of this illness of the brain.

On August 2, my dear husband lost his 24-year battle with his mind-crippling disease. The suddenness of his unexpected death cast a shadow of disbelief, anguish and loss over me that has no comparison.

Our years together were short, numbering only five, but during that time, I dedicated my life to his care, his needs and his protection. Every attempt was made to preserve his dignity and return a small portion of the countless things he lost since his diagnosis in 1970.

He had a home life once again and was no longer part of an endless maze of impersonal institutions, psychiatric hospitals and nursing homes. He celebrated holidays and special occasions with people he loved and who returned that love; he took part as best he could in activities of his beloved St. Peter's Catholic Church and the brotherhood of Knights of Columbus Council 1771.

His activities in the Garrett County Alliance for the Mentally Ill and the local DRADA organization (which specializes in depression and his own bipolar disorder) were extremely curtailed because of his mental and physical limitations, but he served as a never-ending inspiration to me and to others who remain determined to continue the struggle to publicize the plight of the mentally ill through extensive education, public awareness and the eradication of cruel and senseless stigma.

The tragedy of his death and the depth of my personal loss were lovingly offset by my mother, my children and the rest of my family; a group of wonderful friends, including Carol and Roger Craver; Betty and Ron DeWitt; Peggy Jamison; Bea Crosco; the members of my Business and Professional Women's Club; the Garrett County AMI; Lighthouse members and Staff; his brother Knights of Columbus friends who served as honorary pallbearers; Alan Laverdure, whose exceptional bass baritone voice at the funeral mass literally filled the sanctuary with Jerry's favorite music; Durst Funeral Home, whose director and employees went far beyond the call of duty to maintain the dignity my husband deserved; and the members of our church who provided the wonderful after-service luncheon.

I reserve deep and personal gratitude for Rev. Father Martin Feild -- not only for the exceptional and healing message of the funeral mass and prayer service, but for his calming presence throughout the most trying time of my life.

Father Feild traveled every step of this often agony-filled journey with me as we fought together for some semblance of peace and satisfaction for my husband. He was there for both of us when Jerry was in stable periods. He was there for me when the illness took over and I was alone. He reminded me that Jerry and I were never alone because God walked with us on our often lonesome road.

Jerry's journey is over now and he is finally 'out of the darkness.'

This column will now and forever be written and dedicated to his memory and my never ending battle for the plight of the mentally ill.

THE LAW OF THE LAND

While applying the finishing coat of poly-urethane to some woodwork in a bedroom last week, I listened to the radio news. One newsclip was of President Clinton re-negotiating the crime bill which had been killed in Congress the week before on a procedural vote. The next newsclip was of Florida Governor Lawton Chiles imploring the President to help him deal with the landing of unauthorized Cuban immigrants.

Both issues moved ahead from that moment as I brushed doors and trim, but taken together the newsclips gave me an insight into what is wrong with our country. The President was spending his political capital to get Congress to pass a bill which, if enacted, won't do anymore than all the other crime bills ever passed, to make us safer. In the meantime, he was oblivious to (or at least was ignoring) a real problem in Florida of hundreds and potentially many thousands of people setting out on inner-tube rafts to escape Castro's Cuba.

That is where America is today: chasing shadows while ignoring the substance.

Public safety provides us with a bushel basket full of examples. We all want to feel safer, and so politicians pass laws which supposedly make us safer. So they take guns away from honest people, they declare war on drugs (drug dealers get mandatory prison sentences; rapists don't -- do we need a war on rape?), they spend more money on programs and policemen. Some politicians even tell us that if we just change the way the head of a law enforcement agency is chosen we will get better law enforcement (changing the way you choose a preacher never seems to produce better preaching). At the same time, government increasingly restricts (some would say even persecutes) organized religion which has served public safety for centuries by teaching people they should behave themselves.

Back to the Cubans, one expert on Cuban-American relations has suggested that Castro has permitted this most recent exodus from his country because the United States has failed to live up to its own law (passed in 1987), permitting 20,000 legal immigrants from Cuba annually. To date we have not reached the 5,000 annual level. If this is true, President Clinton has been busy trying to discourage one kind of lawbreaking while leading our nation in breaking another law.

That gave me a second clue as to what is wrong with our country today. Most of us want two conflicting things. First, we want lawbreakers to be punished. Second, we want to decide which laws we will obey.

During the caning controversy, probably a majority of people in this country felt the boy got what he deserved. My wife, a school teacher, heard such comments from kids at her school. Someone suggested to those teenagers that since they thought caning such a good thing, perhaps it should be implemented as a means of discipline in the schools. The kids said they would sue the school board if such a thing happened.

I heard similar endorsements of caning from people who I know from experience have been guilty of zoning violations, speeding and who have received traffic tickets. Some of these same upstanding citizens have taken cash under the table to evade income taxes, and committed other crimes which seemed justifiable to them at the time. I believe all of these things are punishable by caning or worse in certain Asian nations.

If it is a law we like, we say that breakers of the law should be severely punished. If it is a law we don't like, then we say it is an unwarranted intrusion of government into our lives. It isn't just that we are a nation of lawbreakers but also that we are a nation of hypocrites.

Thomas Jefferson said that the best governed people are the least governed people because they govern themselves. Another way of saying this is that there is no safety, public or private, where the people are not good.

From the black teenager in the ghetto to the CEO of a multi-national corporation on the golf course of his whites only country club, as a nation we do not respect the law. We use it, and we evade it. For our republic to endure we need a new awakening to goodness.

If we will not commit ourselves to virtue, then we would do well to cultivate a little more compassion towards those who break the laws we do like. As George Whitefield said as he watched a man go to the gallows, "There but for the grace of God go I."

Note: Friendsville Nutrition Site (Twila's Old Mill Grill) and Grantsville Nutrition Site (Starner Hill Apartments) will be using alternate menus.

Board Opposes Name Change For Negro Mountain

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners voiced their opposition this week to a proposed name change for Negro Mountain.

The commissioners' statement was in response to a letter they received this spring from the U.S. Board on Geographic Names. The letter stated that a new name, "Black Hero Mountain," had been proposed for Negro Mountain. The letter also requested the opinion of the county on such a name change.

Roger L. Payne, executive secretary of the USBGN, a division of the U.S. Geological Survey, headquartered in Reston, Va., stated in his letter to the commissioners that Negro Mountain was reportedly named after Colonel Thomas Cresap's black servant, named Goliah, who was killed by Native Americans in 1756.

According to Payne's letter, "The proponent of the name change proposal feels that 'to give such a generic name [Negro Mountain] to honor a brave man is an insult.' He proposes to change the name to Black Hero Mountain to honor the 13 black Medal of Honor heroes from Pennsylvania and Maryland."

Payne, who did not identify the person or group who had suggested the name change, went on ask if the county supports the new name.

County Administrator Robert Fousek drafted a reply to the USBGN this week on behalf of the commissioners. In it he remarked, "During almost two and a half centuries of nomenclature usage, Negro Mountain has become ingrained in the fabric of our local culture, literature, place descriptions, road names, etc."

"Any change would meet with considerable resistance, not to mention the expense of road and address changes on county roads with Negro Mountain in them," he stated.

Fousek concluded by stating that the commissioners would not support the name change. He also remarked that according to local tradition, Cresap's servant was named Nemesis rather than Goliah.

Negro Mountain has banks in Somerset County, Pa., as well as eastern Garrett County.

AMATEUR BOTANIST CREATES TINY SUNFLOWER - Harold Hudnall, Crellin, has worked for nearly 10 years to create/propagate a sunflower quite different from the average eight-foot variety. In fact, Hudnall's latest success is a tiny blossom with seeds about one-fourth the size of a bb. The petals on the wee bloom, shown above left next to a quarter, are about 4/16th's of an inch wide. Hudnall has methodically worked on the project for years, and is shown at right with some of the middle-sized sunflowers that were grown by him and were an integral part of the down-sizing project. Hudnall said he plans to contact growers of the sunflower and inform them of his project.

Plans Being Finalized For 27th Annual Autumn Glory Festival

Plans are being finalized for Garrett County's 27th Annual Autumn Glory Festival, slated for October 13-16 in downtown Oakland and the surrounding area. The festival will begin Wednesday, October 12, with the Kick-Off Reception and crowning of Autumn Glory Queen Wendy Craver at the McHenry House at Wisp Golf & Ski Resort at Deep Creek Lake.

A fine arts exhibit will begin Wednesday and continue through the month of October at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. Several other events will begin Thursday, October 13, including a special postal cancellation and special hours at the Garrett County Historical Museum.

Other festival events include the "Official" Maryland State 5-String Banjo and Fiddle Championships, an Oktoberfest Meal and Celebration, Fireman's parade, the TLT Enterprises Baseball Card Show, the Western Maryland Tournament of Bands, bagpipe band, bluegrass and gospel concerts, an organ recital, western style square dancing, clogging demonstrations, Tall Tale Liars' Festival, Big Bucks Bingo, Ski, Snowboard and In-Line Skate Swap, a pumpkin chuck, Antique Car Show and Flea Market, the Western Maryland Gun Show, and the Grand Feature Parade, Heritage and Contemporary Craft Shows, an Antique Show and Sale, Fun Factory, and Texas Barbecue, Garrett County turkey dinners, and the 10th Annual Gortner Airport Fly-In are also part of the festival.

The sponsor of the Grand Feature Parade is First United National Bank and Trust, while the "Official" Maryland State Banjo & Fiddle Championships are sponsored by First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland and funded in part by a grant from the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council. Bell Atlantic Maryland is a patron sponsor of the festival.

Shuttle service will be available Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. from the Deep Creek Lake/McHenry area to and from downtown Oakland, the arts, crafts and antiques shows, and turkey dinners.

For more information or a free brochure, persons may contact Festival Headquarters, Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550-1581.

Sheriff's Office Arrests Noted

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office logged various arrests this week including three for DWI (with one involving a bike-rider) and one for battery.

A 16-year-old juvenile was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) after the bicycle he was operating struck a car driven by Connie D. Glotfelty, 34, Mountain Lake Park. The juvenile apparently went through an intersection on High Street in Oakland and hit the Glotfelty vehicle on the passenger side. He then left the scene, according to the report.

Glotfelty contacted the sheriff's office to report the mishap, and the juvenile was located by officers in a nearby apartment. He was charged with DWI as well as leaving the sight of an accident. The boy was also transported to Garrett Memorial Hospital where he was treated for minor injuries and was released.

Gustavo Munos, 28, Frederick, was charged with DWI on Saturday. He was stopped on Rt. 135 at approximately 10 p.m., according to the report.

John S. Barone Jr., 62, Deep Creek Lake, was charged with DWI early this week, according to a sheriff's office spokesperson. He was stopped on Rt. 135 in Mountain Lake Park.

A 36-year-old man was charged with battery following an alleged domestic dispute. John E. Foutz Jr. is accused of hitting Ella Foutz, 32, on Aug. 15. He is also accused of rolling her arm up in a car window during an argument.

Darren E. Smith, 26, Oakland, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant on Aug. 17. He is accused of violation of probation.

Autumn Glory Kickoff Tickets Now Available

The traditional kickoff reception of the 27th Annual Autumn Glory Festival will be held at the McHenry House at Wisp Resort on Wednesday, October 12, beginning at 8 p.m., with entertainment provided by former Miss Maryland, Kim Grimm.

Once again this year a special Honorary Golden Ambassador will be honored during the reception and Autumn Glory Queen Wendy Craver will be crowned. For just $150 per couple or $100 for a single ticket, supporters of the festival are designated as "Golden Ambassadors" and receive an honorary card offering the following benefits: admission to the Festival Kickoff Cocktail Buffet Reception, Antique Show and Sale at the National Guard Armory, TLT Baseball Card Show at the Oakland fire hall, the "Official" Maryland State Banjo & Fiddle Championships sponsored by First Federal Savings Bank of Western Maryland, and the Western Maryland Tournament of Bands. They will also receive reserved bleacher seating at the Grand Feature Parade sponsored by First United National Bank & Trust, pins designating participants as 1994 Golden Ambassadors, priority purchase of 1995 Golden Ambassador tickets, and public recognition as a special patron sponsor of the Autumn Glory Festival.

A prize drawing will be held during the reception for one set of 1995 Golden Ambassador tickets.

The sale of tickets will be limited to 300 patrons and no guest tickets will be given. Those who wish to purchase a ticket are encouraged to respond as early as possible. Tickets may be purchased by credit card, cash, or check payable to Festival Headquarters, Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Courthouse, 200 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550-1581.

"Shooting Star" Lands In Grantsville Home

"One may think that people associated with television or movies are snobs. Some may be, but there is one definite exception. Photographing Dan Roebuck could be compared to chatting to a friend. During that hot summer afternoon as he greeted family, asked and answered questions and gave input in creating photographs, one could not miss his sparkle of humor and the way he cared for all. I couldn't keep from smiling as I drove away with the latent images. A snob? What was I thinking?" -- Rich Beitzel

Editor's note: The writer, a correspondent for The Republican, has hereditary nerve deafness. After graduating from Galluadet College (now a university), the world's only liberal arts university exclusively for the deaf, he worked as a researcher for a PBS television special on hearing impairment, before becoming an information specialist at the National Information Center on Deafness, Washington, D.C.

by Craig Speicher
(Part one of a two part series)

Watching a shooting star can take your breath away. But when that star lands inside your home--as recently happened to a Grantsville family--the impact, of course, surpasses mere breathlessness.

In this case, the star has a name . . . and a familiar face. The name is Daniel Roebuck, whose face is almost impossible to miss these days. That's because, unlike most shooting stars, traveling downward, Roebuck is a rocketing, rising star of movie, television, and stage fame, who, last May 7, married Kelly Durst, daughter of Will and Jean Durst, Grantsville.

To refresh your memory, Daniel Roebuck is perhaps best recognized for playing the character of Cliff Lewis on the ABC hit series, "Matlock," as an assistant attorney to Andy Griffith's persona, famed lawyer Ben Matlock. In case your area lacks good TV reception, you might remember Roebuck from last year's cinematic blast, starring Tommy Lee Jones and Roebuck as U.S. Marshals pursuing Harrison Ford, "The Fugitive."

Daniel and Kelly met and married in Bethlehem, Pa. When I discovered the couple would be visiting Grantsville, I lunged for an interview and portrait shoot, to which they graciously granted over three hours despite scarce time for family and friends.

For stars of the Roebucks' magnitude, only another national star, who works behind the camera rather than in front -- Rich Beitzel, of Meyersdale, Pa. -- qualified to perform the Hasselblad magic. Some of his results are pictured with this feature. Besides winning numerous national photography awards, Beitzel, who collaborates with his artist wife, Esther, has also written on fine arts photography for Professional Photographer magazine, America's number one professional photography publication. I can't say I was awe-struck watching the Roebucks and Beitzel interact with the camera, but I was leaning slightly in that direction. I knew I was probably observing a once-in-a-lifetime performance by supreme artists.

Before I ever met Daniel, I heard him described as kind and compassionate, constantly considerate of others. But I struggled with the concept of a "major" Hollywood star whose thoughtfulness exceeded his or her ego. And I worried how I should relate to him: as a gregarious family friend, or a reserved reporter?

Not to worry. We shook hands, and, as if by script, "Cliff" (as I addressed him with a grin) handled everything, lapsing instantly into a casual manner that would give an unknowing bystander the impression I was an old friend. I don't recall exactly how it happened, but my considerable anxiety (precipitated mainly by my handicap) was blasted like a clay pigeon into powder. And I could never have imagined the revelation that followed.

As family and friends gradually gravitated about Daniel, planets tugged by the sun's gravity, our private conversation -- he wrote down his every word for me (the only way I can communicate accurately) -- yielded to group chatter. With each new comment, I was further forced into silent darkness, my old friend.

You see, lip "reading" is mostly myth (much like the infamous promise not to raise taxes); often little more than a guessing game; never nearly as accurate as reading writing. The best deaf lip readers, who desire not pity but understanding, comprehend a third or less of speech. (There are rare exceptions.) And that's when the deaf person has the speaker's undivided attention. In "hearing" groups, the deaf person can kiss those lips goodbye, because they are no longer focused on him or her alone, slow and exaggerated.

So there I stood with the one and only Daniel Roebuck, feeling about as significant as a dandelion, nearly bursting with yearning to know what everyone was laughing about. Only rarely do I feel greater pain than this: being "part" of a group without "belonging."

(Now you know why I flee from the presence of two or more human beings. Animal beings are not quite as frightening.)

Then, like star light suddenly piercing through clouds, came a beam of deliverance. Daniel snatched my notebook and pen and literally spelled out for me what had just been discussed.

I stood stunned. Never had a "hearing" person displayed such sensitivity, such perception of my isolation in the midst of many, as to voluntarily "put it in writing" without my request or "prompting." My dignity, if only for a moment, had been restored; by a very selfless "major" Hollywood star.

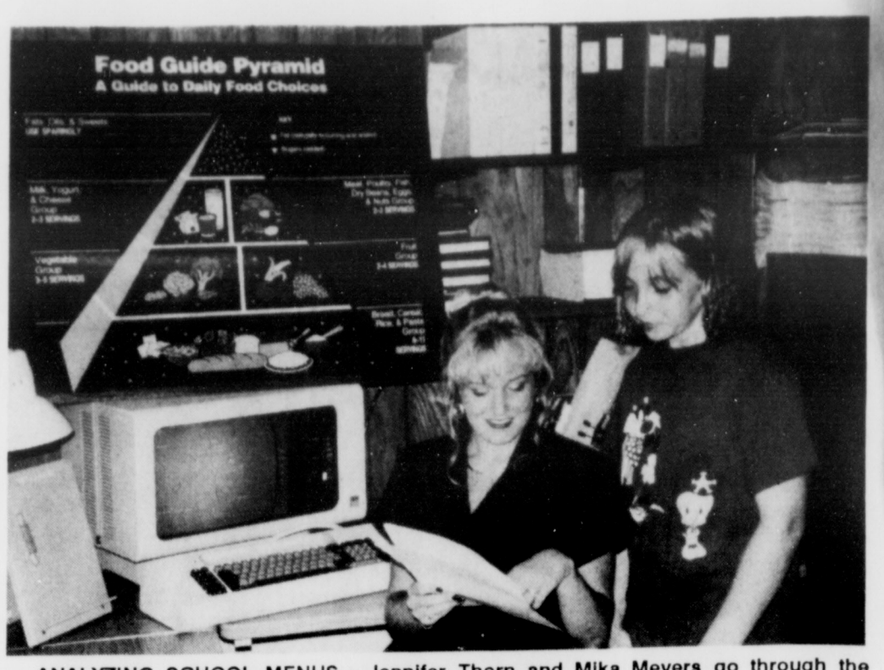
School Meals To Be Lower In Fat This Year



ANALYZING SCHOOL MENUS - Jennifer Thorn and Mika Meyers go through the procedure to computer analyze local school menu items for recommended dietary guidelines. Garrett County school menus will be meeting the U.S.D.A. standard of no more than 30% of the total calories from fat beginning this academic year. See story.

The opening of the 1994-95 academic year will bring healthy changes in school menus for all Garrett County schools, according to the Garrett County Health Department. Weekly averages for all lunch menus were reduced to include no more than 30% of the total calories from fat, as recommended by the American Heart Association and health professionals.

"The U.S.D.A. (United States Department of Agriculture) has set the standards for all school lunches to meet dietary guidelines by 1998," stated Ann Sherrard, director of Community Outreach and Nutrition for the health department and menu committee member. "Garrett County schools have moved ahead of the standards, exceeding the 1998 goals by implementing the dietary fat guidelines this academic year."

According to Sherrard, changes in the menu were accomplished in one of two ways.

"In some instances, lower fat choices, such as lightly breaded fish were selected or low fat products like low-fat dressings were substituted for products used in the past. Some existing recipes were modified to meet the new criteria," she said.

In order to compute the total calories by fat in the foods offered in the school lunch program, all menus were analyzed by computer. Jennifer Thorn, a third year dietetic student at West Virginia University, was employed this summer by the Garrett County Health Department to conduct the nutrient analysis of the school menus.

This is the second local initiative in the area of healthier school menus. Earlier changes were made in the extra foods offered in the à la carte menu selections.

"This effort has taken the time and talent of various individuals to help in the continued growth towards a stronger school lunch program," stated Richard Buckingham, food service director for the Board of Education and member of the committee.

The committee, organized to aid in the reduction of fat and the increase of complex carbohydrates and fruits and vegetables in school lunch menus, will be looking at other nutrients, including fiber, vitamin A, and vitamin C, total calories, and how school menus are currently meeting health standards for these areas in the coming years.

"I feel that this is an important first step in meeting all recommended dietary guidelines for school lunches, and I encourage parents of students in the local school system to take a look at the new menus and continue to support the school lunch program," stated Sherrard. "Reducing fat in meals is the most important thing that can be done to improve the American diet."

Comments and questions should be addressed to the Food Service Advisory Committee through the Garrett County Board of Education.

See more obituaries on Pages A8 and B7.

OFF AND ROLLING Monday morning in the midst of a downpour of rain were the 10 volunteer cyclists in the 5 For Kids Project, who left Garrett County for a ride across the state of Maryland to raise money for the Maryland Association of Resources for Families and Youth. Among the riders, who departed from the Maryland Salem Trust near Grantsville, were local residents Alan Kauffman, pastor of the Glade Mennonite Church near Accident, and Tom Ruckert, a member of the staff at Salem. Pictured above right, attempting to stay dry, is Senator John Hafer, who served as honorary chairman of the event. The riders arrived in Boonesboro Monday evening where they were guests at a bull roast at the San Mar Children's Home. They were expected to reach Baltimore Tuesday, where they were presented a citation by Baltimore Mayor Kurt Schmoke. Yesterday they were greeted in Annapolis by Governor Wm. Donald Schaefer at the Governor's Mansion and were guests at an ice cream social. By sunrise today, the 10 bikers were scheduled to be ferried across the Chesapeake Bay to resume their ride on the Eastern Shore and finish their trek in historic St. Michaels, where they will be guests at another reception.

SAVED BY A HELMET -- Billy Whitacre of Kitzmiller sits safely on his bike, parked on the sidewalk near the garage where he recently crashed. Billy was wearing a helmet like the one he has on the day of the crash, and only received minor scrapes and bruises from the fall. See story.

Local Boy Safe, Helmet "Badly Bruised" Following Neighborhood Bike Crash

by Joelle Plauger

Six-year-old Billy Whitacre of Kitzmiller understood his parents' rule that he had to always wear his helmet every time he rode his bike. On a warm afternoon during this year's Garrett County summer, Billy and his parents were very happy he chose to follow that house rule.

"I was coming up over the grass and I rolled over my handlebars," stated Billy. "My head hit the ground and I skidded into the garage."

Billy had tried to make a wide turn off of the alley behind his parents' house where he usually rides. After hitting a small, grassy hill, Billy fell off of his bike, landing on a sidewalk at the back of a neighbor's yard. The sidewalk ended at a garage, where Billy came to a stop.

"I was going pretty fast," explained Billy.

"I didn't see the wreck, but as soon as he came around the corner, pushing his bike and carrying his helmet on his handlebars, I knew something was wrong," explained Tammy Whitacre, Billy's mom. "One of my neighbor's who saw Billy's crash told me later that it looked as if the bike went in one direction and Billy slid the other way."

Tammy explained that her son's only concern after the crash was the damage to his bike.

"He was so worried, because one of his reflector's on the front of his bike was bent," stated Tammy. "I was just so thankful that he was O.K."

Billy explained that he banged his shoulder and scraped his knee during the fall. His helmet shows both a dent and several cracks where it impacted with the sidewalk.

"We bought him his helmet when he got his bike as a reward for not missing any days of school last year," explained Tammy. "From the first day the bike came into the house, the rule was 'no helmet, no riding the bike.'"

It seems that Billy continues to follow his parents' rule after his crash. The day Nancy Rhine, a Community Outreach Team member from the Garrett County Health Department and resident of Kitzmiller, delivered Billy's new helmet to his house, he was back out on his bike with the helmet on his head.

"Some of my friends don't wear helmets when they ride bikes, but one of them just got a helmet, because he had a wreck a few days ago, and Mom and I told him he should get a helmet," explained Billy.

Billy's 3-year-old brother, Bryant, is following in his brother's footsteps, wearing his helmet, he says, "so I don't bump my head!"

"We bought them helmets after we had heard and read so many things about kids falling off of bikes and hitting their heads," explained Tammy, who learned about the Health Department's low-cost helmet program at WIC clinics last year through a friend.

Billy, Bryant, and Tammy participated this year in Kitzmiller's Bicycle Safety Rodeo, sponsored in May by the Community Outreach Team at GCHD.

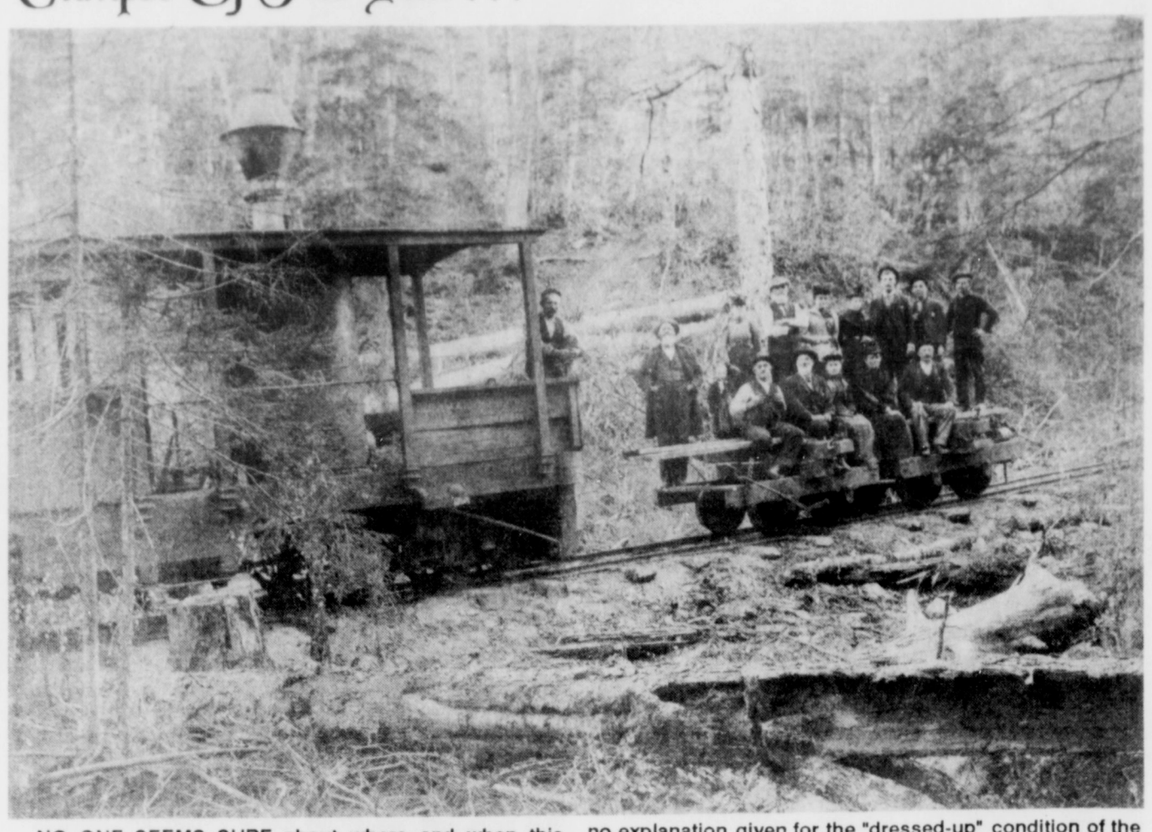
"I know the helmets work," stated Tammy. "Billy is O.K. and riding today thanks to that helmet."

"I was pretty scared when I wrecked," explained Billy. "Sometimes I wear my helmet because my mom makes me and other times I wear it because I want to, but at least I'm always wearing my helmet when I ride my bike."

Billy Whitacre continues to ride through the streets and alleys of Kitzmiller safely today, with his helmet on his head.

For more information on local bicycle safety activities or helmet use, call the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8111.

Glimpse Of The Past . . .



NO ONE SEEMS SURE about where and when this photo was taken, but some local historians believe this is a photo of the steam engine known as the "Swamp Angel" that operated in the Cranesville Swamp area many decades ago. There was no specific date on the photo and no explanation given for the "dressed-up" condition of the passengers. Note the steam boiler in the center of the engine. The photo is on loan by Mrs. Wayne Harvey and is published here courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican.

COVE

The worship service this Sunday, August 28, at St. John's Lutheran Church, ELCA, will begin at 8:30 a.m. followed by the Sunday school session. A wiener roast will be held at the Town Park, Accident, at 5 p.m for the congregation and Sunday school picnic. Hot dogs, marshmallows, and drink will be furnished. Each family may bring a dessert.

The worship service this Sunday, August 28, at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will begin at 9 a.m., followed by the Sunday school session at 10 a.m. The Sunday school and congregational picnic will be held at 4 p.m. on the church grounds. Each family should bring a covered dish.

Homecoming at the Rush Baptist church will be this Sunday, August 28. Sunday school begins at 9:45 a.m. and the worship service at 11 a.m. A covered dish dinner and pig roast will be at 1 p.m. A program will be held in the afternoon with guest speakers. The Getty Keefer family, Friendsville, Mr. and Mrs. Daymond Schmuck, Accident, and Rev. and Mrs. Alan Birkby, Grantsville, will be among those singing. Karin Tyson, Oakland, will entertain the children.

The Cove Ladies' Group will not meet in August because of the many other activities being held. The group plans to meet in September.

Among those attending the Garrett County Horsemen's Association cookout on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Durst, Grantsville were Carroll and Kristen Hanft, Addison, Pa., Karl Oester, Meyersdale, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft. A trail ride will be held the second weekend of September. That Sunday, Sept. 11, a lamb and ham roast and covered dish dinner will be held at the farm of Cecil Resh, Grantsville. The lamb was purchased at the Garrett County Fair, McHenry, and was raised and exhibited by Bobbi Jo Beitzel.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt were in Morgantown, W.Va., on Sunday to visit a daughter, Pamela Schmidt, and were accompanied home by another daughter, Rachel Schmidt, who spent a week with her sister, Pamela, at Morgantown. Rebecca Schmidt, Friendsville, spent a few days with them at Morgantown. She returned to her home and her sister, Sandra Schmidt, spent the remainder of the week at Morgantown with her cousins, Pamela and Rachel. John and Darlene Schmidt marked their 22nd wedding anniversary on Saturday, August 20.

Among the guests of Mrs. Lawrence Glover during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glover and family, Mt. Airy, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dixon, Sykesville, Rita Mongold and three sons, Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glover, Friendsville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glover, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harman and daughters. They all attended the funeral of their father, Lawrence Glover, on Thursday. Mrs. Glover's family members also being guests and attending the funeral were a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Spaw, also Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spaw and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Spaw, all of Cleveland, Ohio.

Shirley Resh, Rockville, spent a few days with her mother, Dorothy Resh, and they attended the funeral of Lawrence Glover on Thursday, and attended the Layman reunion on Saturday at the Casselman Valley Sportsman's Club, Grantsville.

Gary Deniker and son, William, Mt. Airy, were Thursday guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Deniker, and the four of them attended the funeral of Lawrence Glover. The Homer Denikers were Sunday afternoon visitors of the latter's sister, Louise Richter, at Maust's Personal Care Home, Accident, and also visited with another sister, Mary Zinkan, Accident.

A guest of Helen Harman since her return from Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where she was a patient recently, is a son, Carl Harman, Midland, Tex. The two of them attended the funeral of Lawrence Glover. Among those visiting relatives in this area have been Lena Lohr, Ft. Wayne, Ind., Amelia Harman, Newton, N.C., and her daughter, Barbara, of Chapel Hill, N.C. Accompanied by Mabel Miller, Accident, they all attended the Garrett County Fair and visited with Helen Harman there where she spent most days of last week. Sunday supper guests of Mrs. Harman and Carl were Mr. and Mrs. James Krommes, Hurst, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Randall Harman, Accident, Edgar Harman, Crellin, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harman.

Beatrice Opel, Frostburg, was a Monday visitor and Mr. and Mrs. James Krommes, Hurst, Tex., visited several times with the latter's aunts, Esther and Claudine Opel. Mrs. Krommes is the former Mildred Marie Harman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harman, and attended the 40th anniversary Northern High School Class reunion on Saturday evening at the Grantsville fire hall. A dance followed the dinner and was held at the American Legion Hall, Grantsville. Mr and Mrs. Donald Glover, Mt. Airy, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glass, near Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ringer also attended. Teachers Mr. and Mrs. Lilburn Brown, Florida, were also in attendance.

Charles Ringer remains a patient at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where members of his family visit with him every day.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft were Saturday afternoon visitors of Ruth Schiffbauer, Uffington, W.Va., at Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., where she has been a patient for the past six weeks. The Hanfts were evening visitors of Ruth's brother, Frank McCartney and his family at Dellslow, W.Va. Frank returned to his home on Friday after being a surgical patient at the same hospital. Karl Oester, Meyersdale, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Hanft were Sunday supper guests of Fred Higson and Juanita and Lynette Johnson, Cumberland, where several classmates of Lynette were also supper guests and some were overnight guests. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hanft, Kristen and Amanda, visited with the Hanfts several times. While Kristen was a guest of the Charles Needer family, Timonium, they were all vacationing at Ocean City and spent a day at the Baltimore Zoo.

The Ladies' Aid Society members of St. John's Lutheran Church, ELCA, entertained the residents of the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home, Grantsville, with a tea party on Monday afternoon. Members also visited for a longer period of time with Mrs. Artie Georg, Freda Moser, Margaret Fisher, Mrs. Kinsinger and Raymond George, all residents at the home.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Markel Maust were Mr. and Mrs. Jason Maust, Grantsville. Della Miller, Grantsville, and three of her daughters, Esther Yoder, Joanna Miller Grantsville, and Mrs. Maust, were at Meyersdale Manor Nursing Home, Meyersdale, Pa., on Wednesday evening to sing to the residents there.

A guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Golden from Friday until Monday was Jennifer Gooden, who lived at Westfield, Ohio, where she was employed, but has now gone to Peoria, Ill., where her employment continues. Jennifer and her sisters treated their mother, Mrs. Golden, to a birthday brunch on Sunday, where Jim Booth, Midland, was also a guest. Her birthdate was Tuesday, August 23.

Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack DuBose and family, Grantsville, were Larry Bruch, Robin Storms and family, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dowton and family, Grantsville, Ron Boyer, Liz McDowell, New Germany, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Roberts and family. The DuBoses spent time this summer in Germany and showed pictures and told of their trip. Larry Bruch, Robin Storms and family traveled to Arizona, New Mexico, California, and Colorado and showed pictures and told of their trip.

Betty Richter was among those attending the McCloskey reunion on Sunday at the Casselman Valley Sportsman's, Grantsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Harman entertained with a birthday party honoring their son, Blake, whose first birthday anniversary was Sunday, July 24. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Forno and son, Pete, Addison, Pa., Danielle Sines, Friendsville, Mary O'Block, Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Harman, and Allison, Crellin, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Glotfelty, Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Harman and sons, Randy, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Speicher and son, Chris, Accident, Mrs. Tom Glotfelty and sons, McHenry, Megan and Danni Beth Riley, near Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wampler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harman and daughters and Helen Harman.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Yoder and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bender and family were among those attending the Casselman Lumber Company picnic on Sunday at the Grantsville Park. Mrs. Bender and children, Keith, Tony, Michelle and Michael, were Monday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mast, Grantsville. Michael and Michelle spent Tuesday with their great-grandmother, Viola Miller, Grantsville.

Donna McClintock and Debbie Hinebaugh, McHenry, entertained a number of people to a cookout on Sunday at their home including the former's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Everett McClintock.

Thursday supper guests of Alfreda Friend were Mr. and Mrs. Luther McClintock of Accident, Mrs. William Robinson, Friendsville, and Elmer Hanft, Mrs. Friend and Mrs. Robinson were Friday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Fint, Aurora, W.Va. Mrs. Friend spent Saturday evening with Sadie Friend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Glass, Accident.

Coaches Needed For MSA Season

The Mountaintop Soccer Association is in need of coaches, as some 35 teams involving a total of over 400 Garrett County youth are registered for the 1994 season.

According to Carole Ann Lovett, president of the MSA, nine more coaches are needed, particularly for teams in the southern area of the county.

Mrs. Lovett said that no previous coaching experience is necessary. "This is a great opportunity for parents to get involved with their child's team and to learn all about soccer," she said, adding that persons who do not have children registered to play are also "most welcome" to serve as coaches.

Interested persons are urged by Mrs. Lovett to contact Don Nuce, chief coordinator, at 334-5805 at soon as possible and/or attend a special coaches' meeting this Saturday, Aug. 27, at 2 p.m. at Dennett Road School (see separate story).

"If your child has not been called by the coach, it probably means there is no coach for your child's team," Mrs. Lovett said. "Please help MSA help your kids."

Soccer Coaches To Convene Sat.

All Mountaintop Soccer Association coaches are urged by MSA president Carole Ann Lovett to attend a meeting this Saturday, Aug. 27, at 2 p.m. at Dennett Road Elementary School.

Final team and equipment information will be shared, and Paul Stone, a certified coach, will conduct a mini-clinic for returning and new coaches. All coaches are asked to bring a soccer ball and a Frisbee if possible. The event will be held rain or shine.

Coaches who cannot attend the meeting are asked to send an assistant or a team parent. Also, anyone willing to serve as a coach or assistant coach is invited and encouraged by Mrs. Lovett to attend.

For more information about the meeting, persons may call Sandi Flockhart at 387-2141 or Don Nuce at 334-5805.

ALL-STARS HONORED - The Oakland Junior Division Little League All-Stars, who captured the Maryland State Championship and the Mid-Atlantic Championship before finishing third in the Eastern Regional Tournament in Bristol, Conn., and placing among the top 12 teams in the nation, were honored this week by being presented a letter of recognition by the Garrett County Board of Commissioners. The letter congratulated the 12 players, manager, and coach of the team for bringing "distinguished honor" to Oakland and the county. Pictured with Commissioners Brenda Butscher, Elwood Groves, and John Braskey in the first row of players are: Nathaniel Panther, Justin DiSimone, Mike Shahan, Lance Tressler, Keith Parks, Justin Liller, and Christian Warfield. In the back row, same order, are: Coach Joe DiSimone, Toby Upton, Todd Tasker, Jordan Uphold, Josh Bosley, Jason Hinebaugh, and Manager Junior Uphold.

Brenneman To Play Ball For Glenville State

Former Garrett Community College basketball player Jason Brenneman plans to continue his academic and athletic career this fall at Glenville (W.Va.) State College.

As a member of the nationally ranked Laker team, Brenneman averaged eight points per game, shooting 46% from the floor and 33.5% from the three-point line.

"Jason is what Garrett is all about," remarked GCC Head Coach Dennis Gibson. "A local player willing to work hard, sacrifice, and wait for his opportunity. He was an important part of a great team and I was extremely happy for him and his scholarship to Glenville. He will fit into Coach (Gary) Nottingham's system because they like to shoot from the wings as part of their offensive philosophy."

"I think Jason can help us because he is a good shooter," commented Nottingham. "He is a youngster with experience that will provide depth and strength off the bench."

Glenville finished its 1993-94 season (16-11) ranked seventh in the West Virginia Conference, and completed the 1992-93 season ranked 20th in the nation in NAIA.

In addition to Brenneman, former GCC players Kenny Gross and Freddie Wilson have also been recruited to continue their careers at Glenville.

Area Speedway Review

Elkins Motor Speedway

Fog added an eerie touch to the Late Model and Semi-late Feature races at Elkins Motor Speedway Saturday night, shrouding leaders Gary Dalton (late) and Jerry Haseleu (Semi-late) from the rest of the pack as each cruised to victory.

The UMP Modified Feature was first up. Kevin Jones, 17 points ahead of Ron Parrish with only one race left in the season, started in the 15th spot, survived five cautions, and moved into second behind Parrish on lap 10. For the balance of the race, the two top points runners raced head-to-head with Jones taking the lead on lap 13 and the win two laps later. Newcomer, Jim Wilson, took third place honors. Ron Clevenger crossed fourth and Gary Cooper was fifth.

The fog started rolling in immediately after the UMP Feature had finished and much of the Semi-late and Late Model Feature action was hidden until the vacuum created by the circling cars created a lift. Unfortunately, cautions slowed the cars on numerous occasions and the fog stayed with the racers, clouding much of the back straightaway from the grandstand spectators.

In the Semi-late Feature, Jerry Haseleu took the pole position start, darted into the fog and was never seen again by his fellow racers. Terry Conrad appeared out of turn four on the final lap and took second place honors. Kevin Hamrick, after mixing into an accident that pushed him to the back of the pack on lap three, regained seven spots to take third. Kevin Marsh and Bernard Keene were fourth and fifth, respectively.

Gary Dalton gained the lead over the Late Models when Duane Moreland lost control in turn two on the second lap, then he also disappeared into the fog only to emerge 23 laps later under the checkered flag. Denny Chamberlain fought with Terry McKisic for the second spot until lap 13 when he passed somewhere behind the cloudy curtain, and he held his position ahead of Nolan Dalton, McKisic, and Sonny Stutler.

The Pure Stock and Four Cylinder Stock Features were canceled until this Saturday when both will run double features. Points are tight in both classes and the double bill should provide an exciting finale for their track championships.

Also, with this weekend's second place finish, Denny Chamberlain will move to within six points of leader, Frank Wilson. Depending on the outcome of the heat races, Chamberlain will need to take the checkered flag at least three positions ahead of Wilson in the feature race next Saturday night to retain his track championship crown.

Cumberland Raceway

There were 15 Late Models, 20 Semi-lates, and 39 Pure Stocks in the pits for McDonald's Night at the Cumberland Raceway. Chuck Harper of Beverly, W.Va., got his first win this year in the Ponderosa Steak House Late Model Feature, the Hamilton Dodge Semi-late Feature went to Allen Buckley of Romney, W.Va., his second win in a row, and Denny Sponaugle of Wiley Ford, W.Va., got his second win this year in the Jr. Saville Memorial Race for Pure Stocks. All features had heads-up starts.

McDonald's gave bonus money, racing jackets, trophies and hats to all feature winners.

In the Late Model Feature, Chuck Harper, from the outside pole, led from flag to flag, and withstood three cautions for the win. With bonus money from McDonald's, "The Gang," and Lambert's Auto Service, the win was worth $1150. Kevin Smith finished second. Tom Clise came from 11th to get third, followed by Todd Price, Wayne Johnson, J.R. Keifer, Bob Salathe, Chris Harr, Chuck Clise, and Doug Nave. Heat winners were Todd Price and Chuck Harper.

In the Hamilton Dodge Semi-late Feature, Bob Elbin, from the pole position, led 15 of the 18 laps, when Allen Buckley, who started 11th and was running the high groove, passed Elbin on the outside in turn two for the lead and the win. With bonus money from McDonald's, the win was worth $600. Bob Elbin finished a close second, followed by Jack Pencil, Eric Zembower, Buddy VanMeter, Greg Fuller, Todd Ritchie, Lynn Ogden, Barry Willison, and Wade Peer. Heat winners were Bob Elbin and Gary Kimmell. Point leader Jim Deneen had mechanical problems and finished 14th.

In the Jr. Saville Memorial Race for Pure Stocks, J.R. Isner led for seven laps until Denny Sponaugle, the current point leader, came from seventh spot to get the win. With bonus money from McDonald's, Buckleys Towing, and friends of Jr. Saville, the win was worth $700, the largest Pure Stock payoff this year at Cumberland. J.R. Isner finished second and Allen Stone third. Fans were cheering for Rick Saville, Jr's son, who came from 13th to finish fourth, followed by Tom Messick, Bill VanMeter, Wally Mowry, John Malcolm, George McGee, and Greg Fetters. Heat winners were Darras Deneen, Tom Messick, Bill Buchanan, and J.R. Isner. The Consy winner was Jim Frost.

The Fan of the Week was Matt Dennison, Jr. Fan Club winner was Tasha Ogden, of Cumberland, and the Tri-State Racing Photos Hard Charger was Allen Buckley. Danny Price, of Little Orleans, won the Darlington 500 bus trip.

Cumberland Raceway banquet tickets will go on sale at the track on September 10. Next week is the Pure Stock Autograph Night. Gates open at 4:30 p.m., warm-ups are at 6:30 p.m., and racing at 7 p.m.

There will be no racing on September 3. Coming October 8 is the third Annual Queen City 50 for Late Models.

Interstate 79 Speedway

With only one points race left in the 1994 racing season, drivers at Interstate 79 Speedway were scrambling to get every possible point on Friday evening.

Chuck Harper came into this week with a 220 point advantage over Frank Wilson and Tim Hitt just 45 points behind Wilson. A first lap pile-up sent Bood Lodge and Sonny Stutler to the pits. On the restart, the battle began between Harper and Wilson with Harper getting the lead for only two circuits. Wilson made the pass but Harper never gave him a chance to make a mistake as he stuck right on his tail throughout the 25-lap late model feature. From Pennsboro, W.Va., Wilson got his first win of the year followed by Harper, Nolan Dalton, Denny Chamberlain, and Mike Johnson. Rounding out the top 10 were Bopper Bare, Tim Hitt, Robbie Scott, John Tallman, and Mike Hawkins. Heat wins went to Harper, Dalton, and Johnson.

In the Semi-late Feature, it looked like Terry Conrad might get his first win. But after several caution flags, his car slowed on the track and the battle between Jerry Haseleu and Dave Groves began. The two Morgantown, W.Va., drivers drove a hard race with Haseleu coming out on top followed by Groves, Danny Hamrick, Rick Strickler, and Alan Chenoweth. Tim Harsh and Chenoweth took the heats.

Dave Groves jumped out of the Semi-late and into an UMP Modified to grab the 15-lap feature event. He was followed by Mike Wilson, Kevin Jones, Phil Jeffries, and Clifton Cochran. Heats were taken by Dale Charlier, Cochran, and Gene Towsen.

Mike Lewis got his sixth straight and eighth win of the year in the 4-Cylinder Stock class. Tom Pennington, Larry Speicher, Jim Hurley, and Norman Weaver followed. Hurley, Lewis, and Pennington took heat wins.

The pure stock feature found Jim Byers winning over Brian Tonkery, Carl Sullivan, Brian Taylor and Jim Shaffer. Prelims went to Sullivan, Mike Cuppett, and Jim Bendishaw.

The third race of the West Virginia State Championship Series had to be canceled for the second week in a row as rains hit Interstate 79 Speedway on Sunday. The race will not be rescheduled. The final race of the series is just two weeks away.

The latter part of the 1994 racing season has been plagued by rain with just two events remaining on the schedule. This Friday night, August 26, is the season championship with double points in all five divisions. There will also be bike races for the children.

Chuck Harper leads the late model competitors with a 200 point lead over Frank Wilson and Tim Hitt. Rick Strickler has a 280 point lead over Scott Miles and Jerry Haseleu in the Semi-late division. Mike Wilson sits atop the points in the UMP Modified Class with Bernie Petanowick and Clifton Cochran chasing. Jim Byers leads Jim Shaffer and Mark Bell in the Pure Stocks while Jim Hunt is just a mere 10 points ahead of Mike Lewis and Don Cutlip in the 4-Cylinder Stocks. All champions will be determined on Friday night.

The 5th Annual Shinnston Plumbing/Anthony Chevrolet Mountain State Invitational is scheduled for Saturday night, September 3. This STARS sanctioned event is being run in conjunction with STARS races at Beckley Speedway on September 2, and the Hillbilly 100 at Pennsboro on September 4. The winner of the 50-lap Late Model Feature will pick up $7,000. Also on the racing card will be 25-lap features for UMP Modifieds and Pure Stocks and a 20-lapper for the 4-Cylinder Stocks. Gates will open at 4 p.m. with time trials beginning at 7 p.m.

Interstate 79 Speedway is located at Exit 125 (Shinnston/Saltwell Road). For information, those interested may call the office at 304-592-3200 or on race day at 304-592-0916.

Ingram Winner Of Broadford Lake Ski Event

Smooth water conditions, warm weather, and accommodations described as excellent were featured at the fourth annual Broadford Lake Slalom Water Skiing Tournament, held this past weekend, drawing a record number of skiers from several states.

Sam Ingram, Swanton, was the winner in the open division, followed by Dale Carpenter, McHenry, and Jeff Kepchia in third place.

Three rounds of skiing were held Saturday, with trophies awarded based upon combined scores of each skier's two best rounds.

Steve Loy was the winner of the Men's I division, with Alex Flanigan in second and Dan Matlick, third. Joe Crownover won the Men's II competition, followed by Andy Henry and Rob Stilley. Jerry Swoyer was the winner in the Men's III division, with Thomas Smith, second, and Bill Gross, third.

In the women's division, Lori Stilley captured first place, Mary Smith finished second, and Laurie Lindsey placed third. Becky Frederick won the girls' division, while Todd Gibson and Jarrod Suess placed first and second, respectively, in the boys' division. Lee Pickrel placed first in the junior boys' division.

Under rainy skies on Sunday, eight competitors participated in a single-elimination ski-off. Dale Carpenter out-turned Joe Kotarsky in the final round to win first place.

The tournament is organized by the Deep Creek Lake Water Sports Club. Trophies were sponsored by Rittenhouse Somerfield Beach of Youghiogheny Lake. A spokesman for the DCL Water Sports Club expressed appreciation to Broadford Lake personnel for hosting the events, noting that the smooth conditions of Broadford Lake and accommodations provided are what draw so many competitors to the event.

Records Hole In One At The Wisp

A golfer at the Wisp Golf Course, McHenry, carded a hole-in-one last Friday.

Michael Day, Prosperity, Pa., used a seven-iron to record the ace on the 160-yard #4 hole.

Soccer Assoc. Meeting Slated At GCC Campus

The Mountaintop Soccer Association (MSA) will hold its quarterly membership meeting on Monday, August 29, at 7 p.m. in Room 306 Garrett at Community College, McHenry.

A presentation by Rick DeLoach on the "Club Team" concept will be given. DeLoach, former chief coordinator of MSA, will discuss goals and expectations of this traveling team. In addition, he will offer information on the organizational meeting for parents and prospective players, which will be held in September.

An executive meeting will precede the membership meeting, according to Carole Ann Lovett, MSA president.

Local Sailors Race In Scot Championship

by Harry Filemyr

Last week the Flying Scot national championship regatta was run in Lake Erie near Toledo Ohio. Four Deep Creek Lake boats participated in the 80-boat, week-long event. Three received trophies.

John Meredith, local fleet champion, was leading going into the last day. Then John and Tony Kaminski finished ninth and third in the last races, allowing two professional sailors to get the top spots. With third place, Meredith was the best finishing amateur in the class. Harry Carpenter got a trophy for ninth place, and Don and Barbara Griffin were fifth in the Challenger group.

With only one week to go in the July-August series, insurmountable leads are held by: Kevin Rissell in Laser, John Meredith in Scots A, and Mo and Vicki Willey in Scots B. Second to fifth places will all be up for grabs in the final three races.

While the adults have been competing in the afternoon, a junior racing series has been conducted Saturday mornings under the guidance of Kevin Rissell. This series is open to any youths with basic sailing skills. To date all participants are graduates of the Deep Creek Sailing School. Small rig Lasers and Optimist prams are used. The prams are given a head start to compensate for their slower speed. On breezy days the Lasers spend a lot of time upside-down while the more stable prams chug ahead. The series will finish August 27, and the young Corinthians will participate at the Labor Day awards ceremony.

Al and Jean Thagard scored two firsts and a second to move into third place in B fleet, close behind Ed and Barbara Peters. In A fleet, a wind shift left most of the fleet stranded in the shadow of Turkey Neck Point and let Harry and Marilyn Filemyr get clear for their first-in-a-decade win. On Sunday, Allison Felix took the helm of the family boat and sailed to her fourth straight victory.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CLARK DURST
August 31, 1982

Little did we know that morning
The sorrow the day would bring
God took you into Heaven
To hear the angels sing
A million times we missed you
And many times we've cried
If love could have saved you
You never would have died
A light from our household is gone
A voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our hearts
Which never can be filled
Some may think you are forgotten
Though on earth you are no more
But in memory you are still with us
As you always were before
In life we loved you dearly
In death we loved you still
In our hearts you hold a place
No one else can ever fill

Deeply missed by,
Wife Frances, Children & Grandchildren

To the Editor:

It is very welcome to hear and read of the accolades for Father Feild. What a fine gentleman he truly is.

Having worked closely with Father Feild since long ago when I was a part of the Child Development Program helping troubled families to the present time in the Garrett County Alliance for the mentally ill we have worked closely together.

I shall surely miss a very highly respected active advocate for the mentally ill and one whom I consider to be a very respected friend. How we who are actively involved will miss his active involvement in behalf of our mentally ill in Garrett County. He was the one minister in Garrett County who totally committed himself to totally involving himself with the Alliance for the mentally ill. He truly understands people, troubled and otherwise.

What a compassionate, generous, loving, and realistic human being. Fortunately we have a few of them in Garrett County who aren't afraid to stand up and be counted on the "plus side". May God continue to bless Father Feild. Keep in touch, we love you. Bon voyage.

Thanking you, most sincerely.

To the Editor:

Sheriff Van Evans has conducted a positive campaign for re-election. He has dignity and really knows his business as far as being sheriff of Garrett County, and in everyday life. I admire his coolness and indifference to the groups that oppose him.

I have been to a few affairs and they are like political rallies for the men that are opposing Sheriff Evans. This I personally do not like and think it is very small to think they are the only ones that have a say in this election. It also is not in good taste.

All I am trying to get across is where does fairness enter in? This letter is written to inform the voters of a number of very important issues that do not usually receive attention. The media seldom covers these issues prior to the election.

Voters are advised their active and informed voice should be heard by all. When you turn questions from taxes, the schools, health, as well as issues that involve the quality of life in Garrett County, such as the Sunday sales of alcohol, just to get votes, just forget it. Also voters are especially urged to consider the moral character and positions that the candidate and positions that the candidates hold.

Let's all get out and vote this primary election, September 13. Let's let the voters decide. If everyone votes, the outcome will be in Sheriff Evan's corner.

Thank you,
Charles C. McIntyre
Mtn. Lake Park

To the Editor:

I want to introduce you to one of the largest clubs in the country. You don't have to do anything to join - in fact, it is better all around if you don't. It includes all those who don't register to vote, all those who don't vote, all those who read media polls and accounts of pending legislation and silently wait for the results, all gun owners who are not members of the NRA, many opponents of universal health care, many opponents of a Haiti invasions, and many who oppose our socialistic welfare programs.

In fact, most of the members are in opposition to much of the present administration, but say nothing to their representatives.

You will hear the name of this organization after something negative happens - like you preferred candidate loses the election. I t is a sad lament that goes something like this, "Boy, I wish I had done something."

It is a lament I hope we don't hear very often. It is a lament I hope we don't hear because the club members didn't think it was important to tell their representative of their real concerns. It is a lament I hope we don't hear because we did not think it was important to tell a friend to tell a friend, to tell a friend vote for Ellen Sauerbrey. It's about time!

Yours truly,
Fred C. Lange

Marsh To Lead World War II Commemoration

Former Secretary of the Army and former Congressman John O. Marsh Jr., will officially kick off the yearlong World War II Commemoration at Garrett Community College. The convocation will be in the college's auditorium on Friday, Sept. 23, according to GCC President Dr. Steve Herman.

In his keynote address, set for 10:15 a.m., Marsh will speak about the causes of the war and the drastic changes that occurred in American society because of it. Immediately following the address, he will discuss the three National Guard units from this area that parachuted into Normandy on D-Day, June 6, 1944.

Secretary Marsh enlisted in the U.S. Army in 1944, during World War II. He was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation from Infantry Officer Candidate School. He graduated from the Army Airborne and Jumpmaster schools and earned senior parachutist wings. Following WWII, Marsh served in the Army Reserve, and the Virginia National Guard where much of his service was with the 116th Infantry Regiment. During the time he was a representative in Congress from the Seventh District of Virginia, he also served a 30-day volunteer tour of duty in Vietnam. He retired with the rank of Lt. Colonel.

Marsh received an LL.B. degree in 1951 from Washington Lee University, and began the practice of law in Strasburg, Va. He was elected to the U.S Congress for four terms, where he was a member of the House Appropriations Committee. Choosing not to seek a fifth term, he resumed the practice of law.

In March 1973, he returned to federal service was assistant secretary of defense (Legislative Affairs). In January 1974, he became assistant for National Security Affairs to Vice President Gerald Ford, and, in August of that year, counselor, with cabinet rank, to President Ford. In 1975 he was assigned additional duties as deputy chief of staff of the White House. He returned again to private law practice in January 1977.

On Jan. 30, 1981, Marsh was sworn in as Secretary of the Army. When he retired from that post on Aug. 14, 1989, his tenure was the longest of any Secretary of the Army or Secretary of War in the history of the republic. For eight years during that tenure, Garrett Countian Susan Crawford, now a judge on the U.S. Court of Military Appeals, served on his staff as principal deputy general counsel, and then as general counsel to the Department of the Army.

During 1988, Marsh served concurrently as assistant Secretary of Defense (Special Operations/Low Intensity Conflict). On completing his service as Secretary of the Army, he undertook a special assignment as legislative counsel to the Secretary of Defense in the development of legislative recommendations relating to streamlining of the defense procurement process. He has been awarded, on five occasions, the Department of Defense Distinguished Public Service Award.

In 1990, Marsh was selected by the Virginia Press Association to receive its Virginian of the Year Award and was chosen by the Association of the United States Army as recipient of its George Catlett Marshall Medal for public service.

He is now in private law practice in Winchester, Va., and by appointment of former Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney, he also serves in the uncompensated position of chairman of the Reserve Forces Policy Board, an advisory body in the Department of Defense relating to all of the U.S. Reserve forces.

Top Events

showcase North America's rich diversity and assist tour operators in planning itineraries.

All events are features in a brochure which also includes popular internationally-known events such as the Super Bowl, Kentucky Derby and Canadian National Exposition. The brochure will appear with the September issue of Destinations magazine and is available to the public worldwide.

A committee comprised of motorcoach operators and travel industry officials chooses the Top 100 based on nominations submitted to ABA by state and provincial tourism offices. Each is allowed to submit up to seven events for consideration. "Committee members carefully evaluate the nominations before narrowing the list down to 100. Then they decide which two events will be singled out for top honors," said George T. Snyder Jr., ABA president and CEO. "Judges find the selection process extremely difficult, with so many worthy events nominated," he said.

ABA's Top 100 brochure lists events by month as well as by state and province. One copy of the brochure is available free to the public. Additional copies are U.S. $3 each. To obtain a 1995 Top 100 Events in North America brochure, persons may send a postcard to the American Bus Association, 1100 New York Avenue, N.W., Suite 1050, Washington, D.C. 20005-3934.

Men Accused Of Sexual Abuse Are Sentenced

Two men involved in a sexual abuse case involving an 8-year-old boy were sentenced in Garrett County Circuit Court to varying prison terms. Donald Bockes, 35, and Gary L. Wedge, 38, both of Meyersdale, Pa., were given the jail terms by Judge Fred A. Thayer.

Bockes had pleaded guilty in June of perverted and unnatural sexual practice, and Wedge had pleaded guilty to the charge of third degree sexual offense. Thayer had ordered a pre-sentence investigation at that time, and last week sentenced Bockes to two years in the Garrett County Jail with one year suspended. He was given 181 days credit of time already served. Bockes will also be on probation for two years following his release.

Wedge was sentenced to four years in the Maryland Department of Corrections.

The two were charged after they apparently both engaged in the sexual molestation of the child, during which Bockes ordered the boy to allow Wedge to molest him. The child was able to run away, according to the report, after a short time. Wedge was further accused of having sexually molested the boy on other occasions between Sept. 1 and Nov. 1 of 1993, according to the court document.

In other circuit court news, an Oakland couple were sentenced by Thayer on their joint perjury conviction. Sherry and Sincle Brown, 26 and 31 respectively, had both pleaded guilty to the charge on June 2 and a pre-sentence investigation had been ordered.

Thayer sentenced Mr. Brown to three years in the Maryland Department of Corrections with all but 18 months suspended, which is to be served in the local jail. Mrs. Brown was sentenced to two years with all but time served suspended. (She had served 78 days, according to the report.)

Mr. Brown was also ordered to be on three years of supervised probation, and Mrs. Brown was ordered to one year of the same.

The two were indicted by the Grand Jury after they were involved in a car accident in which Mr. Brown claimed his wife was driving. His driver's license was suspended at the time of the accident. Mrs. Brown concurred with her husband's statement, and later the two admitted to fabricating the story, stating that Mr. Brown was actually the driver.

A Swanton man pleaded guilty to probation violation and had a previous suspended sentenced reimposed. Gerald E. Friend Jr., 22, violated his probation by being convicted of theft in Garrett County District Court, according to the report.

His original conviction was on the charge of breaking and entering a dwelling, and in Sept. 1993 was sentenced to the department of corrections for two years with one year suspended.

MRS. MARYLAND RECOGNIZED BY COMMISSIONERS -- The Board of Garrett County Commissioners presented Mrs. Maryland 1994, Sherry Upole, with a letter of recognition to offer their support and best wishes as she competes in the 18th Annual Mrs. America Pageant in Fort Worth, Texas, in September. Upole is the first person from Garrett County to earn the title of Mrs. Maryland, and she will compete along with 50 other finalists in the national competition. Pictured above, from left to right, are Brenda Butscher, Elwood Groves, Mrs. Maryland, and John Braskey.

Crime Prevention Programs Receive Grant Funding

The Maryland Drug and Alcohol Substance Abuse Program Grant Fund awarded grants to 106 organizations for crime and violence prevention programs to be implemented during fiscal year 1995. Among the grants awarded, programs funded in Garrett County included: $8,000 to the Garrett County Health Department for its Community Based Mini Grants, Sara Radtka Boone, prevention coordinator; and $3,800 to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office for its Senior Crime Prevention Outreach Program, Harland Tichnell, major.

Governor William Donald Schaefer says the grant program furthers the ability of communities to overcome their own problems. "This is a chance for local communities to assess their needs and let us know what we can do to help. Working together with governmental agencies and private organizations, these local communities now have a chance to help improve their neighborhoods. This is a great example of the Partners in Prevention program that has been so important to me and to our citizens."

The grants are awarded through the Governor's Drug and Alcohol Abuse Commission. According to Greg Leyko, deputy director for administration of the commission, 150 completed grant applications were received by July 1, requesting a total of $1,538,364. "We preferred grants that were non-personnel driven, instead seeking to provide funds to implement community prevention programs, or provide them with support equipment such as radios or walkie-talkies, or funds to participate in state training programs for community groups."

The average award was $4,798, with funding ranging from $250 to $32,511. Types of projects funded included neighborhood crime watches, programs for providing secure activities for kids, creation of "baseball" type trading cards featuring police officers for distribution to kids, and crime prevention programs focused on senior citizens.

new access road to the central hangar area.

The taxi way, which will be situated parallel to the runway, will allow the facility to accommodate increased air traffic and will improve safety, Jones explained. The new access road, which will connect to the existing access road, will make driving to the airport more convenient. The airport's instrumentation will also be upgraded.

The airport improvement project will cost approximately $1 million to complete, Jones remarked. According to his funding scenario, 90 percent of this sum will be supplied by the Federal Aviation Administration, 5 percent will come from the State Aviation Administration, and 5 percent will be provided by the county. Currently, he stated, Greiner Engineering is preparing the construction plans, and Jones expects to put the project out for bid in early 1995.

Jones told the commissioners that the proposed improvements to the access road connecting the Northern Garrett Industrial Park to Md. Route 495 have been reviewed and approved by the State and Federal Highway Administrations.

The county has applied to the Farmers Home Administration for a $140,000 industrial development grant to fund the project. However, Jones stated that the county may face heavy competition for this grant money. Jones suggested that the board might help the county's chances by sending a letter supporting the grant to FHA Community and Business Programs Chief James E. Waters.

Jones also advised that copies of this letter, along with a personal request for help in obtaining funding for the road improvements, be sent to 6th District Congressman Roscoe Bartlett and State Senators Paul Sarbanes and Barbara Mikulski. The commissioners agreed to send the letters.

The commissioners' letter to the FHA stated, in part, "The industrial park's utility systems were just completed on August 1. Already we have a new industry operating in the park [Phenix Technologies, Inc.] Next week we will be announcing the planned location of a second manufacturing business. We are in discussions with others at this time."

"Unfortunately, the Maryland State Highway Administration will not permit us to locate the second occupant in the industrial park because of its substantial trailer-type truck traffic and the adverse safety impact at the intersection..."

"1994 has been a very difficult year, fiscally, for Garrett County...We are in desperate need of new jobs. The Northern Garrett Industrial Park's opening appears to be helping us obtain those jobs."

Oakland Man Arrested After DWI Accident

An Oakland man was charged with DWI (driving while under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs) following a motorcyle accident Saturday evening, according to a report filed by Tfc. S.H. Anderson, Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

Parke W. Tressler, 49, was reportedly traveling west on Md. 39, on a 1985 Honda, with the kickstand down. As Tressler attempted to negotiate a left turn, the kickstand apparently struck the pavement, causing the cycle to overturn, and strike an embankment.

Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad transported Tressler to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released. The Oakland Volunteer Fire Department also responded to the 9 p.m. mishap.

CDS ARREST

A Pittsburgh man was arrested Tuesday morning and charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS), after he was stopped for a traffic violation.

According to a report filed by Tfc. R.W. Tarburton, he stopped David S. O'Leary on Interstate 68 for exceeding the speed limit. A subsequent search of the vehicle revealed three containers with suspected marijuana (3.2 grams, 3.2 grams, and 3.6 grams, respectively), and a tin foil smoking pipe, resulting in his arrest.

TWO INJURED

Two people were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a two-vehicle mishap on U.S. 219, near the Salisbury Road, last Thursday morning.

According to MSP reports, Beverly A. Murphy, 48, Grantsville, operating a 1991 Pontiac Bonneville north on Rt. 219, was attempting to make a left turn into a private drive, when she was struck by a southbound vehicle driven by John N. Marinelli, 27, Cumberland.

Murphy and Marinelli were transported to Garrett Memorial by Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where they were treated and released.

Murphy was charged with failure to yield right of way, following the 7:45 a.m. mishap.

DWI ARREST

One additional arrest for DWI was logged at the local barracks this past week.

Shawn Lynn Wilhelm, 34, no address given, was arrested and charged with DWI on Aug. 23 by Tfc. C.E. Goldstrom.

Summer Center For GT Students Held At GCC

A total of 39 gifted and talented students and 15 teachers attended the week-long mathematics program hosted by Garrett Community College this summer, designated as the Western Maryland Math Center. The program represented an educational partnership of the Garrett County Board of Education, Garrett Community College, and the GMI Engineering and Management Institute.

The GCC Math Center, under the direction of Dr. Nancy Priselac, was one of the 12 centers throughout Maryland sponsored by the Maryland State Department of Education.

The lead instructors for the week-long program were Ted Gardella and Stu Schultz of the "Tune in Math and Science" Project from Flint, Michigan, both nationally recognized educators in mathematics and science. They developed an innovative mathematics and science curriculum for the program that demonstrated to students and teacher the connections between algebra, physical science, and the real world. Both have been actively involved with teaching students and teachers throughout the United States.

The algebra component introduced students and teachers to the latest in mathematics technology, including distance learning, computers, graphing calculators, models, and big screen projection. The emphasis was not on paper and pencil tests, but rather on cooperative group experimentation, enrichment experiences with data analysis, and exploring mathematical conjectures under the facilitation of experienced "master" teachers. Students created better ways to learn mathematical concept so that when they return to their home schools in the fall they will have a better understanding of what it will take to achieve mathematical excellence in the 21st century.

Garrett County To Benefit From Planning Grant

Governor William Donald Schaefer recently announced Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) approval of a major grant to support the Maryland Office of Planning Research and Technical Assistance Program. The grant amount from ARC totals $183,800 and will be matched with $218,800 in state and local funding, with an additional $61,600 in other federal funds, for a total program cost of $464,200.

"All three western Maryland counties, as well as fourteen municipalities, will directly benefit from these grant funds in the implementation and completion of a variety of diverse planning and development initiatives," said Governor Schaefer.

A significant portion of the funds will be used to continue work on comprehensive plans for the three western Maryland counties and 14 municipalities to meet the requirements of the state's Economic Growth, Resource Protection, and Planning Act.

Garrett County will use its allocation for updates to the zoning ordinances of Grantsville, Friendsville, Accident, Oakland, Mtn. Lake Park, Loch Lynn Heights, Deer Park, and the Deep Creek Lake Watershed. A new, county-wide subdivision and sensitive area ordinance will also be prepared.

Ronald M. Kreitner, director of the Maryland Office of Planning, stated that, "the local governments of western Maryland should be complimented on the technical assistance projects thus far completed and implemented!"

base; expand wellness education services; increase community outreach and favorably position Garrett Memorial to reflect the vision of the health care reform movement."

Row also commended Rosenthal for his "vision and steadfastness" in dealing with the obvious difficulty of "allaying the fears of those who shun change and/or don't understand that the need to evolve is now!"

Rosenthal has served as president of Garrett Memorial since 1990. Prior to that he was vice president for operations, director of finance and the hospital's Controllers as well as accounting manager at Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore. Rosenthal is the current president of the Board of Directors of the Western Maryland Health Planning Agency. He also serves as a board member for the Rural Health Advisory Council for the Maryland Office of Rural Health; Garrett County Sanitary District; Garrett Community College Foundation, Preston-Taylor Community Health Centers; and Western Maryland Area Health Education Center.

Rosenthal holds a bachelor of science degree from Benjamin Franklin University and a master's degree in business administration from Frostburg State University. He resides in Oakland with his wife, Carmen and two children.

a board member and treasurer of the Oakland Little League organization, and worked as a coach for his son's teams when they played more than 20 years ago. DiSimone recently helped coach and keep score for teams that have included his grandsons as participants.

In addition to his civic and job-related activities, DiSimone has donated his time for activities such as Prayer Day, estate planning seminars for senior citizens, singing for homecomings, community celebrations, weddings, revivals, funerals, and more. He is actively involved with the Oakland Men's Softball League, and has been manager for the Old Timers' League for the past few years.

"Joe has indeed helped to make this world a nicer place to live," said Biggs. "At home, at work in the probate court, at church, or just walking down the street, he is, without a doubt, one beautiful human being."

DiSimone has been married for 42 years to the former Peggy Holler, and they are the parents of three sons and one daughter. They also have 10 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

He will be recognized in a statewide ceremony honoring the other county winners, and will be featured in the Autumn Glory Festival parade in downtown Oakland.

Others who donated their time and energy to the county were Ruth DiPaolo, Bittinger; Harrison Foy, Grantsville; and Charles "Chuck" Nolan, Deer Park. They will be recognized at the commissioners' office on Oct. 4. Local MYAB committee members include Betty L. Cogan, Hazel Klotz (last year's winner), Lois Martin, Dawn Scheffel, Diane Slider, Betty J. Swauger, and Nancy Wagner.

Moving Ahead

High addition will contain one applied science room, one computer room, three math class rooms, and a math lab room.

On the plans for the new 37,000-square-foot elementary school, he directed the commissioners' attention to various classrooms: a multi-purpose room that will serve as a cafeteria, physical education room, and assembly hall; and the school's peaked roof line which, he stated, will resemble the roof on the state police barracks in McHenry. The new school, which will accommodate 350 students, will be topped by a decorative turret.

Windows will be a central feature in the completed elementary school, Ryscavage stated, because the building will not have air conditioning. Ventilation during warm months will be aided by a central system of exhaust fans. In cold weather planners hope to heat the structure with natural gas. A gas line already serves the State Highway Administration garage which neighbors the school site, he added, so an extension of the line to serve the school might be feasible.

Plans for the elementary school also include an outdoor basketball court, a softball field, and a nature trail. The school designers have also allowed room for future expansion of the building.

Symphony

Trio No. 2 in E minor, Op. 67.

After the intermission this evening, the orchestra will perform Dvorak's Serenade in E Major for Strings, Op. 22.

Friday night's program will feature a full orchestra which will present Bach's popular Brandenburg Concerto No. 4, highlighting the talents of Dale Stuckenbruck, violin, and flutists Donald and Rachel Anderson. Also on the program tomorrow will be Geminiani's Concerto Grosso in D Major, Mozart's famous Symphony No. 40, and Gustav Holst's St. Paul's Suite for Strings.

Veronica Salas began her musical studies in Santiago, Chile, at the age of 5. After moving to New York, she earned her bachelor's, master's, and doctorate degrees from The Juilliard School, where she studied with Lillian Fuchs. She has appeared as a soloist with the USC Symphony, Westchester Virtuosi Ensemble, and the Aspen Orchestra.

Ms. Salas serves as principal violist with the Opera Orchestra of New York, Manhattan Philharmonic, and often with the American Symphony Orchestra. She also holds a regular position with the orchestra for Phantom of the Opera on Broadway. She has stated that performing with the Symphony at Deep Creek is the highlight of her summer.

Donald L. Anderson, flutist, studied with John Wummer at Mannes College of Music, New York City. He received his bachelor's and master's of music degrees at the Peabody Conservatory, and also studied at the Manhattan School of Music, taught by Frances Blaisdel.

Anderson has undertaken five major tours with the United States Army Field Band, and has had numerous performances in Boston, New York, Washington, and Baltimore. He served on the music faculty at Frostburg State University for 14 years, and is also a pilot, having recently been promoted to captain on Liberty Express Airlines.

Rachel Anderson received her bachelor's degree in music from FSU, studying with Donald Anderson and Mark Sparks, assistant principal flutist with the Baltimore Symphony. She has also attended master classes taught by Bernard Goldberg of the Pittsburgh Symphony. She is a member of the Penn Alps Chamber Orchestra.

Mrs. Anderson also teaches private flute lessons at the couple's home in Ogdensburg, N.Y.

Tickets for the concerts will be available at the door and are currently available at area pharmacies. For more information about the Symphony at Deep Creek, persons may contact the GLAF office at 387-3082.

Enterprise Zone Renewed In Accident

Maryland Secretary of Economic and Employment Development (DEED) Mark L. Wasserman announced Friday renewal of the enterprise zone in Accident. Wasserman also stated that two new enterprise zones, one in Baltimore City and one in Prince George's County, will be formed, and the enterprise zone in Washington County will be renewed.

"Enterprise zones are important economic development tools that help local officials attract businesses to areas with high unemployment and poverty rates," said Wasserman. "Companies locating in enterprise zones can take advantage of tax credits and other incentives that can make a significant difference in their bottom lines."

"We hope these enterprise zones will stimulate business investment and job creation in areas that need additional incentives to attract new industry," he remarked.

The renewed, 65-acre enterprise zone located in Accident, called the Central Garrett Industrial Park, offers investors the incentives of road maintenance, training assistance, and police and fire protection.

DEED officials estimate that, since the inception of the state's enterprise zone program in 1983, Maryland companies located in the zones have received more than $1 million in income tax credits for creating more than 2,000 new jobs. According to the estimates, local governments granted approximately $3 million in property tax credits last year for new investment in real property in the zones. DEED officials estimate that more than $200 million in real property improvements have been made in the enterprise zones since the program was created.

In order to qualify for enterprise zone status, an area must meet at least one of the four criteria established by the Maryland General Assembly. These conditions include unemployment and poverty rates higher than both state and national averages, a high percentage of low income residents, and chronic abandonment of property because of population decline.

Wasserman said that Maryland was one of the first states in the nation to create enterprise zones in the early 1980's. Altogether, there are 21 enterprise zones statewide. Maryland enterprise zones are located in Baltimore City and Allegany, Calvert, Dorchester, Garrett, Prince George's, Somerset, Washington, and Wicomico counties.

CHANGE IS IN THE WIND FOR GARRETT COUNTY.

For too long, Garrett Countians have been subjected to mediocre commissioner action on their problems.For instance, it appears that the project bid considered three years ago to repair the superstructure of the Glendale Bridge is again on the table, and according to the chairman of the commissioners, the road leading to the bridge will now be resurfaced "around Labor Day". Why have we waited so long?

Garrett Countians need and should demand better attention to their problems than they have received from the present commissioners.

As commissioner, I will strive for quicker action on road problems, and all problems, beginning with an inventory of priority areas. But I need your help. Please.

Fletcher Files For Republican Central Committee

JoAnn H. Fletcher, Frostburg (Garrett County), has announced her candidacy for a position on the Garrett County Republican Central Committee.

"Factions within the Republican party are seeking to redefine its platform, straying from the principles that have made it distinctive -- the Grand Old Party," said Fletcher. "As a pro-life, pro-family conservative, I hope to help stem this erosion and keep the party focused on what has traditionally been its trademark, and its proven winning platform."

Fletcher has participated in the political process by testifying before Maryland General Assembly committees, lobbying, organizing a Voter Identification Program, distributing literature and signs, registering voters, collecting signatures on petitions, and organizing a candidates' forum. She believes she will bring a variety of experience to the central committee.

She is a graduate of West Virginia University, with a bachelor of science degree in plant sciences, having attained both the dean's and president's lists while a student there. She is employed as a secretary with Asplundh Tree Expert Company, and as secretary-treasurer of Welsh Memorial Baptist Church, Frostburg. She was formerly employed as a substitute teacher in Garrett and Allegany counties.

Fletcher's activities include participation in community theater, having performed with Stage Left Theatre, Cumberland Theatre, Frostburg Community Theatre, and CEM1 Productions. She is past vice president and has served as secretary of the Rt. 40 Parent-TeacherAssociation. She attends the First Church of the Nazarene, Cumberland, where she teaches Sunday School, and sings in the church choir and as a soloist. She is a member of Concerned Women for America, the Christian Coalition, Garrett County Republican Women, president of Garrett County Right to Life, and a member of the Maryland Right to Life Board of Directors.

Fletcher is a 12-year resident of Garrett County. She and her husband, Mel, and their three children, Matt, Michael, and Miriah, live in the Long Stretch area.

Harold Fike, CPA, has been named Fletcher's campaign treasurer.

DCLSP To Host Pumpkin Chuck At Autumn Glory

The staff at the Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area is making plans for the area's Second Annual Pumpkin Chuck Contest to be held at Deep Creek Lake State Park on Sunday, October 16. The contest will be open to pre-registered teams from the area, with proceeds from the event going to charity.

To participate in the contest, teams will be required to construct a "Pumpkin Chucker." The chucker may be any mechanical device, but cannot incorporate any gas fuel, chemical or explosive devices in its ability to chuck a pumpkin; the device must fit in the bed of a standard eight-foot pickup truck. Each team will be given an opportunity to chuck two pumpkins for distance. Other rules will be determined as the competition begins.

Participants must check in at 1 p.m. The winning team will receive the Second Annual Pumpkin Chuck Trophy.

"This contest will be a great way for local organizations, businesses and civic groups to get together and have a fun time. Of course, they'll have to beat the DNR team," said Recreation Area Manager Paul Durham.

The contest will begin at 2 p.m. Alternative seasonal games and activities will also be provided for children throughout the event as well as a hayride through the park. Teams may obtain information and registration by contacting Park Naturalist Diane Miller at Deep Creek Lake State Park (301) 387-5563. A $20 donation is being requested from each team with proceeds going to the Maryland State Park Foundation, a non-profit organization that supports programs in the Maryland State Parks.

Everybody Needs Friends!

Friendships are an important part of life at every age. Special friends are often considered "part of the family." Friends provide companionship, someone to share activities, emotional support through difficult times, and a sense of identity and history.

Everyone is different - in their need for friends, in the way they make friends, and in their ability to start over again after losing old friends.

The longer a person lives, the more likely friendships will be lost due to death, poor health or moving away.

Making new friends may be more difficult with advancing age. The new friends will never be quite the same as lifelong friends. But new friendships bring opportunities for growth and learning, companionship, sharing new experiences, reminiscing about the past, and support in times of difficulty.

Some of the following suggestions may be familiar to you, and some may be new. The ideas may help maintain old friendships as well as develop new ones.

Steps to Friendship

* Decide to make new friends. This is important. You need to choose to be open to new experiences and new relationships. This may be difficult in times of crisis, grief, or personal life changes. Give you self time. But at some point, making the choice to try again is necessary.

* Meeting people. In order to make friends, it is necessary to find opportunities to meet others. Often older people have fewer chances to meet new people, so it may be necessary to put extra effort into locating meeting places. It helps to participate in...

Senior centers, church or synagogue, civic groups, volunteering, educational classes, special interest groups, organizations for people with a common background, traveling, local AARP chapters.

* Get acquainted. Many of us are shy when attending new social activities. Having a companion the first time helps. Remember to smile, speak up (introduce yourself or arrange for a hostess/host to help introduce you), ask others about themselves, share information about yourself, including your interest, hobbies, goals.

It is easier to make friends with people whose interests are similar to yours.

* Keep trying even though you may feel awkward and uncomfortable at first. Go back more than once. It takes time to get to know people time to discover each other's interests, life experiences, and values.

* Maintain friendships. As you share yourself and share experiences, friendship slowly develops. Ongoing contact through phone calls, letters, and personal visits is critical to friendship. Share your memories, your feelings, your hopes and dreams. Share experiences take a class together or get together on a hobby or project.

Create Your Own Opportunities to Meet People and Make Friends

Build on your vast life experiences. Review old friendships and how they were developed. Create opportunities in your own neighborhood.

* Begin a neighborhood weekly or monthly potluck meal. * Get a dog and take it for walks.

* Organize a small group interested in writing and sharing autobiographies.

* Teach someone a hobby or skill such as woodworking or needlework.

* Join or organize a walking club.

* Organize a discussion group on literature, religion, or politics.

* Join your Neighborhood Watch Committee, a local committee to monitor the safety of your neighborhood or help to organize one if none exists. * Volunteer to help at a local organization.

* Find specific things to do for others.

Suqgestions for People Who are Homebound

Physical limitations, lack of transportation, health problems or emotional difficulties may make it hard to meet people. Resources and opportunities for "home bound individuals" vary from community to community. Hopefully, some of the following suggestions will help you make friends.

* Offer to call and check on other homebound people on a regular basis.

* Call local volunteer or religious organizations; ask how you might help from home.

* Write to relatives or friends on a regular basis.

* Write to a pen pal identified through an organization.

* Offer to write a column for your local senior citizen newsletter.

* Call senior citizen groups or your local religious organizations to ask if they have people who visit homebound persons. * Ask to have someone call and check on you daily to make sure you're okay. This is often arranged through senior centers or community and civic groups.

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

HELPING MARYLANDERS FOR 50 YEARS
by Governor William Donald Schaefer

The grave markers seem to go on forever, gleaming white in the sunshine of the French countryside. They mark the final resting places of Americans, most of them young men, who died on the beaches not far away or in tiny villages and towns in the days and weeks that followed the D-Day invasion.

For the people of Normandy, on the coast of France, Americans are heroes. Not just those who died there, but all Americans. Unwilling to forget that it was U.S. soldiers who stormed ashore on the Normandy beaches on D-Day in 1944 and freed them from German occupation, they have been welcoming back Americans for 50 years.

Fifty years ago, too, our own nation found a fitting way to welcome home its heroes and help them rebuild their lives. On June 22, 1944, the serviceman's Readjustment Act of 1944, known better as the G.I.-Bill, became law. This June 22nd, I signed a proclamation recognizing the great contribution of the G.I. Bill.

The purpose of the G.I. Bill was to help veterans of World War II to catch up on the American dream. They had interrupted their civilian lives, leaving jobs or college to go to war. Some even quit high school to serve. Now the new law would provide money for returning G.I.'s to get their jobs skills back, to finish their education, to go to college -and make up for lost time. And the G.I. Bill would provide home loan guarantees so veterans could own their own homes.

That was half a century ago. Over time, the law was changed to include veterans of other wars -- first Korea, then Vietnam -- and then extended to all veterans. Along the way, the G.I. Bill helped make Americans the best educated workers in the world. And, thousands of families also felt the pride and security of home ownership.

Marylanders have enjoyed the benefits of the G.I. Bill. Over 328,000 Maryland veterans have taken advantage of the law's education and training benefits, and many millions of dollars have been invested in the citizens of our state.

Even more impressive is the investment in homes in Maryland: Over 392,000 home ownership loans have been guaranteed under the G.I. Bill, and those loans have totaled over $17 billion.

The purpose of the G.I. bill has always been to honor and help Americans who served in the armed forces and to create educational and economic opportunities for them. But its effect has been far greater. The strength and quality of our colleges and universities in Maryland derives, in part, from the veterans-turned-students who have gone to college here and from the federal support that helped pay for their education. Our economy has benefitted directly from the many billions of dollars invested under the law's guarantee.

Today, America seems to face fewer threats than it once did, and as a result fewer men and women serve in the armed services. If the decision-makers in Washington are right and we have entered a time when conflicts are fewer and the lives of American servicemen and women are not placed in harm's way, so much the better. The savings realized from streamlining our military can be used elsewhere to help people. But the nation's commitment to its veterans to help them become productive civilians should never waver, and the program that has helped Maryland and Marylanders alike for 50 years should continue. If you have thoughts about the G.I Bill or any education issues in Maryland, write me: Governor William Donald Schaefer, State House, Annapolis MD 21401.

Making Strides Against Cancer Walk Scheduled

The volunteer committee of the local American Cancer Society is planning the organization's annual "Making Strides" event. This "move-along-athon" will be held rain or shine Sept 18 at Deep Creek State Park.

"This event is the local society's largest fundraiser each year. our volunteers have been busy planning a festive, healthy event. It's a great opportunity for families and co-workers to enjoy a day at the park and help a worthwhile cause!" said Elaine McDonald, 1994 chairman.

Nearly 200 striders are expected to turn out this year to walk, run, jog or stroll while raising funds for the life-saving programs of the American Cancer Society, according to Cindy Kelley-Haywood, local ACS executive director.

This fourth annual event will offer prizes to eligible "striders" and incentive awards to eligible companies, schools, and organizations that enter teams in the event. Teams who turn in their registration fees and the minimum donations by August 19 may be eligible to receive team t-shirts with their group/company logo on the back. Local people who are interested in participating may contact Elaine McDonald at 387-4040 or the American Cancer Society at 1-800-STRIDES. Last year, 111 local residents participated in this non-competitive event.

Perhaps you sat with me for a while, or held my hand as I cried. Perhaps you spoke words of encouragement, or reminded me I was not alone. You may have stopped by my home with a tray full of food, or sent a meaningful card or a floral arrangement. Perhaps you whispered a prayer or asked that a special mass be said for my Jerry.

The outpouring of love shown to me and my family following the death of my beloved husband will be remembered for a lifetime. I especially thank my mother, my children, my family, my dear friends, the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club, Knights of Columbus Council 1771, Alan Laverdure, Durst Funeral Home and Father Martin Feild.

The pain of my loss has been lessened by your love and kindness, a final tribute never to be forgotten.

For any and all kindness during my time of grief, I thank you.

Food For Thought

What's even better than poaching fish is steaming it. Flavors become more intense when they're not diluted in water or even court bouillon. The fish tastes of itself instead of the poaching liquid.

Souffles will rise higher and straighter if you run a thumb around the inside of the dish that holds them just before you put it in the oven. The trick prevents sticking, too.

Chemists at Cornell University have isolated two kinds of "magic" in tomatoes that may help ward off cancer. P-coumaric acid and chlorogenic acid seem to cut the body's formation of nitrosamines.

Packaged ready-to-use stuffing, rich with herbs, makes a flavorful coating for oven-"fried" chicken. Dip chicken breast halves in flour, then milk, then crumbs. Drizzle with butter; bake 20 minutes at 400.

When you're out of the baking powder called for in your recipe, you can substitute ¼ tsp. baking soda and ½ tsp. cream of tartar for each 1 tsp. of baking powder.

Q. I have a lamp with a painted glass shade and a painted glass base. The word "Legras" is on the base. Age? Value?

A. Legras and Co. operated in Saint-Denis, France, from 1864 until World War I. It reopened in 1920 under the new name Verreries et Cristalleries de Saint-Denis et de Pantin Reunis. Legras made vases and table lamps of cameo, acid-etched or enameled glass. The lamps are now popular with collectors; a table lamp is worth over $1,500.

Q. I have a plastic Felix the Cat bubble-bath bottle. How old is it?

A. Colgate-Palmolive made Soaky bubble bath in the 1960s. It was sold in plastic containers in figures that children would like, such as Felix, Rocky and Bullwinkle, and Alvin (of the Chipmunks).

Another company, Purex, made Bubble Club bottles shaped like other cartoon characters. Soaky then added superhero bottles like Superman and Spiderman.

There are now many other bubble-bath products in the United States, Canada and Europe that are sold in figural, fun-to-play-with-in-the-tub containers. There are hundreds of different bottles, including at least four different Felix the Cat bottles. They were probably made before 1975.

TIP: Light your yard so that some of the lights face the garage door and light up the entrances to the house. Put the lights high enough to be out of easy reach.

GRAY POWER: If you thought frailty and weakness were both natural consequences of aging, have we got news for you. It just isn't so. You don't have to lose strength or vitality as you get older. Not only that, if you have experienced some loss, it's never too late to reclaim it.

A study in the New England Journal of Medicine, cited in the August, 1994 issue of the University of Texas Lifetime Health Letter, reports on some interesting findings on this topic.

Investigators assigned 100 nursing home residents to one of four groups: One group spent 45 minutes of strength training for hip and thigh muscles three times a week; another group took a daily vitamin-supplemented drink; another group took the drink and also performed strength training; the fourth group participated in regular nursing home activities, including walking.

The average age of the participants was 87 — ranging from 72 to 98. Most were rather frail with limited mobility and required canes, walkers, or wheelchairs to get around.

After 10 weeks, the investigators found that participants in the strength-training groups had more than doubled their muscle strength. Also, their walking ability had increased well over 11 percent, and stair-climbing ability improved over 28 percent. As a matter of fact, four persons who had used a walker were now able to get around with a cane. In contrast to these rather dramatic changes, persons who didn't perform the weight-training routines had a loss of nearly 4 percent in muscle strength.

It's important to point out that the gains in muscle strength and mobility among those who used the weight (or strength) training routines were independent of a person's age, sex, existing medical conditions, or degree of frailty at the start of the program.

Of course, you need to check with your doctor before you start any new program involving any kind of exercise.

Home Tips

SCUFF MARKS — I have a great tip for cleaning those black scuff marks from girls' white patent leather shoes. I put a few drops of nail-polish remover on a cotton ball and simply wipe the scuff marks away. It doesn't dull the patent leather and the shoes look like new. Georgina M., Camden, N.J.

WIND IT UP — For years I've battled with the foil-type toothpaste dispensers, trying to keep the spent end rolled up so the toothpaste will flow out evenly. Lately, I've found that binder clips (large clips used to hold paper together when it's too wide for paper clips) are an excellent mechanism to keep the dispenser rolled up. Jayne H., Sharon, Kan.

GIFT TAGS — I saved last year's Christmas cards we had received. This year I used them as gift tags. Using small Christmas cookie cutters (bell, star, tree), I traced their shapes on the cards and cut.

PLASTIC BAGS — I have a recycling tip that has been very helpful to me. I use plastic newspaper bags for my yarn. I just slip one bag over a skein of yarn; it keeps it from unwinding or tangling. I usually have several colors in the same basket and find that the bags help to keep them upright so I can just pull the end, use as much as I want, then tuck the end back into the bag when I changed colors. Jill L., Rutland, Vt.

MOVING — We move quite a bit due to my husband's job. Through the years we've picked up some good tips to make moving easier. We pack a few things such as clothing for one day, towels, soap, toilet tissue, coffee and our coffee pot, plus a few dishes and silverware in a couple of boxes and take it with us. It's very tiring the first night to go through boxes, so these come in handy.

MORE ON VINEGAR — I have found another use for vinegar. I have oily hair and hair conditioners seemed to make it get dirty sooner.

I made a hair rinse using two cups of water and one cup of white vinegar. Shampoo and rinse as usual, then pour the vinegar and water solution on your hair. Do not rinse it out.

The vinegar smell will go away when your hair dries.

WOMEN AND CAFFEINE: Drinking coffee or ingesting anything that contained caffeine was thought to be a risky business for women since it was assumed caffeine would adversely affect women's reproductive organs and also contribute to cancer and osteoporosis. In recent years, studies have been done to show that in moderation, caffeine is not harmful for most people.

However, caffeine, which is found naturally in the leaves, fruits and seeds of as many as 63 different plant species (we are most familiar with it in tea, coffee, chocolate and many colas) can act as a central nervous system stimulant and people have differing sensitivity to it, often depending on the amount consumed.

Researchers now agree that previous reports about caffeine and delayed conception didn't always take in all factors. For example, studies of delayed conception in women who drank coffee often neglected to consider that they also smoked: delayed conception among the non-smoking coffee drinking population was not in itself attributable to caffeine intake.

As for fibrocystic breast disease (a condition of benign fibrous lumps in the breast) both the National Cancer Institute and the American Medical Association's Council on Scientific Affairs have stated there is no causal link with caffeine intake.

Osteoporosis in post-menopausal women has been linked to caffeine intake because caffeine often causes an increase in calcium loss. However, studies show that taking in sufficient amounts of calcium can offset the potential effect of caffeine on bone density.

It's always a good idea to consult with your doctor about your dietary regimen if you are pregnant, intend to become pregnant, or if you're breast feeding, or if you're having any reproductive problems.

SMOKING, as noted above, is becoming increasingly indicated as an adverse health factor. Recently, studies done by the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston (UTMB) found that mutations occur at a higher frequency in newborns of mothers who smoked cigarettes. These changes, according to the UTMB findings, could increase the risk of cancer development later in the child's life.

New "Senior Center Plus" Manager Named

The Garrett County Area Agency on Aging (AAA) is announcing the selection of Linda L. Henn as the manger for the new "Senior Center Plus" program soon to be opening at the Mary Browning Senior Center.

Mrs. Henn is a licensed practical nurse with 22 years experience in the medical field, but had temporarily left her profession to assist her husband in the operation of their business, Master Craft Printers, Oakland. Mrs. Henn is certified in first aid and CPR. She is also a recent graduate (July 1994) of the University of Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute in Cresaptown, where she received her emergency medical technician (EMT) certification.

She says she is "very excited" about the new Senior Center Plus program and believes there is a great need for this type of program in the community. "I really enjoy people, especially the elderly because they have many experiences to share and so much can be learned from them," she said.

The Senior Center Plus program will be designed to provide socialization and recreational activities. Breakfast, lunch, and a snack will be provided according to dietary needs.

Clients will be assessed by an experienced medical staff to best provide for their individual needs.

Cost is determined by client's income, ranging from no cost to $36.50 per day.

The Senior Center Plus program is slated to open October 4 at the Mary Browning Senior Center and will operate every Tuesday and Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Interested persons may call 334-9431, ext. 140, to enroll or to receive further information. Accommodations will be limited to 15 persons per day for the first year.

Open House Slated At Truesdell Home

There will be an open house at the Truesdell Home for Senior Citizens, Deer Park, this Friday, Aug. 26, from 1 to 4 p.m., to which the public is invited.

The home is located along State Rt. 135 about one-half mile east of the Deer Park fire hall.

Bloodmobile Nets 23 Pints Friday

The visit of the American Red Cross bloodmobile to Friendsville last Friday netted a total of 23 pints of blood, according to Esther Benedict, coordinator of the visit.

Twenty-five persons responded to the visit, with two of them deferred. There was one first-time donor and Rod Bowser became a six-gallon donor by giving his 48th pint of blood.

Volunteers assisting were Eleanor Teats, Belinda Benedict, Sophie Benedict, and Esther Benedict.

The next, and possibly last, visit of the bloodmobile to Friendsville will be October 21. Mrs. Benedict urges people to mark the visit on their calendars and "plan to bring a friend with them" to the Friendsville fire hall that day.

Labor Day Events Are Scheduled At Randolph Lake

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced a variety of activities planned for the Labor Day weekend at Jennings Randolph Lake.

Nature movies will be shown Saturday, Sept. 3, and Sunday, Sept. 4, at the amphitheater in the Robert W. Craig Campground at 9 p.m. The public is welcome to attend.

For campers' daytime enjoyment, the campground also features a sandbox and playground for the children, a 3/4-mile tree identification trail, a 1.2-mile nature/hike trail, horseshoe pits, and basketball court. Sports equipment is available upon request.

In addition to the evening programs in the campground, tours of the intake tower will be conducted on Sunday, Sept. 4, from 2 to 4 p.m. All those people who are interested in how the project operates to improve water quality, supplies water downstream, and prevents downstream flooding are invited to meet the rangers at the West Virginia Overlook.

For further information, persons may call 301-355-2346 or 301-359-3861, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

AHA Volunteer Dinner Slated M.D. To Speak

The American Heart Association-Western Maryland Division will host the 47th Annual Dinner and Volunteer Awards ceremony on Thursday, September 1, at The Point View Inn in McHenry.

A social will begin at 6 p.m., followed by a buffet dinner at 7 p.m. Following the dinner, Alan W. Heldman, M.D., a senior clinical fellow in the Division of Cardiology at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, will present a enlightening talk about "New Insights from Research into Heart Disease."

"With cardiovascular disease and stroke being the leading cause of death, Dr. Heldman's talk on advances in the area of heart disease comes at a most appropriate time," stated Patricia E. Lund, Ed.D., R.N., president of the local American Heart Association.

Dr. Heldman received his A.B. degree with honors from Harvard College and his M.D. degree with scholastic excellence from the University of Alabama at Birmingham. He has also attained academic honors from the American Gastroenterology Association (Student Research Fellowship), Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Honor Society, and Tinsley R. Harrison Medical Student Society. He received the Highest Performance in Psychiatry Award and the Clinical Achievement Award at his medical school graduation.

A recipient of a Research Fellowship Grant from the AHA Maryland Affiliate, Research supported by Dr. Heldman's grant will be presented at the AHA's Scientific Sessions in Dallas in November. The research involves emphasis on the behavior of cells in the blood vessel wall and the development of new strategies for the prevention and treatment of heart disease.

Dr. Heldman has collaborated in writing numerous abstracts on strategies for preventing and treating heart disease for various publications and given several presentations across the country.

The 47th Annual Dinner and Volunteer Awards Ceremony is held each year in recognition of the dedicated individuals who devote much time and effort to fighting cardiovascular disease and stroke.

Persons interested in attending the dinning or desire additional information, may contact the local American Heart Association Office at (301) 724-4011 or (800) 734-3769.

Dwight Bradley wrote, in Leaves From a Spiritual Notebook..."For worship is a drop in quest of the ocean."

You are relaxing by a lake on a bright, hot, late summer afternoon. Suddenly, a voluminous cloud appears, seemingly out of nowhere, accompanied by the contrasting coolness of a refreshing breeze. As you gather your blanket and picnic basket, "plop", that first raindrop ripples the water.

There is always that first drop...which is soon followed by an inevitable downpour; and yes, that one little drop will finally journey to become a part of the sea.

Each Sabbath, as you learn of God, your relationship is continually deepened until you are aware of His constant presence...until you are another member of His flourishing family. If you do not worship regularly, why not begin this week? Like that one little drop flowing to the sea, each journey has a beginning.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHAT'S ON THE MENU?
August 28, 1994

Background Scripture:
Deuteronomy 28
Devotional Reading:
Deuteronomy 29:10-18a

There are some valuable lessons in Deuteronomy 28, but be forewarned: it is a pre-Christian document and its picture of God is substantially different from the one presented in the New Testament.

I shouldn't bother to make that observation were it not for the tendency of some Christians to lift from the Old Testament teachings and ideas that are incompatible with Christian understanding. This is not to denigrate Deuteronomy, but to put it in perspective--as Jesus did.

The basic idea of this chapter is that obeying God's commandments brings blessings and disobeying brings curses. "And all these blessings shall come upon you and overtake you if you obey the voice of the Lord your God" (28:2). "But if you will not obey the voice of the Lord your God or be careful to do all His commandments and His statutes which I command you this day, then all these curses shall come upon you and overtake you" (28:15).

IN PERSPECTIVE

Generally, this is true: obeying God usually brings blessings while disobeying him usually brings troubles. This is the motivation to which Moses appealed: it will pay to do good and it will cost you to disobey God. But we have to understand that in this chapter Moses is speaking poetically instead of as a systematic thinker. He is overstating his case and that is all right as long as you know that and keep it in mind.

If you try to make a legalistic principle out of it, however, it will not work, because all of us have been around long enough to know that doing right sometimes brings sorrow--the crucifixion of Jesus--and doing wrong is sometimes rewarded, at least in the short run.

Note that all of the blessings and curses are primarily material in nature: "Blessed shall be the fruit of your body, and the fruit of your ground, and the fruit of your beasts, the increase of your cattle, and the young of your flock" (28:4). "Cursed...shall you be in the field. Cursed shall you be in your basket and your kneading trough. Cursed shall be the fruit of your body, and the fruit of your ground..." (28:18). There is nothing said about spiritual blessings and curses. That was a perspective still to come.

A GREATER LONG RUN

Why? Because they had no official belief in life after death and there was no hereafter. And because there was no hereafter the only way a person could be rewarded or punished was in the here and now with material well-being. With the advent of a belief in a life after death there was provided a greater "long run" in which to receive either blessings or curses and in a spiritual rather than material realm.

Another point of contrast is in the depiction of God and His reaction to the consequences of human sin: "And as the Lord took delight in doing you good and multiplying you, so the Lord will take delight in bringing ruin upon you and destroying you" (28:63). The God of the New Testament (as well as the God depicted by other writers of the Old Testament: Hosea, Isaiah, Jeremiah, etc.) is not one who would "delight" in destroying his disobedient children.

Nevertheless, this chapter is relevant for us today in that it teaches us that our well-being is dependent upon the choices we make--and to realize that those choices have consequences, quite apart from the issue of God's forgiveness. For example: if we take someone's life and then seek God's forgiveness, it will not bring that person back to life. Forgiveness usually does not change consequences in the short-run, only the long-run.

Robert Louis Stevenson once said, "Everybody soon or late sits down to a banquet of consequences." Just remember, what's on the menu is what you put there.

These firms invite YOU to a House of Worship each week.

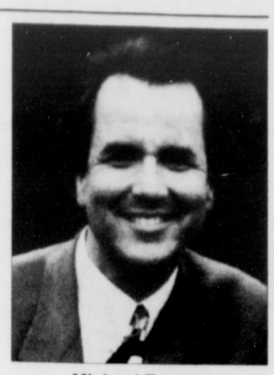
COVER STORY

'Mike & Maty' prove quite a team

BY JOHN CROOK



Michael Burger

"We're kind of like the 'Sleepless in Seattle' of talk-show hosts," says Maty Monfort of her teaming with Michael Burger.

That's not entirely a flip comparison. TV critics are hailing "Mike & Maty," now airing weekdays on ABC, as one of the freshest and most appealing hours to hit daytime television in a long time.

"I think the show is different," she says of "M&M," which replaced the network's defunct "Home" in April. "It's hip and younger and happier than most of the shows that are out there right now.

"TV Guide recently wrote ... that we were one of the three wholesomest hours left. I like that – wholesomeness, in the sense that we come on and we really just want people to have a good time with us, not to feel that we're the only ones having a good time."

The only downside: Her husband, Atlanta radio station operations manager Tony Novia, has to commute to Los Angeles on most weekends.

Born in Pinar del Rio, Cuba, Maria Matilde Monfort (her grandmother nicknamed her Maty) was only 18 months old when she and her parents fled the Communist country on a Freedom Flight ordered by President Lyndon Johnson in 1967, and eventually settled in Miami. Years later, she took a job as host of a local music video show to help pay for her studies at the University of Miami.

Thus began an eight-year association with Univision, a Miami-based Spanish-language cable service that made her face familiar in 18 countries. She became co-host of the variety show "Sabado Gigante" ("A 'really big Sabado,' " partner Burger translates helpfully), then prophetically served as host of "Hola America," a live daytime talk show.

Burger, 37, a native of Long Beach, Calif., says he knew from the age of 12 that he wanted to be a talk show host and invested a lot of his schooltime toward that goal.

"Kids used to say to me in class, once they got to know me, 'How far can you get the teacher off the subject?' If I thought history was going a little slow ... ," he laughs. "It's so sad, I used to think of school as really a loose framework for what I did. I was really playing this kind of subliminal talk show host, working on my craft. You know, try to do a nice, tight 10 (minutes) before recess. I guess it's just something I've always wanted to do."

Burger somehow managed to earn a bachelor's degree. in communications from California State University between gags and embarked on a successful career as a Royal Caribbean cruise ship comic and a warm-up act for TV sitcom tapings.

As the Undercover Comic, Burger would attend corporate board seminars and retreats, where he was introduced as a newly hired CEO. He then would outline, poker-faced, some radical business changes that would take the company in question into inevitable bankruptcy, to the thinly veiled panic and nervous laughter of his corporate "peers" who had swallowed it whole.

IN FOCUS

Host John Madden leads football fans through an hour-long look behind the scenes at three NFL training camps in "NFL All-Access" Monday, Aug. 29, on Fox.

In the special, Madden tours the training facilities of the Arizona Cardinals, the Minnesota Vikings and the two-time defending Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys.

Highlights of the special include scrimmages, meetings, meals, bed checks and rookies singing to the veteran players.

Coolidge able to prove pretty is, but funny does

BY SUZANNE GILL

Good looks aren't usually a handicap, but in the field of stand-up comedy a pretty face can make it hard to be taken seriously.

So when Jennifer Coolidge decided to try out for the repertory cast of a summer replacement comedy series, she hid her Julia Roberts-like looks. The plan worked: Coolidge is currently a regular on "SHE TV," a sketch comedy series airing each Tuesday through Sept. 20 on ABC.

Executive producer Terry Turner, once a writer for "Saturday Night Live," remembers the fateful audition.

"She (wore) this incredibly strange wig, and this incredibly large coat, and she did a character who was a woman hiring a baby sitter, and she had 'a few rules for the boys.' " She took out a book the size of a telephone directory.

"She went through the entire insane character, and I thought, God, she's funny," Turner recalls.

"And then she took off the wig and lost the coat, and she had some other goofy prop. And she got to Bagitta, a supermodel character, at the end.

"I looked at her, and I thought, she is very smart. She's a very beautiful woman, and she knows producers are going to look at her and say, 'She's pretty – she can't be funny.'

"What she did is she built her audition totally backwards. And she answered the question for me, which showed me a little bit about myself. If she had walked in with Bagitta and worked toward (the other characters), I would have said, 'Yeah, yeah, but she's pretty.' "

Instead Turner said, "You're hired."

Halle Berry

Q: Is Kin Shriner of "General Hospital" Alec Baldwin's brother? –L.S.G., Flint, Mich.

A: No, but he is the brother of actor-comic-game show host Wil Shriner.

Q: Who is David Justice of the Atlanta Braves married to? My sister and I think he is or was married to Vanessa Williams. Some of our parents' friends say he is married to Halle Berry. Who is right? Please clear this up! –Erika Strasser, St. Joseph, Mo.

A: Even if it means finding out you're wrong? Justice is married to Berry, but was never married to Williams.

Q: When and where was Martin Short born? Where can I write to him? –Carla Phipps, Rintoul, Ill.

A: Short was born in Hamilton, Ont., on March 26, 1950. Write to him C/O NBC Television Network, 3000 W. Alameda Ave., Burbank, Calif. 91523.

Q: My friend and I have a bet. I say Jarrod was the eldest of the Barkley brothers on "The Big Valley." She says Nick was. Who is right? Dinner is riding on this and I'm hungry. –Virginia in Whitehall, Mich.

A: Bon appetit, Virginia. Jarrod was the eldest.

Q: My favorite actor, James Belushi, seems to have vanished into the sunset. What happened? Where can I write to him? –Melinda Wallace, Middletown, Ohio.

A: At 40, the Chicago-born Belushi is in need of some career rehab. Despite several chances, he has yet to prove himself able to carry a film. He recently starred (very successfully, in my opinion) in "Parallel Lives" on Showtime. Try writing to him C/O CAA, 9830 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Q: My sister and I have a disagreement: Was Perry Mason ever married on his TV series? –Mary Reid, Daytona Beach, Fla.

A: I'm afraid I can only say that, to the best of my knowledge, Mason remained a bachelor throughout. The plot lines left little room for romance, let alone matrimony.

Q: Do you have an address where I can write to the British actor Anthony Andrews? –D. Mumford, Topsham, Maine.

The most recent address I have for him is C/O The Gersh Agency, 232 N. Canon Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90210.

Thanks to Canadian reader Tara Donovan, who supplied the address of the Kenny Rogers Fan Club, 1516 16th Ave. South, Nashville, Tenn. 37212. An alternate address is Kenny Rogers Productions, P.O. Box 24240, Nashville, Tenn. 37202.

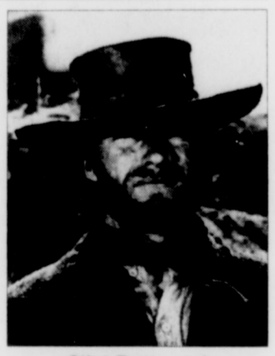
Acclaimed movie director Oliver Stone serves as host for TNT's "Our Favorite Movies" on Thursday, Sept. 1, introducing Alfred Hitchcock's 1951 thriller, "Strangers on a Train."

"I think that Alfred Hitchcock was a perverse fellow, and he was not afraid to show it," Stone says. "In a way, he was a man who was riddled with fear. He admits that early in his life, he had been terrified by a visit to a police station, so he was a man given over to guilt and fear."

MOVIE MARQUEE

Director-star Eastwood hits bull's-eye

BY JIM HOOD



Clint Eastwood

"Unforgiven," airing Sunday, Aug. 28, on Cinemax, is not some run-of-the-mill Western.

The Clint Eastwood-directed film has won much acclaim, but it may disappoint fans of traditional Westerns. This stark, yet real, portrayal of the West shows a place devoid of morality and ruled by vigilante justice.

Eastwood's character, the gunfighter William Munny, represents the idea of an anti-hero, much in the same way as Dirty Harry. Although the initial premise would suggest otherwise, he does not save the damsel in distress. William kills a man involved in disfiguring a prostitute only for the bounty, not for the sake of the woman's honor.

Gene Hackman won the best supporting actor Oscar for his role as Sheriff Little Bill Daggett. Despite his title, this distasteful character does not represent law and order. He is sheriff simply because he is the toughest guy in town.

The hardest thing to swallow is the fact that William claims to be a changed man. He was straightened out by the love of a good woman. Yet without even thinking twice, William is downing whiskey, and blowing away Little Bill and several others in a scene that could easily be romanticized, just like "Shane."

Did "Unforgiven" deserve to win the Oscar as best picture of 1992? Is it a bad movie because Eastwood rides off into a rainstorm instead of a sunset? Or does that make it the best Western ever made?

The film world has had enough of the romantic Western. There will be no more movies about singing cowboys. The code of the West was "shoot before you get shot." "Unforgiven" shoots from the hip, and Clint Eastwood is dead-on.

Cinemax will also be showing "Where Eagles Dare," "The Outlaw Josey Wales" and "The Good, the Bad and the Ugly" in an Eastwood marathon Sunday.

Elsewhere on TV this week, Roger Moore makes his final appearance as James Bond, taking on a madman who plots to destroy California's Silicon Valley in "A View to a Kill," airing Sunday on ABC.

CBS airs "Internal Affairs" Tuesday, Aug. 30. Richard Gere is a corrupt police officer and Andy Garcia is the young investigator from the internal affairs department who tries to take him down.

Michael J. Fox and Christopher Lloyd team up again for time travel to the Old West in "Back to the Future Part III," Saturday, Sept. 3, on NBC.

Nebraska begins quest for college football title

BY BILL QUINLAN

Tom Osborne

Nebraska launches its quest for the elusive national championship when the college football season begins Sunday on ABC.

The Cornhuskers battle West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic at Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, N.J.

"I expect it to be a very physical game," Nebraska coach Tom Osborne says.

Nebraska's talented lineup includes option quarterback Tommy Frazier, a Heisman Trophy candidate, I-back Lawrence Phillips, defensive tackle Terry Connealy and linebacker Ed Stewart.

West Virginia tailback Robert Walker leads a powerful running attack. The Mountaineers' strength is a defense anchored by All-Big East linemen Barry Hawkins and Steve Perkins.

The Cornhuskers are attempting to go to a bowl game for an NCAA-record 26th consecutive season. However, Nebraska hasn't won the national championship since it captured back-to-back titles in 1970 and 1971 under former coach Bob Devaney.

Many observers believe the Cornhuskers deserved to win the national title last season. Nebraska outplayed the Florida State Seminoles in the Orange Bowl, but suffered a controversial 18-16 defeat.

The Orange Bowl loss may be an inspiration point for the Cornhuskers to win it all this year.

"I think we're going to use it as a motivator and try to put it behind us," Frazier says. "What if we go out and perform the way we did last year and get to the national championship game? Maybe we can pull it off this year."

Osborne acknowledges the pressure to win, but he is more interested in the efforts of his players.

"There is such an emphasis in our culture on being on top and getting the ring and getting the trophy," Osborne says. "(Instead) I guess sometimes we try to focus pretty hard on our players and more intrinsic values, as to knowing that you played at the top level, that you certainly can play with anybody, that you're capable of beating any team, and that you've played the very best you can play."

Other games this week include Monday's syndicated Disneyland Pigskin Classic between Fresno State and Ohio State (check local listings) and Thursday's Arizona at Georgia Tech contest on ESPN. On Saturday, ESPN has Cincinnati at Indiana and Oklahoma at Syracuse. ABC airs regional doubleheaders Saturday.

CABLE OVERVIEW

Pyle finds women's work changes families for better

BY SUZANNE GILL

Barbara Pyle

"People Count," Turner Broadcasting's programming series on population issues, runs this week and next on CNN and TBS. Dozens of specials and news reports examine global population trends, family planning, economic self-help programs and high-tech solutions to hunger.

On Monday, Aug. 29, TBS offers three specials introduced by Jane Fonda.

"The Facts of Life" examines the balance between Earth's 5.6 billion people and its available resources, visiting countries from Bangladesh to Japan. "Facts of the Heart," with photojournalist and TBS environmental programming chief Barbara Pyle, looks at how women in Jamaica, India and the Philippines are bettering themselves and their families. "Facts of the Mind" explores the gap between culture and technology, even in advanced nations.

"My thesis is you can't get people to care about issues," Pyle says, "but you can get people to care about people."

In a world where millions of women and girls gain social standing only after childbirth, Pyle finds that education and jobs give women choices, and improved health care means that the children they do have will survive.

"Education, health and economics are the other three factors (besides available family planning) in reducing fertility.

"You change one woman's life a little bit for the better," Pyle says, "and it affects her entire family and the entire community."

Fed up with premium-channel movie repeats? A month-long no-repeat film fest begins Thursday, Sept. 1, on The Movie Channel.

U.S. Open tennis coverage begins Tuesday, Aug. 30, on USA Network.

"Martina Navratilova: An Intimate Portrait" airs Sunday, Aug. 28, on Lifetime. The special follows the nine-time Wimbledon champ from the tennis court to the courtroom and beyond: the early years in Czechoslovakia, a palimony suit and her recent retirement from tournament play.

"Jackson Browne: Going Home," Sunday on The Disney Channel, features songs from Browne's current album, "I'm Alive," plus old favorites.

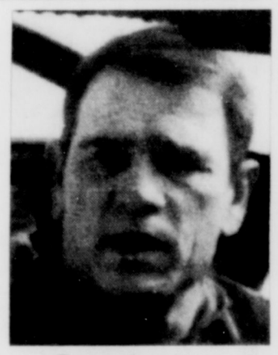
Grab some peanuts and Cracker Jack and settle down to "The Babe," Thursday's edition of "Biography" on A&E.

"Huck Finn" reads between the lines of Mark Twain's allegorical novel, Saturday, Sept. 3, on The Learning Channel's "Great Books" series.

SOAP TALK

Tommy Lee Jones played doctor on soap

BY CANDACE HAVENS



Tommy Lee Jones

Dear Candace: In the 1970s actor Tommy Lee Jones played Dr. Mark Toland on "One Life to Live." Who was the actress who played his wife, Julie Siegel Toland? Was it Jamie Lee Curtis? –B. Lancaster, Webster, Fla.

Dear Reader: There were two actresses who played Julie Siegel. Lee Warrick portrayed her from 1969-74, and Leonie Norton took over the role from 1974-76.

Jones played Dr. Toland from 1971-75. And here's an interesting note: Tom Berenger portrayed Tim Siegel from 1975-76.

Some other famous faces you may recognize from "OLTL" are Judith Light, Brynn Thayer, Sammy Davis Jr., Arlene Dahl, Laurence Fishburne, Jameson Parker, Robert Desiderio, Dr. Joyce Brothers, Esther Rolle, Abe Vigoda and Orson Bean.

Dear Candace: I have been watching "Days of Our Lives" for a few months, and there is something that has been puzzling me. I know that Victor Kiriakis is Bo's father because Caroline had an affair with him years ago. So why is Bo's last name Brady? – Ramona Smith, Chesterfield, M.O.

Dear Reader: Caroline didn't tell anyone until a few years ago that Victor was Bo's father. If you just started watching then you probably don't know what a bad guy Victor Kiriakis can be. At times he has made Stefano's evil deeds look like a teen-ager's dirty prank. There was a time when Victor was trying to take Bo's girlfriend, Carly, away from him. But that was before Victor discovered Bo was his son.

Bo grew up as one of the Brady clan with Shawn as his father. Even though he has made amends with Victor, Bo would much rather be known as a Brady than as a Kiriakis.

Dear Candace: I have been watching "Guiding Light" for at least 30 years, and for the most part I have enjoyed the show. But there have been major changes in the cast, and there are only a few players from the old days. There has also been a change in the writing. The families used to be so caring about one another. I would like to see more family togetherness on the show. –Z. R., Greenfield Center, N.Y.

Dear Reader: Keep watching! "GL" will continue to have a good dose of intrigue, but family togetherness is a part of the show's near future.

TRIVIA

In the '50s, Frank Sinatra played the Stage Manager in a TV musical version of the play "Our Town."

Will Rogers once opined that "Pictures are the only business where you can sit out front and applaud yourself."

Three actresses – Julie Newmar, Eartha Kitt and Lee Meriwether – played Catwoman opposite Adam West's Batman.

Jokingly, author Margaret Mitchell suggested Groucho Marx for the role of Rhett Butler in "Gone With the Wind."

OBITUARIES

LESTER WARNICK JR.

Lester Vance Warnick Jr., 75, Oakland, died Thursday, Aug. 18, 1994, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

Born in Franklin on Aug. 27, 1918, he was a son of the late Lester Warnick Sr. and Annabelle (Hanlin) Warnick. He was also preceded in death by one daughter, Margaret Ann Warnick.

He was a Brethren by faith, and was a U.S. Marine Corps veteran of World War II. He was a life member of the Queens Point VFW 6775, McCoole, and was retired from the Teamsters Local 453, Cumberland. He had been a truck driver for Eastern Express for 17 years.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Jane (Feller) Warnick; two sons, James V. Warnick, Enola, Pa., and Richard E. Warnick Sr., Oakland; two brothers, Lonnie Warnick, Westernport, and Grant Warnick, Oakland; one sister, Elsie Wilson, Westernport; and four grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Boal Funeral Home, Westernport, where a service was conducted Sunday, Aug. 20. Interment followed in Philos Cemetery, where full military honors were accorded at graveside.

BLAKE E. BUCKEL

Blake Edward Buckel, 79, LaVale, died Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1994, at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Born in Bittinger on Aug. 6, 1915, he was a son of the late William E. Buckel and Bertha Ellen (Wiley) Buckel. He was also preceded in death by one daughter, Roma J. Paugh; and one brother, Robert Buckel.

He was a retired employee of the Wilson Construction Company; a member of the Woodmen of the World; a veteran of the U.S. Army, having served during the Korean War; and a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

IN AN EFFORT TO COMBAT HEART DISEASE, Garrett County Memorial Hospital and the Garrett County Health Department have developed a cardiac program, titled, "The Heart You Save May Be Your Own." The program is funded by a grant from the Maryland Health Services Cost Review Commission. Now available for presentation, the program focuses on risk factor management and services offered by the hospital and health department that can assist in the diagnosis and treatment of heart attack. Linda Stresky, R.N., cardiac rehabilitation nurse at Garrett Memorial and instructor for the program, is currently traveling to various communities to present the program to interested groups and organizations. Ms. Stresky explains that the goal of the program is to increase public awareness of the health risk factors associated with heart attack and to implement behavioral changes that will lead to healthier lifestyles. "By giving an increasing number of the people the knowledge and skills to assist in preventing a possible heart attack, thousands of lives could quite possibly be saved in this country each year, toppling heart attack from its number one position as the nation's killer," she said. In the above photo. Stresky presents the cardiac program to participants of the Mary Browning Senior Center in Oakland. To schedule a presentation for a group or organization, or for more information, persons may call (301) 334-2155, ext. 362.

Survivors include his wife, Barbara Mosella (Brockey) Buckel; two daughters, Barbara Bridges, LaVale, and Jacqueline I. Harvey, Cresaptown; four brothers, Blair Buckel, Deep Creek Lake, Max Buckel, Adelphi, David Buckel, Richmond, Va., and Richard Buckel, LaVale; five sisters, Ferne Beachy and Beulah Moon, both of Bittinger, June Green and Ruby Orendorf, both of LaVale, and JoEllen Graham, St. Albans, W.Va.; four grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Friends were received at the Merritt-Adams Funeral Home, Cumberland. A service was conducted at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Saturday, Aug. 20, with the Rev. Sandra Gideon officiating. Interment was in Emmanuel Cemetery, Bittinger.

JAMES A. TIBBETTS

James A. Tibbetts, 87, Fairmont, W.Va., formerly of Beryl, W.Va., died Monday, Aug. 15, 1994, at Fairmont General Hospital.

He was born March 21, 1907, in Mineral County, W.Va., a son of the late Joseph and Julia (Mitter) Tibbetts. He was also preceded in death by his wife, Margaret (DuVall) Tibbetts, in 1980; two brothers, Joseph Tibbetts and Harold "Mike" Windle; and two sisters, Gladys Beeman and Eleanor Shillingburg.

He was a retiree from the AFL-CIO Labor Union in Morgantown, W.Va., and Consolidated Coal Company, Rivesville, W.Va. He was a lifetime member of the American Legion Post 17, and a member of the Christian Assembly Church, Bellview, W.Va.

Survivors include one nephew whom he reared, George DuVall, of Arizona; and one sister, Mildred Miller, Grantsville.

A funeral service was conducted Aug. 17 in Fairmont, with interment in the Beverly Hills Memorial Gardens, Morgantown.

F. EDWARD MCKENZIE

F. Edward McKenzie, 53, Cumberland, died Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1994, in Cumberland.

Born May 22, 1941, in Frostburg, he was a son of the late John Edward and Leone (Edwards) McKenzie.

He was employed by Peoples Security Insurance Company, Cumberland Agency. He was a member of Christ Lutheran Church, LaVale; Cumberland Life Underwriters Association; and Cresaptown Arie 2883, Fraternal Order of Eagles. He coached Little League, Hot Stove and Rec League baseball in Garrett and Allegany counties for 34 years.

Survivors include his wife, Sharon (Kesner) McKenzie, Bel Air; two sons, Brian Edward McKenzie, Fort Ashby, W.Va., and Brent Alan McKenzie, Ridgeley, W.Va.; one brother, John Richard McKenzie, Florida; and one grandson.

Friends were received at the Durst Funeral Home, Frostburg, where a service was conducted Saturday, Aug. 20, with the Rev. Charles Erzkus officiating. Interment was in Frostburg Memorial Park.

The family requests memorials be directed to the Allegany County League for Crippled Children, P.O. Box 267, Cumberland, MD.

On The Menu...

Good Gravy! Company's Coming!

Whether you're having a last minute get-together, a planned dinner party for eight or a special family gathering, the key to a delicious meal is a little bit of know-how and a touch of kitchen magic.

You can be an "entertainment" star by preparing mouth-watering recipes that taste like you "slaved" all day in the kitchen. In fact, all-time company favorites such as chicken with artichokes or glazed baked ham may taste like they are hard to make but are actually hassle-free, one-dish main meals. Like magic, the seasonings and sauces harmonize with the meats and practically cook on their own.

When preparing company dinners, contemporary chefs carefully choose distinctive ingredients and special sauces, often counting on Heinz HomeStyle Gravy® to create some of the best meals you'll ever taste! Used as a base for a variety of exciting recipes, jarred gravy takes the hassle out of preparing the meal while adding great flavor that's sure to please friends and family alike. Best of all, Heinz HomeStyle Gravies have no cholesterol and are low in fat—no more than one to two grams of fat per quarter cup serving—approximately 83 percent less fat than a typical homemade gravy recipe.

In minutes, plain beef is transformed into Fillet of Beef with Stroganoff Sauce by combining Zesty Brown Gravy with Sweet Onions, sour cream and Worcestershire sauce. And, after tasting an extraordinary sliced potato casserole featuring Classic Chicken Gravy, maple syrup and a hint of nutmeg, your guests will never want plain potatoes again.

With an assortment of great-tasting, quick-to-prepare recipes, it's easy to create company-pleasing meals that give you the freedom to sit back and enjoy.

COMPANY'S COMING! CHECKLIST ✔

With a little planning, there is no need to panic when the doorbell rings.

- ☑ Plan your company menu in advance. Choose quick and easy-to-prepare recipes.
- ☑ Prepare a grocery list. Stock all non-perishables the week before so shopping will be easier before guests arrive.
- ☑ Why not begin cooking main-dish meals in advance? Prepare the sauce a day before and refrigerate. When guests arrive, warm the sauce and proceed with the recipe.
- ☑ Whenever possible, keep the cupboard filled with foods that have a long shelf life, such as canned pie fillings, soups and vegetables. Stock the freezer with ready-made pie crusts, frozen dips and appetizer foods.
- ☑ Involve your family—let them help you: set the table, straighten the house, buy flowers, tend bar, etc.
- ☑ Most baked goods freeze very well. Carefully wrap homemade or purchased dinner rolls, cookies, brownies or cakes. Remove from freezer on the day of the party and let defrost at room temperature.
- ☑ Make lots of ice cubes and store them in plastic bags in the freezer.
- ☑ Extra bottles of soda can be stored in a garage or pantry.
- ☑ "Perk up" your guests! Store an extra pound of ground coffee in the freezer and it will stay fresh.
- ☑ Did you know that the refrigerator is a great place to keep extra rolls of film? Just place the film in the camera and say "Cheese."
- ☑ Keep photo albums updated and ready for display. Guests can entertain themselves by looking through family pictures while you take care of last-minute details.

Holiday Baked Ham with Chutney Glaze

1 (3 pounds) fully-cooked ham
2 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard
1 jar (12 ounces) Heinz HomeStyle Seasoned Pork Gravy
¼ cup chutney
2 tablespoons honey
Dash of ground cloves

Score ham in diamond pattern; place in small baking pan. Spread mustard evenly over top and sides of ham. Bake in 325°F oven for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, in small saucepan combine gravy, chutney, honey and cloves; heat. Glaze ham with gravy mixture. Thin remaining gravy mixture with a little water or orange juice if necessary; serve warm with ham. Makes 8–10 servings.

Lemon Glazed Beets

1 jar (12 ounces) Heinz HomeStyle Savory Brown Gravy
⅓ cup golden raisins
Grated peel of 2 lemons
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
2 cans (16 ounces each) medium whole beets, drained
⅓ cup packed dark brown sugar

Combine gravy, raisins, lemon peel and juice, salt and pepper; stir in beets. Pour into a 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle sugar evenly over top. Bake in 375°F oven for 30 minutes. Makes 6–8 servings.

Maple Scalloped Potatoes

1½ pounds all-purpose potatoes, peeled, thinly sliced
1½ pounds sweet potatoes, peeled, thinly sliced
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground nutmeg
1 jar (12 ounces) Heinz HomeStyle Classic Chicken Gravy
⅓ cup half-and-half
2 tablespoons maple syrup
1 cup grated Swiss cheese (about 4 ounces)

Evenly layer potatoes in 2-quart oblong baking dish. Sprinkle layers with salt and nutmeg. Combine gravy, half-and-half and syrup; pour over potatoes. Cover and bake in 350°F oven for 40 minutes. Uncover, sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 350°F an additional 30 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings.

Sesame Pork Loin with Spicy Cranberry Glaze

1 can (16 ounces) whole cranberry sauce
1 jar (12 ounces) Heinz HomeStyle Seasoned Pork Gravy
3 tablespoons smoky barbecue sauce
1 small clove garlic, minced
2 pounds boneless pork loin
3 tablespoons sesame seeds, toasted

For glaze, in small saucepan, melt cranberry sauce; stir in gravy, barbecue sauce and garlic. Simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Measure out ¼-cup glaze; refrigerate remainder. Brush surface of pork with the ¼-cup glaze. Coat all surfaces of pork with seeds. Place in shallow baking pan; roast in 325°F oven for 70 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before slicing. Heat remaining glaze and serve over sliced pork. Makes 6–8 servings.

Company's Favorite Chicken with Artichokes & Tarragon

1 cup onion, finely chopped
2 tablespoons sweet butter or margarine
1 package (9 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts, thawed and patted dry
1 jar (12 ounces) Heinz HomeStyle Hearty Chicken Gravy with Mushrooms and Sweet Onions
¼ cup dry white wine
1 teaspoon dried tarragon leaves
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
6 large skinless boneless chicken breast halves (about 1½ pounds)
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese (optional)

In large skillet, saute onions in butter until soft. Add artichokes and cook 2 minutes. Stir in gravy, wine, tarragon, salt and pepper. Cook 1 minute. Pour half of artichoke mixture into a 2-quart oblong baking dish. Arrange chicken breasts in baking dish; cover with remaining sauce. Bake in 350°F oven for 30 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese; broil until cheese is melted and lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Fillet of Beef with Stroganoff Sauce

1 jar (12 ounces) Heinz HomeStyle Zesty Brown Gravy with Sweet Onions
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 small clove garlic, minced
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
½ cup dairy sour cream*
2 pounds fillet of beef, cut into ¾-inch thick slices
Hot cooked noodles
Scallions (optional)

For sauce, in small saucepan, combine gravy, Worcestershire sauce, garlic, salt and pepper; heat. Stir in sour cream; keep warm but do not boil. In large non-stick skillet over high heat, pan broil fillets to desired doneness. Spoon sauce over fillets and noodles. Garnish with scallions. Makes 5–6 servings.

NOTE: 1 cup sauteed fresh mushrooms may be added to sauce, if desired.

*Try low-fat dairy sour cream for a healthier alternative.

To the Editor:

Sometimes, even in politics, there are pleasant surprises. One of these is Congressman Roscoe G. Bartlett. In case you haven't noticed, he is a gem.

Recently he sponsored legislation to guarantee a homeowner the right not only to purchase a firearm to protect himself and his property, but to use deadly force to do so. Of course, it has little or no chance of passage, but Congressman Bartlett earns an "A" for effort in my book.

He also co-sponsored and has strongly supported the "A to Z Spending Cut Plan" in the House of Representatives. The history of this measure (HR 3266) is a case study of how "Democracy" has become an empty word in Congress. Designed to force real debate on spending cuts and reductions in Congress' discretionary spending, it has accumulated 230 co-sponsors. Yet it cannot get to the floor of Congress for a vote!

This is typical of many pieces of reform legislation. A handful of committee chairmen and congressional "leaders", beholden to the special interests of establishment power brokers, prevent the working of the Democratic process. The vast majority of Congressmen can't even get to say yes or no on behalf of their constituents on important legislation.

The resolution can be forced to vote only by 218 Congressmen signing what's known as a "discharge petition." Often, when such a petition gets near the magic number of signatures, the "leadership" pressures Congressmen not to sign it. In many cases, a co-sponsor can even be bullied into resisting a vote on his or her own bill! The petition to force HR 3266 to a vote has 204 signatures and needs only 16 more to come to a vote. This too is most unlikely, but not because Congressman Bartlett didn't try.

Given the sterling record he has made during his first term, I fear a major attempt by the establishment to defeat him and prevent a second term. I hope that all of us who appreciate his efforts will do what we can to help assure that does not happen.

Sincerely,
Robert E. Watson

To the Editor:

Looking over candidates for the office of sheriff, there is one who stands out far above the others in regards to education, moral values, character references, involvement in community activities, accomplishments, and qualifications. Van Evans is a professional all the way through with high standards who knows his job, has done his job, and has done it well.

He is the only candidate with a four-year college degree. Combine that with his 12 years as a Garrett County deputy, nine years as a successful Garrett County sheriff, and his expertise accumulated from his long list of police schooling, and we have a man of whom Garrett County can be exceptionally proud.

Raised in Kitzmiller, Van lives in Swallow Falls with his wife of 22 years and their two children. Their 20-year-old son is a graduate of Southern High and G.C.C., and their 12-year-old daughter will be in 7th grade at Southern Middle. Evans works with young people in his spare time and is a positive role model.

Evans is an asset to our county. He has helped to place numerous programs throughout our county to combat crime and drugs and to assist people in other areas of public concern. Evans has demonstrated he can handle the sheriff's job efficiently, effectively, responsibly, and progressively.

He has run his campaign on his own merits and achievements without trying to destroy the reputation of another.

We have a highly skilled, trained, motivated, college-educated sheriff in office who has brought respect and positive recognition to our county. Our county cannot afford to lose this man. Keep him as our sheriff. Why vote for anyone less than the best?

Sincerely,
Rosanne R. Sherwood

To the Editor:

It has come to my attention that a former representative from Garrett County has filed for re-election. I wonder if the people in Garrett County are aware of the tremendous respect the legislators, senators, lobbyists and other in the Maryland State Capitol have for Decorsey Bolden.

I have had the distinct pleasure of knowing "Corsey" for over 50 years! I knew him as one of the finest naval aviators to serve his country during both W.W.II and Korea. His intense interest and dedication to the Republican party, to his friends and to his constituents is legendary. He is unabashedly honest and forthright in his own faults, as well as his many strengths.

I can only say that if I lived in Garrett County, he would have my undying support! As a Republican and former holder of elected office, I would like for the record to show that with all my heart I wish the voters in Northern Virginia and throughout the state had such a candidate! Garrett County and its citizens will surely be the "losers" if Corsey Bolden is not returned to Annapolis.

Sincerely,
O.T. Amery
Fairfax, Va.

To the Editor:

As the primary election draws closer, I have heard and read a great many things, particularly regarding the race for sheriff. There have been many vague references by some of the candidates about cooperation, about working with other agencies, about being a "sheriff for the people." I have heard very little, however, from any of the challengers about any substantive changes or specific improvements. This election, in fact any political election, should be about competence and qualifications and who will do the best job for the people he has been elected to serve.

Among the candidates, Sheriff Van Evans is far and away the most qualified -- with degrees from GCC, WVU, Prince George's Co. Police Academy and the FBI Academy, to name a few. He has proven competence, with 24 years police experience, including the last nine as Sheriff. He is the only candidate with experience in jail and fiscal management.

He has been actively involved in initiating the DARE program in Garrett County, as well as a number of other child safety/education programs. He was the driving force behind the organization of the local S.A.L.T. (Seniors and Law Enforcement Together) Committee, which deals with law enforcement concerns relating specifically to senior citizens. He has coordinated extensively with other police and outside agencies, including the recent signing of a mutual aid agreement with the Maryland State Police.

Having worked beside Sheriff Evans for the past 19 years, I have great respect for how he goes about his business. He is demanding, to be sure; but no more so of his employees than of himself. He holds certain qualities such as loyalty and dedication and excellence very highly. He gives them and he expects them in return.

I think that I have a pretty good idea of what it takes to make a good sheriff -- I've worked for or with the last three, and I was raised by Jim Frantz, and he was the very best! Both my dad and I will be supporting Sheriff Evans in the upcoming election.

Brad Frantz,
Mtn. Lake Park

Editor's note: The writer of the following letter to U.S. Senators Paul Sarbanes and Barbara Mikulski requested that at appear in this column.

Dear Senator Sarbanes and Mikulski,

I would like to give you some background on myself and my wife so that you will understand that my position and rationale has some validity.

We are 57 and 56 years old and grew up on a farm in Grantsville and the small town of Friendsville.

We were taught to work and save, support our families and our country.

Our basic philosophy is to pay our way through word and deed. We both have a high school diploma and have always contributed to society and haven't asked for hand outs or special treatment.

We don't want government dictating stupid programs like the health care reforms which are presently being considered.

The crime bill which was just defeated was just more waste and doesn't meet the real needs or solve the real problems.

Our judicial system is a joke, most judges are to lenient or can't sentence criminals properly since we don't have enough prison space. The repeat offenders just keep on breaking the law and either don't go to jail or get out quickly.

I am canceling my membership to AARP as they have finally shown their real colors which is one more group with their hands out for all they can get.

As you can see by cards attached, my wife and I have three small businesses with 16 employees including ourselves. We started our first business with borrowed money because we were willing to take a risk. We also saw 20 years ago that Social Security wasn't secure and knew we should try to choose our own destiny.

Today it's real clear, Social Security is just one more example of why Bill Clinton shouldn't get into the health care business. He takes credit for low interest rates but anyone who can remember will know that Bush was trying to jump start the economy and it was slower in the ramp up than he or his advisors expected.

Clinton and company can take credit for whatever situation we are in six months to two years after he is out. This country will continue to have major problems until we relearn to reward the working people, reward the builders, reward the doers, reward the people who respect law and order, and help the people who really need and want help (us), not the ones who make it their profession to bilk the government.

Because I don't believe that you or Barbara Mikulski represent my views, I will work hard to have you defeated at the polls.

Sincerely,
Forrest Jacobs
and Karolyn Jacobs

To the Editor:

I would like to share with the people of Garrett County how their tax dollars were spent on July 13th, 1994. Mr. Randy Sines, "Sheriff for the People," was ordered to remove all of his campaign posters from property along all state highways in Garrett County. It is my understanding that he refused to remove them, even though he knew what he had done was against the law.

On 6-13-94 the State Highway had to stop what they were doing and remove all of these posters. It took several state workers and their trucks to do this job. Does Randy Sines, the "Sheriff for the People" realize that it was my tax dollars, as well as other Garrett County citizens' tax dollars, that was used to remove those posters? When it comes time to vote on September 13, I, along with many other taxpayers, will not forget this.

We do need a change in the sheriff's department, but I do not feel that Randy Sines is the change needed.

B. Taylor
Friendsville

To the Editor:

In today's moral decline everyone is looking for a quick fix. People search for someone who can change things overnight. Most people put their hopes for a better future in who can change things most, the quickest. There are always debates over who can change more and do more.

But change is only good when there is growth, and growth in its own definition doesn't happen overnight. It is a steady, ever improving process that takes time. It evolves with years of dedication, commitment, experience and education, not just from a new face in the crowd. The 1992 Presidential election should teach us to be careful of promises made by new faces. So it would be wise to consider past growth versus future promises made by those who seek election to the office of sheriff of Garrett County. Personally I'm committed to steady growth versus promises and quick fixes.

Our county has experienced steady growth in a variety of areas in the past nine years. Much of this growth many people are unaware of, even though they may have reaped its benefits. Just ask a senior citizen who may have been a victim of fraud, or the family of a missing Alzheimer's patient. Or talk to someone who through alternate sentencing was able to maintain his job or receive his G.E.D.

Even young school children can tell you about the hazards of drugs, fire, or what safety around strangers should mean, or meet community members that participate in the neighborhood watch programs. Maybe someone you love, while in jail, received help with intensive drug rehabilitation. You, a friend, or a member of your family may have reaped the benefits of such programs as: Drug Abuse Resistance Education, alternate sentencing programs, drug rehabilitation program in the jail, S.A.L.T. - Seniors and Lawman Together, neighborhood watch programs, member of the Alzheimer's Association Safe Return Program, EMT certification of Sheriff's Office employees, state certified instructor in both the police and corrections field.

Getting the type of education needed to manage the office of sheriff doesn't happen overnight either. It takes years of study, patience, and a heart full of commitment. With a never ending desire to train, train, and retrain to make your county the best in the state.

As a graduate of: Southern High School, Garrett Community College, West Virginia University, National Institute of Computer Professions, Harvard Associates in Police Science Homicide School, FBI National Academy, Prince George's County, Police Academy, and Military Police School, Ft. Gordon, Ga., with three years experience in the United States Marine Corps as a military policeman and 21 years' experience and service to the law enforcement field, I consider these accomplishments a sign of commitment. To me it shows real dedication, and a true desire to serve that has lasted a lifetime. He's not a new face in the crowd. I believe that M. Van Evans is the wisest choice for the office of sheriff in Garrett County.

Debbie James

To the Editor:

There are aspects of many jobs that unless you have actually had that job or been involved someway, most people are unaware they exist. One aspect of the sheriff's office is that of grant writing to supplement funds for programs not covered in the local budget. Grant writing can be very time consuming. I work with the Drug Free Schools program and had Sheriff Evans not written grants for the D.A.R.E. program, three of our schools would not have the comprehensive anti-drug/alcohol program currently available. Sheriff Evans worked with the school system in providing trained deputies to go into classrooms when they could have been used in other capacities. He has, with his deputies, provided programs and services which inform the public about drugs and alcohol.

As a member of the Garrett County Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, I appreciate the time Sheriff Evans took to meet with us when working on our designated driver program.

In an election year, I would appreciate hearing the positive attributes and qualifications a candidate can bring to the office rather than negativism about their opponents. There are two sides to every story, but don't wait until an election is at hand to dwell on the negative.

FSU Receives AmeriCorps Grant For Community Service In Region

Frostburg State University, in conjunction with the recently formed Western Maryland Alliance for Service, will be the recipient of nearly $1.2 million in AmeriCorps grant money which will fund the three-year project designed to meet the community service needs of the region.

AmeriCorps is the new national service movement initiated by President Bill Clinton that will engage thousands of Americans of all ages and backgrounds to help the nation's communities through service work projects. Beginning in September, the local Alliance program will play a significant role in meeting human service, educational, and the environmental needs of Appalachian Maryland.

"The AmeriCorps grant extends the partnerships FSU has been building with other service organizations for the benefit of western Marylanders," said FSU president Catherine R. Gira.

That partnership was solidified with the creation of the Alliance for Service, which includes FSU's community volunteer program, Allegany County Human Resources Development Commission the Western Maryland Food Bank, Garrett County Community Action Committee, and the Garrett County Health Department. For several months, that consortium has worked on the AmeriCorps proposal by outlining regional service needs.

The resulting program, named Appalachian Service Through Action and Resources or A STAR! in Western Maryland, will include 25 AmeriCorps members providing independent living assistance, enlarging area food pantries, creating youth literacy programs and developing education programs for Head Start students. Other projects include environmental clean-ups and victory gardens.

Marilyn Smith, Governor's Commission of Service executive director, said, "Maryland is a key part of the national movement. Several programs right here in our own state will provide service opportunities that will enrich minds as well as hearts."

Local participation in a national program will "have a great economic and human service impact on the area," added project director William Mandicott.

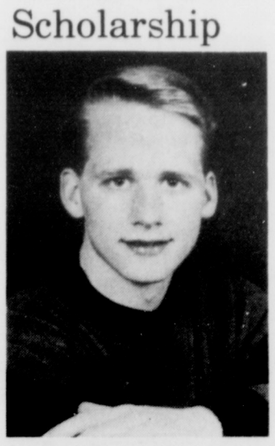
Mandicott, who is also FSU's Lane Center director, will be responsible for overall program management. The grant funding includes the hiring of a full-time coordinator who will direct the western Maryland activities. The Alliance will assign the full-time AmeriCorps members to the five agencies of the Alliance.

Members will be selected from both the national AmeriCorps pool and from local and regional applicants. In exchange for one or two years of service, workers will receive educational awards to help finance their college education or vocational training or to help pay back student loans. They will also receive a living allowance, health insurance, and other benefits.

President Clinton's launch of AmeriCorps program is set for September 12 and at that time FSU will officially become part of a national service movement.

Dr. Gira, who pointed out that, unofficially, approximately 1,000 FSU students gave 24,000 hours of service last year to the community, said FSU's participation in AmeriCorps will not only mean "creating more opportunities for students to become involved, but will be very significant as far as service to western Maryland is concerned."

Hinebaugh Receives UM Scholarship



Timothy Joel Hinebaugh, a recent graduate of Northern High School, has been awarded a full academic scholarship to attend the University of Maryland, College Park.

Tim received preliminary consideration for the award based on SAT scores, high school grade point average, and a demonstrated financial need. He graduated in the top 5 percent of his class. His selection for the scholarship was also based on school activities and awards, a letter of recommendation, and brief responses to questions concerning future interests and goals.

While enrolled at Northern High, he was a member of the varsity football, basketball and track teams, and served as Honor Society president and yearbook editor. Tim was also a member of the Student Council, School Improvement Team, Academic Team, Lettermen's Club, and Peer Counselors.

Throughout his high school career, he received more than 30 local, state and national awards, including: Maryland Distinguished Scholar, honorable mention; Danforth, I Dare You Leadership Award; Tomorrow's Leader Class of 1994; U.S. Marine Corps Distinguished Athlete Award; and the Maryland, You Are Beautiful Student Literacy Writing Contest winner, and third place in state competition.

Hinebaugh was also a three-sport letterman during his junior and senior years at Northern, and was recognized as the male student-athlete of the year at NHS by the Cumberland Times. During his senior year, he averaged 6.9 yards per carry in football, led the basketball team in scoring (13.95 points per game), and was named best all-around runner in track.

In addition to the full scholarship from UM, Tim received the Timothy Frazee Memorial Scholarship, the McDonald's/Ray A. Kroc Scholarship, the Oakland Lodge No. 192 AF&AM Scholarship, and the Friendsville and Grantsville Lions Club Scholarships.

While at the university, Tim will pursue his career options while enrolled in the Letters and Sciences Department. His current interests lean toward possible majors in journalism or political science.

He is the son of Wilbur and Jane Hinebaugh, Friendsville.

Nurse Refresher Course To Be Offered At GCC

A nurse refresher course will be offered in the distance learning classroom at Garrett Community College. The course, designed for the registered nurse and licensed practical nurse who is required by Maryland law to complete a refresher course in order to re-establish an active license, will provide an update of current nursing practice.

The course is co-sponsored by Allegany Community College, Hagerstown Junior College, and Garrett Community College. An open meeting for nurses interested in the course will be held this evening, August 25, 5 to 7 p.m. in the Interactive Tele/Video Classroom, Room TC-254.

Areas of concentration for the course will include: Organizing and Managing Patient Care using the Nursing Process; Performing Nursing Procedures, including medication administration; Caring for Patients with various medical disturbances; and re-integrating oneself into the professional responsibilities of nursing. Instructors from both Allegany Community College and Hagerstown Junior College will present information in the classroom portion of the course.

Classroom instruction for the course will begin on September 7 at 7 p.m. in Room TC-254. The classroom portion of the course will continue on each Monday and Wednesday evening for 12 weeks between 5 and 8:30 p.m. In addition to the classroom portion of the course, students are required to complete 60 hours of individualized student-preceptor clinical practicum at a site and time to be arranged.

Potential students who are unable to attend the meeting this evening, should call Tom Kierstead at 387-3084 for additional information.

I Love Deep Creek Lake

Another In a Series..... by Ed King

Deep Creek Lake means different things to each of us. To some, the attraction may be the natural beauty of the area or perhaps the man-made features such as the lake, the ski slopes, the golf courses, or various other amusements. For others, it may be the absence of the urban hubbub. Each of us perceives this beautiful resort county in his or her own frame of reference.

There is, however, a common thread that brings all of these reasons together for today's nuclear family. This common thread is quality family time. Families today have so little of this precious time with each other. Deep Creek Lake offers more than its share of quality time to families so desperately in search of it.

The article reprinted below was authored in 1962 by a very talented writer, Al Abrams, of the "Pittsburgh Post-Gazette." This story holds a very special message and presents it so well that it is being reprinted verbatum.

PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE: WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1962

Sidelights on Sports

by AL ABRAMS, Sports Editor

(Ed: This is a story about a 9-year old boy and a cynic's attitude towards outdoor life. Very little sports is connected with it but it is as refreshing as a breath of cold air on a humid afternoon.)

A Boy and His Boat

All my life I have prided myself on being a city cave dweller; a self-annointed hipster who liked the bright lights, the asphalt jungle and smoky juice parlors.

The raucous cacophony of noises heard downtown was the only music I knew--the traffic officer's whistle; horns blowing; sirens wailing; brakes screeching; motorists cussing; newspaper boys bellowing.

Frankly, I was tolerant, if not a bit amused, of any one who told me there was nothing like the great outdoors.

"You live your way, I'll live mine, thank you," I'd say politely when friends suggested a vacation in the country, a fishing expedition, an auto ride to view the vernal beauty along the route, a swim, a cruise.

"Are you kidding?" I'd ask, like a wise guy.

Fresh air, I always said, was for people who didn't have air-conditioning. Sunshine was for tomatoes. Fishing? I didn't have the patience. An auto ride to watch flowers in bloom? That's for squares.

A cruise? Please, anything but that. I'll fly anywhere as fast or as high as Major Bob White's jet will take me if I'm invited as his guest. To the moon, yes, but a swim or a boat ride--never!

I'm ashamed to admit this--I always had a fear of water. Don't ask me why. It was just that way.

Perhaps, it is because I never learned to swim. Or, maybe it could be I was afraid of getting nauseous. A standing gag is I get sea sick taking a shower each morning.

Water to me, is--no, make that was--something one bathed in or used sparingly as a chaser following a nip of scotch. Some take it to quench a thirst.

All the above, I said in part jest, part truth. My only communion with nature in the past was attending the open air roulette wheels, better known as horse tracks.

But, all has been changed because of a 9-year-old boy who will be identified here only as Kenny--"Admiral" Kenny, as I nicknamed him.

"Admiral" Kenny's father, a close friend, had invited me to spend a week-end with his family at a home he had recently purchased in Deep Creek, Md. I'll admit I accepted with some misgivings about fresh air poisoning and the knowledge there was a body of water close by.

Oh, well, I thought, there's always television, gin rummy and it won't hurt to get to bed early for a change. Some how, some way, I'd manage to put through the two or three days.

Pittsburghers have long known about Deep Creek (105 miles from Pittsburgh) as a sylvan retreat, a paradise for swimming and boating enthusiasts. To me, a newcomer, it was a revelation. It's breath-taking beauty as viewed through the picture windows of "Admiral" Kenny's living room was something to behold.

Still, there was that vast expanse of lake. Beautiful as it was, I wanted to look at it from a respectable distance. Then, "Admiral" Kenny challenged: "Wanna take a ride in my boat?"

It was a 14-foot, aluminum craft with a 10-horse power motor. The "Admiral's" father had presented it to him the day before. Kenny's eyes glistened. The Queen Mary couldn't have looked any more wonderful to him.

"Wanna take a ride?" he repeated.

How do you tell a 9-year-old lad you're afraid of water? You can't.

"Certainly, I said," putting my bravest foot forward into the boat.

"Admiral" Kenny pulled the string and the motor began to "chug-a-chug-chug," and away we went towards a spot called Turkey Neck Bend on Deep Creek Lake.

I'd be lying if I didn't say I was jittery. I held on tightly to both sides of the vessel, eyeing warily a life preserver nearby.

When we got mid-way, the "Admiral" stopped momentarily. All I could see was water everywhere. One could get all wet, I thought. I had a notion to yell, "Get me out of here, quick!" when I noted the ecstacy in Kenny's face.

"Whee!" he wheed, "Isn't this fun? Wanna take a wave ride?"

"No," I said, "Just keep going the way we are."

We did. Something about "Admiral" Kenny's happiness relaxed me. Suddenly, I wasn't afraid of boats or the lake. I wanted to go out again.

And, I did several times the next two days with "Admiral" Kenny at the controls. I never knew how serene and beautiful a vast expanse of water can be. I'm a convert now. I'm glad Kenny's father asked me to go to Deep Creek.

You won't understand "Admiral," but thank you--thank you, very much.

This story has very special personal meaning for me. First, I have known "Admiral Kenny" Minnotte for most of his life. I remember many good times with Kenny and the boat about which Mr. Abrams writes. Our two families and my children will never forget those years, the practical jokes, the picnics, and the water ski pyramid with young Kenny on top.

Secondly, knowing of my love for Deep Creek Lake, a very dear friend, Sue Spence, sent a matted & beautifully-framed copy of this article to me quite recently. Ironically, she had no knowledge that I knew Admiral Kenny personally. Mrs. Spence passed away last week. Fond memories of her will live on in the hearts of those of us who had the privilege of knowing her. This article has been reprinted in tribute to Sue and the quality of life that Deep Creek Lake represented for her family.

Beef, Pork, Lamb Producers Must Invest In Markets

Livestock producers and Farm Bureau commodity specialists who gathered for the American Farm Bureau Federation Beef Cattle-Hog Cycle Forum in St. Louis Aug. 12-13, heard few encouraging words about consumption of beef, pork and especially of lamb from an agriculture economist.

Wayne Purcell, a professor of agricultural economics at Virginia Tech explained how demand for beef and lamb has declined over the long term and demand for pork has been flat. At the same time, poultry has taken the market share that beef has lost, Purcell said.

Hog producers have been able to trim production costs as prices for consumers have come down, and the result has been a fairly stable demand for pork, Purcell said. Overall Purcell sees the demand for, and the resulting price of meat, being affected by the investment the industry is making in new products.

"There are some signs that the pork sector will become more aggressive in terms of competing for market share," Purcell stated, "and will be more inclined to invest in the market and product development research that might have a strong influence on market share."

The poultry industry has been willing to invest in product and market development to maintain some alignment with what the consumer wants and is willing to pay for, Purcell said. That has resulted in consumption of poultry growing from an average of 47 pounds per person in 1979 to 78 pounds per person in 1993. Part of that interest in investing in the market is tied to the industry structure, which involves more integrated production and marketing and basically one profit center.

"The investments have been made in poultry," Purcell said. "They have not been made in traditional red meats.

"It takes money to develop and open new markets," he added. "It takes money to change a product offering to keep it aligned with the modern consumer. It would appear that money has not always been forthcoming in the beef and pork sectors."

Pork production involves several stages from farm to packing plant. There are several profit centers -- with no profit center willing to invest in increasing consumer demand, he said. However, that is changing, with more integration and thus more investment in the product and market development. Processing firms are controlling genetics as a way to reduce quality variations. Consumers are demanding consistent high quality as well as more convenient products. The challenge for producers is to find a way to fit into that system and meet the needs of a changing system.

"Beef packers have not been willing to invest in the research and marketing to move the product back to where the consumer wants more of the product," Purcell said. "Producers will need to take a more active role in being a catalyst to get this done.

"One thing is clear. The battle for market share will be won by the sector that does the best job of investing in change to meet the needs of the modern consumer," Purcell added.

Record Year Ahead For Pork

The American Farm Bureau Federation Beef Cattle-Hog Cycle Forum has been conducted twice a year for the past 14 years. During the latest forum, Aug. 12-13, one panelist highlighted changes in the hog industry since the first forum in 1980.

Before looking back at 1980, Glenn Grimes, professor emeritus with the Department of Agricultural Economics and the University of Missouri, made his predictions for the coming year in the hog industry.

The largest production of pork on record is likely to occur in 1995, Grimes told producers at the forum. And we may see an all-time high in the number of hogs slaughtered in 1995, Grimes added. With total supplies of pork as well as other meats, at record levels the price of hogs will likely decline. Prices will be in the low-$40s per hundredweight at their best and there is a good probability of average prices of $37-$38 per hundredweight, he said.

"For the independent producer who does not have records, now is certainly the time for him to get into some kind of a record program and find out just what his costs are," Grimes said. If costs are at or above average, changes are in order. With costs that are average or below, the independent producer can be competitive with the larger producers.

In looking at the size of an operation needed to be competitive, Grimes said there is no magic level for production. His research shows a producer with 250 sows, working with his neighbors, can be competitive on costs and produce a product that processors will buy.

The biggest change in the hog industry has been the decline in the number of producers in the past 14 years. In 1980 there were 660,000 hog producers in the United States, today there are only 220,000 hog farms. The number of farms has dropped, the size of many operations has gone up. A survey by the University of Missouri in 1994 shows there are 57 very large producers that each marketed more than 50,000 hogs in 1993. Those large producers sold a total of 12.36 million hogs or 13 percent of all hogs sold that year.

And those large operations plan to continue growing. The top 57 hog producers expect 30 percent growth this year and plan to market nearly twice as many hogs in 1996 as they sold in 1993, the survey showed.

Six of the seven mega producers (those marketing more than 500,000 head in 1993) and 41 of the 50 other large hog operations contract with smaller growers to finish hogs. These 47 firms marketed 7.3 million hogs finished by contract growers and 3.7 million hogs finished in their own facilities. The mega producers depend more on contract finishing and especially contract farrowing than other large producers, Grimes stated. Between 10 and 20 percent of all hogs are produced under marketing agreements -- a trend that is expected to increase.

Another big change has been the shift in production. North Carolina is the second largest hog production state in the United States -- Iowa is first. North Carolina has increased hog production 34 percent in the past year and currently has about 10 percent of the U.S. breeding herd, Grimes said.

USDA Inventory Shows Soil Erosion Down

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service recently released the National Resources Inventory (NRI), a comprehensive study of the condition and trends of the nation's soil, water, and related resources. The inventory shows that average erosion rates on cropland nationwide are one-third lower than in 1982 and that conversion of wetlands to agricultural use has decreased substantially. The inventory also points out that rural and urban development continues to claim prime farmland.

The NRI provides data on land use, erosion by water and wind, wetland losses, prime farmland, irrigation, and conservation treatment needs at national and state levels on nonfederal land. Nonfederal land covers about 75 percent of the nation's land area. The NRI data were generally all collected during 1992, and this is the first report which analyzes that data.

"The NRI shows that American agriculture is making significant conservation progress while maintaining the world's most reliable and abundant food supply," said Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Rominger.

"But there's far more that we as a nation must do to protect our natural resources. We need to obtain a truly sustainable agriculture. Conservation is not something that we do once and put behind us. It is an ongoing challenge that requires an ongoing commitment."

"This is the most comprehensive and statistically reliable natural resource data in the world," said James R. Lyons, assistant secretary for natural resources and environment. "It's vital to help both the public and private sector in making major environmental and land-use decisions and in developing conservation and natural resource legislation."

"We're seeing the results of strong conservation efforts by the nation's farmers and ranchers over the last 10 years," said Paul W. Johnson, chief of SCS. "Erosion rates on cropland appear to be down for three major reasons -- voluntary land stewardship by farmers, recent federal programs to encourage soil conservation, and cropland converted to other uses."

SCS released an initial national summary this month. It plans to publish more comprehensive findings in coming months.

The NRI statistics can be used at national, state, and multi-county levels for formulating policy and developing natural resource conservation programs. SCS field personnel and resource inventory specialists collected the data from 800,000 sample sites nationwide. The inventory represents resource conditions for the 1992 growing season.

The NRI is conducted every five years. The 1992 NRI was designed to be comparable with the 1987 NRI and 1982 NRI, making 5- and 10-year comparisons possible.

Highlights of the current NRI include:

--Sheet erosion - which is the removal of a fairly uniform layer of soil by rain and/or runoff - and rill erosion - which is the formation of small channels resulting from surface runoff - on cropland decreased by a ton per acre per year since 1982, going from 4.1 tons to 3.1 tons. Wind erosion on cropland decreased from 3.3 tons to 2.5 tons per acre per year over the 10-year period.

--On cropland in 1992, sheet and rill erosion nationwide totaled 1.2 billion tons per year and wind erosion 960 million tons. Thus, soil erosion nationwide was 2.1 billion tons - down by one-third from 1982, when the total was 3.1 billion tons per year.

--Rural nonfederal land totaled nearly 1.4 billion acres, a decrease of 18 million acres between 1982 and 1992, largely because of urban and suburban development.

--Cropland acreage decreased by about 39 million acres over the 10 years, rangeland acreage decreased by 10 million acres, and developed land increased by 14 million acres.

--Of the 39 million acres of cropland that were converted to other uses, 32 million acres went into the Conservation Reserve Program and about 4 million acres were converted to developed land. Most of the remaining acres were converted to pastureland and forest land.

--The decrease in rangeland occurred because of land conversions to a variety of uses, primarily to cropland, developed land, and changes in ownership from nonfederal to federal land.

--The 14-million-acre increase in developed land came from conversion of about 5.4 million acres of forest land, 4 million acres of cropland, 2.5 million acres of pastureland, and 2 million acres of rangeland. In 1992, developed land totaled more than 92 million acres - about 5 percent of the nation's land base - and 18 percent above the 1982 acreage.

--Wetland losses due to agriculture were estimated at 50,000 acres a year from 1982-1992, a rate much slower than estimates by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service from 1954-1983.

--Prime farmland totaled 334 million acres - down 6 million acres from 1982. Four million acres of this were taken for rural and urban development.

The NRI database will be available to the public by region on four CD-ROM disks at $100 per disk, covering the West, the Midwest, the Northeast, and the South. In addition, SCS has developed NRI data analysis software, available on a separate disk.

For more information and a copy of the NRI summary, contact: Gale W. TeSelle, USDA Soil Conservation Service, Resources Inventory and Geographic Information Systems Div., P.O. Box 2890, Washington, DC 20013 or interested persons may call (202) 720-5420.

Passive Poisoning

which is hanging or lying nearby. Store protective gear in a tight cabinet, locker or separate room to minimize potential contamination.

Finally, research at the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension System has shown that concentrated pesticides are difficult to remove from work clothing. Actual experiments carried out by textile researchers have shown that some moderately and highly toxic pesticides can resist three hot water washed with heavy duty detergents. If contaminated work clothes are washes with the family laundry, residues can be deposited on other articles of clothing. This could contribute to chronic poisoning symptoms which often are undetected or misdiagnosed. The safe alternative to laundering is to discard any clothing items which have been saturated with concentrated pesticides.

Don't become a victim of passive poisoning. Read pesticide labels carefully and think through each important step in the pest control process.

The Fixed Rate and Adjustable Rate Mortgage in One
American Trust Bank offers a mortgage loan that gives you the benefit of both fixed and adjustable rates. The 5/1 mortgage provides a fixed rate for the first five years and then automatically converts to a one-year adjustable rate mortgage for the remaining term. You get an initial five-year fixed rate that's lower than most conventional fixed rate mortgages.
Plus, as with other American Trust mortgages, you have the opportunity to choose a bi-weekly payment feature that saves thousands of dollars in interest paid over the term, a no points option and a low down payment option.
Visit any American Trust Bank community office for further details on how you can get a fixed rate and adjustable rate mortgage in ONE!

UNITED METHODIST

The Blooming Rose U.M.W. will meet at the church on Thursday, Sept. 1, at 7 p.m. Plans will be made to serve the Brotherhood dinner on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 6:30 p.m. at the church with wife or guest.

REVIVAL

The Assembly of God Church, 827-1st Avenue, will have a revival from Sunday, Aug. 28, nightly through Friday, Sept.2, at 7 p.m. with Rev. Bill and Ruby O'Haver, Somerset, Pa., formerly "King Kids." Rev. Bill O'Haver will be the guest speaker.

LAUREL RUN CHURCH

Some 127 people attended the Laurel Run Chruch of God anniversary celebration on Sunday, Aug. 21. Former local pastors and spouses attending were Rev. Howard and Carole Pentz, Emelton, Pa., Rev. Philip and Agnes Geoghan, Cranesville, W.Va., and Clara Wykoff, wife of the late Pastor Leroy Wykoff, Cumberland. Five people who were present at the dedication of the church 70 years ago attended. They were Norma Frazee, Iris (Thomas) Sisler, Chauncey Friend, Flossie VanSickle, and Goldie Chidester, all of the area. The First Christian Church congregation of Friendsville joined in the day's service. Pastor Jim Davidson gave the Heritage Message and sang a special hymn. Names of those who are deceased were read in a memorial tribute. People throughout the gathering who were dressed in the clothing from 1920-1970 were acknowledged. Special singers in the afternoon were Frank and Helen West, Oakland, Doug Bolyard, Arthurdale, W.Va., and Bobby and Brenda Bolyard, Cumberland.

RUSH BAPTIST HOMECOMING

The Rush Baptist Homecoming will be held Sunday, August 28, with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., service at 11 a.m., pig roast and a covered dish dinner at 1 p.m. Special music and a guest speaker will participate in the afternoon service.

LUTHERAN STREET FAIR

The second annual Street Fair will be held at Grace Lutheran Church on Saturday, Sept. 17, starting at 11 a.m. More details will be released later.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Memorial services for Cleda R. Clemmensen, who died August 7, will be conducted at the First Christian Church, Friendsville, on Sunday, August 28, at 2 p.m. with Pastor Galen Beitzel officiating. The family requests that memorials take the form of donations to the First Christian Church where Mrs. Clemmensen was a member for more than 70 years.

REUNIONS

Approximately 100 relatives and friends attended the Merrill and Pearl Shultz reunion at Friendsville Town Park on Saturday, August 13. Twelve door prizes and two special prizes were given to Bernie E. Friend, Quantico, Va., and Eugene King, Ridgeley, W.Va., for earliest response to attend. Relatives attended from Florida, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Virginia, and Maryland. The prizes were donated by different members of the family. Seven of the eight living children and their families attended. The Shultz family had resided in the Frazee Ridge area.

The family of the late Bruce and Minnie Friend had their reunion at Grantsville Park on Sunday, August 14, with 80 attending. Plans were made for the annual Friend wiener roast, set for Sunday, Sept. 11, at 2 p.m. at the Chestnut Ridge Park on I-68. The 1995 annual reunion will be held on the second Sunday in August, at Grantsville Park.

One hundred relatives and friends attended the Artice reunion at Friendsville Town Park on Sunday, Aug. 21. Prizes were awarded to: Charles Artice, oldest person, and Kody Gerald, 3-month-old son of Gerald and Tracey (Griffith) Rodeheaver, youngest child. A white elephant sale and Bingo were also featured. The 1995 reunion will be held on the third Sunday in August at Friendsville Town Park.

The annual Tallentire-Stockdale reunion will be held Sunday, Sept. 4, at the pavilion at Mt. Top Fellowship, Rt. 40, with a picnic dinner at 1 p.m.

Farming In Maryland.....

William Curry, Well Known Beef Specialist, Dies

A funeral service is being held today in Ellicott City for William A. Curry, 64, well-known veteran livestock specialist for the Cooperative Extension Service, University of Maryland at College Park.

Curry died late Saturday night, August 20, at the Howard County General Hospital in Columbia after collapsing following a coronary seizure 1½ hours earlier at the Howard County Fair near West Friendship. He had been participating in the fair's beef cattle show with a Shorthorn heifer from his small herd.

Death was attributed to coronary arteriosclerosis. According to family members, Curry had passed a physical examination "with flying colors" only a few weeks earlier.

Curry earned a B.S. degree in animal science at the University of Maryland at College Park in 1960. From 1957 to 1968, he was beef cattle supervisor for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville.

Curry was a familiar figure at livestock events around the state -- including feeder pig and beef cattle auction sales, the Maryland State Fair and Eastern National Livestock Show at Timonium, numerous county fairs, and 4-H/FFA youth activities.

Curry had made plans to retire at the end of 1994, after completing 25 years this fall as coach of the Maryland 4-H livestock judging teams.

Maryland youth teams compiled an enviable record in livestock judging competition under Curry's guidance, winning regional contests on numerous occasions and finishing among the top 10 teams several times in national 4-H livestock competition.

In lieu of flowers, donations are suggested for the Warren G. Myers Memorial 4-H Livestock Endowment Fund. Checks should be made payable to the Maryland 4-H Foundation with a notation that the money be channeled to the Myers fund. The mailing address is 8020 Greenmead Drive, College Park, MD 20740-4000.

Established 10 years ago, the Myers endowment fund honors a former Extension agricultural agent in Harford and Howard counties, who died in 1966. Proceeds from the endowment provide support for development and enhancement of the Maryland 4-H livestock program.

A MILK TOAST AT THE FAIR -- Maryland Dairy Princess Heidi Hauser shares a milk toast with Fair Board President Dale Glotfelty last Wednesday in the dairy barn at the Garrett County Fair. Heidi was busy during fair week participating in her own 4-H/FFA events, giving out ribbons at the dairy show, and riding in the parade. She will be available for presentations to groups and organizations throughout the year.

Southern States Oakland Co-Op To Hold Membership Meeting

"Seventy-one years ago, farmers organized Southern States Cooperative to serve their basic agricultural production needs. Through the years, the cooperative has been innovative in providing new products and services to help farmers improve their livelihood," says Carroll Gilbert, the cooperative's director of member relations.

"Cultivating Innovation," repeated as the theme of this year's local annual membership meetings, reflects the regional co-op's "continuing dedication to improving farm inputs and services." adds Gilbert.

Election of local board members and Farm Home Advisory Committee (FHAC) members are important features of the annual membership meeting for Southern States Oakland Cooperative.

Board nominees are Carl Bachtel, Ed Gross, Ray Miller and Mike Steyer.

The FHAC slate consists of appointees being presented at the meeting.

A taped report from Gene A. James, Southern States' president and chief executive officer, will discuss the co-op's supply and marketing operations for the last fiscal year.

Local operating statements and services provided to the agricultural community will be discussed. Local FHAC and board members completing terms will be recognized.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m., Friday, September 9, Pleasant Valley Community Center, Oakland.

Southern States Cooperative, headquartered in Richmond, Va., operates in six states. The cooperative processes or manufactures and distributes feed, seeds, fertilizers, petroleum products and a wide range of farm supplies and lawn and garden products in West Virginia, North Carolina, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and Kentucky. It has grain marketing facilities in five of these states. The cooperative's membership totalled more than 180,000.

Stage set for record corn and bean yields

The stage is set for near-record yields of corn and soybeans, as well as increased production of many other spring crops, according to a recent American Farm Bureau Federation producer survey.

The survey, involving 33 states and more than 6,500 producers, shows very good moisture and temperature conditions in the western Corn Belt, according to David Miller, AFBF commodity policy and program coordinator. Those conditions, despite dry weather in other areas and flooding in the Southeastern states, indicate most reported crops will see higher yields this year.

Corn and soybean harvests are expected to be up 44 and 23 percent, respectively, from 1993, said Miller. Corn harvest should top 9.14 billion bushels, while soybean production is estimated at 2.74 billion. All other crops, except winter wheat, should be up 10-20 percent from 1993, according to the survey.

Corn acreage is up 7.7 percent this year, implying national plantings of 78.96 million acres. The expected yield is 126.9 bushels per acre, up 26 percent from last year's dismal harvest. Surveyed producers expect to harvest 72.01 million acres, an increase of 9 million acres.

Surveyed soybean producers planted 3 percent more acres this year, with overall yield ratings generally good. Overall, Farm Bureau soybean producers expect yields of 37.3 bushels per acre.

Grain sorghum yields are expected to be 68.9 bushels per acre, an increase of 15 percent from a year ago. Harvested acreage is expected to drop to 9.2 million acres producing a grain sorghum crop of 627 million bushels.

Farm Bureau members reported harvesting just 41.7 million acres of winter wheat, a slight decline from USDA's acreage figure. Average yield was 39.3 bushels per acre. U.S. production of winter wheat is expected to be 1.639 billion bushels.

Spring wheat producers expect production of 649 million bushels from 17.8 million acres for an average yield of 36.5 bushels per acre. Total production is expected to be nearly 15 percent higher.

Farm Bureau survey respondents reported planting more cotton than a year ago. Total harvested upland cotton acreage is expected to be 13.1 million acres. Cotton yields are expected to increase to 676 pounds per acre, up from 601 pounds per acre in 1993. Total upland cotton production is currently estimated to be 18.4 million bales, up 17 percent.

Rice acreage also increased, and producers reported expected yields of 5,876 pounds per acre, up 6.6 percent from a year ago. Total rice production is projected to be 194 million hundredweight.

Farm Bureau respondents indicate that the average U.S. dry bean yield will be 1,403 pounds per acre. This would result in a national dry bean crop of 27.1 million hundredweight.

Congressional Candidate Forum Set Tonight

Candidates running for office in Maryland's Sixth Congressional District will be on hand to address issues important to their agricultural constituency at a forum for the district's farmers and agricultural community. The forum will be held Thursday, August 25, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the Winchester Hall, Frederick.

The event is being sponsored by the Maryland Farm Bureau, The Frederick News-Post and the County Farm Bureaus of the Sixth District. Democrat and Republican candidates will be asked to respond to a series of questions related to the interests of the district's farmers by a panel of leaders in the agricultural community. Topics of concern include: private property rights, wetlands regulation reform and other regulations. Questions from the audience will be taken, but they will be screened due to time constraints.

The forum is open to the public and will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m.

Agricultural Marketing Course Offered At GCC

With the Agricultural Management program at Garrett Community College beginning its second year, an Agricultural Marketing course has been scheduled for Wednesday evenings from 7-10 p.m. during the fall semester. The course will be taught by Willie Lantz.

According to Lantz, the course will give producers ideas on how to market agriculture products more wisely by employing various marketing strategies such as direct marketing, forward contracts and forward pricing using the futures and options markets. Students will also learn how supply and demand and government programs affect prices.

Other courses in the Agricultural Management program this fall are Grain and Forage Crop Production on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3-5 p.m.; Introduction to Animal Science on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 1-3 p.m; and Soils on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1-3 p.m.

For more information about these courses and registration, persons may call Lantz at 387-3021.

As your sheriff for the past 9 years and as a deputy for 12 years under the late Frank Finch and June Evans, my goal has been to provide you with the highest quality law enforcement at the most reasonable cost to you the taxpayers of Garrett County. As part of your community, I've put drug abuse resistance education programs in our schools, created neighborhood watch programs and instituted an intensive drug rehabilitation program in our jail. With the help of our senior citizens, I've also created (S.A.L.T.) -Seniors and Lawmen together which is designed to address issues concerning the well being of our senior citizens. As a member of the Western Maryland Alzheimer's Association Safe Return Program, I have become acutely aware of the special needs of our seniors.

In these uncertain times, experienced, proven law enforcement is vital to maintain the quality of life that we've come to expect in Garrett County. As your sheriff, my obligation is to continue providing you that security. With your help, I will maintain the highest quality law enforcement at the most reasonable cost to you, the taxpayers of Garrett County.

Moisture Is Helping Most Crops And Pastures

There were general concerns of severe grasshopper infestation, along with light podworm activity on soybeans. Light wellworm activity was reported on sorghum fields. Overall, Maryland farmers seemed to have had weedier fields than usual due to the large amounts of rainfall this month.

The average number of days suitable for fieldwork during the week of August 14-21, was 4.4 days, according to the Maryland Agricultural Statistics Service. Across the state, topsoil 59 percent adequate and 41 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture was 80 percent adequate and 20 percent surplus.

Statewide, hay supplies were adequate and pastures averaged in excellent condition. Weather conditions continue to improve the corn and soybean crops. Field corn was in good condition, with more than half of the acreage in the dough state. Soybeans were in good condition, with blooming observed in all stands and more than half the soybean acreage setting pods. Peaches rated fair, with more than three-fourths of the acreage harvested. Apples averaged in good condition. The harvest of other hay harvest was 34 percent into the third cutting and alfalfa hay harvest was near completion of third cutting.

Maryland's progress for the week ending August 21 was as follows, listing the item, this year's percentage, last year's percentage and a percentage for the 5-year average.

Planting progress: Corn, silked, 99, 95, 95; dough, 66, 62, 67; dent, 29, 33, 38. Soybeans, blooming, 89, 82, 81; set pods, 60, 55, 58. Sorghum, heading, 100, 94, 89. Sweet corn, harvested, 82, 84, 77; Alfalfa hay, 3rd cutting, 88, 89, 73. Other hay, 2nd cutting, 83, 84, 76; 3rd cutting, 34, 35, 19. Peaches, harvested, 82, 66, 69.

WEATHER

Maryland weather for the week ending August 19, had below normal temperatures and above normal precipitation which ranged from moderate to heavy. Temperatures averaged 73.8 degrees, 2.2 degrees below the normal of 76.0 degrees for the August 12 through August 19 period. Minimum temperatures were as low as 45 degrees at Oakland, but generally in the 50's and 60's. Maximum temperature was 95 degrees at Baltimore Airport; highs were generally in the low 90's for all stations. Precipitation averaged 2.01 inches, 1.03 inches above the normal of 0.98 inches. Precipitation ranged from 0.89 at Baltimore Airport to 4.40 inches at Hancock. Regional rainfall averages were: Western, 3.09; North Central, 2.15; Southern Maryland west of the Bay, 1.44 and Eastern Shore, 1.67 inches.

AFBF Supports Farm Program Extension

The American Farm Bureau Federation will support extending the current farm program in legislation to implement the new world trade agreement.

The AFBF Board took the action knowing that several senators are considering a five-year extension of all, or part of, the current farm program -- the Food, Agriculture, Conservation and Trade Act of 1990 -- as part of a bill to implement the GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) agreement, according to AFBF President Dean Kleckner.

While favoring an extension of the 1990 farm legislation linked to GATT, the AFBF Board stressed that resulting legislation must not jeopardize passage of the world trade agreement, and any changes from the current farm program must be consistent with AFBF's policies.

According to Kleckner, extending the current farm program will "establish a baseline and help maintain the income support mechanisms in place when the world trade agreement was negotiated."

"The domestic commodity support programs of the 1990 farm bill are consistent with the Uruguay Round GATT agreement," Kleckner said. "American agriculture already has made adjustments in farm supports that surpass the level of trade liberalization called for in GATT."

Although the AFBF Board supports an extension of the current farm program, Kleckner stressed that AFBF would not abandon an ongoing effort to craft a comprehensive set of farm program proposals in 1995.

MDA Tests Seed For Cover Crop

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley has announced that the Maryland Department of Agriculture will test seed for any farmers planning to use home produced seed for the 1994 Cover Crop Nutrient Management Program. The Cover Crop Program is a best management practice whereby farmers plant rye, wheat or barley to use nutrients in their fields in order to reduce nutrient pollution in groundwater, streams and the Chesapeake Bay.

"The Cover Crop Nutrient Management Program is an excellent opportunity for our farmers to control nutrient runoff in a positive way. Our seed laboratories are ready and willing to test the seed to be used for these cover crops for purity, germination and noxious weed content," Riley said.

Farmers who want their seed tested should send approximately one quart of the seed to the Maryland Department of Agriculture's Turf and Seed Section, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, Md. 21401. The sample sent to the laboratory must be from seed that has been conditioned (cleaned). The cost for the testing is $10 for which the farmer will be billed.

In addition, anyone offering seed for sale must have their seed tested and labeled in accordance with the Maryland Seed Law and Regulations. Appropriate analysis labels are available from the Maryland Department of Agriculture Seed Laboratory on (410) 841-59-60.

Feeding Barley To Milking Cows

Each year I see an increase in the amount of barley being grown in Garrett County. A lot of dairy farmers are using barley, quite successfully, as a replacement for some of the shelled corn in the concentrate mix. This practice can be very cost-effective when you consider the lower input production costs and less risk in growing barley, compared to shelled corn in our area. Spring barley yields of over 100 bu/acre are not uncommon. Also, compared to oats, barley has a higher nutrient content.

There are some important factors you want to keep in mind when feeding barley.

1. Compared to shelled corn, the proteins and carbohydrates in barley are much more rapidly digested. Keep this point in mind when formulating a ration. Because of this factor, I would suggest that the substitution of barley for corn not exceed 50 percent in high producing cows. Also, the UIP of barley is lower than that or corn; therefore, an adjustment in by-pass protein supplements may be needed.

2. Be careful when using the results of a computer-balanced ration. A lot of the computer programs use NRC recommendations for Neutral Detergent Fiber (NDF). Since barley has a high NDF, the computer results can suggest an unreasonably low forage-to-concentrate ration. If you're not familiar with the suggested ratios at different levels of milk production, give me a call and I'll send you the information.

3. Be sure you know the test weight of the barley you are feeding. Weights per bushel can vary quite a bit.

4. Barley must be ground, rolled, or crimped; otherwise, the kernels will pass right through the cow. Ground barley can be dusty. The addition of molasses can improve the situation.

Since the weather has delayed the harvest of small grains, it would be wise to have a nutrient analysis test performed before formulating a ration.

Small Fruits Workshops

I will be sponsoring a three evening series on production practices for high value small fruits. The dates are as follows:

- Tuesday, September 27, 7:30 p.m. Subjects: blackberry and raspberry production.
- Wednesday, September 28, 7:30 p.m. Subjects: strawberries, grapes, currants and gooseberries.
- Thursday, September 29, 7:30 p.m. Subject: blueberry production.

All the workshops will be held in the Garrett County Extension Office. There is a registration fee of $10 for all three workshops, or $5 for a single workshop per household or farm unit (limited to two people per unit). Register early by contacting my office at 334-1990. Space is limited.

Passive Poisoning From Pesticides: A Hidden Danger On The Farm

Most human contact with pesticides is pretty obvious. Sometimes it occurs because pesticide handlers do not follow label recommendations for personal protection. In some cases, windy conditions cause pesticides to drift, leading to accidental skin or respiratory exposures. At other times, contact occurs after early reentry into a treated field, orchard or building.

However, the hidden dangers for pesticide users are "passive" types of poisoning which expose family members or workers who are not directly involved with handling pesticides.

One concern is the amount of pesticide residue tracked into residences. Even small amounts on work coveralls or shoes can be deposited on carpets or furniture, exposing family members when their skin makes contact. If you might have residues on your footwear or clothing, make sure that these items don't enter your home.

Many pesticide handlers are exposed prior to the actual job of mixing, loading and applying. For example, farmers and workers who pick up or transport pesticides could be exposed to residues on the outside of previously opened or damaged containers. Residues of some concentrated pesticides can remain active for an extended period of time. Anyone who handles containers should wear chemical-resistant gloves, long-sleeved shirts and work pants or coveralls.

Never keep protective gear near or within the pesticide storage area. When pesticides are mixed in closed areas, fine particles can move by air currents onto protective gear

The Law States:

". . . All fees collected by the sheriff shall be accounted for and paid to the treasary of the several counties and of Baltimore City, respectively." Art. IV , Sec. 44.

"Pursuant to, and as a follow-up to your letter of June 27, 1994, regarding collection fees for service of court papers, we would advise that we have never authorized any payments." The Garrett County Commissioners, July 12, 1994.

From this it would appear that Sheriff Van Evans was never given authority to keep fees collected from paper service. In light of this, we would ask that the Grand Jury be convened to look into the following:

1. The possible misuse of funds from $100,000 to $300,000 collected by Sheriff Evans over nine years.
2. To have an audit completed on all financial records at the Sheriff's office.
3. To have all monies collected by the Sheriff to be turned over to the Treasurer.
4. To see what criminal and ethical violations may have occurred.
5. To see if the use of uniformed Deputies, while on duty in patrol vehicles, served civil papers. What fees were paid to Sheriff Evans for his personal use; and if any were turned over to the Treasurer.
6. To have the Grand Jury report made public.

I would urge all citizens to call the States Attorney's office (334-1974) and express their desire to convene the Grand Jury.

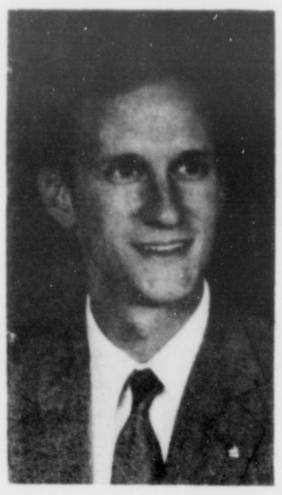
Carpenter To Vie For Seat On Education Board



Dale M. Carpenter, McHenry, has announced his candidacy for the Garrett County Board of Education. He is a Republican, and stated that his decision to run came about at the request of members of the Republican Central Committee.

Carpenter has been a Garrett County resident since 1970 and is the son of Delos and Wanda Carpenter. He is married to Deborah A. Carpenter, who is serving as his treasurer.

Beginning at Accident Elementary School and graduating from Northern High, the candidate is a product of the local school system. He received an associate of arts degree from Garrett Community College and went on to obtain a bachelor's degree in business administration from Western State College.

Carpenter has no children, but stated that his commitment to young people goes back to his two years of employment at the Salem Children's Home.

The candidate currently manages a branch office of the Equitable Financial Companies, Inc., in McHenry. He reported that his responsibilities include marketing and servicing pension products to all county employees and GCC employees, as well as other businesses in the local area. He is security licensed as well as life and health insurance licensed in Maryland, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia. It is this financial background that Carpenter believes will make him a "strong fiscally responsible board member."

Carpenter is a member of the Oak Grove Church of the Brethren in Sang Run, where he has served as Sunday School teacher, Bible school teacher, and church treasurer.

"I believe that local control and traditional family values will continue to keep our schools strong," he said, "and that character and moral values do make a difference."

Annual Crellin Town Picnic Set For Saturday

The Third Annual Crellin Town Picnic will be held Saturday, August 27, at the United Brethren Church grounds.

The event is sponsored by United Community Services, the non-profit organization which owns and operates the Crellin Community Building.

Certificates and T-shirts will be presented at 11 a.m. to the young people who participated this year in the second annual Crellin Summer Youth Program, sponsored jointly by the Crellin United Brethren Missions Commission and the Garrett County Health Department Outreach Program. Following the brief presentation, games will begin. Organized games before and after the picnic meal will include regular volleyball, water-balloon, volleyball, croquet, horseshoes, and a water-balloon toss.

The covered-dish meal is set to begin at noon. Tableware, drinks, hot dogs, and sloppy joes will be provided by United Community Services. Participants are asked to bring a covered-dish salad, vegetable, or dessert.

Beginning at 3 p.m., three local bands will be featured, showcasing Crellin area talent. They include "J.C. and the Boys," "Midnight Ramblers," and "Wet Tuna."

All present residents of Crellin and all those with past connections with the town are encouraged to attend the reunion.

Northern GOP Women To Hear Eileen Cackowski

Eileen Cackowski, director of Program Services on Volunteerism for the State of Maryland, will be the guest speaker for the Northern Garrett Republican Women's Club at a meeting at the Hilltop Restaurant, Grantsville, at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, August 30.

Ms. Cackowski directs program services that include education and training opportunities for volunteers and volunteer coordinators across the state and helps develop volunteer programs in non-profit organizations, local government agencies, and incorporated cities and towns.

Before being employed by the state, Cackowski was, for six years, the director of the Montgomery County Volunteer and Community Service Center. A graduate of the University of South Florida, she received her MSW from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

Club President Carolyn Ganoe extends an invitation to all volunteers to attend the Aug. 30 meeting.

Mathes Given Scholarship

Peggy S. Mathes, Friendsville, was recently awarded the Catholic Daughters of America annual scholarship by St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland.

Mathes, a member of St. Peter's parish, is pursuing a nursing degree at Garrett Community College.

The CDA scholarship is given to a local resident each year who meets the qualifying criteria.

Avenell Parsons of Eglon and on Sunday the family had lunch together with another sister, Doris, and Bernard Arnold.

Among those attending the Ag Progress Days last week at Rock Spring, Pa., were Claud, Brenda, Carroll, Allen and Jim Hartsell and Cynthia, Carl, Larry and Gary Bachtel. At the West Virginia State Fair were, among others, Bruce and Mary Teets and daughters, Bill and Sandra Hauser and family, Carl and Cynthia Bachtel and sons, the Hayes, Corbin and Arvin Harsh families, all local.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Harsh of Eglon attended a weekend family reunion held at the home of his sister, Nell Dickenson, in Richmond, Va., last weekend with his sister, Flora, and L. John Weaver of Palmyra, Pa., his brothers, Norman and Lois Harsh, of Roanoke, and Roy Harsh of Richmond, all attending.

The children of the late George and Ada Wotring met Sunday at the "old homestead" at Aurora for a family gathering.

Jim and Judy Highberger of Goose Creek, S.C., were weekend visitors with her mother, Louella Fike, Aurora, and visiting there also were Norman and Gary Fike, her brothers, and members of their families.

Here for a reunion of the late Charles and Rosa (Moon) Vought were Hobart and Betty Vought who on Monday visited at Amboy with her sister, Joyce and Bill Dixon. Other guests for the day were the Dixon family -- David and Virginia Dixon, Mike and Loena Dixon, Gary and Cheryl Dixon and their chidren; Bill and Virgie Edeburn of Fairmont and Elwood Edeburn of Eglon, brothers of Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Vought. The Voughts have returned to their home in Salt Lake City (Kearns), Utah, and had met with other family members at Camp Galilee, near Terra Alta, for the reunion last weekend, August 12-14.

Todd Weimer's wife, Stacy, was injured Saturday afternoon when she fell from the horse she was riding and was sent by Life Flight to Ruby Memorial Hospital with a concussion and other injuries. She is reportedly doing well and expecting to be released Tuesday or Wednesday.

Janet and Melinda Boggess of Shelby, Mont., have been visiting with the former's sister and brother-in-law, Delores and Ronnie Harsh, Kari and Tyler, at Eglon and preparing the house in Aurora belonging to Melinda's late father, David Boggess, for disposal. They have now returned to their home.

WOTRING REUNION

Descendants of the late George B. and Ada Teets Wotring met August 21 at their old homestead at Aurora for a reunion. Five of the 10 children are living and all were present. Those who attended were: Joyce, Danny and Rachel Bradshaw, Grace Ayers, Larry, Lisa and Caitlin Roth, Anna May, Kim and Chris Sisler, Elma and Ted Hardesty, Frank and Wilda Stemple, Adrian and Pat Stemple, Elmer "Pete" Stemple, Margaret McDaniel, Bill and Darlene Park, Junior and Carolyn Wotring, William and Pauline Wotring, Becky (Wotring), her husband and daughter, Karen (Wotring) and husband, Lena Beaver, her daughter Wanda and husband and their two children.

REUNION SLATED

Aurora High School Class of 1969 is planning a 25-year reunion for September 3 at 7 p.m. in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church parish hall. Persons who plan to attend should contact Mary (Mrs. Wade) Harsh at 735-6495 immediately, during working hours (8 a.m. to 5 p.m.) she also may be contacted at 735-6006.

DNR To Sponsor Peddle & Paddle Outdoor Event

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), State Forest and Park Service will sponsor a two-day "peddle and paddle" outdoor adventure on September 17 and 18.

The cost of the trip will be $35 per day, which includes two nights of camping, an interpretive guide, all canoeing equipment, some meals, and gear shuttle.

Participants will travel through four local state parks, including Deep Creek, Potomac, Savage River, and Big Run. Travel will be on both roads and trails. After the first day of riding, dinner will be served and the day will end with an evening of canoeing on the Savage River Reservoir.

Because spaces are limited, pre-registration and a deposit are required. To make reservations or obtain more information, persons should call Diane Miller at 387-5563.

Revival Services Set In Friendsville

The Assembly of God Church, Friendsville, will host revival services from Aug. 28 through Sept. 2, beginning each evening at 7 p.m.

Evangelists Bill and Ruby O'Haver will lead the services, and a The King's Kids will make a special appearance each evening.

Also planned is a Sept. 3 hymn sing, beginning at 7 p.m. at the church.

The Rev. Eugene R. Friend and the church's congregation invite the public to attend any of the above services.

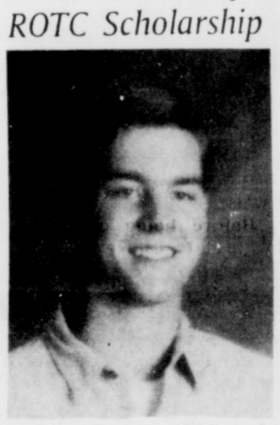
Durst Receives Three-Year Army ROTC Scholarship



Ryan Durst, a 1994 graduate of Southern High School, will be attending Widener University, Chester, Pa., this fall. He has been awarded a U.S. Army ROTC Three-Year Advance Designee scholarship.

This national scholarship is awarded annually by the Army to high school seniors who have demonstrated leadership potential, academic success and a desire to become an officer in the United States Army. The scholarship, which takes effect before the student's sophomore year of college, provides 80 percent of tuition, plus money for books and lab fees, and spending money. Widener University, in cooperation with Army ROTC, provides the remaining 20 percent of tuition, along with free room for all four years. In addition, Ryan has received the Widener University Presidential Scholarship covering half of his freshman tuition.

Ryan is enrolled in the Honors Program of the College of Arts and Sciences at Widener, where he will major in history. At Southern High he was captain of the Mock United Nations Team, a member of the Mock Trial team, the Track and Field team, and was historian for the National Honor Society. He also participated in the German Exchange, and was a recipient of the National History and Government award, and the Who's Who Among American High School Students award.

Ryan served as a page during the 1994 session of the Maryland General Assembly. He attended American Legion Boys' State at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, and Presidential Classroom in Washington, D.C. He was also a member of the Initiative for Understanding Political Science Expedition to Russia.

He is the son of Mark and Donna Durst, Oakland.

Martha Snively, Michael Schroyer Wed In December Double-Ring Event

Martha Snively and Michael Schroyer were married Dec. 4, 1993, at the Ben Avon Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh. The Rev. Brent Dugan performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John D.H. Snively, Pittsburgh.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Schroyer, Grantsville.

Given in marriage by her brothers, Josh and James Snively, the bride wore a white, full-length gown, featuring a sweetheart neckline that was accented with pearls. A veil completed her crown-style, pearl adorned headpiece.

The bride carried a bouquet of snowflake flowers with holly and ivy.

Maid of honor was Myra Sims, Beckley, W.Va., friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Raegan Taylor, Philadelphia, Pa., friend of the bride; Jeanne Snively, Pittsburgh, sister-in-law of the bride; and Wendy Marciniak and Laura Welsh, both of Pittsburgh, friends of the bride.

Miss Meyer Weds Mr. Close In Double-Ring Ceremony

Jacqueline Reneé Meyer and Scott William Close were united in marriage on Sept. 4, 1993, at St. Augustine Catholic Church, Minster, Ohio. The Rev. Thomas Brenberger performed the afternoon double-ring ceremony.

Brian Rutter provided organ accompaniment for soloist Wendy Dunn.

The bride is the daughter of Fred and Margaret Meyer, Minster. The groom is the son of Deb Parrish, Van Wert, Ohio, and David Close, Cumberland. He is the grandson of Frances (Close) Meese, Oakland, and the late Wilbur Close.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with long fitted sleeves, and a fitted bodice, detailed with lace appliques and sprinkled with glitz. The portrait neckline was outlined with hand-beaded and sequined silk floss lace. Scalloped lace edged the hemline on the gathered skirt. Vertical sunbursts of lace cascaded down the sweeping cathedral-length train.

A pearl tiara secured her fingertip illusion veil and matching back pouf. She carried a cascade of white Toniki roses, stephanotis, Queen Anne's lace, assorted foliage and ivy. A rosary was entwined in the arrangement.

Jessica Meyer served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Georgia Richard, sister of the bride, and Jennifer Clune and Roxann Voisard, friends of the couple.

The attendants black velvet gowns were accented with emerald iridescent taffeta. The princess-style bodices had Basque waistlines and portrait necklines accented with large pearl pins. The long gathered skirts featured vertical ruffles topped with candy box bows.

They carried bouquets of white Toniki roses and natural foliage accented with imported French satin ribbon.

Joel Moorman, friend of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Tony Richard, brother-in-law of the bride, and Sean Back and Monroe Murphy, friends of the couple. Tyler Richard, nephew of the groom, carried the wedding rings.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Meyer wore a black and white silk Shantung suit fashioned with a portrait neckline, short set-in sleeves, a double-breasted jacket, and a street-length sheath skirt. The groom's mother chose a blue suit styled with a portrait neckline. White phalaenopsis orchids were used in their corsages.

A dinner reception was held at the Arrowhead Golf Course near Minster.

The couple honeymooned in Hilton Head Island, S.C., and reside at 310 Shane Street, Ohio City, Ohio.

Ms. Burnside To Wed Mr. Wildesen

Christa (Lipscomb) Burnside and Richard Wildesen Sr. announce their forthcoming marriage.

The wedding is set for 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 3, at the Otterbein United Methodist Church, Swanton. A reception will immediately follow the ceremony at the Deer Park Fire Hall.

Although no invitations have been sent, all friends and family are welcome to attend.

25th Anniversary Reception Slated

The parents of Leland F. and Ardis V. (Sanders) Teets will honor them with a 25th wedding reception at the Maple Spring Church on Sunday, Sept. 4, at 2 p.m.

Friends and relatives are invited to a ceremony as the couple renews their wedding vows.

Mr. and Mrs. Teets were married Aug. 30, 1969, at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, by the Rev. William Fox.

They have two children, Nathan Teets, Tallahassee, Fla., and Nicole Teets, Gainesville, Fla.

Miss Grove Marries Mr. Sharpless In June 25 Boonsboro Ceremony

Cheryl Lynn Grove and Clark Allen Sharpless Jr. were married on Saturday, June 25, at Mt. Nebo United Methodist Church in Boonsboro.

The bride is the daughter of Raymond and Linda Grove, Boonsboro, and the groom is the son of Clark Sharpless and Elaine Zimmerman, both of Oakland.

The bride graduated from Boonsboro High School in 1988 and obtained a bachelor of arts degree in math from the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, in 1992. She is currently employed as a research assistant with Conrad Technologies Inc., Washington, D.C.

Mr. Sharpless is a 1985 graduate of Southern Garrett High School and a 1989 graduate of Frostburg State University with a bachelor of science degree in education. He is a teacher at Spring Ridge Elementary School in Frederick.

The couple resides in New Market.

This Is An Open Letter To The People of Garrett County
From
MARK PROULX
Republican Candidate Garrett County Commissioner District 1

Dear Friends,

I have announced my candidacy for Garrett County Commissioner for District 1, and would like to share with you some of the ideas about the direction I feel government should be taking in our country.

First, I feel that some of our elected officials have ceased to be accountable to the citizens of Garrett County. In order for democracy to work, we must insist on open government. Public officials must be accountable for their actions and must make records available to the public to guard against waste and abuse of the system. The business of the government should be done in the open so that the citizens of this county can participate as they see fit.

Second, there needs to be more cooperation and coordination between state, county and municipal government. Combining resources in the areas of economic development, law enforcemnt, and many other areas will mean a saving in tax dollars. This money can then be spent in areas where monetary funding is sorely needed.

Third, additional dollars must be spent at the classroom level in our educational system in order to ensure our children a bright future. With a proper education, we can give our most precious natural resource a chance to excell in the work place and life. I am convinced that an educated public is a public that requires fewer social programs such as welfare and public assistance. This in the long run will mean a tax saving for the citizens of all counties.

Fourth, I will strive to bring long-term industry that is environmentally safe to Garrett County. With the completion of Interstate 68, Garrett County now has accesss to markets that were out of reach in the past. If developed properly, the corridor along Interstate 68 could produce many needed jobs that will provide a stable economy in Garrett County. This would create a larger tax base, which in turn would mean an individual savings in the amount of taxes paid by each citizen.

Fifth, I will push for assistance to local law enforcement to combat illegal drugs. As a police officer and parent, I am greatly concerned by the rise in casual drug usage by our young people. I feel the best way to fight drugs is to extend additional drug education programs to students attending our schools. If everyone in the community works together, we can avoid problems that other communities have experienced with rising crime rates and violence.

Finally, I will work with the other county commissioners to initiate a road maintenance program to improve the quality of our roads. Over the past few years, many paved county roads have once again become dirt roads in part. I believe that a cost effective maintenance program can be implemented that would allow roadways to be resurfaced and maintained on a set schedule.

While I feel many other areas of county government require attention, the above are areas that I feel should be handled immediately. If given the chance to be your county commissioner, I will strive to do the best job I can. I will work full time for the people of Garrett County and with the people of Garrett County to ensure the highest possible standard of living achievable.

I encourage each of you to make our county government strong by exercising your right to vote. Thank you for your time and God bless.

Sincerely,
Mark Proulx

Gnegy, Sharps Couple To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine G. Gnegy, Oakland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela S. Gnegy, to Robert W. Sharps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Sharps, also of Oakland.

The bride elect is a 1988 graduate of Southern High School, and a 1992 graduate of Towson State University. She is employed with Chesapeake Health Plan, Inc., located in Baltimore.

Her fiancé is a 1989 graduate of Southern High School, and a 1993 graduate of Towson State University. He is employed by KPMG Peat Marwick in Washington, D.C.

The couple resides in Columbia.

The wedding is planned for Sept. 24.

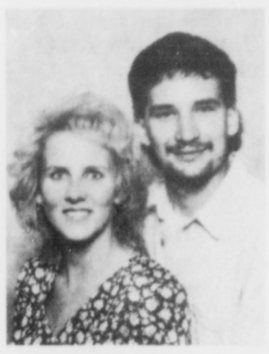
Williams To Lead Grace Youth Event

Bro. Eugene Williams will conduct a youth revival at Grace Bible Church this Saturday, August 27, at 7 p.m. and Sunday, August 28, at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Williams is a graduate of Bob Jones University and has been ministering to children of all ages for many years through Evangelizing the Young for Christ, a mission board headquartered in Fairmont, W.Va. He is a ventriloquist, musician, chalk artist, illusionist, song writer, and preacher. All of these talents are used by him to teach Bible verses, Bible stories, and Bible doctrines.

Grace Bible Church invites all children to attend these meetings. The church is located in Bittinger along Dung Hill Road. From Grantsville, persons should follow Rt. 495, 5½ miles south to Dung Hill Road, turn right, and proceed one mile. From Accident, they should follow Rt. 219 north to Accident-Bear Creek Road to Fish Hatchery Road to Bowman Road to Dung Hill Road.

Moyer-Kight Couple To Wed



Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Moyer Sr., Oakland, announce the engagement and upcoming marriage of their daughter, Amy Charise, to Patrick Lee Kight, son of Sheridan and Eva Kight, Mtn. Lake Park.

Miss Moyer is a 1986 graduate of Southern High. Mr. Kight is a 1990 graduate of Southern High and currently employed at Metropolitan Tire, Oakland.

The ceremony is planned for Saturday, September 24, at noon at McHenry United Methodist Church. The ceremony site has been changed to McHenry Methodist Church because of remodeling. A reception will be held at the American Legion Hall in Oakland.

Invitations have been sent, but all family and friends are invited.

George Couple Invites Friends To Reception

Cheryl A. Weimer and Thomas N. George, Oakland, will be married in a private ceremony on Saturday, Aug. 27. The couple wished to extend an open invitation to all friends and family to attend their reception, which will be held at their home following the ceremony. The reception will begin at 4 p.m.

The George home is located on Oakland-Sang Run Road, six miles past Beachy's Lumber Company, on the right.

FSU Theatre Notes Schedule For School Year

Making use of the university's new performance facilities, the Department of Theatre Arts at Frostburg State University is preparing for another season of musical and dramatic entertainment.

According to Dr. Marc Routhier, chair of the Communication and Theatre Arts Department at FSU, this season of University Theatre will be "as exciting as the last."

"We're very excited about this season's productions. There will be an interesting mix of plays, all giving a different kind of treatment on human strengths and weaknesses. Besides that, it will be our first full season in the Performing Arts Center since our opening last season," said Routhier.

In addition, the group will be making use of the Studio Theatre for some of its performances. This season, the group has decided to give audiences more opportunity to attend the performances by extending the running times of the plays.

The season opens with "Love and Anger", presented October 6-8 and October 13-15 at 8:15 p.m. in the Studio Theatre of the Performing Arts Center. Written by Canada's internationally acclaimed George F. Walker, the piece is described as serious comedy.

The story begins when a founding partner of an elitist law firm survives a nearly fatal stroke. Given a second chance at life, lawyer Petie Maxwell gives away his riches and devotes his life to defending the poor against institutionalized corruption. Along the way, he is assisted by his office aid, her mentally ill sister, and a neighborhood woman whose husband is incarcerated. When Walker joins these personalities together to defeat a common enemy, the result is "a triumph, a fiercely comic flowering of a mature and major talent," according to The London Press. Viewers should be advised that the piece contains some offensive language.

"Androcles and the Lion," a fable by George Bernard Shaw, will be presented November 17-19 and December 1-3 at 8:15 p.m. in the Drama Theatre of the Performing Arts Center. Disguised as a fable, the piece is actually an exploration of religion and religious faith. The story is set in ancient Rome and features a diverse group of characters who demonstrate their Christian beliefs when they are threatened by gladiatorial combat or else being fed to the lions.

On March 8-11 at 8:15 p.m. and March 12 at 2 p.m. University Theatre will be presenting "Sweeney Todd" in the Drama Theatre of the Performing Arts Center. The group will be performing Christopher Bond's musical adaptation of the Hugh Wheeler story, a tale of murder and suspense. The story begins when Sweeney Todd returns from prison and swears to get revenge on the judge who unfairly sentenced him. A musical thriller, this piece is "a staggering theater spectacle and more fun than a graveyard on the night of the annual skeleton's ball," says New York Daily News.

"A Piece of My Heart" will be presented April 13-15 and April 20-22 in the Studio Theatre of the Performing Arts Center at 8:15 p.m. This drama by Shirley Lauro follows the lives of six women before, during, and after their experiences in the Vietnam war. The New York Times raves, "There have been a number of plays dealing with Vietnam, but none with the direct, emotional, impact of Ms. Lauro's work."

Adult season tickets for University Theatre productions are available for all four shows. To order season tickets or to make reservations, persons may call (301) 689-4145 between 1 and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Tickets for all productions may be purchased at the theatre box office before each performance.

Elect
Asa M. McCain, Jr.
County Commissioner
District 3

I am often asked the following four questions:

How can you be a commissioner and still be Mayor of Oakland and Principal of Dennett Road Elementary School?

The commissioner position (to be done right) must be a full time committment and I am willing to do that. If I am elected, by law, I must resign as Mayor. The Town Charter fills the time from January until the March town election with the President of the Council as acting mayor. I would retire from the Garrett County Board of Education at the end of June with 29 years of service.

Will the positive things stop happening in Oakland if you are elected county commissioner?

Oakland has improved because of team work, careful planning and sound management. I am only one member of the group and I know the town will continue to improve because the residents will keep supporting the government.

How were you able to complete so many projects like the sewer system, the upgrade of the water system, and the new municipal building without ever raising the tax rate?

We put into practice a policy of training and equipping our employees so that they can provide improved services with fewer workers. Additionally we tightened up on town management and investment practices which made funds available to go after State and Federal grants.

What advantages do you have that would make me want to vote for you instead of the other good candidates that are running for commissioner of District 3?

If you look at the whole picture, we cannot accomplish much without team work with leaders in Baltimore, Annapolis and Washington. I already have the contacts to get the job done.

I hope you will vote for me and allow me to work hard for the whole county.

Vote for proven leadership.
Elect McCain County Commissioner of District 3

Final Bike Safety Rodeo Scheduled At Broadford Lake

Bike riders of all ages are invited to attend the final bicycle safety rodeo for the season at Broadford Lake Park this Saturday, August 27, from 3-5 p.m. The rodeo is being sponsored by the Garrett County Health Department's Community Outreach Team, Oakland's Neighborhood Crime Watch, and the Town of Oakland.

Following free bike inspections, riders will practice stopping, starting, balancing, signaling, and controlling their bikes throughout more than 10 riding obstacle courses. All participants will be given a brief safety presentation discussing the rules of the road, as well as the importance of always wearing a bicycle helmet properly when riding. Twenty-two bicycle helmets have been donated by the Town of Oakland for a free drawing at the Broadford Lake Park bike rodeo that is part of a series of events that have been organized for weekends throughout the summer at the park.

Numerous activities, including relay games, will take place during the course of the rodeo, and refreshments and participation certificates will be available for everyone present. Oakland's Neighborhood Crime Watch will be offering free bicycle licenses for any participating Oakland residents at the event.

Volunteer service hours are available to local students who donate their time to help organize and set-up these events. Anyone interested in volunteering for the rodeo should contact Joelle Plauger at 334-8111.

Broadford Lake Park's rodeo concludes a spring and summer of community bicycle safety events organized by the Outreach Team and local community groups. The rodeos are part of a bicycle safety minigrant that was awarded to the Health Department by the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene's Injury Prevention program. More information on future bicycle safety projects is available by calling the Health Department at 334-8111 or 895-3111.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED to attend the final bicycle safety rodeo of the season, scheduled for Saturday, August 27, from 3-5 p.m. at Broadford Lake Park in Mtn. Lake Park. The safety rodeo is being sponsored by the Garrett County Health Department's Community Outreach Team, Oakland's Neighborhood Crime Watch, and the Town of Oakland.

Local Municipal Leaders' Recipes In MML Cookbook

Home Town Cooking is a cookbook, now in its second printing, featuring favorite recipes contributed by city and town officials from every municipality in the state of Maryland.

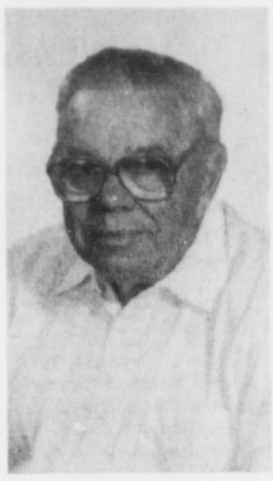
According to the publisher, the 220-page cookbook is a collection of almost 500 recipes for the beginner cook and the gourmet. Some recipes are original; most are long-time family favorites. Several reflect other regions and nationalities. All have been tasted and shared by the contributors and residents of their cities and towns.

Home Town Cooking includes 17 recipes from municipal officials in Garrett County. Oakland town officials contributed recipes for Bacon Roll-Ups, Deer Camp Chili, English Cottage Loaf and Angel Biscuits; Mountain Lake Park officials submitted recipes for Herb Dip for Raw Vegetables, Ragout of Beef, Soft Cake Icing, Caramels, Chocolate Peanut Drops and Apple Butter; Kitzmiller town officials sent recipes for Bishop Salad and Pumpkin Roll; Grantsville contributed recipes for Hamburger Casserole and Brown Sugar Pound Cake; Friendsville sent a recipe for Sour Cream Coffee Cake; Deer Park for Beef Porcupines; and Accident contributed a recipe for Chinese Hash.

Home Town Cooking is a publication of the Maryland Municipal League and all proceeds will benefit MML's scholarship fund. This year MML plans to award over $13,500 in scholarships to students pursuing studies and careers in local government. To order Home Town Cooking, persons should send a check for $12 (payable to MML Scholarship Fund) to: MML, 1212 West Street, Annapolis, MD 21401.

The Maryland Municipal League is a non-profit, nonpartisan association representing 150 city and town governments and four special taxing districts throughout Maryland. MML works to strengthen the role and capacity of municipal government through a program of services that include legislative representation, research, training and technical assistance.

Crawford Files For Seat On Republican Central Committee



William E. "Bill" Crawford, Swanton, has announced his candidacy for the Garrett County Republican State Central Committee.

Crawford has been actively involved in Republican politics at the local level, including helping to plan the Lincoln Day dinners, the fair booths, and other fundraisers. He has also regularly represented the Garrett County committee at the semi-annual Maryland Republican conventions and executive committee meetings. In 1988, he was co-chairman of the Garrett County Republicans for George Bush campaign.

In announcing his candidacy, Crawford said, "I intend to promote sound fiscal government through the election of qualified Republican candidates in Maryland, and to work for a stronger two-party system in the state."

He is a past member of the Deep Creek Lake Zoning Board; past president of the Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club; past zone chairman, past regional chairman, and is currently the international chairman for Lions International District 22-W. This year his home club named him Lion of the Year. He is a member of the U.S. Naval Institute, the I.ST Association, Proctor Kildow Post of the American Legion, the Ali Ghan Shrine, the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners' Association, and the Garrett County League of Women Voters.

After graduating from Auburn University with a degree in mechanical engineering, Crawford served in the U.S. Navy during World War II, attaining the rank of Lt. Commander. He was a purchasing agent in Pittsburgh for Continental Foundry and Machine Company, and for Blaw Knox Company before he moved to Garrett County.

After being summer residents in Garrett County for 16 years, Crawford and his family became permanent residents in 1971. He has two daughters, Susan B. Crawford, a judge on the U.S. Court of Military Appeals, and Dr. Mikal Crawford, a counseling psychologist at Frostburg State University; and three granddaughters.

Serving as his campaign treasurer is his wife, Joan B. Crawford.

NOTICE

Due to the opening of the new Garrett County landfill, the Town of Oakland must modify its "Friday Bulk Pick-up" procedures. Effective immediately, the following regulations will apply:

1. All brush must be tied in bundles, which must be no longer than 4 feet in length, and must not weigh more than 35 pounds each. More than 5 bundles will not be picked up.

2. All loose items such as small sticks, rocks, grass clippings, etc., will have to be boxed or bagged.

3. Charges will be assessed for the following items: Refrigerators/freezers-$15.00, small tires - $3.00, mattresses and other household items such as chairs and sofas - $5.00, and washers/dryers - $10.00. Other large miscellaneous items will be assessed according to size and weight. Payment for pick-up of these items must be paid for in advance at Oakland City Hall.

4. Bulk pick-up will not be done after October 28, 1994, and will resume May of 1995.

Questions should be directed to the Oakland Street Department at (301) 334-3253.

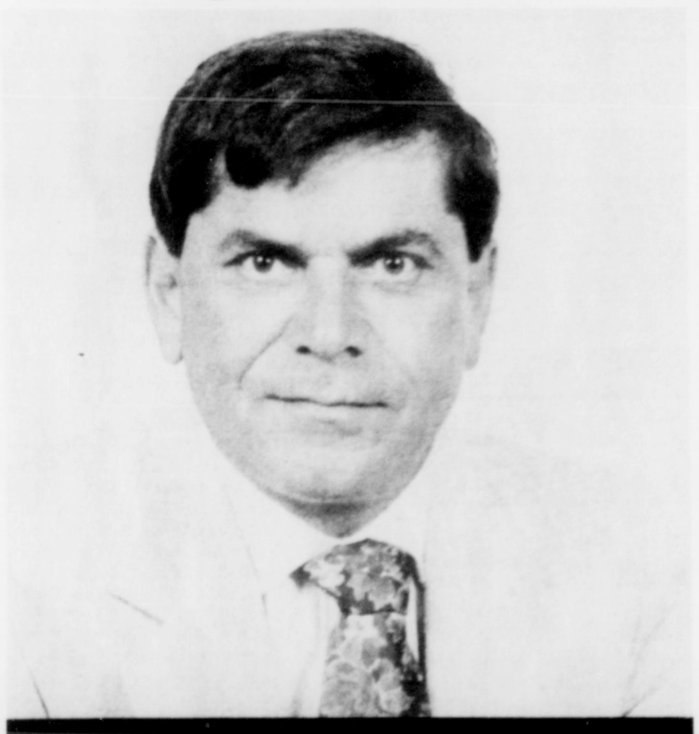
Look to the future of Garrett County... and ask what county government can—and should—be doing to make this a better place to live and work



GEORGE BRODAK COMMISSIONER

GEORGE BRODAK believes

- It is time for county government and the commissioners to work for all the people!
- The future of Garrett County must be protected through fair and equal zoning laws that are enforced fairly and evenly!
- Taxes and user fees must be fair and equitable, so that rights of the individuals are protected! Let's be honest about taxes . . . and stop trying to hide increases by changing valuations.
- The people of Garrett County deserve the best possible return on every tax dollar spent. County commissioners have a responsibility to improve services, lead the war on drugs, control costs, and meet the needs of the people!
- Garrett County's future will depend on how well we meet future challenges and plan for tomorrow. The status quo isn't good enough.

GEORGE BRODAK for Commissioner.
Because it's time for the people to take charge in Garrett County!
By Authority of Brodak for Commissioner, Ernest Colaw, Treasurer

Snyder Named Good Samaritan

Ruth Snyder, Aurora, received West Virginia's Good Samaritan Award for 1994 at the 93rd annual Pinch Community Reunion held recently. The town of Pinch, a suburb of Charleston, created the award three years ago.

The award was given to Snyder in recognition of her continuing service at the Apple Harvest Festival held in Burlington each year. According to Rev. I. Lynn Beckman of Burlington United Methodist Family Services, Snyder is a "volunteer who has worked diligently and faithfully to help produce thousands of gallons of Burlington's famous old fashioned apple butter" during the Festival's 21-year history.

On her work as a volunteer at the Apple Harvest Festival, Snyder commented, "It's something I enjoy and love to do. I've always been pleased with the opportunity it gives people from throughout the Romney District to learn about each other and share such an important time of fellowship. I have loved the fellowship and pleasure of meeting the hundreds who come to give their time."

"It is so gratifying to see all that is done with completely volunteer labor...to see those volunteers share in such work because they love the Lord. Without this free labor, we would not be able to accomplish as much, nor would we be able to raise as much profit. All of this comes about because men and women come from throughout the district to fellowship together, to help each other, and to help benefit others."

At 83 years old, Snyder now oversees the annual preparation of apple butter, Beckman explained. Still, on production days Snyder rises before dawn, helps with the cooking all day, and does not retire for the evening until the last kettle of apple butter is canned.

Beckman stated that Snyder is the third person to receive the Good Samaritan Award. In 1992 the first award went to Jim Comstock, founder and former publisher of the WV Hillbilly Newspaper. Last year Anna Quaid, founder of Grandparents Day, received the award.

LIBRARY NEWS

The Terra Alta Public Library held its Summer Reading Program party last Thursday.

There were 45 students, grades 3-8, who signed up. Thirty-five participated throughout the eight weeks and 20 readers earned a printed T-shirt from reading and reporting on at least 20 books.

Refreshments were served and two movies were watched by all in attendance. Amanda Lewis received a prize for reading and reporting on the most books, which was 57. Second runner-up was Amanda Cline, who turned in 52 reports.

This is an annual program the library sponsors for all students who wish to join. Attending the party were Amanda Lewis, Amanda Cline, Jessica Lewis, Teri Cramer, Stephanie Rogers, Erin Mullenax, Barry Mullenax, Holly Reynolds, Brooke Reynolds, Desiree Fultz, Starla Ringer, Larry Hileman, Cross Kisner, Seegee Kisner, Colton Kisner, Crystal McCartney, and Michelle Sypolt.

The library has also had a story hour this summer on Wednesday mornings. Mrs. Lauren Ledden has volunteered her services for several weeks. This story hour was well attended by several patrons ranging in ages from 3 years to 12 years. Mrs. Ledden may extend her services to an early childhood story hour in the library once school begins.

Donating books recently to the library have been: Brooke Reynolds, Dr. John L. Campbell Sr., Eva Kelly, and Tim Peters.

A community bulletin board is displayed for each month to keep any and all activities listed. Anyone who wishes to post information about a meeting or event may call the library for these to be posted.

RECEIVES DONATION -- First United National Bank of West Virginia, N.A., recently sponsored the purchase of a public address system for the Burlington (W.Va.) Old Fashioned Apple Harvest Festival, for use on the general grounds during the annual event. Presenting the sponsorship check is Spencer Allen, executive vice president and chief executive officer of the First United National Bank of West Virginia, N.A., pictured at right, to the Rev. I. Lynn Beckman, director of the Burlington United Methodist Family Services, Inc. "The bank's support is most helpful in providing this service," Rev. Beckman, commented. "This sound system will allow us to reach every corner of our festival grounds with special information, and would be extremely helpful in the event of an emergency situation."

Local Students Finish Career Planning Course

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College recently completed the first in the FY95 series of five-week, 10-session Career Planning classes taught by Mary Kirkland, Intake/Counselor specialist, with the New Horizons Program of GCC. The class included learning about job hunt strategies, getting to know oneself, what self-esteem means to a non-traditional student returning to classes or to the work world, ways to build selfesteem, what stress is and how to handle it, combining work with family obligations, time and budget management, resume writing, and job interview techniques.

Several interest tests were administered to participants to determine their career interests. These tests included the Career Assessment Inventory, the Holland Code Self-Directed Search, and the GATB (General Aptitude Test Battery).

The recent group of students completing this class included: Denise Collins, Barbara Dixon, Susan Durst, April Gregory, Denise Gregory, Katrina Gregory, Merlyn Hardesty, Tammy Jo House, Brandi Smith, and Maria VonHagel.

The next scheduled Career Planning class will begin on Monday, September 19, at the McHenry Campus. Anyone interested in enrolling in the class should call New Horizons weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at 387-3071 or 387-3103 for complete information.

"The class is a great beginning for a support group and has proven beneficial for re-entry women to make career decisions and enter training in their areas of interest," stated New Horizons Director Barbara Frey.

The New Horizons Program is jointly funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and Garrett Community College. Grant funds in the amount of $45,000 are made available to the program through Career Technology and Adult Learning, which is 90% of the total program budget, with Garrett Community College contributing an additional $5,200, which is 10% of the total budget.

Election District 3

Man with a Vision. Knowledge to Act.

People of Garrett County

As a native of this county, I feel that to be a County Commissioner, that person must have the experience necessary to assist the people and the county in growing and prospering. I believe that I have that experience and I am ready to face the challenges in this office by virtue of the following:

-- 31½ years in banking.
-- 7 years as a member of the Garrett County Board of Education, 2 years as its president.
-- Currently a Trustee of Garrett Community College.
-- Treasurer and Director Garrett County Unit of American Cancer Society for 29 years.
-- Former Director and Treasurer of Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council for 15 years.
-- President of Red House P.T.A. 6 years.
-- Past President and Member of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club for 32 years.
-- Active member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church for 35 years.

If elected, I will strive to see that all the people are represented to the best of my ability and pledge to work for the betterment of Garrett County and its people in the coming years.

Hunter Safety Course Offered At Herrington

The Maryland Department of Natural Resources, Forest and Park Service, announces that a Maryland Hunter Safety Course will be held at Herrington Manor State Park.

The course is set for September 12, 14, and 16, beginning at 6 p.m. each evening. Maryland rangers from Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls state parks will be conducting the course. Pre-registration is required as class size is limited. Persons may register by calling the Herrington Manor State Park Office at 301-334-9180.

Lighthouse Concludes Busy Month

Garrett County Lighthouse, Inc., recently acknowledged the safety of a staff driver, sent two administrators to a meeting on food services, and distributed information to the public.

Driver Recognized

The Lighthouse Board of Directors recently acknowledged Robert Witt for his record of safety and defensive driving. Mr. Witt was given a certificate of recognition by Board President Martha Jachowski at Lighthouse's August board meeting.

In other business, the Lighthouse Board continued to plan for the building of its new facility on Maryland Route 39. The board reported that the final drawings with specifications have been completed and submitted for appraisal.

"As we begin our third year as a private non-profit agency, we hope to expand our services and programs," said Executive Director Debbie jo Adams-Noroski.

Food Discussed

Lighthouse administrative staff members Adams-Noroski and Norma Schlosnagle attended the Child and Adult Care Food Program annual meeting in Hagerstown recently. The meeting provided updated information on administrative issues such as eligibility, auditing, claims reimbursement, and procurement procedures.

Carol Loomis, nutrition educator, presented ideas on menus, dietary guidelines and training resources. This year the program is promoting eating breakfast as a "healthy way to start your day." A variety of posters, informational materials, and nutritional guides were given to the participants.

Garrett County Lighthouse sponsors breakfast and lunch under the Child and Adult Care Food Program. Meals are available to all enrolled consumers at Lighthouse at no separate charge, a spokesperson stated.

Eligibility for free and reduced price meal reimbursement is based on the table of income scales effective July 1, 1994 to June 30, 1995. Lighthouse consumers who receive food stamps, SSI, or Medicaid are automatically eligible to receive free meal benefits.

Information Given

Lighthouse's community service and outreach team distributed information about services at Lighthouse and on coping with mental illness to passers by at Browning's Foodland, Oakland, on August 15. Persons seeking more information on Lighthouse may call 334-9126.

Day Of Learning Set For Aug. 31 At GCC Campus

The Cooperative Extension Service, in Cooperation with the Extension Homemakers of Garrett County, is holding its annual Day of Learning (formerly 9-90) at the Garrett Community College Continuing Education Center on Wednesday, August 31.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. and a smorgasbord of classes will be held until 4:50 p.m. Hands-on activities include making Battenberg lace, mounting and preserving old family photos, making bows, and cathedral window quilt square. Participants can also learn how to weave a pie basket carrier. These hands-on activities have a small materials charge.

Nutrition and health classes will cover bread baking, microwave cooking, how to read the new food labels, arthritis and exercise, diabetes, and antioxidants and one's health.

Financial management will be presented by learning how to bank in the 1990s, contribute to charities, using credit, and learning to complete living wills. Other topics of interest to the public will address Alzheimers disease, parenting, seafood preparation, and decorating with foods.

The registration fee for the entire day is $2. A small additional materials charge will be for hands-on activity classes. Registration forms may be obtained from the Cooperative Extension Service Office, 202 S. Third St., Oakland, MD 21550; telephone (301) 334-1990.

Social Services Dept. Implements New Info System

The Garrett County Department of Social Services has announced the implementation of a sophisticated computer system.

According to a spokesman for the department, the Client Information System, (CIS) developed by the Maryland Department of Human Resources, is the first of its kind in the nation, and will link together public assistance, child support, or other social services programs.

"CIS will make it easier for clients to apply for public assistance, child support, or other social services because it cuts down on paperwork, ultimately saving time and duplication," the spokesman said.

Another bonus of the system is that it automatically notifies the client when there will be a change in benefits.

This system in Garrett County will go into effect September 1.

❖HOWE FOR COMMISSIONER❖

Why is Joe Howe running for Garrett County Commissioner?

Joe decided to run for Garrett County Commissioner, Republican, District #1, due to the overwhelming requests from people trying to earn a living in Garrett County.

Joe has worked in the day-to-day operation of local government for a decade. His present job duties are varied and complex.

As Revenue Officer, his duties include Administrator to the County Liquor Control Board/Board of License Commissioners of Garrett County. He also serves as Administrator to the county junk yard ordinance; the trailer camp ordinance, the accommodation tax law and the admission amusement tax law. He sits on the Board of Officers to the County Office for Children, Youth and Families as the County Commissioner's representative. He coordinates licensing of construction and trades workers with the State of Maryland, Department of Licensing and Regulation.

He is also the immediate past President of the Maryland Association of Alcoholic Beverage License Administrators and currently serves on the Executive Committee of the Association. The Association represents the collective Liquor Control Boards/Boards of License Commissioners throughout the State of Maryland.

Having worked with citizens while performing these varied duties, Joe recognizes the problems that many confront while trying to earn a living.

One of the major problems is the over-regulation of private enterprise. State and Federal mandates are strangling small business to death. Private enterprise is the number one employer in the entire country and does not get that recognition. Joe believes that someone at the local level must attempt to loosen regulations and fight to prevent further job-robbing mandates. He says, "government needs to help their people, not hinder them." One way is to offer small business a tax cut. This means jobs! He says, "We need commissioners who are committed to enhancing our local economy. Full-time, year-round, permanent jobs—not just seasonal—would be my #1 priority."

"We need to help our people, not hinder them. One way to help is by offering small business a tax cut. We need to offer incentives to entice business into our County."

With realistic goals established for our economic development department, the resources made available, and the commitment to reach the goals by the County Commissioners and the employees of the department, we can provide these full-time, permanent, year-round jobs.

The best formula for a healthy economy is controlled economic growth along with an expanding tax base, coupled with responsible spending. We would have ample monies to build needed bridges and schools while maintaining and developing additional infrastructure. The most important feature to this formula is that the line can be held on taxes and the revenue would be available for needed capital projects. It is difficult to lure job-producing companies into our county without providing some incentives, quality schools and safe roadways.

Joe has been engaged in private enterprise for himself and his family. He knows the hard work involved in trying to earn a dollar. He does not take his county paycheck for granted as a number of government workers do. Sometimes those employed in government forget that those producing value in the private sector and the taxpayer are the very people that pay the salaries. It is the government's responsibility to recognize the taxpayer and to help the value-producers along with the job-creators. Helping people to become more productive pays dividends to all—tenfold.

IT IS TIME TO MAKE A DECISION!

"Our county is at a crossroads in time. We must have people in the Commissioner's Office that recognize that changes are coming whether we like them or not. We cannot afford to have commissioners that are followers instead of leaders. Leaders are not afraid to make a decision and take some heat. With proper planning and my visionary leadership, we can preserve the integrity and character that make our county the wonderful place it is while we meet tomorrow's challenges. If you live, work or pay taxes in Garrett County and care what happens to our county tomorrow—VOTE FOR JOE HOWE ON SEPTEMBER 13, 1994!"

SUPPORT JOE HOWE FOR GARRETT COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Over the past few weeks, I have expressed some of my ideas and concerns in the local newspapers. One of the problems that I feel has not been addressed is domestic violence: mainly, the abuse and violence inflicted on women and children. Currently, I serve as the Garrett County Commissioner's representative to the Office for Children, Youth and Families and I am aware of the problems that some families, and particularly women have to face.

If elected, I will support a GARRETT COUNTY shelter for victims of domestic violence and work with local law enforcement agencies to provide information on family counseling and educational programs. There is a need for more people in government who will work for equality and protection of women and children. I would work with the court systems and our local legislators to provide for laws that require educational programs and/or hard jail time for the offenders. Domestic violence undermines the family unit and provides for a large percentage of the court cases that is overburdening our system. We have seen the decay of the family unit jointly with family values. We must stop this cycle of violence that allows for the abuse of women and children, and further erodes the family and values of our society.

On September 13, vote for Joe Howe for Garrett County Commissioner, Republican District # 1

Ailey Dancers To Perform At FSU

The Alvin Ailey Repertory Ensemble will perform at Frostburg State on September 10 and 11 as a part of the University's Cultural Events Series. Performances will be held at 8 p.m. on Saturday, September 10, and 3 p.m. on Sunday, September 11, in the Drama Theatre of the Performing Arts Center.

Acclaimed as one of the most exciting young dance groups in America, the Repertory Ensemble was created in 1974 to serve as a showcase for Alvin Ailey's most talented students. It is now under the direction of Sylvia Walters.

The group performs ballets by such choreographers as Alvin Ailey and Talley Beatty, Donald Byrd, and Ulysses Dove. Other dances performed by the group were created by Judith Jamison, who serves as the Ensemble's artistic advisor.

For tickets to Alvin Ailey Repertory performance or season tickets to FSU Cultural Events series, persons may call the Lane Center Information Desk at (301) 689-4411.

The Alvin Ailey event is supported in part by a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission in cooperation with the Maryland State Office of Planning, with additional support from the Mid-Atlantic Arts Foundation in partnership with Maryland State Arts Council and the National Endowment of the Arts.

March Of Dimes Seeks Special Ambassador

The Allegany/Garrett County March of Dimes seeks a Special Ambassador to represent the Campaign for Healthier Babies mission at volunteer events throughout the coming year.

According to a March of Dimes spokesman, the Special Ambassador is a child aged 5 to 10 years who may struggle on a daily basis with the outcome of a birth defect, but who overcomes obstacles to lead a life of quality and inspiration. The Special Ambassador must be familiar and comfortable enough with her or his birth defect to discuss and answer questions about it in one-on-one or group situations.

The Special Ambassador's family also represents the March of Dimes, the spokesman said. Parents must be supportive, cooperative, articulate, and able to present a positive image of the March of Dimes. Parents must fully understand their child's birth defect and be prepared to speak about it in one-on-one or group situations.

The March of Dimes Campaign for Healthier Babies is dedicated to prevention of birth defects through community services and education. For more information, persons may contact the Allegany/Garrett County March of Dimes at (301) 722-5818.

WWII Series Of Courses Offered At GCC

A series of 11 non-credit short courses about World War II will be offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College during the fall semester, according to Paul Shogren, coordinator.

The courses have been scheduled in conjunction with the WWII Commemoration set as the theme for many college and community activities next year to mark the 50th anniversary of the final year of the war.

Each course will meet two Tuesday evenings a month, from 6-8:30 p.m., with a different subject being covered each month. Students can register for individual courses by paying a tuition of $21 plus $4 registration fee, or for the entire series by paying a tuition of $225 plus registration fee.

The first course, titled "The World in the 1930s," will meet on Sept. 6 and 13. It will review the major events that occurred between 1918 (the end of World War I) and 1939, focusing especially in the 1930s, the time when Japan and Germany began to dominate their parts of the world.

"There was intrigue, appeasement, struggle for power, nationalism and racial superiority all mixed together, during this period. The United States was in its isolationist mode and battling the Great Depression. Totalitarianism in Europe was on the rise, with the buffer states being gobbled up and the ordinary citizens about to become cannon fodder again on a gigantic scale,"

Shogren said. Other courses in the series are: "Changes in U.S Society During World War II," in October; "Changes in Weaponry During World War II," in November; "Pearl Harbor and the Pacific," in December; "The Forgotten Theater: China, Burma and India," in January; and "Crimes Against Humanity," in February.

Also scheduled are: "Journalism and the Arts of World War II," in March; "The World from 1945 to 1995," in April; "The Home Front," in May; "The Defense Industry," in June; and "The End: V-J Day and the Surrender," in September 1995.

According to Shogren, a number of community speakers will participate in the various sessions, sharing their experiences of the WWII era. A trip to the Holocaust Museum will be scheduled, with no cost to students who enroll in all 11 courses.

Students may register for the September course and other courses at the Continuing Education office of the college weekdays during business hours. For more information, persons may call 387-3069.

Underwriters Given National Recognition

The Cumberland Life Underwriters Association has once again earned the prestigious 1993-94 Louis I. Dublin Community Service Award, presented annually by National Association of Life Underwriters to local associations that have conducted outstanding community service programs. The Cumberland Association has earned this award in eight of the last 10 years.

According to Lewis Shaffer, Community Service Chairperson, the Cumberland Association successfully conducted five major community service projects in 1993-94. They were: The "Fall Food Drive" for the Western Maryland Food Bank, "Buck-A-Cup" for the Allegany County League of Crippled Children, the "Scholarship Program," the "Spring Food Drive" for the food bank, and the "Brandenburg Poster Contest" for the Brandenburg Center. The members of the Cumberland Association collect food, raise money, fund higher education, and promote elementary school art for numerous community endeavors.

The Cumberland Association will be honored at the national convention in San Francisco on September 20 and will receive a plaque commemorating its achievement.

Meese Receives Sales Awards

David L. Meese, FIC, of Berlin, Pa., recently earned two awards from the National Association of Life Underwriters. Meese is a district representative of Lutheran Brotherhood's Joseph Ruisi Agency in Johnstown, Pa., and Garrett County is part of his district.

The National Sales Achievement Award honors those in the insurance business who achieve production standards of 100 paid policies in a 13-month period. Paid policies refers to policies that have gone into effect.

The National Quality Award honors those in the insurance business who write a minimum of 25 policies and who achieve 90 percent persistency for a minimum of 13 months. Persistency refers to the number of policies that remain in force during a specified time period.

Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal benefit society, offers a broad range of financial products and services to Lutherans nationwide. Through its fraternal programs, Lutheran Brotherhood aids its members, their communities, and Lutheranism. Over the last 10 years, Lutheran Brotherhood has contributed more than $360 million to fraternal programs.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE OF HIGHLY ATTRACTIVE AND VALUABLE PROPERTY

situate in the Hazelhurst Section, Deep Creek Lake, Garrett County, MD.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage dated March 5, 1992 and recorded in Liber No. 579, folio 74 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms thereof, the holder of indebtedness secured by the mortgage having duly assigned the same to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will, on at the hour of 11:00 a.m.

in the Rotunda of the Court House, in the Town of Oakland, Garrett County, Maryland, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the following property, to-wit:

All those lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being in Election District No. 1, Garrett County, Maryland, and described as follows, to-wit:

1 - BEGINNING for the same at a stake standing in the East margin of the old county road and at the end of the third line of Lot No. 6, and running thence South 89 degrees 47' East 140 feet to a stake; thence South 0 degree 13' West 80 feet to a stake; thence North 89 degrees 47' West 140 feet to a stake in the East margin of the old county road, thence with the East margin thereof, North 0 degree 13' East 80 feet to the beginning, containing 0.26 of an acre, more or less, and being known and designated as Lot No. 7.

2 - BEGINNING at a stake standing in the Southeast corner of Lot No. 7, said stake standing North 0 degree 13' East 240 feet, thence South 89 degrees 47' East 140 feet from the second corner of said 57-acre tract, and running thence from said beginning corner with theEast line of Lot No. 7, North 0 degree 13' East 80 feet to a stake; thence South 89 degrees 47' East 50 feet to a stake; thence South 0 degree 13' West 80 feet to a stake; thence North 89 degrees 47' West 50 feet to the beginning, corner with the East line of Lot No. 7,. North 0 degree 13' East 80 feet to a stake; thence South 89 degrees 47' East 50 feet to a stake; thence South 0 degree 13' West 80 feet to a stake; thence North 89 degrees 47' West 50 feet to the beginning, containing 4,000 square feet, more or less.

Together with the right of ingress, egress and regress as more particularly set forth in the deed from Martin L. Groves, et ux, to James R. Fazenbaker, by deed dated July 19, 1957 and recorded in Liber No. 205, folio 510 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

BEING the same as conveyed by Rebecca A. Fazenbaker to Gregory C. Fazenbaker, by deed dated October 16, 1990 and recorded in Liber No. 556, folio 621 &c., one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

The above property is improved by a cabin. The improvements are being sold in an "as is" condition.

For further information, call the undersigned assignee for the purpose of foreclosure.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($5,000.00) will be required at the time of sale in cash or by certified check or other form of payment acceptable to the undersigned Assignee in the Assignee's sole discretion; the balance to be paid upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland; except that no deposit shall be required of the holder (the "Holder") of the mortgage where the Holder bids on the property at the sale and payment of the purchase price by the Holder shall be made by crediting the purchase price against the foreclosure costs and the indebtedness by said mortgage. If the purchaser fails to make settlement within ten (10) days of said Court ratification, time being of the essence thereto, the entire aforesaid deposit may, at the option of the aforesaid Assignee, be forfeited and retained as liquidated damages. If the deposit is not forfeited as liquidated damages, the Property may be resold by the Assignee at the risk and expense of the defaulting purchaser. All taxes, water and other public charges and assessments shall be prorated on and as of the date of said sale and shall be assumed thereafter by the purchaser. Following the date of sale, all risk of loss to the property shall be assumed by the purchaser. The purchaser shall pay the cost of all documentary stamps, transfer taxes, document preparation and other costs of settlement.

Public Notices

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
OF APPOINTMENT OF FOREIGN PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE

NOTICE IS GIVEN that the Register of Wills for Allegheny county, Pennsylvania appointed Carmela T. Grecco, 5016 Doyle Rd., Pittsburgh, PA 15227 as the Executrix of the Estate of Gilda R. Delewski who died on June 8, 1994 domiciled in Allegheny County, PA.

The Maryland resident agent for service of process is Craig Ingram whose address is 322 Alder Street, Oakland, MD 21550.

Maryland Week

POWLES ADDITION AREA WATER LINE REHABILITATION
INVITATION TO BID
Receipt of Proposals

Sealed bids marked "Bid for the Powles Addition Area Water Line Rehabilitation" will be received by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission (hereinafter referred to as Owner), at 313 East Alder Street, Old Courthouse Room 200, Oakland, Maryland 21550, until 11:00 a.m. on Monday, September 12, 1994, and then and there the bids will be publicly opened and read.

General Description of Work

This project will replace existing water lines in the Powles Addition area of Mountain Lake Park, Maryland. Approximately 2,600 feet of 6-inch water line and approximately 3,425 feet of 2-inch water line will be replaced. Thirty-five (35) existing service connections will have to be re-connected to the new water mains with a standard meterbox connection.

Pre-Bid Conference

A pre-bid conference will be held on Thursday, September 1, 1994 at 11:00 a.m. in the office of the Owner to answer any questions concerning the contract documents. All bidders are invited to attend.

Contract Documents

Contract Documents will be available for inspection during regular working hours at the office of the Owner.

Contract Documents may be obtained from the Owner upon written request and remittance of full payment of fifty dollars ($50.00) for each set with checks made payable to the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc. Payment will not be refunded, said payment being retained by the Owner to cover cost of printing, handling and shipping. Requests for Contract Documents shall be submitted to:

Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc.
313 East Alder Street
Old Courthouse, Room 200
Oakland, Maryland 21550

All Bids must be made on the required Bid form. All blank spaces for Bid prices must be filled in, in ink or typewritten, and the bid form must be fully completed and executed when submitted.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any informalities or minor defects, or to reject any and all Bids. Any Bid may be withdrawn prior to the above scheduled time for the opening of Bids or authorized postponement thereof. Any Bid received after the time and date specified will not be considered. No Bidder may withdraw a Bid within 90 days after the actual date of the opening thereof. Should there be reasons why the Contract cannot be awarded within the specified period, the time may be extended by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

Bidders must satisfy themselves of the scope-of-work by examination of the site and a review of the Contract Documents including Addenda. After Bids have been submitted, the Bidder shall not assert that there was a misunderstanding concerning the quantities of work or of the nature of the work to be done.

The Contract Documents contain the provisions required for the work included in the Project. Information obtained from an officer, agent or employee of the Owner or any other person shall not affect the risks or obligations assumed by the Contractor or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the Contract.

Bid Security and Bond Requirements

There are no bid securities or bond requirements for this project. Progress payments will be made for work in place and a ten percent (10%) retainage will be held on all work until the project is completed and the contract requirements are satisfied. Retainage in the amount of five percent (5%) of the final construction cost will be held for a one (1) year warranty period. Bidder may elect to provide a maintenance bond for one hundred percent (100%) of the construction cost in lieu of the five percent (5%) retainage.

The Owner may for any reason whatsoever, determine that it is not in its best interest to award a Contract. In that event, the Contract award will not be made by the Owner and the Owner will not then be liable for any payments whatsoever to the Bidder. Extension of time beyond the ninety (90) day period of the award may be made only by mutual agreement between the Owner and the Bidder.

The party to whom the Contract is awarded will be required to execute the Agreement within ten (10) calendar days from the date when Notice of Award is delivered to the Bidder. The Notice of Award will be accompanied by the necessary Agreement and contract forms. In case of failure of the Bidder to execute the Agreement, the Owner may, at his option, consider the Bidder in default.

The Owner within ten (10) days of receipt of an acceptable Agreement signed by the party to whom the Contract was awarded, will sign the Agreement and return to such party an executed duplicate of the Agreement. Should the Owner not execute the Agreement within such period, the Bidder may, by Written Notice, withdraw his signed Agreement. Such notice of withdrawal shall be effective upon receipt of notice by the Owner.

A conditional or qualified Bid will not be accepted.

Award will be made by the Owner to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder.

All applicable laws, ordinances, and the rules and regulations of all authorities having jurisdiction over the work shall apply to the Contract throughout.

Time For Completion

The successful bidder will be required to fully complete all contract work within sixty (60) consecutive calendar days from and including the date of receipt from the Owner of formal notice to proceed.

Award of Contract

The award of any contract will be made by the Owner.

Bidders are cautioned that bids that are deemed by the Owner to be obviously unbalanced may be rejected.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any proposal for failure to comply with all requirements of this notice or of any of the Contract Documents; however, it may waive any minor defects or informalities at its discretion.

The Owner further reserves the right to reject all proposals, or to award a contract or contracts which in its judgement is in the best interest of the Owner.

Nondiscrimination of Employment

BIDDERS ON THIS WORK WILL BE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH THE PRESIDENT'S EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 11246. THE REQUIREMENTS FOR BIDDERS AND CONTRACTORS UNDER THIS ORDER ARE EXPLAINED IN 41 CFR 60.4.

Notice of Requirement for Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities.

Bidders and offerors are cautioned as follows: By signing this bid or offer, the bidder or offeror will be deemed to have signed and agreed to the provisions or the "Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities" in this solicitation. The certification provides that the bidder or offeror does not maintain or provide for his employees facilities which are segregated on a basis of race, creed, color, or national origin, whether such facilities are segregated by directive or on a defacto basis. The certification also provides that he will not maintain such segregated facilities. Failure of a bidder or offeror to agree to the Certification of Nonse-gregated facilities will render his bid or offer non-responsive to the terms of solicitations.
